The new uniforms for the Hook & Ladder Company have arrived.

Cherries, currants and other small fruit are plentiful on the market.

The magistrates will levy the taxes for next year on Monday next.

The Presbyterian Sunday School will picnic on Tuesday, the 8th, at Dunn's Mountain.

The Salisbury Baptist Sunday school are picnicking today at St. John's Mill, on the Yadkin river.

There is a movement on foot tending to the organization of the ex-Confederate soldiers of this county.

June, the genial month of flowers and love—the President thinks—is upon us. Happy, leafy June.

The picnic given by the South River Reading Club, drew a large number of our young people to that place on yesterday.

The pupils of the Methodist Sunday School enjoyed a picnic at Dunn's Mountain on last Tuesday. The day was prosperous.

Policeman Barringer was airing his blood hound on the streets last week. He and the dog were the center of an admiring group.

Joseph Ballard appeared in his time-honored white swallow tail and Greely beaver, on last Tuesday. He is one of the old-time darkies.

Those interested should not fail to read the advertisement of the County Superintendent of Public Instruction, who notifies those intending to teach in the negro schools to attend the Teachers Institute, &c.

A good old colored brother telling of a glorious meeting he had been conducting said: "hit was a good meetin', hit show was, an' dere was a powerful scramblin' to de front. Dere was ez meny ez six coverts up at de time."

The negro girl, Jennette Walker, who was accidentally shot while taking part in a stage play, a few weeks since, has just spit out the ball. It will be remembered that she was shot in the forehead and the ball never was found.

The Mayor has issued his annual sanitary notice. It is the duty of every citizen to not only obey, but see that their neighbors obey the injunctions in this respect. There is a great deal depending on the sanitary condition of the town.

You may list your town, county and State taxes at the store of J. S. McCubbins. The residents of Salisbury township will find D. R. Julian and J. F. McCubbins there, in readiness. Don't put off doing this important duty too long.

On next Monday there will be some important elections by the Magistrates. A board of County Commissioners and a County Superintendent of Public Instruction are to be elected. So far as the reporter can learn, there is not likely to be any change from the present incumbents.

The county board of education have asked the County Commissioners for an increase over the usual educational appropriation. They want this year $12,500 for school purposes. This, it is estimated, will give each district a school term of four months, or $1.50 per capita for the children of school age in each district.

There was a boot-black here last Monday. He was one of those roving chaps and seemed to take delight in being looked up to by the other little negroes in the town. He was overheard telling a group about knowing "de president, lawse, yes, I know him en old missus Cleveland too, I see seed em both lots o'times."

Meroney's wood-working shops are now in active operation. Among other work, they are turning out doors, sash, blinds, etc., for the Icard Hotel, which, by the way, will be open by the 15th inst.

They expect to start work in the moulding and foundry department at an early day.

A passenger at the Depot remarked the other morning that a "ticket from Charlotte to Statesville, via Salisbury cost $1.75 and that a ticket from Charlotte to Salisbury, direct, cost $1.85. He said no wonder there was trading in tickets." The explanation probably lies in the fact that there is a competing line to Statesville from Charlotte, and the rate the longest way around is made to catch up with the shortest way through.

The Hook and Ladder Company, at their last regular meeting, discussed the propriety of getting up a fourth of July celebration. They will have another meeting tonight when the matter will be settled. It has been some time since the town has endeavored to draw the people of the surrounding country into it, by offering an amusement, and it is hoped that the H. & L. Co., will determine to get up something with some fun in it for the fourth. Can't our merchants do as Winston-Salem has done—get up a grand parade procession?

Personal.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Overman have gone to Blowing Rock.

Miss Maggie Gray has gone to see her brother, Dr. Gray, in Mississippi.

Mr. Phillip's, editor of the Greensboro Prohibitionist, was here yesterday.

Prof. J. F. Mozor, of Concordia College, was here Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Moore have gone to Boone and Blowing Rock, for a short time.

Mrs. Thos. Murphy has returned from Fayetteville, where she has been visiting relatives.

Capt. W. C. Coughenour has returned from Baltimore, and will spend the summer here and hereabouts.

Capt. Wm. Wiley, spent a few days here this week. He has just returned from Bordeaux, France.

The friends of J. M. Clement, Esq., of Mocksville, will be pained to learn of his extreme sickness. L. H. Clement, Esq., of this place has been called to his bedside.

J. H. Beall, of Lenoir, is spending a few days here with relatives. He has been to Annapolis, where he stood an examination preparatory to entering Uncle Sam's Naval service. He failed to pass his physical examination. No doubt he would prove an "Orlando" to his pedantic highness, had a test between them been the basis of qualification.

Who are they, and where? J. B. & F. C. Bailey, two young men who were exhibiting with a magic lantern.

Miss Addie O. White has a crayon sketch on exhibition at Kluttz's drug store. Why cannot Salisbury get up an art exhibition some time this fall.

Patronize Home Industry. Mr. Davidson, of the Magic Baking Powder Company, of this place, has left at our office sample packages of their superior baking powder. It is put up in tin boxes with neat labels, containing full instructions for making biscuit, griddle cakes, muffins, waffles, &c. The powder does not require the assistance of soda, salaratas or sour milk, and all dealers are authorized to guarantee the powder in every respect. House-keepers should patronize home industry.

N. C. Dental Association. Dr. J. F. Griffith, of this place, is in attendance on the annual meeting of the North Carolina Dental Association, being held this week in Raleigh. Salisbury has reason to be proud of the position taken in that body by Dr. Griffith. He has been greatly honored by the Association; has been president and is now secretary of the State Board of Examiners. This board is composed of only six, and Dr. Griffith has been a member for three consecutive years, all of which goes to show that he is among the foremost in his profession in this State and ranks second to but few in this country.

Not Very Musical. We mean Will Brown's little Dutch copper-smith. Bang bang bang, all day long and from day to day. Bang bang bang! It's a wonder he is not as deaf as a post, poor fellow. A man subject to headaches and living within range of his hammer, would want to kill that little Dutchman—dead! But he has friends near who would fight for him and his noise, too. His unceasing bang bang bang, though quite near, is no bother to those who are busy as he. Go it, little Croucher, your licks will count one of these days.

Town Affairs. The town Commissioners held their regular meeting on last Friday evening, with a full attendance. The bonds of John Gill, city weigher, and G. H. Shaver, tax collector, were approved. D. A. Swink appeared before the board and asked that the tax on manufacturers of tobacco be removed. The matter was laid over till next meeting. The Mayor was instructed to confer with the railroad authorities with a view of getting the railroad cut at the east end of Fisher street put in good condition.

License was granted W. H. Kestler to retail liquor at his present stand. G. H. Shaver was allowed $50 for extra services rendered by him during the year.

The Mayor was ordered to have pipe laid and gas posts erected at or near the bridges over the railroad track, on the eastern end of Bank and Fisher streets.

Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. The Swannanoa Division of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, being congregated here by the change of gauge on the Western road, had a reunion and gave a banquet on last Saturday evening. The reunion was held in their hall over Kluttz's drug store, which had been profusely decorated by some of the ladies of the town. By invitation, Theo. F. Kluttz, Esq., made a speech of welcome, which was enthusiastically received.

After the reunion the Brotherhood repaired to the Mt. Vernon hotel, where they were joined by their families and a few invited guests, to partake of the magnificent banquet provided. There were sixty sat down at the table. Conversation was rife, and, as one who was present remarked, was properly punctuated with champagne corks. After the banquet, the parlor of the Mt. Vernon was repaired to, where music and conversation kept the party until a late hour.

Decoration Day.

On last Saturday, the negroes celebrated the day known as decoration day, but with less pomp and display than usual. In former times, it was the day for rallying the Republican forces; the white carpet-baggers, uttering the slogan for the next election, would call on their dusky hearers to stand by those who lay under the sod, martyrs for their freedom. But a change has taken place. On last Saturday the procession headed by a band playing a dirge, marched out to the cemetery, where a hymn was sung and a prayer offered, and returning to the courthouse closed the exercises. Rev. J. C. Price did the initiative, and J. C. Dancy, Editor of the Star of Zion, made the address, which is spoken of as a good speech, abounding in good advice to the darkies.

The streets were crowded as usual. The town darkey put on "considerable lugs" while the country negro seemed content with cheap cigars and rubbing snuff. There was not a single case before the Mayor during the day, which speaks well for the sobriety of the negroes.

Hilarious Picnicers.

The pupils of the Methodist church were given a picnic Tuesday morning last at Dunn's Mountain, 3 miles south-east of town. It required about a dozen carriages and wagons to convey the party, and they together made up quite a gay procession, and attracted much attention as they passed through the principal streets of the town. There was one Studebaker wagon filled with boys from 12 years down—about sixteen of them—who did not seem to know or to care, whether they were on their heads or on their feet, and they were piping as gleefully as so many black birds in a tree top. It was the anticipation of pleasure that thrilled them, for there was nothing in the wagon to the smallest degree enjoyable, and yet they could neither sit nor stand still one instant.

There was a full attendance of Teachers, Superintendents and Seniors, to constitute the negative of the human magnetic battery, so that there is reasonable hope that the proceedings and enjoyments of the day would be regulated by the laws of safety and propriety.

Changing the Gauge.

Last Saturday morning, at 4 o'clock, a. m., six hundred men scattered along the line of the Western North Carolina railroad, began to remove the rails and spike them down to fit the new gauge. Capt. McBee had carefully arranged the details, so that each section knew just what it was expected to do. Very naturally these sections were stimulated into a kind of rivalry, each trying to get through first. This spirit hastened the work, so that at 10:50 a. m. Capt. McBee was notified by telegram that the work on the whole line of more than 200 miles had been completed. Immediately a freight car was started from Salisbury for the purpose of distributing freight cars, as all the cars on the line had been hauled in.

This was a wonderful piece of work and reflects greatly to the credit of Capt. McBee.

But that gentleman's reputation is not confined to spasmodic efforts, like the quick work recorded; he is persistently quick, and has, without doubt, the best trained and quickest force under him that can be found on any road. Take his bridge builders for instance; they accomplish more than twice as much as a similar force on other roads. The break in the Yadkin river bridge affords an example. The work was moving along at such a snail's pace that General Superintendent Thomas telegraphed Mr. McBee to come and bring his bridge force. Col. Thomas had seen them at work in the mountains. The result was, that after their arrival on Sunday, trains were passing over the bridge on Monday afternoon.

Mission Band's Party.

The Mission Band is an organization among the smaller children of the Presbyterian church. The idea of organizing the little ones originated with Mrs. S. H. Wiley, at whose residence the Band have held all their regular meetings. These little workers are collecting money to be put to certain and specific uses in the mission field of China. The ice cream party given by them on last Friday evening, was the first effort in a public way in that direction. They made a success of the party and more than thirty dollars for this missionary fund. The scene presented at the party was enchanting to all who were present. The freshly mown lawn (in rear of Mr. Wiley's residence) was dotted here and there with tables spread in white, and decorated with flowers. From these tables and cakes were served. There was a lemonade well under the trees for the thirsty. While the older people enjoyed the sweets, they were also delighted with the presence of the Mission Band. There are 28 of them, and they appeared at their best, dressed in white, and wearing a badge of white satin to distinguish them from their numerous visitors. In their games, they made beautiful pictures as they appeared now in a great circle, in "drop the handkerchief," and again, floating over the green sward in the obstreperous "chase of the fox." It was enjoyable to all present, and is a splendid opening of the season for the Mission Band parties. They may depend on a larger patronage at their next.

NOTE.—The members of the Mission Band return thanks to those friends who contributed so generously for their refreshment tables last Friday afternoon, and to the citizens who patronized them so liberally.

MINING DEPARTMENT.

T. K. BRUNER, EDITOR.

Prof. W. E. Hidden has resumed operations in the famous gem regions of Alexander county, this State.

Mr. W. B. Levis, of London, Eng., President of the Gold Hill Mining Company, Limited, is here on a visit to the mines.

Regular mining operations will be resumed at the Dunn's Mountain mine, this month, under Superintendent Jas. McCandless.

The latest from the Carolina Queen, in Burke county, is to the effect that the prospects are flattering. The mine is a placer, or surface deposit.

Mr. McPherson Le Moyné, of Brookline, Mass., was here last week. He is making a study of our forests and has gone to the mountains.

The property known as the Sitton mine, in Henderson county, is reported as having an immense ore body of quartz, which is said to be both auriferous and argentiferous.

The Company are about ready to begin operations on the Boilston mine in Henderson county, this State. They are negotiating for reducing machinery, and expect to get to work at an early day.

Mr. Walter Tregellis, of London, Eng., one of the leading stockholders in the Gold Hill mines, arrived here on Wednesday morning and has gone to the mines. He will join President Levis, who is still there.

Col. Dillon, of Virginia, a practical man, who has charge of some large lime kiln works in his State, was here last Tuesday. He is on his way to examine the lime stones of Western North Carolina, with a view of utilizing them, in case they prove what he expects. He has been in the business for years and says that when he has explored the N. C. field, it will complete the chain of his observations, which extend from Vermont to the Gulf of Mexico.

A recent discovery near Warm Springs in Madison county, has brought to light a large body of complex ore, copper and nickel. The Asheville citizen, in speaking of it says:

"Mr. James Mc F. Hudson has given us a mass of metal, an alloy of nickel and copper, which is the product of ore obtained within two miles of Warm Springs. The ore is said to carry about 30 per cent of nickel which is the prevalent metal in the combination. The vein is from ten to fifteen feet wide, and we are informed the ore is abundant."

The Wynaad Gold Field.

The Madras Mail, published at Madras, India, records the arrival of Mr. E. C. B. Hambley, who will be remembered as connected with Gold Hill a few years ago. That paper says: "Mr. E. C. B. Hambley arrived at Madras today, en route to the scene of the gold mining industry of the district. He goes to examine the property of the Indian Gold Mine Co., and to experiment with the pyrites of the Alpha Mine. Should his report be favorable, renewed activity may be looked for in the district."

A Crystal of Corundum.

Mr. Nat. Atkinson, of Asheville, has left at the WATCHMAN Cabinet a portion of a crystal of corundum which is remarkable for size. The section, which is probably but little more than half of the original crystal, is nine inches long, and measured across the hexagon, the three measurements at the small end are 2 1/2, 3 and 3 1/2 inches; at the large end, 3 1/2, 4 and 4 1/2 inches. At the large end there are splinters of dark blue, or sapphire color, but the crystal is only remarkable for size. The fragment weighs a trifle over seven pounds and came from one of the properties controlled by Mr. Atkinson.

Archaeological Findings.

The Troy Vidette reports the finding of some relics of the stone age, which should be preserved. It says: "The flood of last week brought to the surface, on the eastern bank of the Pee Dee, some interesting Indian relics just below the ferry at Swift Island. A human skeleton and a good deal of pottery among which was one pot almost intact, and of the capacity of a bushel or five pecks." Every thing of this kind should be saved and sent to some College collection, or the State museum at Raleigh. It is important that they should be preserved and there is no better way than to donate them to the State. The WATCHMAN cabinet is also a place of safety for such things.

The commencement exercises of Zion Wesley College came off on Monday, and was attended by some of the white people of the town. The speech of Mr. Chase, of Boston, who was the orator of the occasion, is highly spoken of. He spoke of their observance and practice to insure success in life; he endeavored to draw the ambition of students from the professions and fix them on agriculture and trades, and, with all, made an acceptable speech. The affairs of the College seem to be in a healthy, progressive condition.

A Tarheel Dog.

A gentleman by the name of McDuffie, lives at Keizer station on the Raleigh & Augusta railroad. About a week ago he went down in Georgia forty miles below Savannah, and sent his dogs and wagon through the country. Soon after they arrived at their destination his favorite dog Ladd, was missing, and he wrote the news home. The letter was received at Keizer, about noon the other day, and that evening, just six days from the time the dog was missed, he put in an appearance at Keizer having traveled four hundred and fifty miles in six days. The dog evidently believes in sticking to North Carolina.

Closing Exercises of the Graded School.

On last Friday, the White Graded School closed a very successful term. The school has been established only about four years, and it is a pleasure to note the improvements in every branch and department of the institution. Experience is the greatest and best teacher, and as the Graded School gets experience, it grows in usefulness. The following was the order of the exercises on last Friday: The school was opened by singing several selections, the whole school taking part in the music. (It is just as well to say here, that vocal music is encouraged in the school, and that Miss. Moore, who presides at the organ, has done much to make it popular.) Dr. J. Rumpke then read a chapter from the Bible and offered prayer. The next event was the presentation, by Rev. F. J. Murdoch, on the part of the graduating class, of an elegant gold fountain pen, to Prof. Kizer, the principal. That gentleman responded in a brief speech, expressive of both surprise and gratitude in being the recipient of so handsome a token, and he seemed greatly touched by the kindly evidence of regard.

Major Finger, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, having sent the "Peabody Medal," which was to be awarded to the pupil most proficient in all the branches taught in the school, it was presented by Hon. L. S. Overman to Leo C. Wallace, he having attained the highest average grade—ninety-five and fifteen-sixteenths, 100 being perfect.

The next interesting event was the presentation of the graduating diplomas, by Mayor E. B. Neave, to the pupils who had completed the course taught in the school. They were: Leo C. Wallace, with great honor; W. W. Wyatt, Walter Murphy, J. L. Rendleman, Jr., Theo. Govan, Haulton Meroney and Maggie Swicegood, with honor; C. F. Marsh and James F. Gaither, graduated. The Mayor presented each with a Diploma, and they seemed very happy in the possession of the evidence of having attained their first degree. This completed the exercises, and the school was dismissed with benediction by Dr. Rumpke.

The school, during this session, has had a total enrollment of 356 pupils. The average monthly enrollment was 260 and the average daily attendance was 196. The five instructors are Prof. R. G. Kizer, principal, Mr. H. J. Overman, Miss Bessie F. Neely, Miss Florence Woodson and Miss Capicola Moore, assistants. They have separate rooms, but these five are doing the work of eight teachers, as there are eight grades to be taught. The fall term will open about the 1st of September and it is probable that the same efficient corps of teachers will be retained.

For the Watchman. The First Gun! For Solicitor! May 25th, 1886.

MR. BRUNER—Dear Sir:—Not having heard any suggestions in regard to our coming Solicitor, I take the liberty of presenting a man (without his knowledge) who I have known personally for years, and have to know a single instance where or when he has failed to prove himself just, honorable and true in every respect, and who is capable of fulfilling the duties required in every way as well or better than any man to my knowledge in the District. He is young, full of energy and a thorough Democrat, who is ever ready to work for the party, and has often done so. But a man who would not let politics or anything else deter him from any duty as Solicitor. The man is Hon. Theo. F. Kluttz of Rowan.

IREDELL.

Boom! Goes Another Gun!

SALEM, Rowan Co. N. C. June 1, '86. Editor of Watchman.—Who is to be our next representative in the legislature? McKenzie, who has proven himself an efficient and worthy officer in the county for more than three years.

This is a handsome compliment to our young friend, and all the more so as proceeding from a discerning and worthy source. Mr. McKenzie has made a good record for himself in all matters entrusted to his management, and should be put in nomination by the County Convention will meet the responsibility with the manliness that characterizes him in other matters.
