I certify that on the 15th of February I commenced giving my four children, aged 2, 4, 6 and 8 years, respectively, Smith's Worm Oil, and within six days there were at least 1200 worms expelled. One child passed over 100 in one night.

J. E. SIMMONS, Hall Co., February 1, 1879.

Sir:—My child, five years old, had symptoms of worms. I tried calomel and other Worm Medicines, but failed to expel any. Seeing Mr. Bain's certificate, I got a vial of your Worm Oil, and the first dose brought forth worms, and the second dose so many were passed I could not count them.

Convinced.

"Now tell me, dearest, truth for truth—I sometimes fear you may have known in boyhood or your earliest youth, Another girl you called your own."

"Forgive me if I seem to lapse From perfect faith—that is not it! I only wonder if, perhaps, You ever loved a little bit!"

He thought of Kate, whose brilliant mind

Once gave to life its keenest zest; He thought of Maud, whose hair had lined

The left side pocket of his vest.

He thought of Lillie, Nell and Sue, Of gentle May and saucy Nan, And then he did as lovers do,

And proved himself a truthful man.

With injured air and mournful eye He sadly turned away his head.

"If you can think—!" she heard him sigh,

"Oh! no—no—I don't!" she said. —M. S. Bridges in Frank Leslie's.

Forgetful.

As I strolled on the beach with the fair Isabella—

We were friends of long standing, I'd known her a week—

Was it love or the shade of her gorgeous umbrella

That fluttered in crimson across her soft cheek?

Hope tugged at my heartstrings and made me audacious,

For when coquetry blooms like a Provincial rose,

It is surely a sign that she means to be gracious,

And bless with sweet favor some one of her beaux.

So I set me to wooing, both blithely and bravely.

Caught in mine a small hand in a brown gant de Suede;

Snatched a kiss from her lips, and was begging her sweetly

To leave out my heart from the list of betrayed.

When she stopped me, "I'm sorry," she murmured, discreetly,

"But you see—I'm engaged!"—and pretended to sigh;

While a swift recollection upset me completely.

"Great Caesar!" I gasped, "I forgot. So am I!" —West Philadelphia Bulletin.

Davidson College Commencement.

Charlotte Observer.

The 40th annual commencement of Davidson College closed yesterday with the addresses by the graduates, the presentation of prizes and the conferring of degrees. The hot rays of the June sun were tempered by a delicious western breeze which added to the comfort and enjoyment of the occasion by the large throng of commencement visitors. The exercises were opened at the chapel shortly after the arrival of the morning train from Charlotte, which brought Gov. Seales, who had consented to be present and present the prizes to the winners. At 10:30 o'clock, the procession, headed by the Charlotte cornet band, and composed of the students, members of the faculty, trustees and distinguished visitors, formed on the campus and moved to the chapel, where the exercises were opened with prayer by one of the visiting ministers. Dr. McKinnon, president of the college, then introduced Mr. Charles S. Gilmer, of Greensboro, who delivered the address of salutation. His words were fittingly chosen and his address was a polished effort.

Mr. Edward Mack, of Fort Mills, S. C., was the next speaker and his theme was "Communism in its destructive relations to society." His theories were sound and his interpretation of his text was unique and interesting.

Mr. Donald F. Sheppard, of Long Branch, Ga., was the third speaker and he discoursed upon "Materialism as opposed to the spirituality of the mind." The audience were deeply interested in his address, the argument being alike ingenious and forcible.

"George Elliot," was the subject of a finely composed and excellently delivered address by Mr. S. Chandler Baker, of Sumter, S. C.

Mr. Brevard E. Harris, of Poplar Tent, Cabarrus county, gave the audience 20 minutes entertainment among the stars, his subject being "Astronomy," at all times an interesting one, but especially so when treated in the style in which it was presented by the talented young graduate.

At the close of Mr. Harris' address Gov. A. M. Seales presented the orator's debater's essayist's and declaimer's medals to the winners.

The degree of A. B. was then conferred upon the following young graduates:

Samuel Chandler Baker, Sumter, S. C.; Lancelin McLaurin Blue, Laurinburg, N. C.; John Saunders Carson, Charlotte, N. C.; John McMillan Clark, Oakboro's Springs, N. C.; Chas. Stewart Gilmer, Greensboro, N. C.; Edward Ervin Harris, Concord, N. C.; Edward Mack, Fort Mill, S. C.; Kenneth Alexander McLeod, Patterson's Bridge, N. C.; Joseph Alexander McMurray, Gadsden, Ala.; Columbus Wirt Maxwell, Davidson College, N. C.; Robert Alexander Mickle, Elisto Island, S. C.; John Wallace Moore, Huntersville, N. C.; William Lee Meek Morris, Concord, N. C.; James Watt Pharr; Alexandria, N. C.; Duncan Martin Phillips, Jonesboro, N. C.; Robert Dickey Ross, Pineville, N. C.; Donald Fraser Sheppard, Long Branch, Ga.; John Epsy Watts, Mooresville, N. C.

The degree of B. S. was conferred upon Messrs. Oscar Lee Clark, of Clark-

Origin of the Word "Boodle."

The origin of the word "boodle," which has obtained such notoriety of late, is giving rise to a considerable amount of discussion, but there is little doubt that it is simply a slang Western term, implying money in bulk. The Chicago News suggests that it may be a corruption of "boodle," a small Scotch coin, in value about one-third of a penny. In New England the term "boodle" is in common use, signifying the whole or all—the entirety of anything. Ingenious philologists might speculate on the connection between "boodle" and the Gothic botan, meaning plunder or profit.—Reading Times.

"The whole Ker-boodle" is slang in parts of this State. The spelling of the prefix (Ker) is purely euphonic, as we have never seen the word in print. As to its origin, we know nothing, but incline to the opinion that it is post bellum slang. It means the whole lot, the tout ensemble, and is applied to persons and things.—Ed.]

The Bell of Justice.

From the Odd Fellow's Talisman.

It is a beautiful story that in one of the old cities of Italy the king caused a bell to be hung in a tower of one of the public squares, and called it the "bell of justice," and commanded that any one who had been wronged should go and ring the bell, and so call the magistrate of the city, and ask and receive justice. And when, in course of time, the lower end of the bell rotted away a wild vine was tied to it to lengthen it; and one day an old and starving horse that had been abandoned by its owner and turned out to die wandered into the tower and trying to eat the vine rang the bell. And the magistrate of the city coming to see who had rung the bell, found this old and starving horse and caused the owner of the horse, in whose service he had toiled and had been worn out, to be summoned before him, and decreed that as this poor horse had rung the bell of justice, he should have justice, and that during the remainder of the horse's life his owner should provide for him proper food and drink and stable.

A Dastardly Deed.

Last Sunday, one mile above the railroad bridge on the Holston River, a small crowd of men congregated. Among them were three young men, Alexander Jones, Thomas Early and John Davis. After some demonstrations of ill feeling toward Davis, they took him by force into the river about one-third the distance from the bank. He persisted and tried to pull loose, saying he could not swim and if carried in deep water he would drown. After getting into deep water they turned him loose and swam for the shore. Davis sank to the bottom and was drowned before any one on the bank could get to him. Jones and Early refused to go back and help him out. They have been arrested and had a preliminary hearing before Esq. Hugh Chestnut last Tuesday, and, in default of bail, were committed to jail. The Grand Jury being in session, found a true bill against them for murder in the first degree. This is one of the most outrageous cases that has ever occurred in our country. When the body was recovered, marks of the murderer's fingers were found on his wrists and on his body, caused by his hard struggles to get loose. Davis is said to be a half-witted boy of about 17 years of age; father and mother are dead. He came from North Carolina, and has been working in the neighborhood where he was drowned, just for his board and clothes.—Holston Review.

Immigration Items.

Mr. N. C. Freck, of Millersburg, Dauphin county, Pa., is desirous of buying timber lands in a good section of Western N. Carolina.

The order for erecting the first hotel at Southern Pines has been given by contractor Moffitt of New Hampshire. The house is to be built in the very best style; verandas will be enclosed in glass similar to the hotel at Kittrells. This house is erected by Mr. Wm. L. Raymond of New York who is connected with the large house of L. D. Crossmaker & Freight and Insurance Brokers of New York and Philadelphia.

There are now under contract twenty-five cottages for Northern people who will spend their winters in North Carolina.

Arrangements have been about completed to commence at an early day a summer resort in Western North Carolina similar to Southern Pines in the middle section of the State. The object of the mountain resort will be to interest newspaper men of the extreme Southern States and through them direct the large majority of summer travelers to the mountains of this State. When this work is completed the Immigration Department will take up a similar work for Eastern North Carolina, as a sporting and pleasure resort at a point near New Berne or Edenton, the exact point has not been decided upon yet.

Gained A Red Bug Farm.

The Old North State gained about seven thousand acres of rich bottom land by the late cession of the line between our own Mecklenburg and the South Carolina county of Lancaster. This is a result not to be sneezed at, though they do say there are more red bugs to the square inch in the newly acquired territory and red bugs that bite harder and stick longer to their victims than in any other region of equal extent known.—Raleigh News-Observer.

London 1887.

President Cleveland has accepted the honorary presidency of the American exhibition to take place in London in May, 1887. Gen. A. T. Goshen, the president of the general council of the exhibition, has decided that the main office in the United States shall be in Philadelphia. President Cleveland will open the exhibition from the White House, and start the machinery by the telegraph land lines and the cable. A committee of over 1,000 prominent men in Great Britain has been selected to give a hearty welcome to American exhibitors and visitors.

No More Seizures.

JOHN BULL GIVES CANADA ORDERS. Halifax, Nova Scotia, June 12.—It is stated on the best official authority that the British government has issued orders to make no more seizures of American vessels except when the violation of the treaty of 1818 is so open and flagrant that it cannot be winked at. So far as learned from guarded official utterances, the imperial instructions do not sustain the Canadian construction that the tree-mile limit does not mean three miles off a headland.

A Hush Feel There.

A man who was on his weary journey to Wisconsin, came upon a crowd one day, and observed a sadness on all faces. "Why this gloom?" queried the old man as he laid down his bundle and felt for the front end of his plug of tobacco. "G. Sage, we mourn the loss of a good man," was the reply. "Was he honored?" "He was." "Who of you praised and encouraged him in life?" asked the old man as he looked around him. A hush fell upon the crowd, and no one replied. "Praise that comes after death," whispered the Sage, "does not even cut down the undertaker's bills. Better squander your time sawing wood for his widow."

A Story About Beecher.

The hearty expressions of regret from men of all classes and politics when the fortunately false news of the death of Henry Ward Beecher was circulated, recalls the epigrammatic opinion of one of the leading English musicians, who came to this country with a letter of introduction to Mr. Beecher, and was invited to a family dinner. After dinner Mr. Beecher and his guest had a long chat in the library, and the Brooklyn pastor told a number of stories which, if not calculated to bring the conscious blush to the cheek of innocence, were at least pointed enough to amuse the London man of the world. In the evening Mr. Beecher took his visitor to the theater to see Salvini in "Othello." After his return home the Englishman was asked if he had been disappointed in the famous Henry Ward Beecher. "Yes, I was," he replied. "How were you disappointed?" "Why, I expected to meet a minister, don't you know, and I found a man!"

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, June 14, 1886.

Having entered upon the seventh month of the first session of the forty ninth Congress, the lower House proposes to make an effort to crowd the work through within the time consumed by the session ending July 15th 1887. This prospect to the outside observer, is not very promising; but those supposed to direct the majority of the upper and lower Houses, say that it can and probably will be accomplished. There is already talk of introducing a resolution in the House fixing June 26th, for adjournment, with the expectation that the date will not be set more than ten or twelve days beyond that time.

The President and his wife have under contemplation a tour of the northern lakes with a select party of friends in a chartered steamer, during the summer. It is probable that they will spend some time on the sea-coast and in the mountain region after the adjournment of congress, and then go to their old home in Buffalo. According to the programme they will leave Buffalo some time in August and make a trip which will include Lake Erie, Huron and Michigan, making stops at points of interest. The programme will be varied considerably. It is under serious consideration at the White House and will probably be carried out. Much will depend upon the date of the adjournment of Congress. If Congress does not adjourn before August, the President will of course be detained in Washington, and his summer outing, as now projected, will be abandoned. It is said that the President and his wife have never been farther west than the city of Buffalo. Mr. Cleveland is quite anxious to make a tour of the lakes, and if he does so, the Chicago Ironworks Club, to which he has a standing invitation, will doubtless entertain him.

There seems to have been very good management displayed in the matter of making contracts for postoffice supplies during the eighteen months past and consequently a great saving to the Government has been the result. During July Gen. Hays' term as Postmaster General, the business became greatly mixed and certain contracts were let which subsequently proved not to have been entire business-like transactions. Postmaster General Vilas is giving special attention to this class of work under him, and together with third Assistant Postmaster General Hazen, after careful labor, now have binding contracts which, while they will doubtless yield fair profits to the contractors, will, at the same time, be of great advantage and benefit to the public at large. Take for instance the contract for stamped envelopes just made by the Postmaster General. Gen. Hazen, after advertising for proposals for these envelopes the Department had a great deal of pre-

THE SKIN.

ITS DISEASES AND CURE.

This class of troublesome complaint embraces a large list, some of which afflict nearly every family in the land. Heretofore the treatment of nearly all these diseases has been very unsatisfactory and unsuccessful, and the people have been very much deceived by pretended remedies. A majority are caused by an impure, vitiated condition of the blood, and as most of the blood remedies of the day require 50 to 100 bottles before you discover that they will not effect a cure, we offer B. B. B., which makes positive cures by the use of only a few bottles.

The most common of the skin diseases which are cured by the use of B. B. B. are as follows: Eczema, Old Ulcers, Carbuncles, Abscesses, Dry Tetter, Ringworms, Itching Humors, Blotches, Herpes, Boils, Spottedness, Beautiful Complexion.

is sought by the use of cosmetics and all sorts of external applications, some of them being poisonous. All females love to look pretty (which gentlemen do not object to) and a smooth, soft, clear complexion adds greatly to female charms. The use of B. B. B. will purify your blood, will remove blotches, splinters and bumps that appear upon the face and neck, and will tinge the pale cheek with the rosy tints of nature. One or two bottles will convince any one of its value. No family should fail to keep B. B. B. in the house, as there is no family medicine its equal.

Rheumatism.

One author says: "Rheumatism is due to the presence in the blood of a vegetable organism of definite character." Another says: "It is due to the presence of a poison in the blood which of the nature of a misapp." The disease having its origin in the blood, it is reasonable to suppose that it must be cured by remedies directed to the blood. A successful remedy must produce certain changes in the composition of the blood, and when this has been accomplished, all pain, swelling and stiffness of the joints subside. This accounts for the reason why external applications fail to produce permanent relief. But we now have the remedy which acts like magic in giving relief to all forms of rheumatism, rheumatic gout, rheumatism of the joints, muscles and heart. It also cures syphilitic and mercurial pains and rheumatism in an incredibly short time. The fact cannot be denied that B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) has proven itself to be the most speedy and wonderful remedy for all forms of rheumatism ever before known. Those who were prostrated in bed and could not get about, have been cured. Men with two crutches, and hobbling along with stiffened and painful joints, withered flesh, loss of sleep and appetite, are cured by the use of B. B. B. Cast aside all other remedies, use B. B. B. and you will soon have no use for crutches. Many who read this will refuse to be cured by the use of B. B. B., but we advise all such to drop us a postal card for our Book of Wonder, free, which is filled with startling proof of cures made here at home. It also contains full information about blood and skin diseases, which everybody should read. Address Blood Balm Company, Atlanta, Ga., and you may be made happy.
