The Ox Gored on the Other Side.

Boston Journal.

At the race fair, Thornhill, in Upper Nithsdale, England, a farmer was trying to engage a lad to assist on the farm, but he would not finish the bargain until he brought a character from his last place, so he said:

"Run away and get it, and meet me at the cross at 4 o'clock."

The youth was up to time and farmer said:

"Well, have you got your character with you?"

"No," replied the youth, "but I've got yours, and I'm not coming."

Hold on Boys.

Hold on to your tongue when you are just ready to swear, lie, or speak harshly.

Hold on to your hand when you are about to punch, scratch, strike or do an improper act.

Hold on to your foot when you are on the point of kicking, running off from study, or pursuing the path of error.

Hold on to your heart when evil associates seek your company, and invite you to join in their mirth, games, and revelry.

Hold on to your good name at all times, for it is of more value than gold, high places, or fashionable attire.

Hold on to the truth for it will serve you well, and do you good throughout eternity.

Hold on to virtue—it is above all price to you at all times and all sorts of places.

Hold on to your good character, for it is, and ever will be, your best wealth.

Not that Kind of a Cow.

Burlington Hawkeye.

"Does your cow crouch and curl," asks the new England Farmer, "and appear nervous and fidgety when you sit down to milk her?" Whell, not much, she don't. She isn't that kind of a cow. She isn't one of your shy, timid, bashful cows. She just fixes her eyes on vacancy with a glare that will raise a blister on an oak knot, sticks her tail straight up in the air stiff as a poker, plants three feet firmly on the ground, and then feels around with the other for the milk-pail, milk-stool and milkmaid; she finds them, fires them up somewhere into the blue empyrean, and remarking "Ha! ha!" amid the shouting, jumps over a six rail fence and tramples down an acre of young garden. Don't talk about cringing and curling to a cow that has to be milked with a pipe line and a pump-station.

A Maryland Joke.

In a certain village in Maryland a small boy kicked up a breeze in the parish church one Sunday. It seems that a certain good woman bought a calf's head and put it on to boil, leaving her little boy to mind it while she went to the church close by.

The good minister had reached his "Fiftly, my brethren," when a small boy stuck his head in the door and whispered:

"Mammy?"

The good woman recognized her son instantly and began at once to make signs to him to leave the door.

"Mammy!" again came the whisper—this time a little louder than before.

The mother shook her finger at the boy warningly, and indulged in other familiar pantomime with which she was accustomed to awe her son. But it didn't work worth a cent. The boy was excited and in dead earnest, as the sequel will show. Raising his voice he shouted:

"Mammy, you needn't wink and blink at me, but you had better come home right away, for the calf's head is better'n the dumplin's out of the pot."

Brother Gardener on the Salvation Army.

Lime Kiln Club in Detroit Free Press.

"I hold heal in my hands," said Brother Gardener, as the sneezing, coughing and shuffling died away in Paradise Hall, "a letter axin' how dis Lime Kiln Club stands on de Salvation Army queshtun. It akes far an honest expreshon of my individual opinyun, an darfore I shan't compromise any of you when I say:

"If a revivalist has got to d—n yer eyes to save yer soul, den dar's sumfin wrong with orthodox religion.

"If de way to Heaven an lined wid whoopin', howlin' men and women I should reckon dat moss' of de chillun would get scart an' turn back.

"De man or woman who can't sperence a change of heart in a church congresshun of respectable people won't be apt to git it in a barracks filled wid loafers.

"It seems to be a good deal easier for pussons to believe dey hev a call to go out an' spread de gospel for 'em to believe dey hev a call to make a livin' by work.

"If it has become necessary to scare a man into callin' hisself a christian it an no wonder dat religun doan pay borrowed money any sooner dan odder folks.

"If Sam Jones can convert men to Christ by a mixture of humor, pathos, farce an' sense, delivered in an ole barn, what's de use of our costly church edifices an' high salaried preachers?

"It an my opinyun dat nine-tenths of dese wandarin' revivalists will hev just as hard work to squeeze into Heaven as de average sinner.

"When you skeer a man into obeyin' de law you doan' make a law abidin' citizen of him any mo' dan you make him into gittin' up in a crowd an' declarin' dat he an' gine to lib a defrunt life. Sound de triangle an' let de purceedins purceed."

Mr. Gladstone has announced the dissolution of the English Parliament.

Down with the Red Flag.

The red flag of anarchy is a dirty rag steeped in the innocent blood of babes and women. It is a menace to every law maker in this country. It is an insult to labor and to the rights of all voters. It is an importation from the slums of Europe, in no way representing the better element that comes to this country to help elevate humanity. It is a disgrace to all that is clean, honest, intelligent, progressive.

Lightning Strikes a House.

On last Sunday evening week, a flash of forked lightning struck the dwelling house of Mr. Eugene Johnson, at Farmington. One fork went down the chimney until it came to the stove-pipe, then followed that into the room, knocking the brick from under the feet of the stove, passing through the floor into the ground. The other fork knocked off the north-west end of the house, then passed inside, tearing off the plastering in every room in the house. Fortunately no one was in at the time. The same evening it struck a large locust tree in front of Mr. Holden Smith's—twelve feet from the house—shattering it to pieces.—Davis Times.

It is told that a farmer near here, having read in a poultry journal that hens having dark plumage lay earlier and more frequently than those of a light color, immediately went to work and dyed 17 white hens black.

A gentleman, who could not wait, offered a young lady a hundred dollars if she'd let him hug her as much as the man did who had just waltzed with her. It was a good offer and showed that money was no object to him, but they "fired him out" so hard that his eye was quite black.

The hen house and other out buildings, if unpainted, will be all the better for a coat of whitewash. A very little glue dissolved in hot water be the wash adhere. The whitewash, combined with glue, should never be used on fruit trees. It is often so applied, but does more harm than good.

New Orleans is to have a Sunday law. So the Legislature has decreed. Well, it was badly needed, and we hope it will be rigidly enforced. It is time the people of New Orleans had heard that there was a day to be kept holy and in which labor was to cease, including theatres and circuses and rum mills.—Wil Star.

The English sparrow question is an interesting one. These birds are said to be at all the points along the railways. The first were brought here in a freight car, from Portsmouth, about eight years ago. They are very seldom seen a mile from the city. There is the best evidence that at certain places they have made their homes in the country, twelve or even fifteen miles from any town.—News and Observer.

A Westfield merchant went trout fishing the other day, and while whipping a mountain brook, came face to face with a wild cat, which he insists was six feet long. They were not ten feet apart, and stood staring at each other, the cat with apparent ferocity, the man with undoubted fear. At last the fisherman gave a despairing yell, and the cat gave another and then each turned and ran at full speed.

Among some books announced to be sold in London a week ago was the identical prayer-book used by Mary Queen of Scots at her death upon the scaffold. The prayers were written in latin, upon vellum, and are said to be the handiwork of some rare fifteenth century scribe. The pages are illuminated with elegant borders of fruits, flowers and birds, and there are some thirty-odd elaborate miniature Flemish artists.—N. Y. Times.

The Discussion Closed too Late!

No matter what the subject under discussion may be, it is never safe to close the polls till Alex county has been heard from. Speaking of babies, the wife of Julius Payne, of that county, a few years ago gave birth to seven in thirteen months—four at one time and three at another. It would be well to close this discussion before the lies commence coming in.—Statesville Landmark.

Senator Hawley

of Connecticut is said to have the presidential "bee in his bonnet." Well, he is a handsome man, vastly better morally than Blaine, and his record as a soldier, and his fiery denunciation of the South during the reconstruction period, will perhaps cause his party to forgive him for the grave fault of being a native of North Carolina. The Republicans would do well to nominate him; but they will not do it. They will go further and fare worse.—N. Y. Star.

Anarchists.

FORTY NINE OF THEM INDICTED AT MILWAUKEE.

Milwaukee, June 8.—This morning forty-nine of the recently arrested anarchists indicted by the grand jury for rioting and conspiracy were arranged in the municipal court. Blair, the educational crank, has got another crocheted in his head. His latest is a bill to create schools in Utah, to teach Mormons. The schoolmasters would have a bonanza of it teaching young Mormons at the expense of the tax payers of the nation.—Concord Register.

IS IT WORTH ANYTHING?

To feel absolutely protected against Fever and Ague, Malarial fever, Typhoid fever, Typhus fever, Gastric fever, Bilious fever, Diphtheria, Pneumonia, Scarlatina, Summer Complaint, Blood Poisoning, and all and every form of common disease?

Is it worth anything to be able to effectually cleanse the blood in your entire system, to renew your youth, and invigorate all the organs of your body; to permanently cure Constipation, Dyspepsia, Water-brash, and sour stomach? To cure Jaundice and stoppage of Gall-bladders, to cure Scurvy and Biliousness, to cure Rheumatism, Gout, and Cancerous Liver; to cure Kidney disease of long standing? To be free from Gout, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, and kindred troubles?

Is it worth anything to enjoy good health, to have a good appetite, and to sleep well? If all these things are worth anything to you, you will secure them almost for the asking. We know from long experience that this statement is true, but we know that few will accept our truth. Nothing but actual experience in the use of Parsons' Pills could bring a person to realize fully their marvelous power to prevent and cure disease.

Are not you willing to take our word, to run the risk of using nothing but the purest drugs, if you find that we are not deceiving you? If you are not willing to do this, you are not worth anything. If you should once become acquainted with these Pills, you would never cease to be grateful.

Parsons' Pills were a wonderful discovery, and there are none others like them in the world. Information contained in the wrapper around each box will show many times the cost of a box of the Pills. We use the purest drugs to be found in the world; but even these, if they are used, are subjected to the peculiar purifying process known only to the chemist's art. If families and individuals could only be made to understand the real power of Parsons' Pills in the prevention and cure of disease, and in promoting the general health, a vast amount of suffering and expense might be prevented.

Our business was established in 1810, and is the oldest of the kind in the world. It is therefore, likely that we would put forth an untruthful or deceptive statement. Fraud and false pretenses do not remain long in business in this country. We suppose that Parsons' Pills may be sold at your nearest store; but if not, we will send one box by mail, post-paid, for 25 cents in stamps. Or we will send you a copy of our engraving of a President Cleveland and his Cabinet for 50 cents, all post-paid, by sending us 25 cents in stamps. We will send free to all who send us their address a handsome illustrated pamphlet, containing information of great value. If you order mention this paper.
