Subscription Rates.

The subscription rates of the Carolina Watchman are as follows: 1 year, paid in advance, $1.50...

The Mt. Vernon registered 200 guests last week.

H. M. Cauble can recover his lost watch by applying to J. G. Cauble.

Mrs. P. B. Kennedy, of Iredell county, is visiting friends and relatives here.

All of the tobacco factories here have stopped rolling but continue the work of pricing.

Col. F. E. Shober, candidate for the Senate began his canvass in Davie county Monday.

There are a great many silk hats worn here this season; probably more than ever before.

Rev. Dr. Bobbit and his daughter have given up housekeeping and are boarding at Mr. William Overman's.

It would be "good for goods" this dusty season, if there were no front doors or windows to the stores.

All of our citizens who can should encourage the State Fair, by attending at Raleigh next week. Fair opens on the 23rd.

Democrats remember that it will require every vote to elect the nine Democratic judges. Go the polls and vote the whole ticket.

There has not been the usual amount of driving during the Fall on account of the dust. The lively stable proprietors, no doubt feel it.

The WATCHMAN acknowledges a ticket to the State Fair, which opens next Tuesday, the 26th. Go down and take your folks with you.

NEEDED—In this town, a cooperage establishment; a bucket factory; a soap factory; a stove foundry; a wagon factory; and a merchant tailoring house.

Remember that the next election will decide who shall compose the Supreme Court in this State. Hence the importance of every Democrat going to the polls.

Remember that the election of the Democratic Judicial ticket will require all of the votes of the party. Do your duty in retaining Democratic Judges in North Carolina.

Remember to sweep or otherwise clean your chimneys the first rain that comes. There is a town ordinance, imposing a fine of five dollars for the accidental burning out of a chimney.

Those who have been hunting report plenty of partridges—so tame that they feel ashamed to kill them. There are coveys in some of the larger gardens right in the heart of town.

Last Saturday was a busy day in town, it being the first cotton day this season. About 50 bales were marketed here that day. From thirty to fifty bales a day are coming in now.

Do not throw your vote away by casting it for any of the side issues. Your vote should be put where it will do some good. Vote as you have always done, for the Democratic nominees.

Our correspondents frequently write advertisements for various persons in the body of their letters. These are stricken out. News is what we are after. Don't object to advertisements, but cash should accompany them.

Dr. Rumble is preaching this week at Unity Presbyterian church—assisting Rev. Mr. Boyd. He will be absent next Sunday. Next week Dr. Rumble goes to Blowing Rock to organize the Presbyterian church at that place. He will preach there a week or more.

The proprietor of the Mt. Vernon Hotel has built a large dog kennel, 10x32 feet. This is designed to accommodate sportsmen who bring their dogs with them. Already they have several booked for Salisbury.

Bankers are noted for keeping their business to themselves, but judging from the number of visitors to these institutions here, the conclusion is that they are thriving. As soon as the tobacco sales close, cotton comes in. Salisbury has a double advantage over other towns in this respect.

Mr. P. A. Frercks has just put in a new and stronger engine at his machine shops near the Mt. Vernon Hotel. This additional power is to be used in running saws for cutting fire wood, and perhaps a planer. He also contemplates putting in a steam laundry. He has built a new engine house, 20x26 feet to hold this new engine.

Henry Reeves, an old time darkey, has served the Methodist congregation here in the capacity of sexton continuously for nearly forty years. In the days of slavery a great many servants were regular members of the churches here. Henry is the only one now who retains his membership in this church.

The season has arrived when the man of the house begins to practice economy by attempting to set up stoves himself. The finishing touches however, are generally the handwork of men whose business it is to do that particular work. It does not take the ordinary man long to give up such a job.

Remember the time for voting is nearly here. Are you ready? Is your name on the list? See that your name is on the books in your township. Do not lose the opportunity to vote the straight Democratic ticket.

The Railroad authorities here have effected positive information to the effect that President Cleveland and Mrs. Cleveland will visit Richmond on the 21st inst. and, also, several members of his cabinet and their families. There will be a reduced rate to Richmond State Fair, which begins on the 21st inst.

The Secretary of the Building and Loan Association has applications for stock from South Carolina, and from Cleveland county in this State. There is ample room for all who wish to come in. They shall be accommodated. This speaks well for the B & L stock.

Col. Bilheimer and Mr. Risley of the Atlantic and Northwestern railway were here this week. They seem very well pleased with the affairs of the road all along the line. They are confident of ultimate success and are bending all their efforts to bring it about.

The earthquake damaged the Medical College at Charleston, and the President of the North Carolina State Medical Association has issued a circular calling upon the Physicians and Surgeons of this State and all who feel disposed to aid in rebuilding this time honored Southern Institute to contribute. Dr. Dorsett has the list.

Since the reduction in the price of gas which took effect on 1st inst., the list of consumers has increased considerably. It should be placed at figures that would justify every citizen in town using in to the exclusion of oil, which is dangerous. The Company are considering the question of changing the present for a cheaper gas, with the hope that its use will become universal.

Mr. Burlingame, the Water Engineer, who is to superintend the building of our water-works is here and has begun the search for a reliable water-bearing stratum in the formation where the well is to be sunk. He has already encountered a layer of rock which the borer would not penetrate and has begun at a second point. This is simply preliminary; the regular work will begin next month.

Cheap rates are offered to those who wish to visit the State Fair at Raleigh, commencing on the 26 inst., to wit:

Round trip, including admission to Fair, from Salisbury and return, $4.45. From China Grove, $4.65. From Concord, $4.90. Tickets will be sold from October 23rd to the 29th, inclusive, at all the depots on the R. & D. line, and limited good to the 1st of November.

Mr. Benj. Marsh has done a job of repairing a chlorinator head for the Chlorination Works here, which required a very nice calculation. It was the turning down and shrinking in by heat, a hub in the chlorinator head. This head weighed 400 pounds and was about 4 feet in diameter. It was a very delicate calculation to make this fit tight. The hub is not keyed or fastened in any other way. This job saved the expense of buying a new head, and it reflects credit on our home mechanics.

The young ladies of St. Luke's have arranged for a series of entertainments, the first to be given on Tuesday the 26th inst., at the Mt. Vernon Hotel. There will be several attractive features. They hope all will patronize them. Admission 25 cents—to begin at 8 o'clock.

The young men, and citizens generally, have always been ready at the call of the ladies for help in any work they undertake, and the Mt. Vernon will find a goodly number of our people in attendance next Tuesday night. The entertainment is a departure from the stereotyped conventionality of church entertainments as usually conducted.

Rev. T. W. Smith will move to Concord in a few weeks. For a number of years he has been in bad health and last year he thought himself sufficiently strong to enter the ministry and he took an active work at Salisbury. His health has failed him again and he will move to Concord. He and his excellent family will find a warm welcome here, they are held in such high esteem.—Times.

The people of Salisbury will regret to lose Mr. Smith and they sympathize with him in the poor state of his health.

Building and Loan Association.

This institution is in a flourishing condition and is doing a good work towards building up the town. It was organized about eight months ago, and has now about 200 members, holding stock to the amount of $88,600.

Books were opened last month for subscriptions of stock in the 2d series, and in a few days 280 shares were taken. At the Directors meeting on Tuesday, it was ordered that the books be re-opened until the 1st November, in order to give an opportunity to others who were known to be desirous of taking stock. At that meeting, also, four applications for loans were passed on and granted, amounting to $2700. Including applications previously granted the total sum of applications accepted but not yet paid is $4,600. The monthly receipts on stock now amount to about $1,000; and the interest on loans already made to about $10 per month.

It will thus be seen that the institution is conferring valuable aid to those who wish to build, and must very soon be felt by the community in its material progress. The loans already made but yet unpaid will assist in the erection of eight new buildings.

Montgomery County Democratic Ticket.

Capt. S. T. USHER, for the Senate. P. C. SAUNDERS, for the House of Commons. J. C. BAYTON, for Sheriff. W. R. HARRIS, for Clerk. P. H. TERRELL, for Register of Deeds. M. B. LESTER, for Treasurer.

Spare the Quail.

The writer, in company with a friend, went out last Saturday evening for an hour's sport among the birds. They are plentiful, but are too young for shooting purposes. They are mere "squealers" as the young birds are called, and really do not know enough to make it sport to shoot them. If let alone for another month they would be in fine condition. But just there is the trouble. They will not be let alone, but will be killed out by thoughtless boys and pot hunters. Those who have their lands posted should forbid shooting even to their friends until after the first of November.

This reminds us that our game laws should be changed to read "first of November" instead of "15th of October." The attention of L. S. Overman, Esq., who will represent Rowan in the next Legislature, is called to this matter—but we forget, that gentleman is to be speaker of the House. Col. Shober, who will represent Rowan and Davie in the next State Senate, will please make a note of this need in our game laws, and at the proper time introduce a bill providing for the needed extension of the time.

The Graded School Trouble.

PROF. KIZER'S STATEMENT. We have a rule not to allow pupils to go on the railroad bridge; it is known and observed by the school. At recess on Thursday I saw Frank Tuttle standing on the bridge watching an approaching train. I called to him in the presence of about a hundred boys to come off the bridge. He looked at me and must have heard me, but did not respond. I repeated the call and still he did not obey. I went to him and ordered him in the house; I followed and began administering what I deemed a proper punishment for his offense against the rule of the school and my verbal demand for him to obey it. He began to resist and I took a better hold and administered the punishment. His defiance of authority in the presence of a large number of pupils and it was necessary to give him a good whipping as an example to the school. The boy resisted on a former occasion, and is one of the worst boys in the school to keep within proper bounds. I deny that I struck the boy in any way save to leave any external evidence; as the boy did that himself by running against a desk. I deny ever having abused a boy in school. I do keep good order, but I do not inflict excessive punishment.

REV. MR. TUTTLE'S STATEMENT. I was a little late getting home last Thursday and found my wife waiting for me. She met me at the door very much excited and said that Frank was in the house used; Professor has given him a violent beating. I immediately proceeded to examine the boy and found that his left wrist was considerably swollen and bruised; the same arm, near the shoulder was also considerably bruised and blood-shot—the outer skin was broken and blood had gathered under it; there was a bruise on his forehead just under the edge of his hair, that was very much swollen at the time—about the size of a small guinea egg; on his hips and thigh there were quite a number of welts, two having cut through the skin. In addition to the evidences of severity already mentioned, there were blue and black marks on his limbs the size of a silver half dollar. This covers the external evidence of the beating, but the boy complained that evening and night very much of pains in his back, which he said resulted from his being thrown violently on a bench. I was not disposed to precipitate a difficulty, so sent Prof. Kizer a message asking him to come over, (we are near neighbors,) and grant me an interview. To this request he made no reply, and I failed to allow me to see him before Saturday morning, which you will remember was after publication of the matter had been made. I further state that the publication in the Evening Examiner was substantially correct as to the injury done to the boy.

THE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE.

The School Committee met on last Monday evening and heard the statements of Rev. Mr. Tuttle and Prof. Kizer. They then requested these gentlemen to retire. After some deliberation they postponed the further investigation of the matter until next Monday evening (25th) when they will take testimony and come to a decision.

The statements of the gentlemen are given to the public. Both are men of strict integrity. We shall not comment on what they have stated; the public may draw its own inferences. There is one phase of the question which we think needs the careful consideration of the School Committee, and that is the advisability of continuing corporal punishment in the school. Every disturbance that has ever been associated with the school has arisen from this cause. Would it not be well to relieve the male teachers of the right to inflict corporal punishment? Discipline does not necessarily mean ruling by the rod. In the great free schools of the north teachers are not allowed to use the rod at all, and they have the best disciplined schools in America. It is discipline by intellectual force, not physical domination.

But there are those who argue that this will not work here, where all classes mingle in a school. Surely the children of the people of Salisbury are no worse than the street arabs of a city. Should the committee not, however, concur in this opinion, perhaps they will take other means to restore public confidence in the reasonableness of the punishment inflicted at the school. They must needs know that there must be a change from present modes. In order to maintain good discipline it is necessary to have the co-operation of parents. To show the parent an opportunity to aid in the disciplinary government of the school, would it not be well, if not to abolish corporal punishment, to restrict it to a limit of say ten lashes with a single switch. In cases where greater punishment is necessary, let the pupil be suspended, in case of resistance, the pupil might be suspended or even, in extreme cases, expelled. This method would at once enlist the parent on the side of the school, because he could not afford to have the child lose the benefits of school training. The committee could easily inaugurate a method of this kind which would greatly strengthen the school, and at the same time relieve the teachers of the necessity of administering severe punishment upon unruly pupils, and also relieve the committee of the unpleasant task of clearing up these occurrences. The committee is expected to find a way out of the trouble, and they will doubtless act with wisdom when they consider the question. There is too much at stake to admit of dilatory action, and the committee will probably settle the question at their Monday evening meeting.

MINING DEPARTMENT.

T. K. BRUNER, EDITOR.

A New Copper Prospect.

owned by Gwyn, Hanna & Co., is situated in Wilkes county, on the waters of Roaring River, four miles north of Trap Hill. The vein is seven feet wide, and is almost solid chalcoppyrite—iron and copper sulphide. The property contains about 600 acres, and this bold vein extends all the way across it. One shaft has been sunk to the depth of 30 feet on the vein. A tunnel was started in the side of the mountain to cut the vein at a considerable depth below the surface, and was driven about 100 feet in the direction of the vein. At a branch, at the foot of the hill, they found the vein crossing at a lower depth than the tunnel, and they drove on the vein at this point. The ore seems to be homogeneous. This property has a fine body of timber standing on it, and has a plentiful supply of good water. It is a place that needs capital to work it up, and those desiring to get particulars, such as assays, value of copper percentage in ore &c., are referred to Prof. Geo. B. Hanna, Charlotte, N. C. who has made an examination of the property and assayed the ores from the various openings.

MORRIS MT. MINE RE-OPENED.

Work has been resumed at the Morris Mountain mine in Montgomery county, by Truman Coman, Esq., formerly of N. Y., but for the last ten years, a resident of Thomasville, N. C. Morris Mountain property is near Eldorado postoffice, and is being cleared and prepared for regular work. Mr. Coman has interested some New York gentlemen with him in this property, and its development lies in the near future. The gold is free, and is generally found in the Huronian slate, and in the quartz veins which are found in this formation. The mine produces rich specimens of free gold, which sometimes mislead as to the value of a deposit.

BILES MINE STILL PRODUCING.

The Biles mines, operated by Crowell & Ivy, near Bileville, in Stanly county, continues to produce. Work has been in progress here on a small scale for more than a year, and with prospects for a continuation for some time to come. Owing to the limited amount invested, the returns have been small, yet amply remunerative for the expenditure. There is room for expansion at this property, and a chance for capital to find a profitable investment.

OPERATIONS IN UNION COUNTY.

At the Altan mine, in Union county, new methods are being introduced—milling machinery and concentrators—and the same is true at the Howie mine. If the results are favorable extended operations will be undertaken at both. The Putnam and Caldwell mines, in Union county, are in active operation; the former has a mill and is now on the list of producers.

At the Hemby mine, in Union county, the ten stamp mill has been completed and the manager is only waiting for water.

The Agent of the "Big Survey tract," in Union county, has spent several days in examining that property, and may possibly have the tract carefully explored; this "Survey" lies between the Davis and Howie mines, (a distance of four or five miles,) and as both of these are noted localities, it is not unlikely that something good may be found in the interval. The policy of this company, which also owns large tracts in Rutherford and Polk counties has been to reserve mining rights in selling their lands, and hence it has resulted, though probably not intended. The only mines known along this stretch besides those named, are the Folger and Moore Hills; it would be very strange if this interval were barren, when its continuations were rich.

SOUTH CAROLINA NOTES.

Mining in this State is rather dull this season! The Haile has somewhat improved in material of late, but the work is much the same as for the last two years. The same may be said of operations at the Brewer mine.

The mining work in Union county, S. C. is flat; a little placer work is being effected in Spartanburg county and in Oconee county, but the output is not large.

MINES IN GEORGIA.

In Ga., work is without change, so far as the writer can learn. Two new mines have been put on the list of producers, viz: Warren and Taylor mines, both in Warren county.

The Dallowega district work continues about the same, but better ore has been uncovered at the Gordon mine.

The Hand lot on No. 999 is now pounding away with good results.

The attention of miners and others who may need a pump for any purpose, is invited to the advertisement of A. S. Cameron Pump Works, to be found in another column. They are a strictly reliable Co., furnishing only the best pumps, at low figures for a thoroughly good article. Send for their catalogue and price list. We have a few of these for local distribution, and those interested are invited to call, or write for them.

John Jacobs, Supt. of the Yaddin Chlorination Works, at this place, has just finished the last of five car loads of ore sent here from Ball Ground, Cherokee county, Ga. The mine at that place is operated by Franklin & McDonald. They are very well pleased with the returns. Chlorination is, after all, probably the cheapest and most reliable treatment for sulphide ores. The wonder is that it can be done so cheaply. A properly concentrated ore reduces the cost per ton of crude ton to ridiculously low figures.

We send this week extra copies of the WATCHMAN to the active mines of South Carolina and Georgia, and to a few in this State, who do not get it regularly. They are invited to subscribe.

The columns of the WATCHMAN offers exceptional advantages to those who wish to reach the miners of this and other Southern States.

MARRIED.

At the residence of the bride's mother, in Chester co. S. C., Oct. 14, by Rev. R. W. Boyd, assisted by Rev. J. A. White and Rev. J. L. McLin, Mr. H. J. McKeown and Miss Laura Stirling.

DIED.

In this county, October 10th Mary Francis Cowan, wife of John Locke Cowan daughter of the late Otha Lyerly, a pious woman and universally beloved.
