

About the Railroad.

The railroad question is beginning to be pretty generally talked throughout the county, and wherever it is understood, the people are in favor of it.

They do not ask for one cent from anybody to help them build the road. They have the money and they propose to build it.

The advantages that Rowan will gain, will be greater than that of any other county. At Salisbury two roads will cross.

Three or four years ago a strawberry farmer somewhere east of Raleigh was reported as having sold a ten acre field of strawberries at $10,000.

At Albany, Ga., a jug factory is making its owner rich. He has orders ahead for a year's work.

Other parts of the country have grown rich by fostering railroads. Rowan has another chance at a good enterprise which she can get almost for nothing.

Democratic Success. The newspapers have begun to speculate on the chances of Democratic success in 1888.

The fierce storms of Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 17th and 18th, was more disastrous on the northern lakes than elsewhere.

There are occasional indications that the Knights of Labor, as a body may not hang together as firmly and as long as the Gemini of the almshouses.

Gov. Jos. W. Reid, says the Greensboro Workman, has made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors.

reassure the people of his watchful care of the public interest, and his determination to make petty office holders the mark and do their duty faithfully.

Sad Death of Daniel H. Workman. A letter from Jos. A. Creech, Esq., Raleigh, N. C., of the 27th instant, encloses a slip cut from some paper giving an account of the suicide of Dan'l H. Workman.

"I am a burden to myself and friends. No one knows my trouble but myself. I can't stand it any longer, so it is best that I should die."

There were two young men of this name came to Salisbury from Davidson county, we think, sometime about the years 1824-25.

addressed to the farmer citizens of Catawba county on the subject of the Chattel Mortgage system, by Mr. H. A. Forney.

It seems to be already settled that Mr. Blaine is to be the republican candidate for the Presidency in 1888.

It is a vast territory—"the grainary and Egypt of North Carolina." He says "the prejudice in some sections of the State in respect to the unhealthiness of the territory referred to is unfounded."

Advice is the cheapest commodity on the market, everybody being ready to give it and few willing to take it.

Col. Andrews President Again. An OBSERVER reporter was yesterday informed that Col. A. B. Andrews has again been elected president of the Western North Carolina Railroad Company.

Washington Letter. (From our Regular Correspondent.) Washington, Nov. 29, 1886.

This is one of the busiest weeks of the year in Washington. Congress will be here in one week, and everybody must be ready for it.

At Salisbury, N. C., Nov. 29.—[Special.] Gov. Seales has received news of the death of State Senator Mark R. Gregory.

John Lehman was shot and twice wounded by a woman in New Orleans whom he had seduced under promise of marriage, Dec. 1st.

Fire broke out in the cotton on the city cotton platform at Raleigh, on last Tuesday evening and about 1000 bales were destroyed.

The Scotland Neck Democrat has nominated David B. Hill, of New York, and John G. Carlisle, of Kentucky for vice president of 1888.

A very strenuous effort is being made by the lawyers and friends of Cluverius for his pardon.

President Cleveland is troubled with rheumatism. He don't read the patent medicine ads. in this paper.

A pair of "good" mules was sold in Charlotte, Dec. 1st, at $13.00. Tight times down there.

Congress meets on next Monday. A North Carolina Lady Chloroformed in Washington.

"The Best Labor Union," says an exchange, "is in the man who commences in himself pluck, economy, foresight and common sense."

Gov. Jarvis is on the seas, sailing homeward. He will spend the holidays on his native heath and will have a true "Old North State" welcome.

A curious wholesale robbery was committed in Texas a few days since. Fifty Chinese section hands were attacked by fifty masked men and forced to give up all the money in their possession.

Prof. Foster, says the Charlotte Chronicle, predicts a storm commencing next Saturday which is to last until the 17th day of the month.

Frank Hatton, of the Chicago Mail, says Mr. Blaine came to ex-president Arthur's funeral uninvited, and acted like a cow boy.

Hugh Inman, of Atlanta, traded off what he thought was worthless stock for a 10 dollar suit of clothes.

Congressional Vote 7th District, Nov. 2nd, 1886. Table with columns for J.S. Blaine, J.S. Walker, J.S. Henderson and counties: Catawba, Davidson, Davie, Irwell, Montgomery, Randolph, Rowan, Yadkin.

Meems, Editors.—Your correspondent is one of the dissatisfied Democrats of Rowan, one who wants a change.

For one I am heartily tired of the life tenure system by which county officers hold on "like death to a dead nigger."

Some of the grounds of my opposition to the system are:

1. It breeds dissension in the party. These county officers hold on until at length they come to think the offices belong to them by right.

2. The life tenure is radically opposed to the spirit of our form of government; to the faith of the rank and file of the party in the honesty of its leaders.

3. Long terms in office by one set give rise to charges (sometimes true, but often false) of dictating, packing conventions, thwarting the will of the people.

4. Have nothing whatever against the present incumbents either personally, officially or politically; they are conceded to be efficient and obliging officers.

5. I guarantee Shiner's Indian Vernacular to destroy and expel worms from the human body, wherever they exist.

6. If you want to keep up with the times take the WATCHMAN—you can't be left.
