We saw a fine wild turkey (15-lbs) on the street Monday. It was killed at the mouth of Crane Creek.

The flags and instruments for our weather signals are all here and we hope it will not be long before they are in operation.

The mining matter prepared by the mining editor is, for lack of room on this half sheet, reserved for next week.

Mr. M. S. Brown proposes to connect with his splendid Clothing House a Merchant Tailoring Establishment; but the necessary arrangements will not be made before Spring.

The weather flags and signals, procured for Salisbury through the energy of Mr. T. K. Bruner, have been turned over to Mr. Buerbaum, his place of business being central, and will be shortly displayed from there.

J. L. Isenhour was adjudged insane by a board composed of Magistrates Bringle and Heilig and Dr. Trautman and sent to jail for safe keeping until he can be otherwise provided for. His disorder did not seem very serious, it was thought by some, his greatest hallucination being a belief in "spirits" put on him by others, or by the devil. He will probably be good crazy by the time he gets out of jail.

Master William Arthur Carter, of Statesville was the successful candidate in the competitive examination for Congressmen Henderson's West Point Cadetship. Rev. Mr. Murdoch, one of the examining board, speaks very highly of Mr. Carter, predicting his graduating from West Point with honors. Rowan, Catawba and Iredell were represented by the applicants.

The young folks of this town without regard to color or previous condition, had a lively time Christmas, and no mistake. It is worthy of note that horn music and fire crackers seemed growing in popularity, and kept the peaceful atmosphere in constant vibration day and night. Best of all, there was no sad accident and no fights. Whiskey failed to get in his ugly work this time.

A Christmas Story.

Fire cracker boy— Mule joy— Fire cracker shoot— Mule scot.

Pocket Book Lost.

Mrs. M. E. Taffie had the misfortune to lose a pocket book, Christmas, about 6 p. m., at the Racket Store, containing three $5 and two $10 bills. Don't know how or when it got away from her, nor who was made richer by the loss.

Fine Carpenter's Work.

We are informed that Mr. Small, contractor and builder of this city, has just finished some work at the residence of Mr. Clement—a mantle piece—which will compare with any seen at the great centennial exhibition.

Hog Cholera.

Capt. James Crawford, of this vicinity, has sustained a heavy loss in hogs by cholera, and the disease is still diminishing his herd. "Coppers, charcoal, woodashes and turpentine are to some extent worm destroyers, and may be given to either growing or fattening hogs," says a writer in the N. C. Farmer. The hog cholera is believed to be caused by worms or parasites, and anything that will destroy them without injury to the hogs may be given.

Christmas Trees at Salem Church.

There were 600 gifts arranged on two trees at this place, which were distributed to the children by Mr. Elliott, the superintendent of the Sabbath School. These presents were of almost every size and quality from valuable garments down to doll babies, candy and nuts. The children were made very happy, and it was joy to older people present to witness the scene. There were communion services on Sunday, the pastor, Rev. Mr. Shive, preached a good sermon from 1st Cor. xv: 27, 28, 29.

An Old Acquaintance.

We are indebted to the editors, T. S. Arthur & Son, of 920 Walnut St. Philadelphia, for a copy of the January No. of "Arthur's Home Magazine." It was highly esteemed years ago as one of the best monthlies for the family; and a rather hasty glance over this No. sustains the opinion that it holds up to its former standard of excellence. We have a fashion of saying "no good comes of fooling." This book tells a splendid story illustrating the same idea—"no good from practical jokes."

Barn burning has resulted in a dangerous state of feeling between the whites and blacks near Memphis, Tenn., which may break out into war at any moment.

Secretary Manning has issued a call for 10 millions 2 per cent. bonds for redemption. There were four suicides last week—a rich old farmer in Virginia, a dissolute young man at Asheville, a young married woman, and a young married man, the two last citizens of South Carolina.

Personal.

Mr. H. J. Overman is on a visit to Ashland, Va.

Dr. Griffith has gone to visit friends in Forsyth county.

Mr. Bain, of Philadelphia, is in the city the guest of Mr. A. J. Mook.

Mr. J. F. Schenck, of Shelby, N. C., spent several days here recently.

Mr. Dorch of Goldsboro, was in the city last week in the interest of the "Merchants Protective Union."

Mr. O. B. Van Wyck, and daughter, Miss Lydia, of Anderson, S. C., are the guests of Wm. H. Overman.

Miss Stone, a charming and accomplished young lady of Greensboro, is the guest of Miss Lydia Rumples.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Potts have taken the residence on Fulton str. left vacant by the absence of Mrs. S. A. Wilson.

Mr. E. R. Overman spent Christmas with his parents in this place. Ed. is a general favorite here, and his friends are always glad to see him. He left Sunday night to resume his duties in the office of the R. & D. R. R. at Washington.

Lots of Salisbury's boys who are engaged away from home, spent Christmas with us, among them were Archie Young, Will Young, Douglas Brown, Tam McNeely, Earnest Shober, John Wilson, Clarence Murphy, T. K. Bruner and R. L. Crawford.

Mrs. Sarah A. Wilson, took the 11 o'clock train, Tuesday a. m. last, for Atlanta, Ga., accompanied by her eldest son, Mr. John Wilson. Her three sons, John, Ed. and Wm. all have business engagements in Atlanta, which may hold them for sometime, perhaps permanently, and Mrs. W. has gone to be with them. Their absence creates a void on Fulton street which will be keenly felt by numerous friends.

For the Watchman.

On Friday, Dec. 24th, inst., at each of the churches of the Bethel, Christiansite, Rowan county, we had our Christmas tree services. It was a pleasure to the pastor to be present and to conduct the exercises at two of the churches, viz: St. Paul's and Bethel; and we would have enjoyed very much meeting the good people and children around the Christmas tree at each church, but were hindered by heavy rain during the evening.

At these services of course the children were out in full force, to be made glad by receiving the many presents from friends and loved ones.

It does the heart good to go into a large congregation and see so many bright eyes looking so intently upon a Christmas tree.

Certainly seeing the children rejoice is sufficient in itself to repay us for all necessary trouble and expense. And we know of no better way than this, to interest and encourage the children.

And it is the duty of Christians to take care of the "Lambs of the Flock," and to co-operate with the pastor in all his efforts to attract, please, and draw them, for if a congregation refuses to do this, it will soon have a blank history. The interest that is taken in the children to day will be the power of the church in the future, and will also tell on the eternal shore when Jesus "maketh up His Jewels."

In this connection it gives us pleasure to state that most of our people seem interested in the Sunday school work, and therefore it was no great tax upon them to give a suitable present to each of the 450 Sunday school pupils in the charge. Leaving them still in a condition of heart and purse to remember the pastor's family with quite a number of handsome presents. From the tree in St. Paul's church the pastor's wife received a beautiful purse well filled, and is now puzzling us with the question as to the best investment to make of her money. Also this congregation sent its annual load of provisions to our door, while the Bethel people manifest their appreciation in many tangible ways from time to time.

We mention these things because they are given not to make up a deficiency in salary, but as a token of kind christian regard, and for this season we appreciate them all the more. C. A. ROSE. Zeb, N. C. Dec. 27th, 1886.

The Pope and the Italian Government.

ROME, Dec 25.—The Pope reserving Christmas congratulations from the College of Cardinals, spoke at some length of the position of the church in Italy. He protested against the movement which is being carried on in that country and said that the Holy See was now despoiled of the last remnant of its patrimony. The only liberty left to him was that held by the Roman Pontiff in the earliest ages. The Italian government, he declared, had assisted the Laity in unduly interfering with the administration of the church, had expelled religious bodies and tolerated an organized hostility against the Vatican. As head of the church he must continue to protest against the position in which he is placed.

Dear Watchman.—The following clipping from a medical almanac is so appropriate to the "rotation" discussion now going on in your columns that I must send it to you. Hope you can find room for it next week. Yours Respectfully, Yours Respectfully, * POLITICIAN.—"Come now, Mr. Granger, I want you to do what you can to help me to represent your town in the legislature this winter." Farmer.—"Wal, I dunno; old Golding's been that for ten years or so, an' I s'pose his rate's far's I can diskicker." Politician.—"Yes, Mr. Golding is an able man; but you don't want to keep our rate man in office forever. Why, it is just the same in public office as it is in farming. You believe in rotation in planting, don't you?" "Yes; but then, don't you know I ain't a-go' to plant last year's pertaler field with skunk cabbage this year, just for the sake o' rotatin'. D'ye ketch my drift?" "It is to be presumed that Mr. Brown did. At any rate he did not stop to argue the matter further.—Hostler for 1887. *

Miss Turlington.

THE DEAD BODY OF THE LADY FOUND ABOUT ONE MILE WEST OF CARY. Cary, N. C., Dec. 24, 1886.

The body of Miss Turlington was found this evening about 2 o'clock at a point about one mile and a quarter west of Cary, near the residence of Mr. Wiley Boughenboe. The body was found by a negro man named Frank Marsh, in a piece of woods about one quarter of a mile from the North Carolina railroad and about the same distance from the country road leading from Raleigh to Durham. It was found lying on its back, with hands crossed on the breast and one bullet shot through the head.

The body was found about one hundred yards from a path leading out of the main road, and it seems that the murderer made no effort to cover up the body. It seems that a larger number of the searchers were near Morrisville. A messenger has been dispatched to notify the searching party that Miss Turlington's body has been found, making a circle out of the road to the body when he found it. He had started over to Mr. Boughenboe's on business. G. W. GUES.

The place is by no means isolated, houses being in sight in two directions, and it is a matter of the greatest surprise that the spot should be chosen for the commission of such a horrible crime. It appears that Bingham had driven over the road and through Morrisville as before stated, going through that village at about 12 o'clock m., and that he had taken a by-road to the left of the main road, one mile beyond that place, making a circle, continually to the left until he reached the main road near Cary a second time, then turned from the left of the main road again going about forty yards into the woods when he stopped and tied his horse. This fact was ascertained by the marks made by the horse in stamping his fore feet. The arms and circle of Miss Turlington were hanging on the bough of an oak tree at that point. Signs seen here indicate that the young lady had jumped from the buggy and tried to escape. It is presumed that Bingham shot at her as she ran, missed her then jumped from the buggy, pursued and overtook her, dealt her some violent blows on her left cheek, knocking her senseless, and then shot her through the head. The pistol was evidently very close to her head when fired, her face and her hair being badly scorched by the powder. Right there were two old rails between which was a large blood stain. From here she was dragged for about fifty yards further into woods, as was evidenced from the particles of fur from her cloak, having been caught by the twigs and brush between the spot and the place she was found.

THE BODY AS DISCOVERED. When found the cuff on her right arm was pulled down over her hand and was stained with blood, indicating that she had thrown her hand to head when the fatal shot was fired. Her muff was near her left side. There were four rings on her fingers and a necklace around her neck. Her clothing had not been torn and was in good order. A part of her hair had fallen down and had apparently been pushed into the coil by some one after she had been killed. She seemed to have been carefully placed upon her back and hands crossed upon her breast, and she was lying upon a slight incline, the head being on the higher portion and towards the north. It would seem from the careful arrangement of the body that the maddened and frenzied lover after having committed the horrible crime realized his inexcusable inhumanity and had as a last and forever lasting farewell to the woman he loved best on earth, bestowed every tender caress and token of love upon her that was left in his power.

The coroner went up to Cary last night to view the remains. It is understood on good authority that the body will be brought here on the 8.45 train and that the inquest will be held here at 10 o'clock.

The Hair May Be Preserved

To an advanced age, in its youthful freshness, abundance, and color, by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. When the hair is weak, thin, and falling, this preparation will strengthen it, and improve its growth.

Some time ago my wife's hair began to come out quite freely. She used two bottles of Ayer's Hair Vigor, which not only prevented baldness, but also stimulated an entirely new and vigorous growth of hair. I am ready to certify to this statement before a justice of the peace.—H. Hulsebus, Lewisburg, Iowa.

On two occasions, during the past twenty years, a humor in the scalp caused my hair to fall out. Each time I used Ayer's Hair Vigor and with gratifying results. This preparation checked the hair from falling, stimulated its growth, and healed the humors, rendering my scalp clean and healthy.—T. P. Drummond, Charlestown, Va.

It also benefited my wife greatly in case of sick headache, and made a perfect cure of a headache out on my little three-year-old daughter last summer. WALKERVILLE, GA., Feb. 18, 1886. HAY, JAMES M.
