The ground swarmed with them, swaying and writhing from every bush, hissing and squirming on every fallen tree, and rippling the water in all directions. I was a question as to which were more numerous, the birds above or snakes below. They tell us that as soon as the spring birds reappear there is a great gathering of snakes above and hawks below. The latter literally cover tes they make a dash at the tired little creatures who have settled upon the islands after their annual return from some unknown region. If a bird escapes the hawks and seeks to refresh himself with a drink, in the twinkling of an eye he is swallowed by one of the greedy serpents that lie in wait for him at the water's edge.
