March, 1884. I knocked off work entiny and went home to be down sick, and to die for all I could tell. I ran down so rapidly that I soon b came unable to walk any distance. 1, ser I went from room to room in my own house only by riends holding me up by each arm. The loses of quinine were in reased until I f.ch look therty gau is at a doc. The flects of this tremendous stimulation was to make me pearly wild. It broke my sleep all up, and I often walked the toor, or staggered about it, all night long, scarcely able to hear any noises ar even human speech. My temper was extremely irritably. As to food, me of my little civil brow wound eat more in a meal than 1 could in a day. I would order food and then turn from it in disgust. I dived on quining and other stimulants and by mas li, like a so as not to split it, and in the holes bear in winter. The quinine set my head in a whirl, and the fiquor - given as a medicine male my stomach so sick I could not tolerate it.

If anybody but takes a patchet and knocked me down and killed me I should have been beller off.

During the latter part of this period, early in 1886, my physician said: "Miller, there's no use in my taking any more money of you. I can't do you any good. I might pour pounds of quinine down your throat and it wouldn't help you.

On the strength of this I gave up the use of quinine altogether, and made up my mind to do nothing more and take my chances.

Three weeks afterwards-about the last of May -my wife saw on advertisement of Kaskine in a New York paper. She told me of it. 1 said: "Stuff and nonsense! it can't do me any good." But she went to a druggist's, nevertheless, to get it. The druggiet advised her against Kaskine: he said it was nothing but sugar; that she ought not to throw away her money on it, &c. He said he didn't keep it, but could get it if she insisted on having it. Turning away in disgust my wife spoke to our neighbor. Mr. A. G.
