SALISBURY N. C., THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1887.

BY J. J. BRUNER.

Flies Walk Up.

"I have only known of one instance where baldness proved remunerative." said an old gentleman to a St. Louis Globe writer. "A friend of mine, who The midnight chimes out from the minshad a shining pate, fell into the habit of watching the actions of his tormentors, the flies. He noticed that a fly always walks upward. Put a fly on a window and up he goes toward the top; he cant be made to walk downward. So my friend hit upon an idea. In the hush of the happiness given, Why not use the habit against them? Forthwith he made a window screen, divided in half. The upper half lapped over the lower, with an inch of space between. Well, as soon as a fly would I call you my darling, my darling, light on the screen he would proceed to travel upward, and would thus walk straight outdoors. On reaching the top of the lower half he would be outside. Not being able to walk down, Till the blank of the dumb air is bitter, he had no way to return to the room. By this means a room out be quickly cleared of flies, which always seek the

It was a Boston boy who started the fashion of calling his father by his given name, and the fashion lasted about thirty seconds.-Detroit Free light. My friend got out a patent, and proposes to begin a systematic war against the household pest."

LOOK OUT!

on front of Wrapper, and on the side the seal and signature of J. H. Zeilin & Co., as in the above fac-simile. Remember ther snoother genuine Simmons Liver Regulator. IEDMONT WAGON

MADE AT

HICKORY, N. C.

CAN'T BE BEAT!

to, right square

AT THE FRONT!

Have Won It!

wagon come quickly and buy one, either for cash or on time.

Sept. 1st. 1886. Two years ago I bought a very light twohorse Piedmont wagon of the Agent, Jno. A. Boyden; have used it nearly all the time since, have tried it severely in hauling saw logs and other heavy toads, and have not

The timber used in them is most excellent and thoroughly well seasoned, SALISBURY, N. C. Aug. 27th, 1886 About two years ago I bought of Jno. A. Boyden, a one horse Piedmont wagon which has done much service and no part of i has broken or given away and consequently it has cost nothing for repairs.

JOHN D. HENRY. SALISBURY, N. C.

TURNER P. THOMASON.

SALISBURY, N. C.

Sept. 31, 1886. Eighteen months ago I bought of John A. Baydea, a 21 inch Thimble Skein Piedmont wagon and have used it pretty much all the time and it has proved to be a firstrate wagon. Nothing about it has given away and therefore it has required no re-T. A. WALTON.

SALISBURY, N. C. Sept. 8th, 1886. breakage or repairs. L.R. Walton. It and I. It, however is, almost un-ple before he was destroyed.

ALONE.

I miss you, my darling, my darling, The embers burn low on the hearth: And still is the stir of the household, And hushed is the voice of its mirth; The rain plashes fast on the terrace, The winds past the lattices moan;

And I am alone.

want you, my darling, my darling. I am tired with care and with fret; I wou'd nestle in silence beside you And all but your presence forget. To those who through trusting have grown To the fullness of love in contentment, But I am alone.

My voice echoes back on my heart; I stretch my arms to you in longing, And lo! they fall empty, apart. I whisper the sweet words you taught me

The words that we only have known, For I am a one.

need you, my darling, my darling, With its yearning my very heart aches The load that divides us weighs harder, I shrink from the jar that it makes. Old sorrows rise up to beset me; O'd doubts make my spirit their own

Oh, come through the darkness and save For I am alone.

-Robert J. Burdette.

QUEER BEASTS. Strange Specimens of Animal Life

Found in Arizona.

REPTILES AND INSECTS BOTH HARMLESS AND OTHERWISE.

There are many species of lizards abounding upon the sandy "misas," writes a Globe (Arizona) correspondent to the San Francisco Chronicle; one can feeling was returned. When the Caphardly move a rock without disturbing | tain called and found me laid up, he had the siesta of one or more of these bright-eved, inoffensive I ttle creatures, which seem to prove themselves descendants of Eve, for more curious bits of animal life were never known. Thus curiosity will even overcome their natural fears for while writing upon a large rock two or three came out and ventured clear up to the paper, tasted an evelope, and upon being frightened Czar should not enfer my sick room away soon returned to pursue their investigations, which, could a person keep forgotten all about the incident. quiet enough, would be carried to a rather obnoxious extent.

The horned toad is another little animal which seems to have a fondness for human company, and many of them make their home under porches and steps. They much resemble a large third my sleeping room. One coming lizard, save that around their necks is a number of sharp projecting horns either room. The bedroom and recep about Iralf an inch long and the same tion room were connected, but the se distance apart, and which give to them a most ferocious look. They are of a dark stone color and perfectly harmless. There are quite a good many centi- ty smart, although the pain was conpedes, which, however, it is well to in- siderable, and a couple of my friend spect from a distance. Upon seeing had just departed, after a brief call. the first one running across a room a when Henry, my servant, came in to se. person is ready to take his oath that what he could do for me. I was flat on the reptile is not less than three feet my back, as you know, with no chance in length, but which upon actual meas- to turn over on account of the leg, but urement, would probably be about nine I had him prop me up with two or three inches, as that is the average length. pillows. I then sent him for ice. He and have two rows of legs the entire together in sections, and look like the walked Capt. Williams' Russian bloodhundred-legged worms often found in hound. I shouldn't have said walked; Ohio around rotten wood or under old on the contrary he came running in boards. It is not the bite of the centi- head up, tongue out, and his eyes as red They stand where they ought of his numerous claws contain the entered; and it passed through my brain venom, and when frightened, or an at- like a flash that he was mad. tempts is made to brush him off, every claw is fastened into the flesh and the flish is to keep perfectly quiet until mind, whined in an uneasy way, and It Was a Hard Fight But They the visitor walks off of his own account. then continued his circling. He did not thing to do, as one at a first impulse is Just read what people say remove the effender. This pois is against the chairs I believe he was about them and if you want a never known to prove fatal, but pro- nearly blind. He had been with me ed in commerce, in one of our Atlantic manner as the bite of a rattlesnake. ing, but a man's revolver is his hand- was shut. The animal rushed into this most of them have had fisherman's luck. had to pay one cent for repairs. I look jest weapon in this country. These room, upset a chair and bumped the My children will do as they think best upon the Piedmont wagon as the best Thim- tarantulas look like huge spiders, with table, and then came back whining, his Perhaps they will think, with me, that ble Skein wagon made in the United States. legs about two inches long and covered tail down and his courage gone, and it is best to burn this entire package." near one for personal comfort; yet if his jaws, and he was to weak he stag- course should be taken in regard to it. left alone they will never melest you. gered.

f.d. They resemble a monstrons flea a key to the door, and when he return- indicated his wish to have the packet the expense of the entire organization. and are very fond of crawling into beds. ed he would open it and walk in. There put into flames. It was suggested by no matter whether she is or is not in Many people, newcomers especially, was not the slightes question but that another of the brothers that it might good standing. are in the habit of making a thorough the dog would at once attack him. He well first to make a list of the debtexamination of their couch before re- had two or three minutes in which to ors' names, and of the dates and amounts tiring, not caring to receive the warm to think, and it was wounderful how that they might be enabled, as the in- United States Senator, says he favors a reception which would be awarded clear headed I was. I looked upon my tended discharge was for all, to inform "whirlwind campaign," and his ticket is a small insect about the size of a flea, determined that when Henry returned debts were forgiven. 18 months ago I bought of the Agent, in dark brown color and without wings, I would call out to him before he got On the following day they again as constitutional machinery generally. Sdisbary, a 21 in Thimble Skein Piedmont | which lives in the sand and is said to the door open. I was also concerned sembled, the list had been prepared, and Washington Star. wagon their lightest one-horse wagon -1 be the most poisonous of anything here for fear the dog would get out of the all the notes, due-bills, and accounts, known, and after a residence of several months I have never seen but one, and that a dead one.

The Russian Bloodhound.

In crossing the Strand, London, I dodged the pole of one vehicle just in time to be struck by the shafts of another, and, as the pavement was slippery, I went down, and the vehicle went over me, breaking my left leg below the knee. An hour later I was in my buchelor apartments (the work of the surgeon finished,) and feeling that I ought to be thankful to have come off with my life. I was in for a siege of many weeks, and I had some business which must be attended to by an outsider. Therefore, after a day or two, I sent for Captain Jack Williams, an old acquaintance. He answe ed promptly enough, and we soon mule very satisfactory arrangements. He was abluff, houest fellow, out of active service, an I was the fact of his owning a monster Russian bloodhound. The brute was his shadow. Where the dog could not go the Captian would not go. He refused all parties and receptions because of the dog. He refrained from excursions by land or sea because he would be temporarily separated from Czar, as he called the animal. The pair were well known in London, and the Captain was as safe at midnight in the slums as any other man would be in the Strand at noonday. One glance at the dog was enough to show that he was as dangerous as tiger. He made no friends either among dogs or men, and had miraculously escaped a dozen well-laid traps to bring about his death.

I hated Czar, and on two or three occasions I had reason to believe that the sense enough to know that the presence of the brate might annoy me and he therefore shut him up in the servant's room for a few minutes. The dog was usually prompt in obedience. On this occasion he obeyed in a grudging, sulky manner, and before leaving the room threatened me so plainly that I became apprehensive. The Captain agreed that igain, and in a couple of weeks I had three rooms in a row, with a hall along the front of the last two. The first room was for my servant, a man who had been with me for many years. The next was the reception room, and the lown the hall could enter at the door of vant's room was entirely shut off. I was a hot day in August, with all doors and windows open. I was feeling pret-They are a sort of transparent brown had but a few steps to go, and the doors were left open behind him. He had length of the body. They are put been gone about five minutes when in pede that is so poisonous, but each end as live coals. I saw him the moment he

I had apartments on the second floor

The door leading into the hall was open. Twice as the dog circled around poison discharged. The only way the room he seemed on the point of gowhen one gets on to any portion of the ing out, but each time changed his This, however, is a by no means easy look for me, nor at me. It was a large room, with the bed against the wall very apt to make a decided endeavor to and from the way the brute bumped plenty in the mountains, and when sprang to get out, and the result was tied up and labeled as follows: camping out our party had frequently that he pushed the door shut and snap- "Notes, due-bills and accounts against to shoot a number in order to clear a ped the spring lock. The door leading persons down along-shore some of spot on which to spread their blankets. In the reception room was still open, these may be got by suits or severe This may seem small game for shoot- but the door from that into the hall dunning. But the people are all poor; with long black hair. It is not safe to slunk under my bed. That the dog get too near one of these creatures, as was suffering with hydrophobia there met together, when the elder brother, they are capable of springing into the could be no doubt. As he returned from the administrator, produced this packet, air several feet, and are apt to light too the reception room there was foam on read the superscription, and asked what danger sharpens the sense of hearing. I father's death, continued my informant, believe this to be true, for I have had in the month of June, that as I was several personal experiences. As I lay sitting in my eldest brother's countingthere waiting for my servant to return I room, waiting for an opportunity to plainly heard sounds which could not speak with him, there came in a hardhave come to my ears under fordinary favored, little old man, who looked as circumstances. At the foot of the sec- if time and rough weather had been to ond flight of stairs, a distance of fully windward of him for seventy years. 70 feet from my bed, Henry was stop- He asked if my brother was not the ped by a young man who lodged on executor of the estate. My brother that floor. I heard him say;

"I was waiting here to tell you that our father died intestate. Capt. William's burte of a dog passed up stairs a short time ago. Is the captain there?"

"He was not there when I left."

him out."

my bedroom door was shut he seemed his thumbs, with his old, grey, meditahaving nothing to do, and the only un- to suspect the worst, and he acted like tive eyes upon the floor, he sighed, and pleasant feature about his friendship a hero. He came down the hall on tip- I knew the money, as the phrase runs, toe, put his face close to the door, and "came hard;" and I secretly wished the

"Colonel, I know the big dog is in the forgived list. your room and I am going for help. If My brother was soon at leisure, and he comes near you shut your eyes and asked him the ordinary questions—his pretend to be dead."

fore After making the circle of the sudden smile lighted up his countenbedroon, four or five times, he dashed ance, and told me the truth at a glance. into the reception room. There he The old man's name was there! My his teeth and destroyed the upholster- them which I shall never forget. ing of the sofa. I was terribly excited. "Your note is outlawed," said he; "it and when the climax came I was fairly ready for it. I knew that the dog would sooner or later turn to me, and as he eft the reception room he was on the foot of the bed in two bounds. There was an open book lying there, and he eized and worried this for a moment. Then came walking up to my face, pearing his full weigh on my broken leg, and giving me intense pain. My arms and hands were on the cover, and them over. the foam from his mouth fell upon my bare flesh. He put both paws on my snarling and whining in a way to take the nerve away from the stoutest man. I don't know whether he would have ed quiet, but such a thing as holding my nerves steady for over a minute was utterly impossible. I was feeling that I must throw up my hands and the bed. He had heard people in the hall.

chest, and ran his nose over my face to snuff at me, and he was all the time

He ran about the room whining and snarling, and all at once made a spring for the door of the reception room. which was being shut to by hun an hands. A space six or eight inchew.de was left, and when the dog at cempted to push his head into this, a couple of bullets were fired into him and he backed out to fall dead. Henry had summoned two policemen, and while the brute stood over me on the bed the faithful servant had entered the reception room and pushed the doo. as nearly shut as they wanted it, having believed that the dog would behave just as he did. That Czar was suffering with hydrophobia none could doubt from his looks and conduct. Inside of twenty days two house dogs which he had snapped at as he came up went mad, and then there was no further question that I had a close shave from a horrible death. New Paying an Old Lebt.

A merchant very extensively engage duces an intense irritation which will two or three minutes when the hall cities, died intestate February 18, 18affect the whole system in the same door was caught by a draught of wind at the age of seventy-five. After his and slowly pulled to. It did not quite death, among his papers a package o Tarantulas are to be found quite shut. The dog noticed the movement, considerable size was found, carefully

About a month after he died his sons Another brother, a few years younger ted to the flunes.

It is said that the presence of a great | It was about four months after our replied that he was administrator as "Well," said the stranger, "I've come up from the Cape to pay a debt I owed the old gentleman." My brother requested him to take a "And he has not come in after the seat, being at that moment engaged dog. The animal had a scary look, and with other persons at the desk. The you'd better be eareful how you drive old man sat down, putting on his glasses, drew out a very ancient leather "Thank you, sir, I'll harry right up." pocket-book, and be can to count over did of her new bonnet—that I am his money. When he had finished, as either "simply grand" or "simply hor-edy for indigestion, soothes and quiets along the hall. As soon as he saw that he sat waiting his turn, slowly twirling rid." But then she is young—she is the nerves, and is very sompolent to old man's name might be found upon name, residence, etc. The original The sound of his voice put the dog debt was four hundred and forty into a frenzy. He growled and snarled dollars; it had stood a long time, and and snapped, and as the man hurried with the interest amounted to between down the hall the beast rushed from seven and eight hundred dollars. My under the bed with a dreadful howl and brother went to his desk, and, after exbegan rushing around the room as be- amining the forgiven list attentively, a quite overturned the center table, and brother quietly took a chair by his side, the others seem to depend on and look has become lifeless from torpidity and in his fury he wrenched off a leg with and a conversation occurred between and had I given way to my feelings I was dated twelve years ago, payable in forter. She takes unfinished tasks from ed statements may have been made should have screamed out like a woman. two years; there is no witness, and no shut my eyes tightly, braced my interest has ever been paid; you are not nerves by chiding myse f for a coward, bound to pay this note; we can never recover the amount.

"Sir," said the old man, "I wish to pay it. It is the only heavy debt, I have in the world. It may be outlawed here, but I have no child, and my wife I hope we have made our peace with God, and we wish to do so with man. I should like to pay it."

And he laid his bank-notes before my brother, requesting him to count

"I can not take this money," said my brother.

The old man became alarmed. "I have cast simple interest for twelve years and a little over," said he. "I will pay you compound interest if you require it. The debt ought to bitten me or not, could I have remain- have been paid long ago; but your father, sir, was very indulgent; he knew I had been unlucky, and told me not to worry about it.

My brother then set the whole matscream out when the beast leaped off ter plainly before him, and taking the bank-bills returned them to the old man's pocket-book, telling him that although our father had left no formal will, he had recommended to his children to destroy certain notes, due-bills, and other evidence of debt, and release them who might be legally bound to

> For a moment the worthy old man appeared to be stupified. After he had collected himself, and wiped a few tears the one shield that protects many a forfrom his eyes, he said:

"From the time I heard of your father's death I have raked and scraped and pinched and spared to get the noney together for the payment of the debt. About ten years ago I had male up the sum within twenty dollars. My wife knew how much the payment of this debt lay on my spirits, and advised me to sell a cow and make up the lifference and get the heavy burden off my mind. I did so, and now what will my wife say? I must get back to the cape to tell her this good news. She'll probably repeat the very words she used when she put her hands on my shoulder as we parted—'I have never seen the righteons forsaken, or his seed begging their bread.'

Giving each of us a hearty shake of the hand, and a blessing upon our old father's memory, he went on his way

After a very short silence, taking hi pencil and making his cast, my broth-

"There, your part of the money would be so much. Contrive a plan to convey to me your share of the pleasure derived from this operation; the money is at your service." Such is the simple tale, which I have told as it was told me. To add the evident moral would be an insult to the Nearly all the women of the Salva-But they are furious warriors among Had I been a well man and fully than the eldest, a man of strong, im- tion Army have a heart worked in Inthemselves, often fighting one another armed my situation would have been pulsive temperament, unable at the dia ink upon the right shoulder. In for several days. Their bite is poison- bad enough. There I was, perfectly moment to express his feelings by case any one of them is taken sick or o is, but not dangerously so. Scorpions helpless, locked in with the brute, and words, while he brushed the trans from dies away from home, or in a forigin are found to be quite plenty around the knowing that it might be hours before his eyes with one hand, by a spasmodic country, the sign of the heart will enfoot-hills, and their sting is very pain- death came to him. My servant had jerk of the other toward the fire-place, title her to care or a suitable burial at > Dorsey, a Republican knave and extearing up by the roots and smashing for yourself.

Girls we Have All Met.

The gushing girl is a nineteenth the time she opens her eyes in the morn- ing than buttermilk. It is excellent ing until she says amen to the Lord at | for weak or delicate stomachs, and farnight, and puts her fluffy little head better as a dinner drink than coffee, tea on the pillow. She says "thanks aw- or water, and, unlike them, does not fully" for "I thank you." She thinks retard but rather aids digestion. grand, lugubrious music of the "Stabat | A celebrated physician once said that Mater" "too sweet for anything." A if every one knew the value of butterkitten with its eyes as vet unopened, milk as a drink it would be more freely the Niagara Falls and Mr. Gladstone partaken of by persons who drink so exall are "just too utterly charming and cessively of other beverages; and furlovely for any earthly use." Her ad- ther compared its effects upon the sysjectives are all in the superlative. She tem to the cleaning out of a cook stove will gush over a pumpkin, over her that have sifted through filling up sister's new baby, over a doggerel rhyme every crevice and crack, saying that over everything she sees, everything the human system is like the stove and she hears, over everybody she knows, collects and gathers refuse matter that If she is here to-night she will say to can in no way be exterminated from me as she does of the weather -as she the system so effectually as by drinking impressionable. She is full of some- those who are troubled with sleeplessthing which she thinks is sentiment. ness. Let her hug her neighbors' babies and There is something strange in the her brother's kittens and kiss the collie fact that people who are fond of butpuppy, and adore the new minister. It termilk never tire of singing its praises; is the innocent, light-hearted gush of while those who are fond of it are never a girl. Let her frolicsome youth have weary of wondering how some people its fling. In a little while she too, will can drink it. So far as possible, peojoin the ranks of the lookers-on, and ple should overcome their aversion to will have her fling at that silly, giggling it and learn to drink it for health's gusher, to whom everything is "sweet" or "cute," or "cunning," or "just too tance is so fond of it that we knew awfully lovely. to for many comforts. She is the girl inaction, and is too dead to perform its who helps mother. In her own home functions, buttermilk will cause a new she is a blessed little saint and com- one to grow in. Whatever exaggeratthe tired, stiff fingers that falter at concerning buttermilk, its medical their work; her strong young fingers is properties cannot be overrated, and a staff upon which the gray-haired, it should be more freely used by all who a cheerful conversation and congenial coffe and water alone. companionship that some do not think lying unheedful in her coffin, rough digest. hands folded, her long disquiet merged helped her mother will find a bene- gestive organs. - Chicago News. diction of peace upon her head and in her heart.

The girl who works-God bless her is another girl whom I know. She is brave and active. She is not too proud to earn her own living nor ashamed to be caught at her daily task. She is studious and painstaking and patient. She smiles at you from behind counter or desk, There is a memory of her sown into each silken gown. She is like a beautiful young mountaineer already far up the hill, and the sight of her should be an inspiration for hand may be stained with factory grease or printer's ink, but it is an honest hand and a helping hand. It stays misfortune for many homes; it is lorn little family from the almshouse and asylum-brave, polite, refined, ambitious; the South is the rightful home of the girl who works-God bless her. -By Catharine Cole.

Some Foolish Things.

Talking slang. Praising yourself. Wearing tight shoes. Tramping for a living. Borrowing newspapers. Getting mad at nothing. Kissing poodles in public. Living beyond your income. Sleeping away the early morning

Hunting for white handed employ-Counting your money before it

Trying to do business without ad-

Marrying a man for his splendie Endorsing notes for friends and ac

Marrying a woman because she has a wretty face. in trilles.

Playing the gallant to every woman but your wife. Expecting to have money without working for it. Wasting your smiles on every man but your husband. Loaning an umbrella without bidding it an eternal adieu.

Exposing your ignorance by pretending to know everything. Moping through life when it is just es easy to dance through it.

Getting married in life baste, and repenting at dead leisure. Judging a man by the cut of h coat, or a woman by the shade o her complexion. Envying other people their wealth them by these small intruders. There own chances as hopeless, and therefore such as might offer payment that their is Sheridan and Fairchild. That means when you might be hoarding a pile up they paid for them.

hwe kept it in almost constant use and It is called an "Indian killer," that building. It was a crowded neighbor-during the time have hauled on it at least being the only name for it that can be hood, and he might bite a score of peo- est, amounted to $30,000 ver committed with your family come acquainted with your f. mily.

Medicinal Qualities of Buttermilk.

For a summer beverage there can be century production. She giggles from nothing more healthy and strengthen-sake. One gentleman of our acquainhim one time to drink about three There is a girl, and I love to think of glasses, then set his glass down with a her, and talk of her, who comes in late | thud, exclaiming e rnestly as he did so: when there is company, who wears a "That's food and raiment both," while pretty little air of mingled responsibili- another buttermilk enthusiast made ty and anxiety with her youth, whom | the statemet once that where the liver white-faced mother leans and rests. can get it. Every one who values She helps her mother with the spring good health should drink buttermilk sewing, with the week's mending, with every day in warm weather, and let tea.

For the benefit of those who are not worth while wasting on their mother. already aware of it, I may add, that in And, when there comes a day that she the churning, the first process of digesmust bend, as girls must often bend, tion is gone through, making it one of over the old, worn-out body of mother the easiest and quickest of all things to

It makes gastric juice and contains into rest, something very sweet will be properties that readily assimilate with mingled with her loss, and the girl who it, with little or no wear upon the di-

Size of the first Watch.

At first the watch was about the size of a dessert plate. A had weights and was used as a "pocket." The earliest known use of the modern name occurs in the record of 1552, which mentisons that Edward VI. had "one larum" or watch of irom, the case being like wise of iron gilt, wiht two plummets of lead. The first wach may readily be suppoed to be of rude execution. The first great improvement-the substitution of springs for weights-was in. 1560. us all. It is an honor to know this The earliest springs were not coiled, girl-to be worthy of her regard. Her but only straight pieces of steel. Early watches had only one hand, and, being wound up twice a day, they could not be expected to keep the time nearer than fifteen or twenty minutes in twelve hours. Tthe dials were of silver and brass; and the cases had no crystals, but opened at the back and front, and were four or five inces in diameter. A plain watch cost more than $1,500, and arter one was ordered, it took a year to make it .- Jewelry News.

Take Care of Your Matches.

About three years ago the matches kept in a tin box at George M. Hughe's planing mill disappeared so rapidly that it might reasonably have been suspected that some person around the establishment was fillching them had it not been known that all the employees were strictly honest. A long time afterward, while some changes were being made in one of the partitions to the building, there were found in tearing down the walls a vast quantity of matches with the heads gone, the latter having been apparently eaten off by rats. The bodies of numerous dead rats were found in the same place, giving further proofs of the correctness of the theory that the rodents had stolen the matches and devoured the sulphur upon them. One banch of matches had been ignited while being chewed, but had only par-Thinking it doesn't pay to economize tially burned .- Nerada City Tran-

An Engraver's Blunder.

A peculiar blunder occurred in the engraving of the plate from which the reverse side of the $5 certificates were printed. It will be noted that on the back of the certificates are the fac similes of five silver dollars. The third one from the left corner of the certificates has "trust" spelled "trast." Where the word appears in other places on the certificate it is spelled properly .- Ar-

Happiness.

The foundation of all happiness is health. A man with an imperfect digestion may be a millionaire, may be the husband of an angel and the father of half a dozen cherubs, and yet be misera-Falling in love with a woman's hair ble if he be troub ed with dyspepsia, or or teeth before you know how much any of the disorders arising from imperfect digestion or a sluggish liver. Dr, Pierce's Pleasant Furgative Pellets are the safest and surest remedy for these morbid conditions. Being purely vegetable, they are perfectly heraless.