Subscription Rates.

The subscription rates of the Carolina Watchman are as follows: 1 year, paid in advance, $1.50...

For a splendid fit, gentlemen should go to Kelly, the tailor.

Quadrant Service will be held at the Episcopal Church next Sunday.

The graded school closes on 25th inst. The examination begins this week.

Several old line Republicans in town Tuesday. They looked like "dun fern" stuff.

Schultz & Van Wyck have the best $2, $2.50 and $3 men's shoe in the State.

Fires and over coats were comfortable on Tuesday, and an extra blanket was a thing not to be despised at night.

County Commissioners will be elected by the Magistrates of the County at the Court house first Monday in June.

Mr. S. Brown is now receiving his light goods for Summer wear, comprising many novelties and the latest styles.

Demons are selling so cheap now that remonies has ceased to be a luxury. It is a very healthful drink at this season of the year.

It is the Western Union and not the Southern telegraph Company that is occupying the Bean building as stated in last week's paper.

Rev. C. W. Byrd will preach the annual sermon at the closing exercises of the Piedmont Seminary, at Lincolnton, on May 30th and 31st.

Rev. W. H. Cone, formerly a resident of Rowan, now of New Market, Va. occupied the pulpit at the Lutheran church here on Sunday night.

The Presbyterian Sunday School was prevented from picnicking last Thursday, the day agreed upon; but will try it again on the 29th inst.

Our enterprising liverman, Mr. J. G. Hellig, sends one of his handsomest turkeys to the depot upon the arrival of every train, day and night.

The Hook and Ladder company desire the attendance of all the firemen at meeting to-night, arrangements are to be made for their annual picnic.

We have a man in this county, "Yone" Waller, in his 84th year, who says he never fired a gun or caught a fish in his life, and that he never courted a woman.

The oration delivered yesterday at Livingstone College by the Rev. Dr. Deems is spoken very highly of by those in attendance. Some very wholesome advice was given.

Mr. Lichtenstein, of the firm of Littman & Lichtenstein, left on Sunday night for New York, whence he sailed on Tuesday for Europe. He will be absent two or three months.

Democrats, remember the meeting at the Court House next Saturday the 19th. Delegates to the State and Congressional Convention will be chosen at this meeting. Don't fail to be there.

Thos. Mears, Esq., of Wilmington, Grand Chancellor of the order of Knights of Pythias, visited Salisbury Lodge No. 24 on the 13th inst. This Order is in a flourishing condition here.

The list of water consumers is gradually increasing. It will be but a little while till our streets under ground will be checked with pipes, and everybody will be supplied with water from this source.

The McCormick Steel Mower No. 4 is "Daisy" indeed, and possesses many points of excellence over the other machines heretofore offered the Southern farmer. Don't buy until you see it. Prices lower than ever.

About half of the applicants for license to practice medicine that came before the State Board of Medical Examiners at Fayetteville last week were rejected. The medical profession above all others, should be kept clear of quacks and incompetent persons. The people at large are protected by the law regulating the practice of medicine that we have in North Carolina. No one but Rowan was numbered among the refused.

The "Rose Tea" given by the Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church here, at Meroney's hall on last Thursday and Friday nights, was one of most successful in appointments as well as financially that has been given. This organized band of Christian workers has undertaken to raise funds sufficient to build and furnish a parsonage, and we are glad to know that they realized a handsome sum from the proceeds of the recent entertainment.

It is a young band that was organized and not the old Salisbury Cornet band as stated in the Salisbury Press last week. The old Salisbury band disbanded two years ago and will probably never be re-organized. We never expect to see a musical organization here as well equipped in every respect as was the old band. Grey hairs and spectacles are worn by the old crowd now, but the boys (?) are still capable of judging, not-withstanding the fact that they hear none but inferior music in these points now-a-days.

COUNTY LOCALS.

At a meeting of the citizens of the town of Mt. Airy, the 20th day of June was finally appointed as the day to celebrate the completion of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Rail Road to that point.

The Concord Times pays this high compliment to one of Rowan's ministers. Rev. C. A. Rose, of Rowan county, preached in the Methodist church last Sunday morning. It is but the truth to say that his sermon was among the best ever delivered in this town.

Rowan's Reliable Snake Story. We think that when there is anything reliable regarding occurrences in our midst that it should be cherished and go down to posterity as a matter of history and not as a legendary myth; hence we wish to perpetuate even a snake story.

There has been considerable excitement in our neighborhood over mad dogs but no damage done that we know of. It would be a good plan for the Legislature to place a tax of $1.00 on every dog and put a fine of $5.00 on every person that lets his dog run at large.

Garfield. Wheat and oats do not look as well in this section as usual. There are plenty of peaches and apples, but very few cherries. The health of this community is very good, with the exception of a few cases of cholera.

Republican Congressional Convention. The Republicans of the 7th Congressional District held their Convention in Salisbury last Tuesday. It was a big day for the Republicans, as many as five persons were counted on Main street at one and the same time.

Memento of the Battle of Ramsour's Mill. Mr. John E. Jamison, of this county, called at our office last week to show us a pair of silver shirt sleeve buttons worn by Capt. Gilbrath Falls when he fell in his gallant charge on the tory encampment at Ramsour's Mill, near the town of Lincolnton, June 20, 1780.

The attack on the tory encampment mentioned above, was shared in by several other leaders of revolutionary note in this section. At a council held the night before the battle as we learn from Mr. C. L. Hunter's Sketches of Western North Carolina, "It was determined that the companies under Captains Falls, McDowell and Brandon should act on horseback and march in front. No other arrangement was made, and it was left to the officers to be governed by circumstances after they reached the enemy."

The Lightning And Blowing Rock Church. A letter from Blowing Rock this week states that the church "was bust all to pieces by lightning last Saturday evening." A letter from Major Harper, of Lenoir, gives the following particulars: "The church was struck by lightning—the spire thrown down, nearly unroofed on the north side, the ceiling torn off and some of the heavy timbers which supported the spire shivered into fine splinters, the floor partly torn up, and the stove torn all to pieces, a piece of it imbedded in the timbers overhead. The organ is reported uninjured. It will no doubt require considerable outlay to repair the church. Ed Morris and a teamster and yoke of oxen at the time the church was struck, were knocked down and paralyzed for some time. This was Ed's second experience with the lightning at near by the same place."

County Democratic Convention. The Democratic Convention for the county of Rowan will be held on the 19th day of May, (third Saturday of May), at the Court House in Salisbury. The purpose of the Convention will be to elect delegates to the State Convention at Raleigh, and the Congressional Convention, wherever it may be held. J. W. RUMPLE, Ch. Dem. Ex. Com.

COUNTY LOCALS.

Manning. Cotton is coming up and promises a good stand. Fall oats are looking splendid but Spring oats not so well.

Mr. J. E. Briggs is offering special inducements in Goods. See his clock offer, in hand bills. Miss Augusta Barring has returned from Davidson where she has been visiting relatives.

Mr. Eph Coble and Miss Laura Rich's, were married on the night of the 14th, and were serenaded in fine style. We will have another wedding very shortly.

There has been considerable excitement in our neighborhood over mad dogs but no damage done that we know of. It would be a good plan for the Legislature to place a tax of $1.00 on every dog and put a fine of $5.00 on every person that lets his dog run at large.

MINING DEPARTMENT.

T. K. BRUNER, EDITOR, RALEIGH, N. C. Continuation of the list of North Carolina minerals and their localities: II. TERNARY OXYGEN COMPOUNDS.

137. XENOTIME. In minute tetragonal pyramids, in the sands from gold washings in Polk, McDowell, Burke and Rutherford counties.

138. APATITE. This is a rather rare mineral in this State. It has been observed in imperfect crystals of a greyish and reddish green color in orthoclase, etc., in Yancey and Mitchell counties.

139. PYROMORPHITE. This is one of the most beautiful minerals found in North Carolina, and formerly has been quite abundant at Silver Hill mine which furnished very handsome specimens of hexagonal prisms and crystalline aggregations of different shades from colorless almost to black, also honey and wax yellow, green, brown, etc., less abundant, and mostly of a yellowish green color, it is found at Silver Valley, Davidson county.

140. MONAZITE. It is found in considerable quantities in small brown, greenish or yellowish brown monoclinic crystals in the gold sands of Rutherford, Polk, Alexander, Burke and McDowell counties; also in Gaston, Mecklenburg, Mitchell and Yancey counties.

141. VIVIANITE. Found in dark, bluish green slender crystals in a compact nodule of tertiary marl, in Edgecombe county.

142. OLIVINE. Minute green crystals and brownish green fibrous masses, associated with tetrahydrofite, seropodite, etc., in Cabarrus county, appears to belong to this species.

143. PSEUDOMALACHITE. In reniform and fibrous masses, of a dark emerald green color, in Mecklenburg, Cabarrus, Guilford, Chatham, Moore, Alleghany and Rowan counties.

144. LAZULITE. In dark blue crystals and crystalline masses, in quartz, and associated with cyanite and dumortierite in Gaston, in quartz, and with very little dumortierite, in the Sauratown Mountains, Stokes county.

145. SCORODITE. In small teak green and yellowish green crystals, associated with tetrahydrofite, quartz, etc., in Cabarrus county. It is found in finely granular masses of a brownish yellowish green color, associated with leucopyrite, from the oxidation of which it is formed at Drum's farm in Alexander and also in Iredell county.

146. WAVELLITE. Globular and hemispherical aggregations of white and greyish white wavelite, associated with silver, galenite, pyrite, etc., are rarely met with at Silver Hill, Davidson county.

147. PHARMACOSIDERITE. Exceedingly minute crystals of this mineral, of a brownish green color, are associated with the scorodite of Cabarrus county.

148. DUFRENITE. It is rarely met with in greyish green tufts of silky lustre, with the so-called "black band" iron at Egypt, Chatham county.

149. PHOSPHURANILITE. In microscopic rectangular pearly scales or in pulverulent incrustation in quartz, muscovite and feldspar. Deep lemon yellow. Associated with autunite and other uranium minerals in Mitchell county.

150. AUTUNITE. In beautiful nearly square scales or small crystals of a greenish yellow or yellowish green color, upon quartz and feldspar in Mitchell county; also found in Alexander county.

151. NITRE. Crystalline crusts on mica slate at Nantehaleh river, in Cherokee county.

4. TUNGSTATES, MOLYBDATES, &c. 152. WOLFRAMITE. In laminated masses with cuproscheelite in Cabarrus county; also, according to General Clingman, frequent in Rutherford and Burke counties.

153. RHOMBIC TUNGSTATE OF LIME. Associated with wolframite, in barite, in Cabarrus county, in small crystals and laminated mass of a yellowish and greyish color, which frequently contain a nucleus of wolfram.

Paine's Celery Compound. WEAK NERVES, RHEUMATISM, KIDNEY COMPLAINTS, DYSPEPSIA, CONSTIPATION. Paine's Celery Compound restores the liver and kidneys to perfect health. This remedy is never combined with any other medicine, and is the best remedy for all kidney complaints.
