The following Executive Committee was elected:—J W Rumble, J B Foard, J A Bailey, D B Roseboro, J A Stewart, T J Sumner, D C Bradshaw, Dr Roseman, J C Sauggs, A A Morgan, D L Arey, L M Efrid, Wm A Barber.

The following resolution was introduced by Luke Blackmer, Esq., and enthusiastically adopted:

Resolved, that, Whereas, in the official course of our present representative Hon. John S Henderson, we, his constituency of Rowan county, see nothing to reproach or deplore, and much to commend and approve.

And, whereas, we esteem his course in Congress, to be but a vindication of the wisdom of our choice.

And, whereas, we believe our representative to be faithful, zealous, efficient and in every way worthy.

Now, therefore, we, the Democratic citizens of Rowan county, in convention assembled, do hereby lend to his course this expression of our unqualified endorsement, do pledge to his candidacy our undivided support, and do instruct such delegates for Rowan as are sent or may attend the Congressional Convention to be held in Salisbury on the 20th day of the approaching June, to employ every honorable means of securing his nomination as our Democratic candidate for election to the Fifty-First Congress of the United States of America.

Col. Shober then offered the following, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the delegates to the State Convention be and they are hereby instructed to cast the vote of Rowan county as a unit for Lee S. Overman, Esq., for Lieut. Governor, and to use all honorable means to secure his election.

The following resolutions were offered by J. W. Rumble, Esq.:

Resolved, that, Whereas the Democracy of this State in convention assembled, on this 19th day of May, 1888, have every reason to congratulate itself for the faith, purity, vigor and undeniable honesty of our presidential administration—

And, whereas, we know unpurchasable integrity to have been the grand criterion, the rule and the test of the term and the aphorism "public office is a public trust" to have been in form of expression native to our President's earnest, but the spirit of which is but a reflection of the fidelity of our grand old Democracy—

Now, therefore, we are pledged to all honorable measures consistent with the re-nomination of Grover Cleveland, of New York, and we do hereby instruct the representatives of this county as they assemble at Raleigh in the State Convention of May 30th, to cast the vote of this county as a unit for all men and measures favorable to his nomination.

The thanks of the convention was unanimously given to Mr J W Rumble for his efficient services as chairman of the County Democratic Executive Committee.

The Executive Committee met immediately after the adjournment of the Convention and elected C D Crawford chairman and transacted the following business: It was agreed that the Chairman appoint and constitute his own secretary; that the county convention for the nomination of county officers be held in Salisbury on the 21st of July; that the primaries be held in Salisbury on the 14th of July. A H Boyden was elected a member of the Ex. Committee and the resignation of J W Rumble accepted.

The next meeting of the Committee will be held on June 20th.

S. A. & N. W. R. R.

We quote from a Southport correspondent of the Wilmington Messenger of the 15th.

Southport is also the point for the coaling station of the whole South Atlantic Coast, and there is, I am glad to say, a good prospect of having one on no distant day. The South Atlantic and North Western Railroad will, I feel sure, soon be started.

The representative of the London England, Banking House, from which Col. Bithamer expects to secure the necessary money for the road, lately made a trip over the entire route of the proposed road and expressed himself as well pleased with the country through which it passes and said he should recommend that his house advance the money necessary for the enterprise. The Railroad Company has a charter from the town authority to run the road through our streets east of Fort Johnson and sufficient of the water front for offices, sheds and all necessary buildings belonging to a first class Railroad.

If the Railroad is built, as it undoubtedly will, it will open up some of the richest coal fields of the world, and Southport will enjoy the prosperity of being the port through which it will all pass, to say nothing of the other advances it will make as a shipping point.

I feel very sanguine of the road being built, also of its being a grand success, and therefore predict for this old town (which has apparently been peacefully slumbering for near one century) one of the greatest revivals of trade and the most rapid strides toward commercial importance ever enjoyed by any city of the South Atlantic coast, and in the very near future.

Founded.

A correspondent tells us of a very pleasant affair that came off at the new personage of Organ church last Thursday. The "pounded" persons were Rev. W. R. Brown and his good wife. These acts of kindness and good feeling show in what high esteem the members of Organ church hold their pastor.

Conclusion of list of minerals found in North Carolina.

II. TERNARY OXYGEN COMPOUNDS.

5. SULPHATES, CHROMATES, &c.

157. BARITE.

In small tabular crystals, with pyromorphite and magnesia ores in Cabarrus county. The laminated and coarsely granular white variety in Cabarrus county; a vein of the coarsely laminated, greyish white barite, in Orange county. It occurs in Union, Gaston, Madison and Wilkes.

158. ANGOLESITE.

In small tabular rhombic prisms, with very few additional planes in the brown granular zinciferous Silver Hill, Davidson; also in Caldwell county.

159. CROCOITE.

I have observed this rare mineral in small cavities, of saccharoidal quartz, from Nash county.

160. MELANITERITE.

As the result of the decomposition of pyrite, disseminated through many of the mica slates, etc., of Rutherford, Cleveland and others, melaniterite or coppers is formed, but no good crystallized specimens have come to my notice.

161. GOSLARITE.

In the water of the Silver Hill mine, also in fine fibrous crystalline masses upon sphalerite in Cabarrus county.

162. CHALCANTHITE.

Very fine crystals were formerly obtained from the upper works of the Silver Hill mine, Davidson county, principally at the sixty feet level.

163. ALUMINOUS.

Is found abundantly associated with melaniterite, in Rutherford, Cleveland and other counties, but not in good specimens; also in Iredell and Catawba counties.

164. JAROSITE.

The impure variety generally called "May," has been observed in association with galenite and pyrite, in Wilkes.

165. MONTANITE.

This very rare tellurate of bismuth has been found with tetradymite in Davidson, and in Burke county. The yellow oxide of bismuth, observed in Gaston county, may belong to this species.

6. CARBONATES.

166. CALCITE.

The granular varieties are found in Stokes, Catawba, Lincoln and Gaston counties. A coarse granular limestone occurs also in Macon, Jackson and Madison counties. A veined grey and white marble is found in Catawba county. Very beautiful varieties of white, pink and grey marble are found abundantly at the Nantehaleh river, Marble creek, Valley river, and other places in Cherokee county. A band of compact limestone, sometimes finely granular, is found in McDowell, Jackson, Transylvania and Henderson and Madison counties.

167. DOLOMITE.

Granular dolomite of a greyish white color, resembling marble, is found in fine crystals in Alexander county.

168. MAGNESITE.

The lamellar white and greyish variety, from which distinct cleavage crystals can be obtained, is found in Cabarrus county; also, with chrysolite in Jackson and Yancey. At the latter locality are also found the white compact, and at Webster, the white earthy and pulverulent varieties. Breunerie occurs in serpentine in Burke county, and near Dobson in Surry.

169. SIDERITE.

In fine rhombohedral crystals in Guilford county. It is of frequent occurrence in many of the gold veins of the State. It often forms almost the whole mass of the veins; for instance in Davidson county, and in Gaston county, at some of the mines in Randolph and Cabarrus counties. It has been observed in Stokes, Mecklenburg and in Alexander counties. A white cleavable variety occurs near Charlotte. The earthy and argillaceous varieties of siderite form large beds in the Triassic coal strata in Chatham.

170. RHODOCHROSITE.

In small globular pink and rose-red concretions, in Macon and Cabarrus counties.

171. CERUSSITE.

The most beautiful crystallizations, have been found at Silver Hill, also white, yellowish and greenish white, compact varieties. A very interesting occurrence at the same mine is cerussite pseudomorphous after pyrite. It also occurs in Gaston, Chatham, Caldwell, Cherokee and Wilkes.

172. MALACHITE.

Malachite is found in association with copper ores in almost every copper mine in the State. Pseudomorphs of malachite after cubical cuprite, have been found in Cabarrus county.

173. AZURITE.

This variety of carbonate of copper is far less frequently met with. Several very beautiful and perfect crystals are found in Chatham and in Moore. It is also found in Cabarrus, Mecklenburg and Gaston.

174. BISMUTHITE.

In yellowish white concretions, often of a pearly lustre or white incrustations upon gold-bearing quartz, in Gaston county.

MINERAL COAL.

175. ANTHRACITE.

A very interesting occurrence of anthracite is that of masses with conchoidal fracture in the vein rock at the Clegg Mine in Chatham county.

176. BITUMINOUS COAL.

The greater portion of the coal in the Deep river beds is bituminous. The Dan river coal is so-called semi-bituminous coal. [Later discoveries prove this deposit far more valuable than it has been given credit for.—Ed.]

177. LIGNITE OR BROWN COAL.

Frequently met with in the marl beds of the Eastern counties, and in Granville and Anson counties.

ORGANIC COMPOUNDS.

178. SUCINITE.

Found in lumps, of several ounces weight, in Pitt county and elsewhere, in the Tertiary marl beds of the Eastern counties, K.

This completes the recorded list of minerals found in the State. The files of the WATCHMAN will show others. Those who know of other minerals are invited to extend the list.
