Our State Ticket.

The Democratic people of this section of the State, with rare exceptions, had not formed strong preferences for any of the prominent gentlemen mentioned for Governor. They knew that Fowle, Stedman, Gilmer, Alexander and others, were able and competent men for the place, and it was largely a matter of indifference to them who should at last be selected. They were, therefore prepared to support the nominee, whoever their delegates to the Convention might agree on, regarding that only as a necessary means of concentrating the Democratic strength of the State. They are satisfied with the labors of the Convention and will doubtless give the nominees their hearty support, not alone because they are each and all worthy of their confidence and support, but as representing the political views held by them, which is of far more importance than any merely personal considerations. The ticket is a good one, and better still, every man on it is politically sound; and as leaders of the people they represent, will advocate and defend the just principles of the Democratic party as heretofore held and voted for by the people.

The National Democratic Convention.

This august body met in St. Louis on Tuesday—the largest and most imposing political assembly ever brought together in this country. It met in the great Exposition Hall, which was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting. Numerous pictures of notable democrats, a bronze statue of Cleveland, pictures of Tilden and Hendricks, a statue of Washington beneath a canopy of flags, all artistically arranged, lent to the Hall a charming inspiring enthusiasm. Every State had a place assigned for its delegates, and as one after another entered, they were greeted with cheers. There was no hurry on the part of delegates. At 12:33 Hon. W. H. Barnum, of Connecticut, chairman of the national committee, called to order, and the convention opened with prayer by Bishop C. Cranberry, of St. Louis. Gov. White, of California, was made temporary chairman, and was escorted to the chair by delegates selected from Ohio, Maryland and South Carolina. He was greeted with rounds of applause, which he acknowledged in a brief and a happily conceived speech. The climax of applause was reached when he spoke of the re-election of Mr. Cleveland. The rules governing the last convention were adopted. Patterson, of Colorado in behalf of his delegation, presented the Chairman with a silver gavel—silver from the bowels of Colorado, and fashioned by artisans of that State. The various committees were then organized, each State contributing a member—a committee on credentials, a committee on permanent organization and a committee on resolutions—and at 3 o'clock the convention took a recess until 10 o'clock a. m., Wednesday.

THE TERRITORIAL DELEGATES.

The territorial delegates to-day held a meeting and appointed a committee with William Dickson, of D. C., chairman, to urge the convention to insert a plank in the platform demanding that the territorial district of Columbia offices be filled by residents.

CLEVELAND NOMINATED

By Acclamation.

When was ever such a thing done before! A Convention representing thirty millions of people of every class and condition in life—farmers, merchants, laborers, lawyers, doctors, manufacturers, mechanics, artisans, landlords, tenants, millers and builders—all in one grand body rising simultaneously at the mention of one name—all unanimously cheering the nomination of

GROVER CLEVELAND.

And the cheering continued for 23 minutes, the delegates of the North and South mingling together, shaking hands, waving their flags and banners over each other, and shouting themselves hoarse. And the beauty of it all is, that they went to St. Louis to do exactly what they have done—to carry out the wishes of the people, for it was known months before that the people would demand the re-nomination of

GROVER CLEVELAND.

The Convention was called to order about 10½ o'clock Wednesday, and after transacting preliminary work, a motion was made to call the roll of States to vote for a candidate for President. Alabama stood at the head of the list, but her delegation tendered the first place on the call to the State of New York. Mr. Dougherty, of that State stepped on the platform amid thunders of applause. He addressed the Convention at length, closing by announcing the name of Cleveland, which was unanimously accepted.

The convention then adjourned until 10 o'clock Thursday, when the candidate for Vice President will be selected. General expectation make ex-Senator Thurman the man, but it is not certain that it will turn out so.

Prohibition Convention.

Clinton B. Fisk, of New Jersey was put in nomination for President, and James A. Brooks for Vice President. Mr. Fisk was a General in the war and is represented as a man of high character and ability. The party only polled 150,000 at the last election, but they expect to increase the vote very largely this year.

Pro. and Anti.

We, the undersigned, wish to inform the public that our appointment as delegates by the Democratic convention held at Salisbury, was without our knowledge and permission. We are members of the Prohibition Party, and wish to be recognized as such.

R. B. BAILY,
J. A. BAILY.

Woodleaf, N. C., June 6, 1888.
We doubt not these gentlemen were named as delegates to the State Democratic Convention because they were known to be good men, and without any thought or knowledge of their prohibition sentiments. There are thousands of Democratic prohibitionists in the State whose zeal for the general political prosperity of the country will not permit them to lose an opportunity to advance it merely for the sake of asserting their views on a single question. Rationally usually governs in such cases, and it were otherwise a calamity.

"Toboggan slides" in this country are better known in Paris and European cities and towns as Russian mountains. They are artificial slides made for amusement, sometimes constructed of blocks of ice, or of wood, the cars for riders have wheels. It is a swift ride down a declivity on a sled if on ice, or on wheels if on wood. The ancient inhabitants of the east side of the Yadkin, in Montgomery county, constructed a slide on a large sloping rock at the Narrows. Any one sitting down on this slide will glide down to the bottom of the rock in five or six seconds.

The introduction of wood fiber in the manufacture of paper has reduced paper from 9 cts. per lb. before the war to about 4½ cents. Wood fiber is manufactured in 21 States. $20,000,000 is invested in the business, giving employment to 23,000 men. The introduction of this material in paper making commenced about 1868, since which time the business has grown to its present proportions.

Kansas city has an elevated railroad which dispenses with cross ties. The material is steel. The rails are supported in a steel trough formed of two channels, cushioned with wooden blocks. The rails are held in line by braces. The wheels being in troughs are prevented from leaving the rails, and in the event of a broken axle the trucks drop on what is in effect a pair of steel slides.

The last conception for utilizing the immense power of Niagara is to tap the river some distance above the falls by means of a tunnel driven along the side of the river. The water would be distributed by lateral under-ground conduits to turbines placed on the bank below the falls, to drive mills, factories, etc., and by electric transmission furnish light to neighboring towns.

TRY IT AND REPORT.—W. L. Wilder, imports to the readers of Science a fact, if it be a fact, that is worth something, to wit: that if one holds his breath, wasps, bees and hornets may be handled with impunity. The skin is said to be stinging proof while the breath is held. Now try it, but be careful of the conditions. There must be no talking or laughing while making the experiment.

The survey of the "Western Air Line road" from Charlotte to Weldon was commenced Monday. The Magistrate of the county of Mecklenburg authorized the county commissioners to transfer to the Western Air Line $300,000 of stock in the Atlantic Tennessee & Ohio if it would be of service towards the completion of the new project.

Commencement exercises of Gaston College, Dallas, N. C. will come off June 13 and 14; the literary address, by Rev. E. A. Wingard, of Columbia, S. C. will be delivered on Thursday, June 14; the annual concert will be given Thursday, June 14, 8 p. m. Special rates on different railroads—about one fare for round trip will be given commencement week. All are cordially invited to attend.

She snatched up a pistol and fired at him, but failed to bring him down, and he escaped. Mr. Smith had sold some property, and it is supposed that the negro thought there was money in the house.

The Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier is enthusiastic over the immense truck shipments from that section to the North-East. It declares that the vegetable product this season is better than a gold mine. The shipments last week, largely composed of potatoes, which are yielding finely, were far in excess of the week before, which was the heaviest in the history of the Atlantic Coast Line. The shipments last week aggregated 433 carloads, of which 100 carloads went North Saturday.

Senator Blair has offered a resolution which proposes an amendment to the Constitution to the effect that every State shall establish and maintain a system of free schools, but that no money raised by taxation shall be applied to them if instruction is given in any doctrine, tenets, belief, ceremonies, or observations peculiar to any religious body. It was laid on the table, but it will come up again to trouble Congress and the country.

REPORTS OF GOVERNMENT CHEMISTS

As to Purity and Wholesomeness of the Royal Baking Powder.

"I have tested a package of Royal Baking Powder, which I purchased in the open market, and find it composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder of a high degree of merit, and does not contain either alum or phosphate, or other injurious substances."
E. G. LOWE, Ph.D.

"It is a scientific fact that the Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure."
H. A. MOTT, Ph.D.

"I have examined a package of Royal Baking Powder, purchased by myself in the market, and find it entirely free from alum, terra alba, or any other injurious substance."
HENRY MONTROSE, Ph.D., President of Stevens Institute of Technology.

"I have analyzed a package of Royal Baking Powder. The materials of which it is composed are pure and wholesome."
S. DANA HAYES, State Assayer, Mass.

The Royal Baking Powder received the highest award over all competitors at the Vienna World's Exposition, 1873; at the Centennial, Philadelphia, 1876; at the American Institute, and at State Fairs throughout the country.

No other article of human food has ever received such high, emphatic, and universal endorsement from eminent chemists, physicians, scientists, and Boards of Health all over the world.

NOTE.—The above DIAGRAM illustrates the comparative worth of various Baking Powders, as shown by Chemical Analysis and experiments made by Prof. Schedler. A one pound can of each powder was taken, the total leavening power or volume in each can calculated, the result being as indicated. This practical test for worth by Prof. Schedler only proves what every observant consumer of the Royal Baking Powder knows by practical experience, that while it costs a few cents per pound more than ordinary kinds, it is far more economical, and, besides, affords the advantage of better work. A single trial of the Royal Baking Powder will convince any fair minded person of these facts.

While the diagram shows some of the alum powders to be of a higher degree of strength than other powders ranked below them, it is not to be taken as indicating that they are entirely safe. All alum powders, no matter how high their strength, are to be avoided as dangerous.

Violent Storm.

GOLDSBORO, N. C. June 4, '88.—This town was visited about 8:45 o'clock Saturday night with a hail-storm, the like of which has never been seen before. It hailed about seven or eight minutes in perfect showers, the stones being as large as pigeon eggs, entirely destroying the gardens and fruit in the southern portion of the town, which seemed to be the center of the storm. We learned that it was about three miles wide and demolished the cotton and corn crop in its path. One farmer, G. W. Best, eight acres out of here, out of five hundred acres of cotton eight inches high, has only eight acres left. Luckily there was not a very heavy wind. The whole face of the earth was covered with the hail about two inches deep until the rain began, a perfect deluge, washing up bridges across streams and doing immense damage.—E.

BUY YOU A CLOCK.

If in town you chance to drop,

Buy yourself a clock;

The kind of clock—what is a clock?

The kind that is guaranteed,

That will keep good time

And run like a rhyme,

And cost you nix for a year.

And if a clock from me you have bought

That wont run exactly to a dot,

I ask you then to bring it back

And if in the least it does anything

lack,

I will give you a new one

Or the money pay back.

Now, of clocks I a large assortment have got,

That must go and go cheap for cash

on the spot;

In nickle, wood, and marbleised iron,

All the latest designs you surely will find,

From the little tick tick to the big tock

tock.

The prices are low, in fact very low,

Considering the quality and finish;

Why for $1 25 who can't have the hour,

And keep up with the times and his neighbor?

The days are now here when your time

is quite dear,

So get you a clock, that on time you may steer.

I have clocks for all people, the rich

and the poor,

From $1 25 to $18 in store.

And clocks—what is clocks—nothing

less, nothing more,

And that for the cash they pass out of my door.

So come along all and a bargain secure

And see to the letter if I could not more.

Very truly yours,

W. H. REISNER,

LEADING JEWELER.
