The colored man arrested in Charlotte on suspicion that it was Sloan who killed Frieze in Rowan county, turned out to be a man named Morrow.

The Lexington negro brass band was on the train going South yesterday morning and gave some quite creditable music during the stop of the train at our depot.

We wish our base ball players would pick out a team of their best players and show the Concord boys what they can do. This thing of being beaten every time is getting monotonous.

There will be an educational convention at Fayetteville church on Saturday, Aug. 4th. Rev. Dr. Rumble, Rev. Mr. MacLennan, and Theo. F. Klutz, will deliver addresses. All are invited.

Gypsies were in town yesterday with a drove of horses that were so poor that they reminded one of a walking bone yard, reports say they were on their way to Charleston to be converted into guano.

Mr. Jacob A. Klutz brought to our office this morning some of the finest peaches we have seen in a long time. They are a seedling grown by Mr. Klutz of the free-stone variety and very large, and of fine flavor.

Commencing at once, on each Saturday until Aug. 25th, the Richmond & Danville R. R. will sell special Saturday night excursion tickets at greatly reduced rates. These tickets will be good on any train leaving between noon and midnight and will be good returning to the same selling point not later than first train Tuesday morning following date of sale. This affords a splendid opportunity for parties to visit the mountains or the sea coast at a very small cost, and will doubtless become very popular.

Salem Academy.

We find on our table a very neatly printed catalogue of this celebrated Female Academy, for the 84th annual session, 1887-'88. The next annual session opens August 28, and closes June 5th.

The Trustees of this Ancient Institution are progressive, and evidently mean to hold it up in the front rank of similar institutions in this country. From the Principal down to the last named in the corps of instruction there are about thirty persons; and the subjects taught comprise a Commercial course, Natural Sciences, English Literature and Phonography, Mathematics and Bookkeeping, Latin, Telegraphy, Music, Drawing, Painting and Decorative Needle-work, Modern Languages, Elocution and Calisthenics, and General Instruction. The Summary of all the classes shows 237 pupils.

At a meeting of Salisbury Lodge No. 776, K. of H., July 16, 1888, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted: "WHEREAS, It has pleased the Great Ruler of the Universe to remove from our midst our late brother A. J. Mook, and "WHEREAS, It is but just that fitting recognition of his many virtues should be had, therefore be it RESOLVED, By K. of H. Lodge No. 776 that while we bow with humble submission to the will of the Most High, we do not the less mourn for our brother who has been taken from us.

RESOLVED, That in the death of A. J. Mook, this Lodge laments the loss of a brother who was ever ready to proffer the hand of aid and the voice of sympathy to the needy and distressed of the fraternity, and that a committee was designated to prepare a eulogy on his life and to extend to his family in their affliction.

RESOLVED, That these resolutions be spread upon the records of the Lodge and a copy be transmitted to the family of our deceased brother and to each of the newspapers in Salisbury.

LAST SATURDAY.

A Rousing Day for Democracy.

SPLENDID SPEECHES WITH TELLING EFFECTS.

The first business of the Democratic party of Rowan last Saturday was the nomination of a county ticket. The primaries had pretty well settled this business on the Saturday before, and came together on the 21st to report the will of the various townships. The Convention, which met in the Court-House pursuant to appointment, made Lee S. Overman Chairman, and requested the resident editors of Democratic newspapers to act as secretaries, and then proceeded at once to call the roll of townships and take their votes.

For Coroner, D. A. ATWELL was chosen.

For County Surveyor, B. C. AREY was nominated.

For County Treasurer, J. S. McCUBBINS, Jr., was nominated.

For Register of Deeds, H. N. WOODSON was nominated.

For Sheriff, C. C. KEIDER was nominated.

For Representative in the Legislature, J. S. McCUBBINS, Sr.

There were seven ballots for representative. The vote of the county was divided between S. M. Hobson, Lee S. Overman and Mr. McCubbins. Mr. Overman was not a candidate, and had repeatedly told his friends he did not intend to be. But two townships voted for him until the 7th ballot, when one of them changed to and elected Mr. McCubbins. Mr. W. L. Kestler, of Steele township, which had steadily voted for Mr. Hobson, moved that the nomination of Mr. McCubbins be declared unanimous. This was seconded by Mr. Hobson, and the motion was carried unanimously.

The business of the Convention was conducted with expedition and harmony. Indeed the thorough organization in the townships works admirably in facilitating the business of the party in the county, and secures to the people the full expression of their will.

There being no other business before the Convention, Mr. Crawford, Chairman of the County Executive Committee, gave notice that Judge Fowle, Mr. Finger and Mr. Sanderlin and other distinguished persons would address the people in Bogden's Grove, where convenient arrangements had been provided to convey the speakers to the grove, and all Democrats in town were invited to attend and hear them. A large procession then moved down to the Mt. Vernon Hotel, and committeemen waited on the speakers and conducted them to carriages. The procession then took up the line of march to the music of the Brooklyn Brass Band, and passing through Council street to Main, thence up Main to Bank street, and thence to the grove. Judge Fowle, our gallant candidate for Governor, was then introduced to the people in a handsome speech by Mr. Crawford.

JUDGE FOWLE

held the audience for about one hour, during which time he briefly reviewed the history of the Democratic and Republican parties in regard to the cardinal principles of the Constitution upon the General Government is based, and showed some of the many instances in which the Republican party had proved their contempt for the great charter of our civil liberty. He also touched briefly but forcibly on the question of tariff reduction, (which is the leading question of difference between the two great parties in this canvass), showing that the Republican party had openly declared in favor of the present unjust system of protection, while the Democrats were reducing all in their power to accomplish a reduction of the present oppressive system.

MR. FINGER

came forward next, having been formally introduced in a few happily chosen remarks by Mr. L. S. Overman. Mr. Finger addressed the audience chiefly on the facts and figures of the tariff; and although he occupied the stand but a few minutes, he satisfied his hearers of his ability to deal with great questions in a masterly manner. He is a graceful and forcible speaker, his fort being the presentation of powerful facts and arguments.

MR. SANDERLIN

was introduced by Theo. F. Klutz, Esq., in his usual felicitous style. Mr. Sanderlin was an entirely new man to our people, and coming last on the platform, not much was expected of him. But he had not spoken three minutes when every ear was prickled to hear his every word. He captivated the audience at once, and held it spell-bound for an hour. He took a text—"The Young Men's Democratic Clubs," and stuck to it throughout, dropping a few well chosen remarks, towards the close, for the consideration of the members of the Farmers' Alliance, and also to the prohibitionists, or third party men. Mr. Sanderlin is a clear-headed, broad man, and his speech was eloquent, poetic, sublime, convincing and persuasive by turns; a master piece of stump oratory, which, as many who heard him declared, "Old Zeb himself could not have excelled."

The meeting, which was a large one, broke up in the best possible good humor, and every man who attended it, went home with a good tale to tell to their neighbors and friends.

The citizens of Providence township are requested to meet at the school-house near Mrs. C. Kestler's on the 1st Saturday night in Aug. next to organize a Democratic club for said township.

COUNTY LOCALS.

The corn and cotton crop are looking shabby, and are in need of rain.

The Gold Hill township Sunday school convention will be held at Gold Hill on Aug. 3rd.

The Organ Church Sunday school is in a very prosperous condition and now has a membership of 125.

Wheat threshing is in order in our vicinity and the roosters are saying when they crow, "Haven't the thresher all gone yet."

Mr. Geo. W. Fisher raised 150 bushels of onions this year and sold most of them at 50 cts. a bushel. He will plant a larger crop next year.

Rev. C. B. Heller's school commenced at the Lower Stone church, and Miss Elicta Klutz's at the Klutz school house last Monday.

Rev. Dr. Fox, of Salem, Va., has been paying Rev. W. R. Brown a visit and preached at the Organ Church last Sunday to a large congregation.

Sandy Weaver came across what he took to be a rattlesnake (by its singing) last Sunday night, but as it was dark he did not undertake to kill it.

Zeb.

Mr. W. T. Thomason, our early truck farmer, is hauling canteloupes to market.

We had a very interesting communion meeting at Bethel on last Sunday, Rev. C. A. Rose, pastor.

We had a refreshing rain on last Thursday night, which did much good to the growing crops.

Three teams from Zeb started this last Tuesday morning to the Sam Christian mine hauling pipe.

Our school will open on the 13th of August under the efficient management of Prof. L. H. Rothrock.

A protracted meeting will commence at Mt. Tabor, on Wednesday, August 1st, Rev. S. D. Franklin, pastor.

We warn the High Sheriff that he had better keep a sharp look out after one of his deputies as he visits our village very often, seeming to transact business without a warrant, and if not stopped, (judging from the frequent visits and the heavy mail) Zeb will be the loser of one of her fair sex.

Eisenheimer's Springs.

Editor Watchman.—Leaving home on the morning of the 21st inst., I arrived at the justly famed watering place at 8:30, same day. I found that the rains which had fallen in Rowan on Thursday night had extended all the way to Gold Hill and this place, and crops looking much more flourishing than I had expected to see. The land throughout this entire section is a gravelly, stony soil, and is quite thin, and sells very cheaply, and yet, it is famous for producing heavy crops of the finest of wheat, and yields a fine grade of tobacco and pretty fair corn.

The springs is strongly impregnated with sulphur, and is said to possess fine medicinal properties for the cure of kidney diseases. As a pleasure resort, it is by no means a one-horse affair, I assure you. There is a very large new hotel, where mine host and hostess cater to the wants of their many guests in a manner that cannot fail to satisfy the most fastidious, the tables being supplied with the best that can be procured. Besides the hotel it is surrounded by quite a little village of cottages, offices, &c., where persons can sleep as quietly and privately as at their own homes, and in addition to these, there are almost every variety of applications for amusement, such as croquet grounds, swings, ten pin alleys, &c. Besides a large number of regular boarders, there are always quite a number of transient visitors who come with their families, rent a room for a few days, and either get their meals at this hotel or find their own rations. The springs is sheltered by a large arbor, with nicely arranged seats which serves as a pleasant rendezvous where the guests resort for social intercourse. The springs are near Copal Grove P. O., eight miles South of Gold Hill, with the route well pointed out by signs, and is easily reached by the Gold Hill "springs." Hoping that our late Democratic county Convention in Salisbury succeeded in making such nominations as will harmonize the party, and trusting that we shall have no independent in the field, Yours truly, July 23rd 1888. W. R. FRALEY.

Life of Cleveland.

Some one more intent on making money than in doing honor to Mr. Cleveland, has got up in book form, "the life and public services of Grover Cleveland"—sold only by subscription. We say, give it the go-by—disappoint the man who seeks to use the present canvass excitement to get his hand in to your pocket. Almost any reader of a newspaper can tell you as much as you need to know of Mr. Cleveland's fitness for the Presidency. You don't need a book to assure you of it.

DIED.

Mrs. Mary Ann Mills, wife of William Mills, Salisbury N. C., was born in Sumpter County South Carolina, Dec. 26th, 1813. At the age of 14 years she became a member of the Methodist church. In its communion she lived the life of an exemplary christian for sixty-one years. Her place at church was never vacant when it was possible for her to attend. Her heart was always warm with love and fidelity to her husband, offspring, her church, and her God.

She died in great peace at her home in Salisbury at 9:40 o'clock, July 2nd '88.

An egg within an egg and both eggs perfect, is rather an unusual thing; but it was on exhibition at R. J. Holmes' store a few days ago. The enclosed egg with shell complete was found in an ordinary hen egg.

CONDENSED FROM VARIOUS SOURCES.

Seven men were killed on a boat at Louisville, Ky., July 20, while asleep, by the bursting of a steam pipe.

The Troy Vidette quotes the price of washed wool in that market at 25 @ 30 cts.; virgin dip turpentine at $1.50 per barrel.

The Wadesboro Messenger says the Wadesboro Silk Mills last week shipped 430 pounds of manufactured silk to Russell & Murray, New York.

Gov. Scales has commuted the sentence of four negroes condemned to be hung on the 3d of August at Durham, to ten years each in the penitentiary.

The Clinton Caucasian says the hickberries shipped from Clinton week before last brought back into the place upon an average $500 per day, and this was not the half shipped from the county.

Col. Johnson and Mr. Weddington, of Charlotte, were here Wednesday of last week in the interest of the proposed railroad from Charlotte to Durham.

Vidette. Briefly stated. Does Montgomery take hold?

The Wilmington Star gives a chapter on Lugals, quoting from Don Platt, in Bedford's Magazine, which shows up the trader of Gen. McClellan and Hancock to be one of the most despicable men now under the public eye—a writhing serpent of hateful form.

Emperor William, of Germany, is on a visit to the Emperor of Russia. He was received with marked civilities, and even with warmth by the Cz. r. On meeting they kissed each other repeatedly. That, we suppose, will signify the beginning of the kind of cordial reception which grandees will hereafter observe on meeting.

There are two newspapers in the little town of Troy, one Democratic and the other Republican, and the politicians of the county keep them very busy. Some of the writers wield clubs, and others old meat axes, but they are all in dead earnest and mean business every time. The Democrats evidently do not intend to be beaten this year, but are organizing clubs in every township.

At THE ENCAMPMENT.—An old mountaineer walking with two of the boys (after getting fixed in camp) seeing the sound at dead low water, remarked that he didn't think it was such a darned big thing after all he had heard about it. He mistook the sound for the ocean. We suppress his name as he is a modest man, and would not like notoriety.—Wilmington Messenger.

Melville W. Fuller has at last been confirmed by the Senate as Chief Justice of the U. S. Supreme Court. The vote, taken on the 20th, stood as follows, yeas 41; nays 20. Several speeches were made for and against the confirmation by Republican members; but the Democratic members took no part in the discussion. Senators Ransom and Vance recorded their votes in the affirmative.

The military encampment below Wilmington is attracting crowds of visitors from the city and the interior also; and boys in Camp are having a very pleasant time, when not on duty. Bathing in the surf is one of their enjoyments, and now and then an exciting incident thrills them for a short while. Two men have narrowly escaped drowning by venturing out too far, or by being taken with cramp while bathing. It would be a good time for man-eating sharks to put in their appearance. They would at least make times lively for the boys, and give them a chance to try their skill at throwing the harpoon.

Mobile, Ala., July 23.—On Saturday last Ike Lambert, a white man, while intoxicated, shot and killed T. D. Hestle and two negroes of Mount Pleasant, Monroe county. He was arrested. Arrested after he had done the killing. What defective laws! An intoxicated man allowed his liberty until he kills three innocent unoffending people, and then he is arrested! An intoxicated man should have no more liberty than a crazy man or a mad dog; and the magistrate or policeman cognizant of the case should be held responsible for the acts of an intoxicated man should he commit murder or perpetrate any other unlawful act. A drunk man by common consent is a fool. He is worse than that; he is a beast—a wild beast, and should not be tolerated for a moment among sober people. Send him to jail on the instant he is found, there to stay until sober.

There was a cloud burst at Wheeling, West Va., and the adjacent country at 6 p. m., July 19, which was most appalling in results. The rain and hail fell in awful torrents for two hours, flooding the city and surrounding country. Houses melted away under it;—the half of Trindelphia, a town of 600 inhabitants—was swept away, in some cases with their occupants in them. Many persons, men women and children, are missing, and many dead bodies have been picked up, some of them two miles from where they lived. Thirty persons who had collected on a railroad trestle were engulfed in seething waters by the giving away of the trestle. The storm extended for miles, and horrors were scattered all along its path. Fifteen miles of railroad were practically destroyed. A telegraph company lost 40 miles of wire and most of the poles. The damage was greater in the country than in the towns. The storm covered a portion of Ohio.
