

Caroli a Water
LOCAL THURSDAY
1888.
The political pot beginning to boil. A few more Saturdays like the last and the fuse will have burned to the powder. If there must be an explosion, let it come now, before the leaves begin to fall.
Men who come before their fellow men in a task to be placed in offices of trust must expect their record, both private and public, to be sifted from "Ben-gal to Vinegar Hill," as one of our old servants used to express it.
We notice in the New York papers the sudden death of Dr. Benjamin Stephens VanWyck, in Brooklyn, on the 31st inst. Dr. VanWyck was a brother of Judge VanWyck of Brooklyn and an uncle of our townsman, Mr. O. B. VanWyck.
Do you want to see the town build up? Then you are the very man to be thinking about it. Don't sit still forever and let some one else think up all the plans for improvements. Don't be too close fist to venture a dollar's worth of anything. Let's all think all the time for something to arouse the town and community, and then we may have some concert of action.
Rev. Frank Tatum preached at the Baptist church Sunday morning and lectured on missions at night. Mr. Tatum was, for two years, employed as salesman in one of our largest mercantile establishments, but abandoned business to enter college at Wake Forest, where he graduated and at once entered the ministry. He goes to China in November to engage in missionary work.
Young men who have just arrived at the age which entitles them to vote at the coming election, should not fail to read carefully the history of North Carolina from 1865 to 1870. The questions of tariff will sink into utter insignificance compared with what the history of that period will reveal to them. It never can, nor will it ever be forgotten as long as there remains a piece of the Republican party as big as the eye of a needle.
The advantages of advertising could not be better illustrated than in the case of Mr. W. L. Douglas, of Brockton, Mass., manufacturer of the celebrated W. L. Douglas $3.00 shoe. About four years ago, S. R. Niles, Newspaper Advertising Agency, of Boston, placed for Mr. Douglas an advertisement covering a portion of the New England States. Since that time Mr. Douglas has steadily increased his advertising as his business prospered, and the returns have been so gratifying that he has recently placed, through Mr. Niles, his advertisement in over 5000 newspapers, covering every section of the country from Maine to California.
Tobias Lyerly's Club.
The members of this club are reminded that the year expires Oct. 1st.
Fesperman's Club
expires the 1st of September. Those who may wish to renew, or to join it at that time, are requested to report to him.
Bailey for the Senate.
The Democrats of Davie county in convention last Saturday nominated Thos. B. Bailey for the Senate for Rowan and Davie. The convention was large, orderly and enthusiastic.
Arendell-Holmes.
Yesterday afternoon at five o'clock, Rev. Mr. Byrd officiating, Miss Bessie Holmes was united in marriage to Mr. Falconer B. Arendell, of Raleigh, at the home of the bride's parents.
The best wishes of a host of friends follow the happy couple to their future home in Raleigh.
A Deserved Promotion.
Mr. W. A. West has been appointed Road Foreman of Engines for the W. N. C. R. R., and under the direction of the Master Mechanic, will have supervision over all mechanics and firemen while out on the road, and give general instructions in regard to the proper working of locomotives, the handling of air-brakes, and the economical use of fuel and lubricants, and will strictly observe the demeanor and sobriety of all of the men.
Mr. West is second oldest engineer on the road, has been a faithful and efficient officer and deserved this promotion.
Commissioners' Meeting.
The board of County Commissioners met last Monday, and the following business was transacted:
H. N. Woodson returned $20.00 as hire for county convicts. D. C. Bradshaw and D. R. Julian were allowed dynamite, fuse and caps for blasting rocks out of the public road. The voting precinct known as Coleman's, in Atwell township, was changed to D. C. Bradshaw's residence, and is to be hereafter known as Bradshaw's, in Atwell township. The license granted to J. C. Tarlton to retail spirituous liquors at the old market house on Main street was transferred to A. Caton.
The usual allowances for paupers were made and the Commissioners revised the jury box.
The following registrars were then appointed:

A. H. BOYDEN, P. M.
John S. Henderson.

Hon. John S. Henderson is one of 116 few Congressmen who has asked for no leave of Absence, but has stood manfully at his post during this summer. When warned that others were going home to look after their "political fences" he said he built his fences by attending to the work here, entrusted to him by his constituents. And he is attending to that work with all his accustomed energy and ability. Senator Ransom says the way in which he worked the Stateville buildings bill through, deserves the highest praise. I have mentioned before that about fourteen sections of the Mills tariff bill were written entirely by Mr. Henderson. Last week he favorably reported from the Judiciary Committee an important measure framed by himself for the relief of those who paid additional, internal revenue taxes under the act of March 3rd, 1875.—Washington Cor. to the State Chronicle.

Jewish New Year.
With yesterday's sunset the Israelites all over the world celebrated the eve of their New-Year's Day of the year 5649. All Hebrews keep the day holy, which is called Rosh Hashshannah. While the advanced synagogues keep only one day, the orthodox synagogues observe two days—Thursday and Friday.
Saturday, the 8th inst., will be an important Sabbath, and is called the "Sabbath of Repentance." On the following day, Sunday, the stricter Israelites keep the fast of Gedaliah from sunrise to sunset.
Friday evening, the 14th, will be the eve of the great Day of Atonement, called Yom Hakippurim. The day is strictly observed with fasting from sunset until Saturday's sunset.
On Wednesday, the 19th, the festival of Booths, or Succoth, commenced, lasting seven days, but the advanced synagogues observe only the 20th and closing festival, on September 27. The orthodox synagogues observe September 20, 21, and 28.
The 28th day of September is called Hoshannah Rabbath of the feast Willow. On the Sabbath of the 29th commences the new cycle of the reading of the Pentateuch, and the difference between the orthodox and the advanced Israelites is also shown in the fact that while the five books of Moses are read by orthodox congregations during the period of one year, the advanced congregations read only one-third a year, or the entire Pentateuch in a cycle of three years.
The year 5649 will be a leap year, the synagogues will observe thirteen months instead of twelve, and the New Year of 5650 will commence on Monday, September 26, 1889.

MARRIED.
On the 30th day of August, 1888, by W. A. Campbell Esq. at his residence in Morgan Township, Mr. James T. Morgan and Miss Laura J. Hodge, all of Rowan.

Yellow Fever in Florida.
JACKSONVILLE, Fla., September 5.—Yesterday's list of new cases contains names of people residing in every quarter of the city. A number of cases are reported from the suburbs, and although the fever is of a mild type in the great majority of cases, it seems to be very contagious. No cases are reported as yet from the South side of the St. John's river, though there have been a number of cases carried from the city by refugees. The board of health will, in all probability, soon issue a call for medical aid. Many excellent physicians have already tendered their services gratuitously. Skilled nurses are very scarce, and are greatly needed. There have been very few cases thus far among the negroes, but the fever is getting a good start in the suburbs where they mostly reside. The government will probably furnish funds for sanitary work, and for the relief of refugees. It is probable that a refuge camp will be established in the mountains of North Carolina, if the officials of that State will assist.

DIED.
In Salisbury, Sept. 4th, 1888, Mrs. Sarah F. Tipton, wife of Col. Jas. C. Tipton, in the 36th year of her age. Mrs. Tipton was the daughter of the late Dr. Campbell, of Pineville. She became a communicant in the Bethesda Presbyterian church, York county, S. C., and was transferred to the Lincolnton Presbyterian church. She was a good woman, consistent in her life, and died in hope of a blessed immortality.
Funeral services were held Tuesday night at the house, conducted by Revs. Dr. Rimple and Byrd, and the body was interred at Lincolnton, yesterday.

Suspension of the Press.
It may not occur to many that country newspapers are having a hard time in this State. Few persons have any conception of the difficulties with which the greatest of all is the cheapness of the city weeklies. Country people wonder how it is that double sheet papers from the city can be furnished at less money than the small country paper, and they reach the conclusion, in their reasoning on the subject, that the home paper is charging exorbitant rates, and they resolve to stop their part of the business by stopping their subscription to the home paper, and send for a city paper which gives more news for the same money.
This is in accordance with the laws of trade—people will buy where they can get the most for the least amount of money. By the same law our people send north for everything they wear and send west for carriages, buggies, wagons, farming tools and even a large part of their provisions. The operation of this law has broken down almost every home industry except tilling the soil. The blacksmith, the shoemaker, the cabinet maker, the silversmith, the wagon and buggy builder, all have been reduced to repair work. The hatter, the gunsmith, the cooper, and other pursuits, have been driven out entirely. Why? Because it is impossible for a man with little money to contend with concentrated capital, and because bone and muscle cannot withstand the power of steam and the machinery driven by it. Concentrated capital puts up immense factories and drives them by steam for the manufacture of the goods consumed by the people. They turn out in an hour more work than the man working by hand can turn out in a year; and by selling their goods cheap, as they can well afford to do, make it impossible for the home mechanic to contend with them. Where are the old fashioned cards and spinning wheel? Where are the old time looms? Where are the home shoemakers, once to be found in every neighborhood? and the old time home-made farm tools, chains, horse shoes, rakes, plows, wagons, and almost everything else formerly made at home? Steam power and its application to the various machinery employed in every department of business, has driven them out; and the same process is still going on and must work out similar results. Steam power, machinery and combined money power in the north and east, have completely revolutionized the trade of the country. They have affected printing to the same extent they have other branches of business. Sixty years ago nearly all the printing done was performed by hand at the rate of from 250 to 300 copies per hour. This was for one side of a sheet of paper. Now there are presses throwing off from 20,000 to 30,000 perfected sheets in an hour. Sixty years ago only one press was put to work on an edition. Now, by a new process for multiplying the type form, any number of presses can in an hour's time be set to work and any number of copies desired run off in a day—a half million or a million. The country printer can no more withstand this pressure than the country blacksmith can withstand the power of machinery in his line, which turns out horse shoes by the hundred while he is punching the holes in a shoe of his own make. The mammoth city paper soon finds sale at the low price they are offered, and it is all cash. If the publishers can sell 100,000 copies and make ten cents clear on each subscription they are making $10,000 a year; while the country editor with a subscription of 1,000 (more than an average of country papers) with ten cents on each subscription would make only $100. The city mammoth gets rich while the country paper starves. If we have country papers at all, it is apparent from this statement of facts, that the country paper must pay a higher price than the city mammoth. They cannot be afforded at the same price. They must either charge enough to pay the cost of production or go out like other branches of home industry which steam power, combined capital and machinery have driven out. Our neighbor, the Press, is an illustration of the case, and we apprehend that there will be many such illustrations within the next decade.
