The present management of the New Gold Hill Mines desire that we correct the impression, unintended to be conveyed, to the effect that Mr. Hamby is connected with the Gold Hill property.

Mr. Henry Harvey, a miner of experience, in charge at Gold Hill, does not wish it understood that Mr. Hamby has anything to do with the present management of that property.

Disgraceful. If we had been told a week ago that a gambler would be allowed to practice his profession openly all day long on one of our streets we would not have believed it.

Last Saturday morning two of our policemen found a gambler operating near the circus grounds and arrested him, but were instructed to turn him loose by the authorities as he had a license.

This party was certainly amenable to the law, notwithstanding he held a license for running a "gift shell enterprise," as were every one who gambled with him.
