Persistent to the usual custom, I hereby announce myself a candidate...

Rev. F. J. Murdock returned from the Convention at Oxford on Tuesday.

The Hook and Ladder Company carried their truck with them to Charlotte Monday.

The Oxford Improvement Company has succeeded in placing a considerable quantity of stock in Salisbury.

Many of our citizens went down to the annual feast of patriotism which our neighbor spreads.

Dr. J. J. Summerville is in Oxford attending the meeting of the State Medical Association, now in session there.

The Daily Patriot, pretentious, full and flush with the times, comes regularly to us now.

The Roanoke & Southern will be very shortly completed to Martinsville, at which point they, under their charter, are permitted to bond the road.

The entertainment which will be given Monday night, the 26th inst., under the auspices of the Salisbury Choral Union, at Meroney's Hall, will, we trust, be largely attended.

Mr. George W. Right desires us to correct the unfounded and highly prejudicial report that he is using one horse for the two races alike.

The gas tar used near the depot on Monday night was the ordinary black vile stuff that offends the eye and the nostrils.

The Seventh District.

At the meeting of the Executive Committee, in Salisbury on Tuesday last, it was agreed to defer all action until after the session of the State Executive Committee.

At Your Service.

Have you a public matter or a private plan which will incidentally help Salisbury? If so, the WATCHMAN'S columns are yours.

In this issue you will find East Salisbury, Harrisonville, the Roanoke and Southern (in three places), the Yadkin Railroad and the Alliance Fair, all treated fully and with care.

The Yadkin Railroad.

Capt. Frye, superintendent of construction for the R. & D. Railroad, established his camp near Dr. Coleman's on Monday last.

Capt. Frye will build from the seven mile post toward the Stanly line, the seven miles nearest Salisbury having already been contracted for and partly finished by Capt. Fortune.

Mr. L. S. Overman is now in Raleigh and will make the final arrangements for the great force of convicts which is to take up the work at the Stanly line and grade the road through to Norwood.

The officers of the road desire the special understanding that their contract will be fulfilled in every respect and the road completed on or before the day set.

Just Com' Right Along.

Concord has constituted her committee on the Roanoke & Southern and instructed it to attend Salisbury's meeting to be held in Salisbury on Saturday, the 24th, or day after to-morrow.

Quick Work, That.

On Monday morning Messrs Smith-den, McCanness & Co., having purchased the S. R. Harrison home place for $7,500, carved out of it one hundred and twenty lots, leaving the main and out buildings with a handsome allotment of land untouched.

On to Richmond.

The veterans are rapidly concluding their arrangements for the campaign and will soon be in readiness for their final farewell march on the old Confederate capitol.

The flags are ready, the one furnished by the State has arrived and is a very large and handsome affair.

The Alliance Fair Association of Rowan held a well attended and ordered adjourned meeting in Salisbury, on Saturday last.

Alliance Fair.

The Alliance Fair Association of Rowan held a well attended and ordered adjourned meeting in Salisbury, on Saturday last.

The Chairman then stated the object of the meeting to be the arrangement of matters of detail looking towards a working organization.

W. S. Kistler Esq., chairman of the committee on rules and regulations, reported a code in six sections which were adopted in order, the 6th being amended by the addition of a restricting provision.

Messrs. James McKinsie and L. H. Rothrock, committee on and Executive Board, reported the following slate, viz:

Jesse W. Miller, W. G. Watson, P. A. Sloop, P. D. Linn, Wm. Freshland, A. G. Peeler, L. H. Rothrock, Paul Shaver, S. A. Earnhardt, Jno. Beard, Jap. Halton, Dr. Crump, D. C. Bradshaw, J. C. Stewart, S. L. Roberts.

Upon motion of W. T. Kistler, P. D. Linn, Esq., was empowered to cast the unanimous vote of the association for the ten names last occurring on the above list, the five above having been constituted executive committeemen at a previous meeting.

Capt. Beard offered the following resolutions:

Resolved, that W. L. Kistler, the secretary, be instructed to notify the presidents of all the alliances of adjoining counties, of our organization.

The Executive Committee was instructed to solicit subscriptions to the Association Stock.

The Executive committee was called to meet at 11 a. m. on Saturday, the 28th of June.

Upon motion of A. G. Peeler the meeting adjourned.

The above is a short schedule of the work done, to which we add, as commentary there on, an approving well done. There was a harmonious, business-like dispatch about affairs as they were conducted that was surprising.

East Salisbury.

Under this name the two hundred and seventy acre property, approaching the R. & D. rail-road and the depot and now intersected by Long Street, will be thrown on the market.

This the Shaver, property, vast as it is in extent, lying close in to the depot, level in places, in places rolling, entirely unsuitable of being beautified to any requirement of the purchaser and capable of being made to meet any want of the manufacturer or house-builder.

Following immediately upon this, a competent force of surveyors was engaged to run off and map the property, the work to be undertaken at once.

Under the direction of the present owners the land will be laid off in squares, the streets keeping the directions and names of those to which they are extensions.

After the lands in question have been suitably mapped, the sale of the lots will be given to Messrs. W. Smith-den, N. B. McCanness, W. H. Reiser and J. S. McCubbins as a real estate firm, under the name of the Dixie Land and Improvement Company.

Again we call attention to the moment of this movement to the town at large. The property in question is by all odds better located more available and more comprehensive in character than all the others combined.

The Roanoke and Southern.

It is becoming the mode, so to speak, for everybody to bid for the R. & S. Charlotte and Concord have been infected, or rather, to speak more respectfully, have come to understand the advantages to be reaped from such a line, and will be fully represented at Lexington on the 5th of June.

At the same time Charlotte expresses a doubt and says that if she has no chance, but is expected to allow herself to be used as a lever to prize some other town into doing its duty, she wishes to be considered as not bidding.

Concord, on the other hand, is more directly reached and she too will be prepared to call anything around the board; even perhaps to raise all hands to the limit.

So here we are again, Lexington, Linwood, Salisbury, Concord, Harrisburg, Charlotte. In fact it begins to appear that the Roanoke & Southern had better sit down and let us build the road and hand it over to her completed.

Looking at the figures, the whole affair begins to assume the guise of a general raid on the Richmond & Danville's preserves.

At present we know all we are permitted to know, which is not a great deal, considering the fact that we are not yet told which way the road is looking; still, if it is really going to Monroe or a point west of it, it is nine to nothing that inside of three years the R. & D. and the R. & S. will be racing trains all the way from Lexington to Charlotte.

There will be services at Cowan's School house at 11, o'clock A. M. and at St. Marys Church at 3, o'clock P. M. next Sunday by Rev. B. S. McKinzie.

Is there any other agency that does more to advertise and promote the growth of a town than a well conducted newspaper? We pause.

Tired Of It All.

POOR WILLIAM WARREN GREY A-WEARY ---LOOK THE SHORTEST WAY OUT OF IT---AS IT SEEMED TO HIM.

Our young townsman, William Warren voluntarily relinquished all claim to his right to live and into the unknown hand on Friday last.

In Salisbury here, we are now justified in concluding, he must have considered that he was esteemed a good, odd sort of a boy who was not thought bright enough even to be in the way.

William Warren, a student of the North Carolina College, at Mt. Pleasant, drank two small bottles of laudanum, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and is in all probability dead by this time.

The occurrence created a considerable stir in the quiet little town of Mt. Pleasant. No cause can be assigned for Warren and his condition.

The Annual Convention of the Episcopal Church in the Diocese of North Carolina met in Tarboro, on May 14th.

The Episcopal Convention.

My shelves are filling up right along with SPRING SPRING ... GOODS!

There was quite an elaborate program of speakers and subjects for the celebration which ended on Sunday night.

Concord and the Roanoke Southern.

As foreshadowed in The News of yesterday, a large number of Concord's citizens, embracing the great part of the intelligence, wealth, and enterprise of the place, assembled at the court house at 4 o'clock to give a starter to the Roanoke and Southern Rail Road which is soon to be built somewhere.
