

Speaking from the Book.

A REPUBLICAN ON HIS PARTY.

I am old line republican, one of the fire-tried sort, and am a republican to-day; but I will confess that I have never seen the hour when I thought a southern white man could be a republican and be decent. I was a republican for money.

The above are the words of D. L. Bringle, Esq., former postmaster of Salisbury.

BEATEN FROM THE START.

A Candidate at the Polls.

CAPT. FISHER'S CARD—"AND PITY 'TIS 'TIS TRICE."

It is a matter of deep regret that Capt. J. A. Fisher has seen fit to cast loose from party friends and close party affiliations, abandon the ties that bound him to the great body of respectability in Rowan, renounce the principles of his party, wreck his political prospects for all time, forfeit his reputation for staunch, reliable democracy, and go over bag and baggage to the enemy.

Capt. Fisher's course is but a sad illustration of misguided, unhealthy ambition, of a desire for office at any hazard and cost; and by his action he has left us no others alternative than a direct acceptance in terms of his gauge of battle. He has repudiated the democratic party, the first tenet and fundamental principle of which is absolute submission to the will of the majority. Capt. Fisher, having studied the matter faithfully, and having concluded that he could never be Sheriff of Rowan by virtue of majority choice in the party, has simply concluded to try it out of the party. So be it. His case is hopeless from the beginning, and if the ignominy of absolute defeat is to be preferred to a quiet submission to party will, that too is ours to give him. Rowan's democracy has no terms to propose, no treaty to make with an enemy. The man who deserts his standard is worse than an enemy, he is a mutineer, and can be trusted to abandon any friend on any field for the sake of personal gain.

Capt. Fisher has failed to remember that with every thing drawing on either side the democracy of Rowan is supreme by the splendid majority figure of thirteen hundred and seventy-six votes. He has failed to remember that the republican vote is never solid, whatever the promise of republican leaders, upon a so-called independent, it being easy to wean away any needed number of votes from the so-called independent. Capt. Fisher has failed to remember that four-fifths of the half floater democratic vote which is promised to a so-called independent finally winds up by voting the democratic ticket straight. Capt. Fisher has failed to remember that the hottest, bitterest, most tireless and unrelenting fight is made upon a so-called independent always. He has failed to remember that he stands singly and alone, while every organizing power and resource of the democratic party will be brought to bear on him, and that if it becomes necessary the necessary means to accomplish his defeat will be unhesitatingly applied.

White supremacy in North Carolina must and shall be maintained. Capt. Fisher and every recreant, disorganizing, rebellious, self-seeking white man must be beaten, whatever the cost.

Capt. Fisher has published his card and is now running for the office of Sheriff of Rowan, not because he supposes that the office needs him, but rather because he thinks he needs the money of the office, but he will get his trouble and a world of hard knocks for his pains.

Why should Capt. Fisher run? Has he ever accomplished any great things for Rowan? Does Rowan owe him anything beyond what she has already accorded him, along with her thousands of other citizens?

The following is his proclamation of revolt: To the voters of Rowan county: On account of so much unfairness brought to bear by the county and township bosses (so-called) and misrepresentations circulated, I feel it my duty to announce myself a candidate for the office of Sheriff for the county of Rowan, feeling sure that the people at the ballot boxes will decide more justly and satisfactorily. Very Respectfully, J. A. FISHER.

What Capt. Fisher means to say is that because his candidacy has not been favored by the vast body of the more influential citizens of Rowan, therefore he proposes to try what can be done with the republicans and such floaters as can be gotten together. By bosses he means influential citizens, men who largely shape public opinion, men who will have influence enough to beat him again—at the polls.

The Infamy Through the History. 155 to 149.

Reed's House has done its worst. By a vote of 155 to 149 the first step toward the second fierce bill and the horrors of a renewed reconstruction era has been taken. Even Hempbill's amendment, prohibiting troops at the polls was swept aside and the loom of this infamous measure is defined clear and sharp as a craggy headland against the sky. Here is the picture; brass-knucks Gillespie and Stoetn registering my vote and yours. Brass-knucks Gillespie and Stoetn receiving your vote and mine.

Brass-knucks Gillespie counting your and my vote, and the same red legged pair certifying a Congressman for you and for me, while the glitter of the bayonet's bright steel flashes on the scene.

Are we freemen, are we men, that we should be expected to submit to such infernal measures? If the Senate concurs the peace of the country is gone.

Asiatic Cholera Again. Eugene Sue's wandering Jew, as impersonating the deadly scourge of Asia and Medeterranian Europe has again crossed to Spain. Of two hundred odd cases in a single Spanish city over one hundred and fifty are a ready dead.

It is a well known fact that this dread plague is irregular in its spread; and while at times it is confined to a narrow territory, as in 1885, at other times boundaries are expanded until all Europe and much of America are included. For this reason it behooves American authorities to watch the gates by which it may enter.

If, as goes the legend, it is true that the Cholera is germinated among the squalor and filth of the holy Mecca and its rapid spread due to the scattering of the pilgrims to their homes from thence it would be the part of prudence for Spain to enlarge the scope of her sanitary operations, and include this unwashed Moslem City.

The New York Herald is for a Southern man as the next presidential nominee of the democratic party. If there were a great many such great, impartial, independent patriotic thinkers as the Herald's people this proposition, fair as it is, would be acted upon at once. As it is the old rule of the nominees from the doubtful States will doubtless prevail.

Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—It seems that the free coinage people will have to select some hotter climate, than that provided in the U. S. mints, to melt their ore—and sell it afterwards as coin.

Before Cleveland was elected President, it was the general argument, that in spite of the many corruptions, and general inefficiency of many preceding administrations, still it would not do to trust the democrats with the management of the intricate machinery of the great government.

The republicans had conducted affairs so long, and the democrats "were out" for so great a period, that this argument actually prevailed with a great many people.

But that cry will not be heard again. The smooth running of the government machinery under the direction of democratic engineers is prominent in the memory of the people. In broad distinction to the old idea that the democrats of the United States constituted a particular class, entirely devoid of either principle or ability, and unfit for responsible trusts, is the aspect now presented by the republican administration.

The very men, who kept up the hue and cry during these past years have shown that individually, and collectively the republican party is inefficient and unfaithful. That the harangues made for political effect during past campaigns were insincere in their delivery, and republican politicians, unfaithful to the trusts reposed in them by the people.

The President and Secretary of State have watched the foolish measures of Congress and endeavored persistently, to prevent the republicans making an especial exposure of the party and killing its future prospects.

But the members of Congress went on from bad to worse and were about to commit "The Unpardonable Sin" to the administration; when the President was driven to use severe and savage methods to head them off in their insane career.

There are naturally, a few men in every assembly, of too good a disposition to commit wrongs, and necessarily, too honest and wise to be identified with the contemptible legislation of the present Congress except in denouncing it.

Mr. Batorworth, one of the most distinguished members of the House, is extremely antagonistic to everything, so far done, by Congress, relating to the tariff.

He recently said that the republican who was not gratified with the President's late Free trade message, did not understand the political situation, and that the heroic treatment of the President was absolutely necessary when it was delivered to save the party. He said that it was not difficult to discover, in the restless discontent which has grown up under the partial operation of our tariff, a sure harbinger of the overthrows of those who defend and uphold the extravagant rates of duty now imposed. "What is our situation as a party?" he says. The tariff unreviled, and no consoling prospect that the Senate will do more than transpose the exorbitant rates that abound in the present schedule. Beyond that, the Senate, to the astonishment of nation, by an overwhelming majority, voted to purchase not merely the entire output of American silver mines, but to purchase and coin the silver of the world. And, as if that wasn't enough, it was proposed to have the tax payers of the United States pay $1 for every 75 cents worth of silver the world might present at our mints. All this in the name of securing more money for our people—as if we couldn't secure half the money of Europe on letter terms.

The republican party seems to have lost its appreciation of the common sense of the country. The federal election law, which is now occupying the attention of Congress appears, merely an attempt to administer sugar coated poison; obvious in its purport is the old fable of Esop's concerning the wolf and the lamb.

The bill begins with hypercity and ends with a piece of chicanery; since it pretends to have general application, but aims only at the South. It means that the South must vote the republican ticket. There is a bitter fight between the democratic and republican members on the subject, but of course the majority will prevail, unless recent blunders have opened their eyes.

The Senate has passed the bill admitting Wyoming, notwithstanding the ridiculous and absurd constitution of the would be State. Every Democrat voted against it.

An effort is being made in Congress, particularly in the Senate to secure new buildings, that will be safe and healthy, neither of which the present building is, for the Government printing office. It ought to succeed; a new building is a necessity.

North Carolina Statemanship. The Richmond Dispatch, clipping from the Springfield Republican, adds yet another testimonial to both the quantity and a degree of statescraft displayed by our fathers. It was they who with prophetic vision foresaw such devices and vicious machinations as the Cabot Lodge bill, and it was they who, with the precision upon them, declined to enter the Union until long after the remainder had gone in. This very federalist effort, and leaping toward centralization, of the Lodge bill, was then as now the subject of North Carolina's vigorous protest, and along with the ten amendments, was the cause of her remaining out of the union.

Democratic Executive Committee.

ITS MEETING LAST SATURDAY—NAMES OF MEMBERS—CONVENTION AND PRIMARIES CALLED—BALLOT BOXES AT THE PRIMARIES.

The democracy of Rowan, vigilant, terrorless and unpurchaseable, got out of park with its guns on Saturday best and is arranging to begin an unusually active campaign.

A. H. Boyden was unanimously elected chairman of the Executive Committee and will give the matter the benefit of his long experience and unexceptional executive ability.

The following is a complete list of the committee for the county: TOWNSHIP NAME POSTOFFICE Salisbury A H Boyden Salisbury China Grove J L Sifford China Grove Franklin J B Foard South River Gold Hill J C Snuggs Gold Hill Litaer M A J Roseman Rock Locke T J Sumner Salisbury Morgan Alex Morgan Garfield Mt Ulla J A Stewart Miranda Providence D L Arcy Salisbury Scotch Irish D B Roseboro Cleveland Steele W A Barber Mill Bridge Atwell D C Bradshaw Mill Bridge Enochville Jno Butler Heilig's Mill Henry Heilig Barnhardt's Mill Dr Coleman Mt Vernon C J Fleming Unity J H L Rice

On account of the rather too early call for the judicial and congressional conventions, which our county convention, of necessity, must ante-date, the latter was set for July 20th, and the primaries for July 19th. These dates were regarded as earlier than the committee desired, but were unanimously fixed upon, since the judicial and congressional conventions, called for July 30th and 31st and to which the county must send delegates, renders later dates impossible.

So that, be it remembered, the primaries are set for JULY 19TH, and the convention JULY 20TH.

MANNER OF HOLDING PRIMARIES. 1st. The unit of the convention will be the unit of the precinct, and not the township. So that on the call of the roll, where a township has more than one voting place, each voting place will vote its own strength. The organization will be by precincts during the campaign, also. The regular boxes employed at the elections will be opened by three judges at each precinct and kept open during the entire time. Each voter will first register his name and then vote for each candidate by written or printed ballot. The polls will open at 2 o'clock and will close at 5 o'clock and the vote shall be then publicly counted and announced by the judges.

The same rules will hold good for Salisbury township, except that the polls shall close at 6 o'clock instead of 5.

Each precinct shall elect its own delegates, and may do so by ballot or otherwise.

FOR WHOM VOTE COUNTED. The unit of the convention shall be the unit of the precinct. The candidate receiving a clear majority of the vote of a precinct shall be entitled to the whole strength of such precinct.

In the event no candidate shall receive more than a plurality, then each candidate shall receive his proportion of the strength of the precinct.

DELEGATES. Each precinct shall elect its own delegates, and may do so by ballot or otherwise.

VOTING STRENGTH. The following tabulation is the voting strength of the various townships and precincts:

Table with 3 columns: Precincts, Folwote rate, Strength. Rows include Salisbury (646), Franklin (233), Mt. Vernon (104), Cleveland (62), Steele (114), Mt. Ulla (129), Bradshaw's (176), Enochville (127), Locke (156), China Grove (105), Boston's X Roads (105), Heilig's Mill (77), Gold Hill (88), Barnhardt's Mill (114), Morgan (131), Hatter Shop (148), Rowan Academy (98).

APPOINTMENT OF POLL HOLDERS. That it shall be the duty of each member of the Democratic Executive Committee to appoint three poll holders or judges of election for his respective precinct.

The names of the judges of election, so far as appointed, are as follows: Bradshaw's precinct—J. L. Sloan, D. A. Sloop, J. F. McLean. Mt. Vernon—Sanford Henley, David Flemming, William Steele. Mt. Ulla—J. K. Graham, J. K. Goodman, R. F. McConnell. Cleveland—Dan Roseboro, Jos. Barber, Alex. Moore. Steele—G. A. Hall, Dr. E. M. Summerell, W. L. Kistler. Franklin—H. C. Propst, B. F. Shuping, G. L. Thomason. Gold Hill—J. C. Snuggs, J. W. Noah, R. J. Shaver. Hatter Shop Precinct—S. A. Earnhardt, P. D. Linn, Geo. W. Long. Morgan—Paul Shaver, William Campbell, Wm. Kirk. Heilig's Mill—A. W. Rasher, J. D. A. Brown, J. Henry Heilig. Enochville—E. L. Smith, D. H. Kimmons, C. J. Deal. Rowan Academy—H. C. Peeler, Alexander Peeler, Tobias Lyster. Barnhardt's precinct—M. A. Fesperman, C. A. Miller, Noah E. Miller.

The executive committee will please make their appointments of judges of election immediately and notify the appointee, and the secretary of the Ex. Committee.

J. W. RUMPLE, Sec'y Ex. Com.

Chances Against Mr. Lodge's Bill.

Because in this hour there can be nothing else of such moment to the patriotic citizens of America and because the New York Herald of yesterday bids us hope, we publish in full its report of the situation on the Cabot Lodge bill. It is as follows:

There seems to be no question that Mr. Lodge's bill to deprive the people of their representatives in Congress will be killed in the Senate, even if it passes the House.

Senator Ingalls says that the Chandler resolution to cut off debate and authorize the counting of a quorum will not, in his opinion, be made one of the rules of the Senate and that many republican Senators will vote against it. Senator Ingalls, like Senator Hale, Senator Stewart and other prominent republicans, congratulate himself on the fact that the Senate is still a deliberative body and is in favor of keeping it so. He says that any party that filibusters unduly and without cause will be punished by the people at the polls, and he is willing to trust to their judgment.

The outspoken language of many western Senators makes it evident that there would be a tremendous republican vote in the upper house against Mr. Lodge's measure of Mexican imperialism, even if so many southern democrats had not voted for free coinage with the expectation that the silver republicans would reciprocate by voting against the Lodge bill.

IT MAY FAIL IN THE HOUSE. The chances are at least even that the measure will fall to the ground of its own sudden weight in the House.

The more members of any independence of character think about it the less they find themselves disposed to vote for it. One of the peculiarities of the debate has been the close attention which a knot of thirty republicans who have paid to the democratic speakers who have mercilessly exposed the weak points in the bill. Already three republican members—Lidlich, of New Jersey; chairman of the Civil Service Reform Committee; Coleman, of Louisiana; the only republican from the State; and Ewart, of North Carolina—have spoken against the bill.

So desperate are the republican managers that they even sent a despatch to a member who was in town and ready to vote with them, but whom some rumor had as absent.

Mr. Reed will watch the roll call on the passage of the bill on Wednesday with even more trepidation than he watched it on the free coinage amendment of the silver bill. He probably realizes that the bill has no chance of passage through the Senate, but he desires to save his already shattered prestige by worrying it through the House.

Francis telegrams have been despatched in all directions, but they have thus far failed to bring back the missing numbers. The effort to arrange pairs for them is proving difficult, for every democratic member, whether from the North or from the South desires to have his name recorded against the Reed-Lodge programme for throttling popular government in the American republic.

It is the democratic minority as a rule which shows the longest list of absentees, but the democratic members realize on this occasion that absenteeism is a crime against the existence of popular institutions which no one can afford to pardon. Congressman Schell, of Massachusetts, was not paired at a late hour this afternoon, and it may be difficult to get a pair for him.

SENATE RULES UNCHANGED. Senator Edmunds, of Vermont, is chairman of the Judiciary Committee. He is somewhat conservative in his views and reference has already been made in these despatches to his views on preserving untrammelled the freedom of debate in that body. Here is his exact language, which indicates that Mr. Chandler's proposed previous question rule has no hope in Mr. Edmunds' judgment: "I wish to say in response to my friend from Maine that the difference is entirely immaterial so far as it regards the personal honor and obligation of Senators, and I have never known it, except in some extreme emergencies, to be departed from, and I hope it never will be. But an order to the Senate changes its standing rules in respect of the liberty of debate in this body.

If a Senator wishes to debate in order to procrastinate affairs his brother Senators who do not like it can stay as well as he can and have it out. There ought to be one body in this country where freedom of debate may continue as it has always in this body. It has always been understood that these unanimous understandings, while they bound the honor of gentleman fully and fairly were not a rule of the Senate, but I assume that every gentleman present is just as much bound as if it were an order of the Senate."

This is a clear indication on the part of Edmunds that he is opposed to changing the rules and degrading the Senate to the pitiable condition of the House of Representatives under its present rules and management.

THE HOUSE DEBATE. In the debate on the Federal Election bill in the House Mr. Herbert (dem.) of Alabama, was accorded the floor.

During the reconstruction period, he said, the Southern States had been represented by Democrats, and hence the necessity for a national election law.

Mr. Honk (rep.) of Tennessee, said that his advocacy of a national election law did not grow out of any supposed emergency or necessity, not withstanding that there was a variety of reasons now that the power of the government should be asserted.
