Yadkin Railroad.

The Charlotte News speaks of the Salisbury & Norwood Railroad-the Yadkin-as "the road that Charlotte let go by" in a sad, mournful, Mand Mullerish seen-the-day upcu which she had a chance for our road. It is built on the charter of the old Salisbury, Wadesboro Cheraw Railroad, and was never offered to Charloffe, and Charloffe can be only said to have "let it go by" in the same sense that she has all railroads ramified into two divisions, those she has and those she wants.
