A drunken man amused quite a crowd in front of our office last Friday, with his cussing and charging, for at least a quarter of an hour. He wanted to whip out the town but he was not accommodated. The police were sent for but before they arrived Mr. Mose Fultz (S. S. S.) came up and called for help to arrest him but before the help got there the man was hustled into a wagon and driven off.

A Late Visitor.
Last night, a few minutes before twelve o'clock, while we were at work in the office reading proofs and directing wrappers, we were surprised to have a gentleman step in the office. He said he was passing by, saw the light, and came in to see who was keeping such late hours and when we assured him that the twelve o'clock business was the rule rather than the exception, he promptly pulled out his pocket book and paid his subscription for two years behind and one in advance, at the same time remarking that, never would he again keep the editor, who had to work until midnight, out of his pay. We merely mention this little incident in hopes that all who are behind will see the point, as he saw it, and come in and do likewise.

State Teachers Institute.
Prof. E. A. Alderman opened the teachers institute last Monday with about seventy teachers enrolled.
The exercises are of a very interesting nature and a great deal of good practical common sense can be obtained by any person, no matter what his profession is, who will listen to the talks made by Prof. Alderman to the teachers. On Tuesday the professor urged more care being taken as to how to use the blue back speller with little folks, he showed how the children are taught to spell the jaw breaking words without either themselves or their teachers having the slightest idea what the words meant.
The institute will continue until Friday when it will close with an address to the public by Prof. Alderman.

Dancy for the Haytian Mission.
In its notes of the colored State convention of Tuesday, the Raleigh Chronicle says:
John C. Dancy was unanimously endorsed for the Haytian mission, in the event the Hon. Frederick Douglass resigns, which is currently reported, and the committee appointed to wait on the President was asked to urge his candidacy, in the case of such vacancy.
Dr. J. C. Price was selected spokesman for the delegation; Prof. J. S. Leary, chairman and Chas. H. Moore secretary. The delegation, consisting of Dr. J. C. Price, J. H. Williams, J. H. Hannon, John C. Dancy, C. Dillard, R. J. Walden, L. P. Berry, W. E. Henderson, S. J. Hargrave, A. V. Blake, J. T. Cheshire and A. Carson will call on the President on Thursday, September 4th.

Mail Robbery.
Registered letters have been robbed on the Salisbury and Albemarle route for nearly a year past, and a number of post office detectives have tried to locate the thief but had been unsuccessful until last week.
Two detectives have been working on the case for some time and one day last week started registered letters to Denver, Col., and Chicago, Ill., containing marked bills. The mail matter laid over in the Bilesville office over night and when it arrived at Gold Hill it was found that the money had been abstracted. The detectives hurried back to Bilesville and bought some stamps tendering the postmistress, Mrs. Mary Boyd, a ten dollar bill, and in the change they received three of the marked bills. She was immediately arrested and brought to Salisbury for a preliminary trial and bound over to Uncle Samuels Court in the sum of one thousand dollars.

A Through Vestibule Train.
The Washington Post says: The constantly increasing travel over the Richmond and Danville system, is to be met by the establishment of the "Washington and Southwestern Vestibule Limited" train about the first of October next, to run between Washington and Atlanta, via Lynchburg, Greensboro, Salisbury, Charlotte, Spartanburg and Greenville. It will leave Washington City every day at 11:15 a. m., arriving in Atlanta at 6 o'clock the following morning, and returning upon a similar schedule of hours of arrival and departure. The equipment will consist of Pullman Palace Buffet, smoking and library, and sleeping, dining and drawing room cars, which are being built expressly for this service, and will be masterpieces of art. The entire train will be vestibuled, steam heated, and gas-lighted, and in every detail equal to the best trains of the character on any line.

The Cotton Planters and Ginners of the South.
Your attention is called to the New Cotton Bloom Gin, which has all the latest improvements, including balance wheel on brush, which is peculiar to this make of gin and is used on no other. If you intend buying a gin this season it will pay you to look into the merits of this gin. This company and its predecessors have made cotton gins for nearly fifty years, and are experts in cotton gin work. These gins are made in the most substantial manner—strong and heavy, with long bearings; every part being so nicely made and adjusted that it is without doubt the lightest running gin in the world. For further particulars, price, terms, etc., address H. W. Hubbard, the manufacturers' general southern agent, Atlanta, Ga.

Meeting of Town Commissioners.
The regular meeting of the town commissioners was held last Friday and the following business transacted.
Col. Hartford appeared before the Board in the interest of sewerage and stated that it would take at least ten miles of piping for the city and would cost about $6500 per mile. The Board thanked him for his valuable information.
N. B. McCaless was granted permission to hang his gate on the outside of fence at his new residence on Main street.
The following ordinance was adopted—
Be it ordained that it shall be unlawful for any person or persons to make or erect, in the corporate limits, any well or pool for the reception of human or other excrement, slops, waste water or urine, and every person so offending shall pay a fine of fifty dollars and each day the said nuisance shall be permitted to remain shall be and constitute a separate offense.
Messrs. Linn, Rumble and Miller were appointed a committee to prepare an ordinance to be adopted at the next meeting to have all such pools and wells in the town dispensed with.

County Commissioners Meeting.
The above board met in regular monthly session last Monday and authorized the following business.
The resignation of W. G. Watson as a member of the County Board of Education was tendered and accepted.
A committee was appointed to have the office in the Court House formerly occupied by Mr. Blackmer, repaired and fitted up for the use of the Register of Deeds and also to have two fire proof vaults made in the room.
The jury summoned to lay out a public road in Rowan county leading from a point on the Salisbury and Statesville road, just below R. J. Barbers, thence across the Railroad and following the country road to the white bridge on the Concord road, made a favorable report and it was ordered that the road be built under certain conditions.

Georgia Republicans.
DALTON, Ga., Sept. 2.—The republicans of the Seventh Georgia district had a convention here yesterday and went through the formality of nominating Zach Hargraves, of Rome, for congress. Hargraves has been the standard bearer before and leads the forlorn hope again that he may have a hand in the distribution of the patronage.
The convention was principally notable for its lack of harmony. One colored brother declared that the republican party was only kept together in Georgia for the purpose of bringing the office holders to the front.
"So far as the negro is concerned," he said "there is no difference between the administration of Harrison and Cleveland." He said he would vote for no white man for congress.
Other delegates joined in and attempted to get the executive committee exchanged so that the negroes would have half the members, and they wanted the officeholders excluded from the committees. The uproar became so great that the previous question had to be resorted to to cut it short.

Superintendent of the Orphan Asylum Elected.
OXFORD, N. C., Sept. 2.—Rev. Junius T. Harris, of Durham, was today elected superintendent of the Orphan Asylum at this place, to succeed Dr. B. F. Dixon, resigned.

Held Up.
LOUISVILLE, September 2.—The Louisville and Nashville, north bound express was held up by masked robbers half a mile north of Tensicola junction early this morning. The safe was taken from the express car, but the extent of the robbery is not known.

The Arkansas Elections.
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., September 2.—The State and county elections yesterday passed off quietly. Returns and estimates received from thirty of the seventy-five counties in the State indicate a largely increased majority for Governor Eagle and the Democratic state ticket over two years ago, when his majority was 15,000. Democrats claim the State by from 25,000 to 30,000 majority.

How it is North.
CINCINNATI, September 1st.—J. B. Green, the colored representative from Cleveland who secured the passage of the bill making the first Monday in September, Labor Day, a legal holiday, was the orator at the workmen's celebration. The committee took Green around to all the hotels, but none would receive him on account of his color. Finally he secured lodging at a cheap restaurant.

The Row in the House.
Baltimore Herald.
The incident shows for the thousandth time in human affairs that unwarranted power vested in the individual or usurped by him is always a dangerous weapon. Whether it be in the power of Caesar at Rome, Charlemagne in France, Cromwell in England, Alexander in Russia, or Mr. Reed in the House of Representatives, it is always a dangerous weapon and invariably leads to trouble in the end. We believe the lesson is obvious, and that the time has come for the voice of public opinion to be raised against the arbitrary use of power which the speaker has relegated to himself as a parliamentary leader.

A White Man Blacks Himself up and Passes for a Negro.
Greensboro Daily Patriot.
Jim Reid, the young white man of Salisbury, who was sentenced to twelve months imprisonment for living in adultery with a negro woman and who broke jail last Thursday night at Salisbury, was captured here yesterday morning. It seems that Reid by some means procured a case knife with a pocket into the back of it like a saw and filed his way out, letting two other prisoners out at the same time (one of which surrendered himself next morning). He boarded a freight train and arrived in this city Friday morning. Since then he has been living at the house of the woman here, having blacked himself up as a negro on Saturday night.
The famous pair of human "blood-hounds" Captains Weatherly and Whitting, of the police force, caught a scent of his track and with their unerring trailing qualities brought their game to bay yesterday morning in the attic of Hughes Mills on "Canal Alley" and captured him after some "monkey" climbing among the rafters and beams of the old building. Deputy Sheriff Roseman came down from Salisbury last night and returned on the next train with his prisoner.

The Time Has Come.
This applies with much force to some of our good Rowan people, and we hope they will see its truth and act upon it.
In North Carolina there are a number of honest white men who vote the republican ticket, but very few of them attended the Republican convention here this week. These men are getting very affiliating with a party which, in spite of them, is an enemy to good government in North Carolina, and of late they have grown specially restive under the indignities heaped upon their State and Section by the party with which they have been affiliating. We are writing now of honest white Republicans—not the fellows whose "Republicanism is office deep and dollar wide." We wish they could have witnessed the disorganized Republican convention held in this city on Wednesday. Honest and self-respecting Republicans would have been disgusted.
Most Southern Republicans who are honest have voted the republican ticket because they were Union men in the late war and they have since felt that consistently they could not be Democrats. The Chronicle believes that the time has now come for them to consistently "come out from among" the men who are using the republican party as an engine to degrade their section and State. Some of the best men who ever lived in North Carolina opposed the war, and were firm in their allegiance to the union throughout. No honorable man fails to respect their devotion to what they conceived to be their duty, and whatever may have been the seeming prescription to the past, the time has come for all patriotic Southerners to bury the past and stand shoulder to shoulder for the honor and fair name of their State. The past is past. The bounding life of this generation, while honoring the bravery of the great men who have given glory to our history, is living in the present and working for the future. The Democratic party does not expect or desire any man to surrender his convictions upon past questions to come into its fold. It is willing for him to have his honest convictions. He has to surrender no sentiment or cherished memory. It is a citizen's duty, and he is dealing with living issues—issues that concern the material prosperity of every citizen of the indestructible Union of the States, and which alone will promote the glory and prosperity of the South. No other party is just or fair to Southern men. No other party seeks to promote the South equally with all other sections. The Democratic party is not a sectional party in any sense. On the contrary it is the only party that declares the war is over—that war questions are settled—and holds every portion of this country equally dear. Its policy and its principles are suitable to every age and every section, and it has its hosts in every State. Honest men who have for twenty-five years voted the republican ticket, because of war questions ought to now—and they can do it consistently—join the Democratic party.—State Chronicle.

Picnic at Mr. Graham's.
Mr. Editor—General usage makes it altogether orthodox for a spectator to report the proceedings at the closing exercises of schools, camp-meetings and so forth, hence we deem it not amiss to report a picnic. The writer, a devoted son of Iredell was honored by an invitation to participate in a picnic given by the loyal sons and lovely daughters of Rowan. Nature had already done much to make the day a success—especially where fat men are concerned—for the morning of the 23rd dawned cool and pleasant promising to exempt collars and cuffs from an early fall—or at least from a weakening sensation.
The writer has had the pleasure of seeing many gatherings of this kind, but never one that was more successful. The party gathered in the beautiful grove adjoining the residence of J. K. Graham, Esq. Picture to yourself about sixty of Rowan's most lovely daughters, with the necessary escorts, all assembled under those spreading oaks, the smiling faces, the merry voices, the sparkling eyes, and you have a picture of loveliness that is above the mediocre abilities of your correspondent. About two p. m. the table was spread—and again we fail in language, it was simply a feast.
About four came the watermelons furnished from the farm of Mr. Geo. Corriher, and all who know Mr. C., know that those melons were excellent.
What with eating and drinking lemonade the day passed all too soon—that little rascal cupid was around too—and the merry gathering dispersed to their homes. May they all be just as happy as they deserve, and the writer can formulate no higher wish for their welfare.
The people of that section have many things to be thankful for, healthful climate, fertile soil, in short all the blessings that the God of nature so bountifully bestows. We returned to our homes with a peculiar feeling about our heart, and the wish that Rowan may soon have another such a gathering and that the before mentioned son of Iredell may again be there.
A SPECTATOR.

L. E. Green, of Shelby, has been asked repeatedly to rent some of his land for a saloon. He writes the Aurora, "I had just as soon a man who had started to the devil was to ask me to go home with him as for a man to ask me to rent him a spot to put up a barroom. I would not lease a spot for $5,000 a year. I would like for this to go into your next issue, as I don't like to be deviled about it any more."

Representative Cannon, whose vulgarity precipitated the rumpus which ended in a slugging match on the floor of the House last week, has thereby so endeared himself to Speaker Reed that he has been asked to go up to Maine and make some speeches in his district. It is to be hoped that he will not use the same language he did in the House.
