My Friend—A Word With You.

Do you know that every man who desires to vote at this election must register? Even if you have registered and voted before, you must register again under the new election law to vote this year.

Do you want the Republicans to carry the elections and have your neighbor arrested and put in jail as in 1888-9? If not, REGISTER and VOTE THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

Do you wish the negro to get control of your county and State? If not REGISTER and VOTE FOR THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES.

Do you not know that EVERY NEGRO in the State will REGISTER and VOTE? Then so must every WHITE MAN.

You can't register after Oct. 24th—SO REGISTER AT ONCE. Don't say you have not time—take time—YOUR HAPPINESS depends on it; the GOOD NAME and PROSPERITY OF YOUR STATE DEPENDS ON IT; HONEST GOVERNMENT AND WHITE MAN'S CONTROL DEPENDS ON IT. DON'T WAIT. Delay may cost the defeat of the party.

ED. CHAMBERS SMITH,
 Chairman, Dem. State Ex. Com.

Go register.
 Vote for Watson.
 Vote for Jim Menroe.
 Vote for Hon. John S. Henderson.
 Vote the straight Democratic ticket.
 Don't put off registering another day.
 We'll our hat to mayor T. C. Linn.
 A light first on Tuesday night but not enough to hurt.
 Go register quick, so you can vote.
 Vote the straight ticket.

This issue closes Vol. 51, third series of the CAROLINA WATCHMAN.

The commissioners of Stanly county have issued the Yadkin Railroad Bonds.

Mr. T. B. Eldridge late of the Durham Globe has taken charge of the Madison Leader.

Salisbury was well represented at the drawing of lots in Sheddun on the 11th.

Hon. T. C. F. Klutz was booked for an address at the State Fair yesterday at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Henderson Crawford, has left to accept a position in the offices of the Cumberland Gap R. R.

If the first stays off a week longer the far crop of cotton ever raised in Rowan county will be housed.

Fifteen or twenty convicts were last week added to the force at work on the Mocksville and Winston railroad.

The Davis & Wiley Bank is almost ready for occupancy and presents a very handsome appearance on the inside.

Make hay while the sun shines applies just as well to cotton as to hay. Bear this in mind and pick, pick, pick.

Joe Lawrence, who killed Rhodes last week has not been captured yet. But it is thought that he will be unable to keep out of the clutches of the law long.

Mr. T. M. Rice has taken a contract for building six new houses for the cotton factory and will commence work as soon as the lumber can be delivered.

Mr. Mac Harrison has three stallions on exhibition at the State Fair and we don't see how he can help bringing some of the premiums back with him.

Mrs. Chas. Price has been appointed one of the lady directors of the Worlds Fair and has been notified to meet the lady directors on the first of November.

Owing to matters over which he had no control Hon. R. B. Glenn failed to meet his appointment here to speak to the Democrats of Salisbury last Friday night.

The jury in the case of Dan Cornatzer, who was tried last week in Davie county for the murder of Dave Call, returned a verdict of not guilty, after being out only thirty minutes.

We regret to state that Mr. J. J. Stewart of the Truth is still quite sick, having been confined to his bed for four weeks. We hope he will soon be able to attend to his duties again.

Dr. Ramsay has decided not to accept the position offered him as Demonstrator of Dental Surgery at the Philadelphia Dental College but will remain here and practice his profession.

Grover Cleveland, not our Grover but J. Grover Cleveland, who was in town yesterday, they came from Mr. Fishers, about six miles from town, who has been running them this season and who has put up six hundred dozen three lb. cans so far.

Hon. W. M. Robbins of Statesville will address the people of China Grove and surrounding country on the issues of the day on Friday Oct. 31st. Every boy turn out and hear the Major on this occasion and urge all your neighbors to do likewise.

Only about sixty per cent. of the voters of Salisbury township are registered and we fear that it is the same with the whole county. This will never do! Every Democrat in Rowan County should see to it once that his name is properly entered on the registrars' book. Attend to it to-day.

At the meeting of the Town Commissioners on last Friday night the resignation of J. W. Ruple as Mayor was accepted and T. C. Linn was elected to fill out the unexpired term. J. W. Mauney was elected to fill the unexpired term of T. C. Linn as commissioner and was also elected as mayor pro tem.

The Piedmont Alliance and Industrial Union Fair has been postponed until the 18th 19th and 20th of November. This postponement was found necessary owing to the managers not being able to get everything in readiness for the 21st of this month. They are going to have a fair anyway, and it will be a good one too.

The citizens of Salisbury and vicinity who intend to make donations in the shape of edibles for the occasion of the veterans reunion on the 23rd are requested to have them ready and deliver them at the Court House to Mr. Robert Price by ten o'clock on that day. It is hoped that our citizens will respond liberally on this occasion.

Several marriages have taken place in our town since our last issue and if report be true there will be several more before the month is out. On Tuesday night Mr. Adam Stecker and Miss Carrie Lowry were married and the same thing happened to Mr. Geo. Shaver and Miss Berta Swicegood and Mr. G. W. Farmer and Miss Hattie Miller on Wednesday night. Long life and happiness we wish for all of them.

Owing to the failure of the new piano for the Choral Union to get here in time the concert has been postponed until the 23rd of October. Lovers of good music can afford to wait and console themselves with the reflection that further practice will make the members all the better prepared to delight the ears of our people with their effective rendering of the "Rose Maiden" and other selections. The Union is said to be in fine "trim" and public expectation can, with safety be raised pretty high. When the time comes let's give them a full house.

Chas. F. Reiser the junior member of W. H. Reiser & Bro., our leading jewelers returned last week from Lancaster, Pa., where he has been working under the instruction of a firm of English watch-makers. He also informed us that they had secured the services of Mr. J. H. Gorman who is a graduate of Parsons Horological and Ophthalmic Institute of Laporte, Ind. The boys are live young men and believe in nothing but first class work and from the above it will appear that they don't stand on expense when the wants of the people are considered.

Chamber of Commerce.
 This body met Monday night to discuss the question of establishing a new tobacco warehouse.

A committee consisting of Eugene Johnson, E. B. Neave, M. C. Quinn and I. Littman was appointed to solicit subscriptions from the townspeople to help along the enterprise.

It is proposed to open the Banner warehouse, run last year by Mr. Swink, under the management of H. A. Fisher of this county and the opening sales will be held next Tuesday.

Rowan county tobacco is very fine this season, good crops have been made and even still another warehouse would not go amiss.

Died from too much Whiskey.
 Monday's Concord Standard says that reports come to town concerning a high handed and outrageous piece of satanic conduct. If the reports are true, and there seems to be no doubt of it, West Schenck, a man running a government distillery in South Rowan county, will be called on to answer a charge of murder.

Friday evening, as the report goes, Schenck captured a five-year-old colored boy and gave him a glass of mean new corn whiskey to drink. The little boy gave out before he had hidden the entire contents of the glass where all such stuff goes. But under threats of bodily punishment, and even of death, the little fellow was forced to drink it all, and also three more glasses of the hell-broth. The little fellow was thrown into the most violent convulsions from which he soon died. Our informant says that the authorities are after Schenck, and that he will be made to pay the penalty of the crime if it is successfully proven on him.

New corn whiskey—such as is now made from what we have learned—is enough to kill an elephant, to say nothing of four glassy beings emptied into a five-year-old boy.

Schenck was arrested in Concord on the charge of retailing his dirty stuff in the horse troughs about Concord.

Resolutions of Respect.
 Owen Alliance No. 1489, Oct. 11, 1890. WHEREAS, God in His infinite wisdom has seen fit to remove by death, caused by the explosion of an engine on a railroad in Georgia, our worthy brother James Owens, almost a youth, he being only 24 years of age.

Therefore be it resolved that by his death we have lost a good and faithful member of this Alliance, and that we deeply deplore his untimely end, trusting that our loss is his eternal gain.

Resolved, That his widow and family have our heartfelt sympathy and condolence.

Resolved, That a copy be sent to the widow and Progressive Farmer and the Salisbury papers for publication, and a copy spread on our minutes.

C. H. MCKENZIE,
 J. A. OWENS,
 J. S. PATTERSON,
 Committee.

Y. M. C. A. Convention.

The Y. M. C. A. convention which met here last week was in every respect a success.

At the first meeting of the association on Friday night, Mr. Klutz delivered the welcoming address, and was responded to at length by H. T. Hudson, Jr., of Shelby. Mr. Hudson's address was carefully prepared and delivered in pleasing style. Rev. H. G. McManaway, of Charlotte, delivered an address, and gave his idea of what should constitute the "model young man."

The following committees were appointed: Business committee, R. A. Bowman, Charlotte; J. F. Ware, Shelby; Dr. E. F. Glenn, Gastonia. Nominating committee, I. H. Foust, Salisbury; A. D. Cowles, Statesville; R. L. McNair, Davidson College. A. F. Rickett, of Statesville, was made secretary pro tem.

A call of delegates showed forty-two present from eleven Associations.

At the morning business session held in the Y. M. C. A. hall on Saturday the nominating committee appointed the previous night made the following nominations for permanent organization: For President, J. E. Watts, of Statesville; 1st Vice President, I. H. Foust, of Salisbury; 2nd Vice President, R. L. McNair, of Davidson; Secretaries, J. F. Ware and Dr. E. F. Glenn. Mr. Watts was escorted to the chair by Secretary Anderson and Mr. Hudson and thanked the convention for the honor conferred.

Rev. J. W. Erdman, of Asheville, gave a Bible reading which was listened to with pleasure.

J. E. Watts read a paper on the needs and possibilities of District Work.

Secretary Bowman spoke on Bible training class, and Prof. Hanna on General Superintendence of Association work.

Saturday afternoon Secretary Coulter discussed the financial problem.

E. L. Harris, of Winston-Salem, led the discussion on how to maintain spiritual work and the true aim of college associations.

R. L. McNeire delivered an address to the volunteer missionary movement.

Secretary Anderson presented a paper on personal purity in associations.

Reports were heard from Gastonia, Rutherford College, Lincolnton, and Salisbury.

On Sunday morning the Convention assembled in the hall and were led in a consecrative meeting by Rev. Mr. Erdman, of Asheville.

At 11 o'clock Mr. Erdman preached in the Presbyterian Church from John 10:21—"If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee?"

At the same hour Messrs Coulter, Lingle, Abernethy and Brown conducted a meeting at the Methodist Church.

At 4:30 Sunday afternoon there were three services.

The meeting for the young men was held in the Y. M. C. A. hall, and earnest and impressive talks were made by Messrs A. A. McGeechey, of Davidson College; Secretary Anderson, of Asheville; and Secretary Bowman, of Charlotte. Mr. McGeechey spoke about "The young men out of Christ," and Mr. Anderson followed with "The young men in Christ." Mr. Bowman made an earnest appeal to young men to accept Christ. No little interest was manifested.

At the boys meeting conducted in the Methodist church by Fitch Taylor, of Asheville, Hamilton Wilson, of Charlotte, and I. T. Hudson, Jr., of Shelby, unusual interest was shown, and twenty-seven little boys declared their intention of being Christians, and serving God in their youth.

The ladies meeting was held in the Presbyterian church and was conducted by Secretary Coulter assisted by R. L. McNair, of Davidson College, and Prof. Hanna, of Charlotte, who spoke on the influence that woman wielded with young men and the responsibility resting upon women.

At night the farewell service was conducted by President Watts. This was opened by a song service led by Fitch Taylor, of Asheville.

The committee on resolutions through Mr. Hudson, of Shelby, introduced a series of resolutions thanking the people of Salisbury for their hospitality, the pastors of churches, the organist and choir, the press, &c. The convention adopted the resolutions by a rising vote.

Mr. Anderson spoke on what the town should expect from the Y. M. C. A., and Prof. Hanna on what the Y. M. C. A. should expect from the townspeople.

Mr. Coulter also made an address, and asked for subscriptions for the benefit of the Salisbury Y. M. C. A., and succeeded in raising over six hundred dollars.

In conclusion the delegates joined hands in a circle which reached clear around the congregation, and sang "Bless be the tie that binds."

Prices Repudiated.

THE SON OF HON. O. H. DOCKERY DECLINES TO VOTE FOR R. A. ATTORNEY PRICE FOR CHIEF JUSTICE, AND GIVES GOOD REASONS FOR HIS REFUSAL.

(Special Cor. of State Chronicle.)

CARTRIDGE, N. C., Oct. 13, 1890.—I shall not support the State ticket headed by Chas. Price. Like many other Republicans I regard the appointment of Price as Chief Justice, and I could see less reason for his nomination at Raleigh to an honorable position.

It has been charged and not denied (of my knowledge) that he was handsomely paid for his turning effort in 1882; that subsequently he refused to speak for his new party associates unless money was raised to pay him, and that two years ago he returned to his vomit and voted against our ticket, developing all the nauseating qualities of the ingrate and the office for revenue expert.

Holding now the best Federal office in the State, and still employed as a railroad attorney my party gravely seeks to glorify his treachery and insincerity by making him Chief Justice. Does any man believe he would resign his present place of profit for a more honorable one? I think not. Then, there has been either a farcical nomination or one that was made in earnest and with the understanding that the Richmond & Danville company will make up the salary to their Chief Justice. The people of this State have not got so low as to permit the latter, and the Republicans should resent the former by quietly taking a dose of Price's own medicine—voting the Democratic ticket.

They can thereby place themselves in line for Harrison's and Blaine's administration. The truth is that the party has been skunked by the nomination of Mott's man Friday as Chief Justice.

On Blaine and Sherman later, a grand nomination or one that was made in earnest and with the understanding that the Richmond & Danville company will make up the salary to their Chief Justice. The people of this State have not got so low as to permit the latter, and the Republicans should resent the former by quietly taking a dose of Price's own medicine—voting the Democratic ticket.

A. V. DOCKERY.

Pearson at Anderson.

Anderson, S. C., Oct. 10.—The close of the Pearson meeting took place last night and such scenes were never before witnessed here. Long before the hour for the service to open the crowd began to gather and when 8 o'clock came, standing room was at a premium. Mr. Pearson preached a most impressive sermon from the text, "what shall I do with Jesus, who is called Christ?" At the close of the service Mr. Pearson made a short, earnest talk, after which Dr. C. E. Fajerson, of the Presbyterian Church, the Rev. R. H. Smith, of the Baptist Church, and the Rev. C. B. Smith, of the Methodist Church made short talks. Mr. Pearson then delivered their benediction and the most wonderful meeting ever known here came to a close. The doors of the various churches will be opened for the reception of members next Sunday morning. Sunday night there will be a union service of praise and thanksgiving held at the B.aptist Church.

Steve Jacobs Hanged.

Steve Jacobs, the notorious negro criminal and desperado, was executed last Friday at Lumerton for the murder of three women near there several months ago. He had committed a number of crimes and several times escaped from custody. The day before last he was hanged and his body was left to rot on the gallows. Just before the trap was sprung he was asked if he had any thing to say. He replied that his parting advice to every body was to avoid whiskey and bad company. He said he hoped to meet all friends in heaven.

Shocking and Fatal Accident: Last Saturday Mr. Almond Bosworth, of the county, was killed by a falling tree. He was working about a cane mill when his head became entangled in some way with the lever and the back of his head was crushed. He spoke but a few words and died in about ten minutes. His funeral was preached Monday following at 10 a. m. and his remains were interred at Randall's church. He was near 70 years. He was a humble Christian and without doubt one of Stanley's most highly esteemed citizens.—Stanly Observer.

Rutherford College to go to Old Fort.

HICKORY, Oct. 8.—It was stated here today on good authority that the faculty of Rutherford College, the main buildings of which were recently burned, had decided to remove that institution to Old Fort upon consideration of $10,000 offered by that town.

Resolutions of Respect.

Owens Alliance No. 1489, Oct. 11 1890. WHEREAS, It has pleased "Our Heavenly Father" on the 27th of September 1890 to remove from our midst by death our worthy and highly esteemed brother and ex-President, Col. T. J. Samner aged 65 years.

Therefore be it resolved that this Alliance has lost one of its best members. One whose place cannot be filled and one whose death we most deeply feel and deplore.

Resolved, That his death, although our loss, and that of the community and county will be greatly felt, yet we believe it to be his eternal gain.

Resolved, That the sister and relatives of our brother have our deepest sympathy and condolence, knowing full well the loss they have sustained.

Resolved, That a copy be sent his sister and to the Progressive Farmer and the Salisbury papers for publication and a copy spread upon our minutes.

Enemies of White Supremacy and Civilization.

"The men who oppose any Democratic candidate for Congressmen in this State; the men who would cause dissension in the party ranks to-day and bring about a split or division, are allies of the republicans, co-operating with the Congress to oppress and injure the South. Let them be known for what they really are—enemies of white supremacy and civilization."

—Yours fraternally,
 Pres. N. P. A. & L. C.

Washington Letter.

(From our regular correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15, 1890.—Mr. J. S. Clarkson, who aspires to be the Republican Congressional Campaign committee, what speaker Reed is to the House of Representatives, has, it is said, had a big row with ex-Congressman Carter, the particular friend of Russell Harrison, and Secretary of the Congressional Committee. Clarkson as soon as he went to the aid of the committee as the special representative of Messrs. Quay, Dudley, et al., of the National committee, began to "boss" things around. He soon gave Representative Belden, chairman of the committee, to understand that his only business for the rest of the campaign would be to raise money and turn it over to him (Clarkson) to be used as he might see fit. This Mr. Belden humbly accepted. Then Clarkson began to show Carter that he only regarded him as his clerk, put there to blindly obey any orders he gave. Carter did not fancy this at all, consequently there has been a constant friction between the two men, which finally ended in a war of words, and Mr. Carter has gone to Montana leaving "boss" Clarkson in supreme control of the committee.

The delay in getting out the Democratic ticket book has been so great that no attempt will be made to give it general circulation. It contains much valuable data for speakers and editors, and owing to the short time remaining of the campaign, it will hardly reach many outside of those classes, although the Congressional Campaign committee will fill all orders for them which may be received from local committees.

Mr. Blaine is going to Ohio to speak in McKinley's district, but he goes very much against his will, and only in deference to the enormous pressure which was brought to bear upon him.

He is aware of the absurdity of his attempting to convince the intelligent voters of Ohio that his reciprocity idea and Mr. McKinley's high protective tariff law mean one and the same thing, which he knows that they are as wide apart both in theory and practice as are the North and South poles.

It is now an open secret here that Mr. Harrison will unload Commissioner of Pensions Raum as soon after the Congressional elections as he possibly can, and there is some talk about Raum's getting his back up and resigning before the election, just for spite, as it were.

The Count of Paris and his party have finished the tour of the Virginia battle fields, and returned here for a stay of several days. Since the bad break of the Collector at New York, who effusively welcomed the would be King of France to the United States in the name of the President, every member of the administration has been as much afraid of this representative of defunct French royalty as though he had the small pox. The Count proposes to call on Mr. Harrison this week, and there is a little ripple of interest to know how he will be received at the White House.

The new tariff law has stamped the Treasury department to an unexpected extent, and the complaints have only just begun. Treasury officials hope to escape some of the vexation and responsibility which properly belongs to them, through the ridiculous order issued last week, stating that the decisions made by the Collectors of Customs would be final, that is to say, that no matter what an absurd interpretation some careless collector may put upon the new law, the importer cannot appeal to the department. He must either accept it or go to the expense of carrying it into the courts. It is claimed by some good lawyers that the entire tariff law is void by reason of the fact that a clause was left out in enrolling the bill for the President's signature. Legal complications as well as wholesale robbery of the people will naturally follow this law.

Justice Miller of the Supreme Court died here yesterday from the effects of a stroke of paralysis with which he was stricken last Friday, and already there is a scramble among the Republicans as to who shall succeed him. Attorney General Miller, who is very anxious to be fixed for life before his friend Ben retires from the White House is of course a candidate, but there are lots more of 'em coming in on every train, so as to be here when Mr. Harrison returns to-morrow, and Mr. Harrison's law partner may get left again as badly as he did when Justice Brewer went on the bench of the Supreme Court.

Sam Jones, Geo. D. Tillman and Augusta.

Rev. Sam Jones was in Augusta a few hours yesterday.

He was on his way home from Wilmington, and while here he was greeted by a number of friends. It was as good as a circus, it is said, to see and hear him and Congressman Tillman talking on some of the personal issues of the day.

The Rev. Sam has not a very favorable opinion of Augusta, and he remembers this as one of the few places if not the only place where he ever failed in a big revival.

He missed fire here entirely, and he openly declared in the pulpit that if a very thin bottom fell out this town would find itself right in hell.

He came here years ago to aid the Rev. Warren Candler in a revival at St. John's Church, and after their failure it is said he explained it as the result of a bad partnership. They expected too much between them and did not reckon strong enough in the Lord. It was all Sam and Warren and they failed.

When asked yesterday why he quit coming to Augusta he replied with one of his characteristic sayings that he had had too much of it.

Rube Burrows Shot Dead While Attempting to Escape From His Captors.

The story of the capture of Rube Burrows, the famous thief, was supplemented by two colored men, was supplemented Wednesday by the killing of the captors. The deputies, strapping him to a horse, carried him twelve miles to Linden jail, where they arrived late Tuesday night, and placed him in the wooden structure. It was agreed that Detective McDuffie and one of the colored men named John Marshall should stay in the jail with the prisoner, still handcuffed and securely bound, until daylight, while Detective Carter and the negro went off to get a brief nap before day. A short time before day Wednesday morning he complained of being hungry, he asked for some thing to eat. McDuffie answered he had nothing to eat. A satchel of Burrows' was lying in one corner of the room. "I have some crackers in my bag then if you will hand it to me," said the prisoner. McDuffie handed the satchel to Burrows without opening it, and Burrows put his manacled hands in the bag for a moment and brought out two pistols, covered McDuffie and the negro, and ordered them to move him, which they did. Keeping the negro in front of him, Burrows disarmed them, unlocked the door and asked where Carter was with his money. When told that he was at the hotel he ordered the negro to show him the way, remarking that he was going to have the money back or kill some body. He locked McDuffie in the jail and with the negro for a guide went to Carter's room, and getting the drop on him demanded his money. Carter sprang to one side and drawing a pistol fired at Burrows. The outlaw fired at the same instant. Carter's sudden movement probably saved his life. He received the outlaw's bullet. The bullet from Carter's pistol struck Burrows in the middle of the abdomen and passed through his body. Carter is badly wounded.

Indicted for Sending a Challenge.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 16.—The grand jury has been instructed by the circuit judge to bring in an indictment against Captain Coffey, of Chicago, for sending a challenge to Horace Allis, of this city, to fight a duel. Allis is president of the First National bank and part owner of the Capital City street railway of Little Rock, and Coffey is a Chicago capitalist, largely interested in the Little Rock Electric Railway Company. An epistolary war sprung up between the two men over differences growing out of street railroad affairs. At last Coffey felt called upon to demand a retraction, and he sent a letter by his friend A. W. Percy to Allis, asking the latter to fix a time and place where the difficulties between them could be finally ended. Percy was authorized to arrange the details.

Captain Coffey formerly lived at Little Rock, and was in the Confederate army, serving most of the time under Gen. R. E. Lee. He is about 50 years of age and generally mild-mannered. When asked if he intended his letter as a challenge he responded: "I suppose it might be called a challenge, but that is rather a brutal way of putting it. He insisted, however, that Allis had lived long enough among Southern gentlemen to know what the letter meant and that his action in refusing to answer it and turning it over to the officers of the law was proof that he was deficient in honor as well as other qualities that go to make a gentleman. "This action," said the Captain, "is entirely in keeping with the malicious nature of Mr. Allis. I have no fears, and will cheerfully go to Little Rock and stand my trial."
