He stands high as an educator and boys wanting to attend an excellent preparatory school should correspond with the principal of Norwood High School.

F. H. LILLY.

Mr. Lilly is the only undertaker and farniture dealer in Norwood. His place of business is on Main street. Mr. Lil'y is a native of Stanly county. He has been in the furniture business two or three years. Mr. Lilly makes and repairs all kinds of furniture, and makes coffins and keeps them in stock .-

LIVERY STABLE. There has been no regular livery busness in Norwood. Mr. M. E. Blalock has been keeping accommodations in that line, however. A new building is now being built for a livery stable on Anson Avenue. Mr. H. C. Turner is building the stable, but Mr. E. K. James. of Salisbury, will furnish stock and vehicles when the stable is completed.

_ CHURCHES. Norwood has no resident pastors, but has three churches. Services are leld in each church once a month. Sunday school at all the churches every Sunday. METHODIST.

The Methodist church has been estab lished many years. Rev. Mr. Stacey, o Albemarie, is pastor at present. This church has a large membership.

PRESBYTERIAN. The Presbyterian church has been astablished about twelve years. The membership is not as large as that of the Methodist church. Rev. K. A. McLoud is pastor.

BAPTIST.

The Baptist church has been organized about ten years. The membership of the Baptist church is larger than that of the Presbyterian, but not so large as the Methodist. Rev. John P. Boyd i pastor. An Episcopal church may be built soon. Some of the citizens of the town have already donated a lot for that purpose. Each of these churches are substantial buildings and well furnished. J. W. BUNN.

Mr. Bunn is a Rowan man. He is the only blacksmith in Norwood. He does a general line of work and is a good one. MISS M. L. HUGGINS.

Miss Huggins runs a millinery estabishment. She sells all kinds of things usually found in that kind of an establishment. The writer is not up in dress

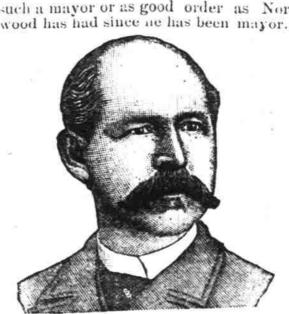

GRIST MILLS.

Mr. M. E. Blalock operates the onl rist mill at Norwood. He runs one so of flouring burrs and two sets of corr rocks. In connection he runs a saw mill and cotton gin. This machinery is all about wherever they go. They have run with a thirty horse-power engine. Mr. Blalock will soon erect a new mill

Mr. Blaleck was a poor boy. He came out of the war without a change of clothes. He owns a fine farm on the Yadkin river within a mile of Norwood. He also owns several other farms in the vicinity. He has a good deal of town property in and around Norwood, and is one of the best men in the town.

MAYOR BARNHARDT. M. L. Darnhardt, Es . has been mayor of Norwood for ten years successively This is all the proof that is needed to be able to form an estimate of this excellent gentleman. Mayor Barnhardt tells us that during that ten years he has never made but five or six arrests for any crime or disorderly conduct. This speaks volumes for the people of the town and surcounding country.

Mayor Barnhardt is a native of Cabarus county. He has lived at Gold Hill n Rowan county. Few towns have had such a mayor or as good order as Nor-
