

See advertisement of Mr. J. T. W. Brown.

Chapel church, this county, is to be improved.

Dr. Rumble and family will leave for Bowling Green next week.

James P. Herman is notified to appear in court here on a certain day.

Miss Annie Gowan, who has been teaching music in Asheville, has returned home.

Mr. J. Allen Brown is building additional coal bins near the freight depot. He is a hammer with tasks.

The man you desire to see, if not at his place of business, may be found in the vicinity of a soda fountain.

Brickmaking was greatly retarded by the rainy season, and builders are hindered in their work in consequence.

One of the town dads and a young salesman are running a "fluter mill" in a ditch beside the pavement on Main street.

Mr. Williams Brown has something new in the way of a cooking range. He sells it cheap, and the ladies should call and see the range.

Two good farms located in Franklin township, Rowan county are for sale. Apply to J. B. Sheets, corner of Main and Linnis streets, Salisbury. Will be sold on easy terms.

Mr. J. D. Eanis, of this place was married on the 16th inst., at Danvers, Pa., to Miss Sue K. Stine of that place. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. M. Stock. The best wishes of the Watchman are theirs.

Hon. John S. Henderson entertained Revs. Dr. Smith, of Franklin, Dr. Crowell, of Trinity, J. J. Kenn, presiding elder of Salisbury district, Dr. Leith and J. W. Mauney, Esq., at dinner at his elegant home Monday evening.

Mrs. James Hodgkin and little son are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Meroney. Mrs. Hodgkin (familiarily known here as Miss Daisy) was very popular in Salisbury and her many friends are glad to see her.

The bulk of the wheat crop has been harvested. Wheat is quite good in most sections. Corn and cotton crops are in the grass. Three weeks rain did the work effectually, but the farmers are working like patriots and the grass will soon get out of the way. The prospect is somewhat gloomy, but might be worse.

There will be a meeting of St. Luke's congregation on Sunday morning next. The Episcopalians will determine whether they will build a new church or enlarge the old building. The rector and vestry hope that a large congregation will be present. No one will be asked to make a subscription at the meeting.

Professor Crowell, president of Trinity College, occupied the pulpit at the Methodist church on Sunday morning. He preached a most excellent sermon, afterwards taking subscriptions to the endowment fund of the college. Rev. Dr. Smith, of Franklin, who was visiting his friend, Dr. Leith, conducted the services at night.

A letter was received by Mr. C. R. Barker last week from the authorities in charge of the ceremonies connected with the unveiling of the Stonevall Jackson monument at Lexington, Va., July 21st, inviting the Rowan Veteran Regiment to attend. Railroad fare and other matters will be arranged in ample time and notice of the same given.

Too Hot For Him.

Yesterday about two o'clock chief clerk Buchanan at the postoffice melted down like a plate of ice cream with the starch out. Excitement ran high for a time. Mr. Buchanan has since been wearing a refrigerator coat, which has cooled the cloth and the lining. He has entirely recovered.

A Fine Chance.

We have made arrangements with the publishers of Sunny South, Atlanta, Ga., so that we can furnish our readers with two papers for a little more than the price of one. The Sunny South is the only purely literary family paper that ever succeeded in the South. The subscription price is $2 per annum. The Watchman is $1.50. We will send both papers to new subscribers at $2.75. This is a very liberal offer and should be taken advantage of.

Off For Morehead.

A large party left this city for Morehead Tuesday morning. We got the names of the following ladies: Misses Carrie Holmes, Emma Gowan, Mamie Gaskill, Bessie Krieger, Mary Julian, Mrs. B. P. Beard, Gentlemen: Messrs. Jos. H. H. Gaskill, E. C. Wheeler, J. A. Neely, J. F. McCubbins, John Gorman, B. P. Beard.

Wednesday morning the following ladies passed through: Mrs. D. N. Bennett, Miss Lou Cochran, both of Norwood, and Miss Mary DeBerry of Bileville. Mrs. I. J. Caldwell and Misses Carrie Pemberton, Fannie Smith, Ellen Seago and Annie Henne, all of Albemarle. Prof. R. L. Smith and Walter Blalock, of Norwood, were with a party of ladies. Many are passing through on every train.

Improvements About the Depot.

The platforms around the passenger depot are to be made larger next week. This will be a good deal of advantage, though a new depot would be better. The side track at the Vance cotton mill is about completed. An engineer has made the survey for a side track at the new mill to be built by the Salisbury cotton mill company. The sidetrack at the new ice factory is done. The factory will be ready to dispense the cooling material about the 20th. If the weather continues at the present rate cords of it will be needed.

A SPLENDID IDEA.

A Party of Northern Prospectors to be Brought to Salisbury.

Dr. J. C. Brown, superintendent of the excursion department of the Southern Inter-State Transportation Society and of the Southern Associated Railroad Lines, has been here in conference with members of the Chamber of Commerce with reference to an excursion of northern prospectors from Washington to Salisbury at an early date. We are pleased to state that his efforts met with success and the excursion will come. Rates will be very low and a large party of the right kind of people will come. They will be entertained in a royal manner while here and the chances are that they will decide to invest in different kinds of real estate before they return.

This is an important move and the action of the gentlemen composing the Chamber of Commerce cannot be too highly commended. This all goes to show that our people are getting wide awake and that nothing will be left undone that has a tendency to our general progress.

Concert.

At the closing concert of "The Neave School of Music," on last Friday night, the large attendance formed a packed but very appreciative audience. In the orchestral pieces the distinctive excellence of every instrument and performer was clearly shown; while all the different parts blending together in such exact time and spiritual sympathy formed a beautiful whole; for each instrument has its own fixed-tone-color; to this it is limited, and hence, a combination of variously toned instruments is requisite to produce different effects and to express different emotions.

The violin, well handled, can play as effectively upon the chords of the human heart as do the zephyrs upon the strings of the Aeolian harp; and well did Masters E. Coit and N. Taylor prove the truth of this, young as they are, by their brilliant, clear and well phrased playing in four standard overtures as well as in lesser compositions. Master L. Gaskill played corset in a pianissimo solo and in two of the smaller orchestral pieces with much ease and very correctly and attractively. Master P. Gaskill made his first bow to an audience as a violin soloist. His solo was far in advance of the usual attainments of violin pupils in the short time he has had for study and practice.

There were nine piano solos: That of Miss J. Kluttz, "The Belles of New York," as she presented it, was excellent in musical rhythm, expression and execution. That of Miss A. Friese, "The Brook," she played with easy grace and the utmost intelligence, warmth and vigor. Miss M. Beall proved herself a charming pianist by her rendition of "Für Elise," displaying a firmness and delicacy of touch, and genuine sentiment, that was very pleasing. Miss M. Julian played her solo, "Alice," as if deftly in manipulating the keyboard was a mere figment of a weak imagination. Miss E. Vanderford's rendition of the "Satinette" was replete with the vim and musical expression of self-abandonment. Miss A. Neave's solo, "La Fontaine," was admirably presented, being interpreted with a depth and tenderness of feeling which cannot easily be surpassed. Miss R. Mauney in her solo, "Pasquade," did fine work, that was unspcakably pleasing to the ears of claudens taste. Miss L. Foust, in her solo, "Polka de la Reine," showed clearly that the salient characteristics of her playing are a superb technique, a clean and silvery touch, diversity of color as occasion demands, and a delicacy of delivery that is very fascinating.

Miss K. Walton's solo, "Magie Fire," is a work full of melodic and harmonic beauty, but is a trifle incoherent and capricious. Miss Walton is no mere technician but a musician, and, hence, the thoughts underlying the tones always shine through, for there is fire and energy in her reading of this weird composition. A piano trio, "The Music Box," was played by Misses C. Mook, L. Parker and M. Griffin, in a very characteristic and charming style. "The Juvenile Parade," for ten young scholars, on pianos, organ, bellowphone, violins, flute and cornet, was delivered with intrepidity, fire and precision.

Misses N. Marsh and R. Mauney were accompanists, on two pianos, to a doubled violin solo, "La Souveraine" overture, as were Misses M. Julian and K. Walton to the overture "Northern Light." Miss L. Foust accompanied the cornet and violin solos respectively of Masters L. and F. Gaskill; and all of these five accompanists evinced marked ability in this rare but high order of virtuosity. Misses Miriam Wiley, Gussie Knox and Edith McKenzie did highly creditable work in high orchestral preparation. And Misses Aylmer Griffin and Marlen Hellig played parts in a light orchestral piece with a steadiness of tempo and attention to shading that was very estimable and satisfactory.

The fine, large audience showed ample indications of being enraptured with the young performers all through the programme, and left the close seemingly much pleased, surprised and refreshed.

CLOSING CONCERT

Of the Salisbury Institute of Music. On Monday night last the Salisbury Institute of Music gave the closing concert of the season. Miss Liada Lee Rumble is principal and Miss Bertha Knox assistant, and their ability as instructors was fully evidenced on this occasion. The programme, though a short one, was varied and pleasing, and a marked feature was the total absence of all awkwardness on the part of the participants and the tireless waits between the numbers, which are so usual on such occasions and detract so much from the enjoyment of the audience.

The first number was a piano duet by Misses Jenny Brown and Lily Tyson, this was the "Palermo Quadrilles," by D'Albert, and though the performers are both young and have been studying only a few months, they acquitted themselves well, with the exception of some nervousness, which was natural, as it was their first public appearance. Then came Watson's beautiful "Anchored," which was sung by Miss Ella Brown, whose sweet, clear tones and clear enunciation showed a high degree of cultivation.

Next came another piano duet, "Alpengruss," by Behr, which was played by Miss Jennie Mitchell Rankin and Miss Rumble. Miss Rankin plays unusually well for a young lady of her age, and gives promise of being an excellent pianist. None of the numbers, perhaps, were more delightfully rendered or more enjoyed than the two by the Rheinberger quartet, composed of Miss Adelle White, Mrs. W. L. Rankin, Miss Frances Wheat Shober and Mrs. A. H. Boyden. They sang the next number, which was "Goodnight," by Rheinberger, and later in the evening sang "Feldin," by Bachms. The perfect blending of voices, the precise tempo and faultless interpretation are rarely found in even professional quartet singers.

Misses Julia Craig and Lucy Brown then played with perfect self-possession Proberg's "Hunting Song," and in this the perfect drilling of the assistant teacher showed the wonderful exactness of time and clearness of touch. The exquisite song "Star of My Heart," by Dezza, was the next piece on the programme, and was sung by Miss Fannie Caldwell. Her rich, contralto found full scope in this song and when her voice matures it will be an unusually fine one. Miss Maggie Knox played so beautifully the "Fast Waltz," Saint Saens, that she was forced to respond to an encore, and played with daintiness and precision the quaint Minuet, by Paderewski.

Mr. Jno. D. Newman, with his usual popularity, brought down the horse. He sang Brock's "Tide Regim," and showed great breadth of tone and delicacy of shading. We predict for Mr. Newman a brilliant future in the musical world. As an encore he sang Prout's "Belgian Love Song," and it is in this song that the full richness of his deep bass tones shows to the best advantage. The popular and difficult "Second Rhapsodie," by Liszt, was played by Miss Bertha Knox, and in it she displayed great exactness and brilliancy of tone.

Mrs. Thos. Murphy's sweet voice was missed, owing to her sickness. She was to have sung Lemmen's song, "Bird of Love." The Misses Knox next played a duet, which was followed by Miss Fannie Neely, who sang a group of three songs—"The Night has a Thousand Eyes," "Dewey," "He Loves Me," "Chadwick," and "The Lesson." Forster. Miss Neely has a peculiarly sweet and sympathetic voice and delighted her audience, her distinct enunciation being particularly pleasing.

Miss Bessie Krieger closed the concert with Liszt's "Tarantelle" (Venezia e Napoli). It is sufficient to say that Miss Krieger was selected to represent Peace Institute in the piano contest of the Teacher's Assembly at Morehead City, and it is predicted that she will carry off the medal. No other school in the State turns out more finished musicians or teaches more correct methods, and Salisbury is fortunate in its possession.

Demorest Gold Medal Contest.

This will be held by a class of young ladies from Concord, N. C., in the Y. M. C. A. hall of this place, June 25th. Exercises to begin at half past eight o'clock p. m. Subjects and recitations as follows: "The Coquetry of the Liquor Traffic," Miss Lora Walker. "What will we do with the Saloon?"—Miss Effie Barrier. "Young America's War Cry"—Miss Maggie Misenheimer. "The Bible and Lying Traffic"—Mrs. Annie Sapp. "Rum Selling Our Country's Scourge and the Remedy"—Little Miss Lottie Misenheimer. "Prohibition the Ultimate"—Lottie Misenheimer. "Arrest Alcohol and Liberate Man"—Little Miss Cora Shinn. "Prohibition the Hope of Our Country"—Little Miss Lillie Misenheimer. "Our national curse"—Miss Callie Lipe. "A Voice from the Poor House"—Miss Carrie Little. Decision of judges and presentation of medal. The exercises will be interspersed with music arranged by the Y. M. C. A. choir. The public are cordially invited. Miss JENNIE SAPP, Sup't.

Growler at It.

Oh Lordy, my toe and ankle hurt again on those old rough streets. Where are the $50,000 in bonds, and when is it to be spent? Surely our people will not let this beautiful weather pass and wait until next winter when the cry will be "Oh my, the mud. I wish I had a boat" before they begin to apply the money voted for street improvement. GROWLER.

WANTED:—An intelligent lady or gentleman to canvass either city or country. Salary $2 per month. Apply at once to J. F. GUYER at S. J. Zwiggert's.

DAVIDSON COMMENCEMENT.

A Fine Literary Address—Meeting of Board of Trustees—Talk of Moving the College—Conferring of Degrees. The annual address was delivered by Hon. J. S. Verner, Comptroller of the State of South Carolina. The speech is said to have been very fine. Col. F. I. Osborne, of Charlotte, was expected to deliver an oration, but he was detained at home by business.

A meeting of the Board of Trustees was held on Wednesday, and the subject of the removal of the college was discussed. It is very probable that it will be moved to Charlotte or some other city in the State.

There was a very large attendance at the meeting of the Board. The following were elected members of Executive Committee: Col. J. L. Brown chairman; Col. Jno. Brown, Rev. John M. Rose, Col. Alex. R. Banks, S. H. Wiley, George E. Wilson, Rev. George Summey, Rev. W. S. P. Bryan, Rev. J. Rumble. Besides these were in attendance Rev. C. M. Payne, Hon. A. Leazar, Dr. William W. Paw, Rev. J. L. Williamson, Rev. H. A. Grey, Dr. J. Henry Smith, Rev. E. P. Davis, J. A. McAlister, Rev. D. D. McBride, Hon. J. D. Melver, Rev. A. McFayden, Rev. Alex. Sprunt, Rev. S. C. McMullen, Rev. M. Anderson, W. P. Knox, Rev. D. E. Jordan, D. D., Col. Wm. H. Stewart, Rev. G. Clifford, Rev. W. S. McCoy, D. D., A. White, W. F. Stevenson, Rev. L. C. Vass, D. D., W. P. Thompson, Maj. M. M. and R. M. Lanchlin.

In the financial report, the principal item of interest was Article Seven, as follows: "As to the South Atlantic University and the possible consolidation thereof with Davidson College; concerning which a legal opinion of Geo. E. Wilson has been filed: "Whereas, certain suggestions have come in an informal way and others are likely to be made in a more formal way touching the relations of Davidson College to the proposed South Atlantic University, under the South Atlantic University, we deem it wise to express the following views: "1. It is not competent for this Board to take any actions looking to the dissolution or destruction of the entity of Davidson College.

"2. While we are not prepared to take any definite action in the premises, we see no insurmountable obstacles in the way of removing the college to some other point, especially in the State of North Carolina. "3. We further see no insurmountable difficulty in devolving the proposed University in connection with Davidson College as the academic nucleus, either on the present site or at such other place as may prove lawful and feasible."

The literary societies held their annual reunions on Tuesday evening. In the Philanthropic Hall, the alumni oration was delivered by C. Alphonso Smith, of John Hopkins University. The orator, whose diction is most admirable, delivered an excellent discourse on "Poetry in Every Day Life." His peroration on the literary development in the South was heartily applauded. In the Eumenae Society, Rev. Jasper K. Smith, of Atlanta the orator of the occasion, delivered a fiery exhortation to the students on "Moral progress to manhood."

A. A. McGreechey of the Phi., and J. B. Townsend, of the Eta., were the class valedictorians, and had graceful responses in Leslie Wharton and L. G. Henderson. The society exercises were characterized by old alumni as the best they had ever attended. The alumni association held its annual meeting in the Philanthropic Hall in the afternoon of Wednesday. The oldest alumni present were Rev. A. White, of the class of '47, and Rev. J. Rumble, of the class of '50. The presiding officer Rev. Geo. Summey, welcomed the graduating class into the ranks of alumni, and in behalf of the class A. A. McGreechey, of Laurinburg, made a feeling response. The memorial commit to reported the following deaths during the year. John Andrew Allison of the class of '94; Julius A. Gray, '53; Robert Stevenson, '89; Fred Hill, '89; Rev. A. R. Kennedy, '69; J. W. Mathews, '54.

The crowd on Thursday was somewhat smaller than usually attends this grand old institution. This was owing to the dreadful condition of crops and the busy season. THE ORATORS. R. Lee McSair, Black Mountain, N. C.; subject—"The Last Days of Lexington." C. L. Grey, subject—"Future of America." W. L. Lingle, Mill Bidge, N. C.; subject—"The Future of Constnatinople." E. M. Richards, Liberty Hill, S. C.; subject—"The Elements of Character." J. B. Waarey, Moresville, N. C.; subject—"The Senate in the days of the Great Inamvirate." G. H. Connelison, subject—"The value of Reserve Power."

A full list of the graduates of '91 is given below: GRADUATES WITH THE DEGREE OF A. B. John Ashby Dick, Possard, S. C.; Benjamin Waddell Glasgow, Davidson College, N. C.; John Isham Lueberger, Charlotte, N. C.; Archibald Alexander McGeechey, Laurinburg, N. C.; John Russell Minter, Jr., Laurens, S. C.; Joseph Marion Moore, McConnellville, S. C.; Lacy Donnell Wharton, Greensboro, N. C.; Banks Withers, Davidson College, N. C.

WITH THE DEGREE OF B. S. Joseph Alexander Tillinghast, Raleigh, N. C.; John Bennett Townsend, Anderson, S. C.; Albert Jackson Wittson, Charlotte, N. C. WITH THE DEGREE OF A. M. Julia Claude DeFour, Geneva, Switzerland.

PRESENTATION OF MEDALS.

The presentation of prizes was a very interesting feature of the programme. Prof. James Dinwiddie, of Peace Institute, presented the medals in a happy manner. The winners of the medals in the Eumenae Society were: E. L. Wilson, declaimer's medal; W. H. Mills, debater's medal; L. G. Henderson, essayist's medal. In the Philanthropic Society the successful competitors were, W. K. Forsythe, W. L. Single, J. A. Tillinghast, J. A. McGeechey respectively. Messrs. Lingle and Tillinghast tied for the debater's medal. The Banks Ethical medal was awarded to J. A. Tillinghast, of Raleigh. J. R. Winter, of Anderson, S. C., received a handsome Bible for his excellence in the course of Biblical studies. The orator's medal was awarded to G. H. Connelison, of Orangeburg, S. C.

DR. ROBERT HALL MORRISON. Rev. Dr. Rumble, of Salisbury, N. C., was then introduced, the cause of his appearance being a mystery to the audience. Dr. Rumble rendered an elegant tribute to the memory of Dr. Robert Hall Morrison, the founder and first president of Davidson College, and then unveiled a magnificent portrait, disclosing the benevolent features of the institution's great benefactor. The portrait was given to the Y. M. C. A., of Davidson, by Mrs. J. E. Brown, of Charlotte, and is to be placed in Morrison Memorial Hall. It is a magnificent piece of work, executed by kind hearted donors.

GRADES OF SCHOLARSHIP. The following students attained a grade of 85 and over and gained a place on the roll of honor: Senior class, J. A. Tillinghast. Junior class, W. L. Lingle and J. B. Wharey. Sophomore class, J. H. Grey and E. S. Tillinghast. Freshman class, J. M. Pharr. The degrees were then conferred upon the graduates of the institution. J. C. DuFour, who received the degree of Master of Arts, is the first resident student to receive the degree from Davidson College.

HONORARY DEGREES. The faculty conferred the following honorary degrees: Doctor of Divinity, Rev. E. Lane, of Chambersburg, Brazil; and Rev. J. H. Thurnwell, of Fort Mill, S. C. VALEDICTORY. The valedictory oration by J. A. Tillinghast, of Raleigh, N. C., was a fine effort. The subject, "Our Southland," was an inspiring one, and Mr. Tillinghast treated it in an inspiring manner. Mr. Tillinghast's farewell address to his classmates was very affecting. Benediction by Rev. D. Shearer closed the commencement exercises proper of 1891.

PRESBYTERIAN ORPHANAGE

At Barium Springs—The Building, the Grounds and Children. This home was first established by the Presbyterian ladies of Charlotte, two years ago. A short time thereafter the North Carolina Synod took charge of the orphanage and last October the Barium Springs hotel and grounds were purchased and the children moved there. The building is new and beautifully situated in a grove four miles south of Statesville, fronting and in full view of the A. T. & O. railroad. This home is governed by a board of regents, numbering ten men from the different presbyteries in the North Carolina Synod. Dr. J. Rumble, of this city, is one of this board.

Last December Rev. R. W. Boyd was elected superintendent and took charge on January 1st of this year. Mr. Boyd is eminently fitted for this work, being kind-hearted, industrious and patient. At present there are 26 children in the home, and two more applicants on file. Children are taken from the age of 6 to 16. At the end of the 16th year homes are provided for them if possible. The grounds are very pretty and are being improved. The location is as healthy as anywhere. The children have the advantage of six different mineral waters, including the celebrated Barium spring, which is unlike anything else in the known world.

The Springs property is owned by Col. Donald MacRae, of Wilmington. He has an agent here shipping water all the time, but he has kindly given the Orphanage a chance to get a supply of the water. On approaching the Orphanage children can be seen engaged in various occupations. Some of the little boys are engaged in laying off drives on the grounds. Some are in the cook room which is presided over by Mrs. Boyd in person. The girls are taught all the household duties. The boys are also learned all kinds of ordinary work. Miss Blanche Boyd, daughter of the superintendent is the school teacher. Miss Belle Philser, of Cleveland, this county, will take charge of the culinary department this week.

The commodious hotel building is being improved, a pantry has been added and some of the piazzas have been enclosed and made into rooms. More doors have been cut to give better ventilation. Everything is kept neat and clean. The children seem healthy and cheerful. The Orphanage is supported by voluntary contributions from individuals, churches, Sunday schools and ladies societies, such as the Kings Daughters, &c. The superintendent is making an effort to raise $1,200 for improving the property now. This orphanage is a credit to the denomination and should be aided and perpetuated. Perhaps the time may come when several hundred poor fatherless and motherless children can be taken care of.

Track farming is carried on at the orphanage, but of course, only a start has been made. Efforts will be made to raise sufficient of vegetables, melons, fruits, &c., for the use of the orphanage. Grounds and vineyards have been planned. Mr. Boyd expects to visit the Frenchwell orphanage, as it had a lady's visit upon which was completed.
