

THURSDAY, AUGUST 20, 1891.

Court next week. Watermelons, cantaloupes and grapes are plentiful.

The venerable Rev. S. Rothbeck, D. D. was in town Monday.

Misses Nellie and Louise Hinton are visiting Mrs. P. N. Heilig.

Several interesting communications have to be left out this week.

Rev. H. A. Trexler, of this county, has received a call as foreign missionary to Japan.

Mr. I. H. Foust's brother, Prof. C. G. Foust, of Abilene, Texas is visiting him in this city.

See the advertisement in another column of a valuable plantation near Rockwell station.

There will be a picnic at James A. Barkhead's on Friday, August 28. Every one is invited.

A lawn party will be given to-night at Dr. Eames' for the benefit of St. Peter's Episcopal church.

Rockwell is gradually growing. Mr. John Misenheimer has bought a lot and expects to build soon.

Some of the Salisbury bicyclists have frequently made trips from here to China Grove. They made one this week.

At a meeting of the executive committee of Trinity College it was decided to open school at old Trinity building.

Mr. William A. Lucky of Mt. Vernon, this county, has been appointed by the secretary of treasury, United States gaffer.

An excursion passed through the city Tuesday en-route for Tallapoosa, Ga. The excursion was composed of northern men.

Several Rowan boys started for Moravian Falls Academy, last Friday, to attend the next term of school at that place.

A new bell has been purchased by the members of St. Matthew's Ev. Lutheran church, of which Rev. H. A. Trexler is pastor.

Capt. T. B. Beall's son, J. M. Beall, traveling freight agent of the Knoxville and Cumberland Gap railroad is visiting in the city.

We learn that the R. & S. surveyors began locating the road from Baily's store, Davis county, in the direction of Winston.

Reduced rates to the grand Alliance speaking and rally in Charlotte, August 26 inst. From Salisbury and return $2.45; China Grove $1.90, and so on.

Prof. W. H. Neave and Mrs. Neave are visiting at Mt. Airy. They gave a musical concert in the Galloway Opera House of that place on Friday night last.

The passenger train on the W. N. C. due here Tuesday at midnight was nine hours late, caused by a slide at Licklog tunnel one and a half miles this side of Swannanoa.

Mr. T. H. Murr, who has been visiting relatives in the city, left Tuesday morning for Wadesboro where he will spend a few days before returning to his home in Chester, S. C.

Quite a number of Salisbury young people attended the picnic at South River Tuesday. The picnic was given by the South River Reading Club, and is highly complimented by all who attended.

Rev. Paul Barringer, of China Grove, was in town Monday. In speaking of the consignment sale of M. P. Chinc he said his property was going at a great sacrifice. Auction every Saturday.

Colonel Polk, Senator Pfeffer and Jerry Simpson will address the mass at the meeting in Charlotte August 26th. Mrs. Mary Lease, the lady who defeated Senator Ingalls, will also deliver an address.

Mr. C. E. Morrison and Miss Corrie Lee Thomas were married this morning before breakfast, at the bride's residence by Rev. F. J. Murdoch. They took the northbound train for Greensboro and other places, thence to the home of the groom at Elklin, N. C.

We hear with regret of the death of Dr. L. S. Flaw, of Mt. Pleasant, last Saturday night. He was quite a young man in his profession but had already made his impression upon the people. He was recently elected to the faculty of N. C. College, as lecturer on physics.

Some one has continually been tampering with the railroad switches here. Two attempts were made in the month of July to derail the train. Last night some one carried off one of the switch lamps. Mr. Webb has offered $25 for the arrest and conviction of the guilty person.

Prof. Kizer, Superintendent of Public Instruction, informs us that the Teacher's Institute will be held one week, beginning September 28th. Prof. McEyer or Alderman will conduct the institute. Teachers, mark this thing. You know the importance attached—no certificates unless you attend.

We are glad to note the fact that Mr. W. H. Pearce, the proprietor of the Stone Mountain Granite Quarries, has been awarded the job of supplying the granite for paving the streets of Asheville. Several other quarries were bidding but our quality of granite took them.

The Central Land Company is now doing everything possible to bring their late purchases to the front. They are continually adding more land to their incorporation. At a meeting of the stockholders last week they donated to each individual of a lot, provided that he begin to erect at once, a large two-story building thereon. This East Salisbury will soon be a bee hive of beauty and industry. The great object now is who shall build the handsomest residence.

As the county board of education will appoint school committeemen on the first Monday in September, it would be well for the patrons in its respective school districts to recommend to the board persons for committeemen who will give personal attention to school interests. Recommendations for this position will assist the board in making judicious selections and the names of persons recommended should be forwarded at once to the county Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Reduced Rates to the Grand Rally.

Tickets to Salisbury and return, will be on sale August 31st and September 1st, good to return until and including September 21st, at the following rates:

Table with 2 columns: Location and Price. Locations include Greensboro, Jamestown, High Point, Trinity, Glenside, Sophia, Randolph, Asheboro, Thomasville, Lexington, Linwood, Taylorsville, Hildenside, Charlotte, China Grove, Concord, Harrisburg.

Grand Alliance Rally.

The committee met last Saturday and completed arrangements for the grand mass meeting to be held here the first of September next. The place decided upon for the speaking is in Harrison's old grove. All preliminary committees were appointed and are now at their respective work. Not only is the Alliance people invited but everybody. Come and make this one of the grandest meetings in the gaining of Alliance objects and views ever held in the county. A committee has been appointed who will wait upon the citizens of Salisbury to ascertain as to how much can be raised for the entertainment of the mass. The speaker-booked for the day are Colonel L. L. Polk, 'sockless' Jerry Simpson and the national lecturer, Willets. Committees will see that all preliminaries are made, as to seats, tables, etc., and to the keeping of perfect order. Don't forget that an excursion is to land aid in this direction. A large crowd is expected and they must be fed. Every man in Rowan county (Allianceans especially) is to consider himself one in the get up of this entertainment.

Women in Convention.

On last Wednesday, August 12th, the noon train leaving Salisbury might have been seen crowded with Lutheran men and women en-route to Charlotte to attend the sixth annual convention of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the North Carolina synod. St. Mark's church was thrown open to them, and the good Lutheran people of Charlotte entertained the delegates and visitors. Everybody in Charlotte seemed anxious and ready to oblige the convention in every way. Postmaster Brady was unusually kind in showing parties over the public building and explaining to them the systematic arrangement of his finey equipped post office. On Thursday evening the council of St. Mark's gave an excursion to and from Latta Park for the entertainment of the convention.

Charlotte is a fine little city and the members of the convention were loth to part from it, as was shown by so many remaining over a day longer, and adjournment. Pleasant memories will ever be associated around this short stay in the queen city of North Carolina.

But now to business. Never was there seen at one of these conventions a fuller attendance and one more intent upon business. Mrs. A. C. Reiser, in the absence of the president, presided in the first part of the convention. The report of last year's work was indeed gratifying. Out of their limited means and self-denial they have contributed during the past year a total of $21.90 to the work of missions. And what makes this report the more flattering it showed that several societies had withdrawn from the general work and are now contributing to a special object. These amounts were not included in this report. Not more than two fifths of the women are organized. The idlers should not let a minority do all this great work of Christ.

The new officers for the year are Miss Ella B. Shirey, president; Mrs. Rev. W. R. Brown, 1st vice president; Mrs. Rev. C. A. Marks, 2nd vice president; Mrs. L. W. Walton, recording secretary; Miss Cora L. Patterson, corresponding secretary and Mrs. P. N. Heilig, treasury.

The most important business transaction of the convention was the decision of new work for the year. The women of North Carolina have grown tired of continually sending money out of the State for missions when they so badly need it at home, and have asked that work begin here in our borders. However, they have decided still to work in co-operation with the Board of Missions of the United Synod south, but respect- fully ask them, if practicable, to begin work in Winston at once.

Able addresses were delivered during the time by Revs. W. R. Brown, L. K. Probst, W. A. Lutz and Dr. Bowman. Misses Jennie Blackwelder and Cora L. Patterson read papers Thursday afternoon which were very acceptably received.

The convention held its first session Wednesday afternoon, and adjourned the following Thursday night. It was a success in every particular. Through such God's kingdom must come and his will be done throughout the world, but women are doing a grand and noble work, and may they be abundantly blessed.

The next convention will be held at St. Peter's, Rowan county. H. N. M. Mooreville, Aug 14, 1891.

A FRANKLIN FARM.

How a Poor Man Became a Wealthy Farmer—He Lives at Home and Bonds There.

It is the custom of the WATCHMAN when it sees anything worthy of note to write it up for the public. This time it has for its object a farm and farmer in Franklin township. Mr. A. L. Hall, Esq., lives four and three-quarter miles from Salisbury on the Wilkesboro road. His home farm consists of three hundred and fifty-five acres of land. Mr. Hall's chief crops are tobacco and cotton. He raises from four to six barns of tobacco each year. Last year he raised forty-five bales of cotton without any fertilizer. This year he has the best cotton grown in his township. He fully intended to make this year's crop excel any of his former raising, but the unfavorable spring gave it a considerable setback, however, his crop is now looking very well. He has this year one hundred acres of cotton in cultivation. His tobacco crop consists of sixteen acres. One field, he says, is the best he has ever raised. It has plenty weed and is of a very fine quality. His corn crop bids fair to make a fine yield. In his entire corn crop he has one hundred and fifty acres. With his corn he is very careful, cultivating it as often and when needed. He also has a fine vineyard, well kept up. This is his pet. Last year he sold six thousand five hundred pounds of grapes. His crop this year is equally as large, if not heavier. His 'brag patch,' however, is his garden, consisting of three-quarters of an acre. This year he has raised eighty bushels of onions and sold $30 worth of cabbage from it. He has a fine prospect for tomatoes and turnips later on in the fall. Last year he cleared more than $100 from this plot of ground, besides furnishing his own family with vegetables. In the spring he sets to onions and then alternates between each row with cabbage and tomatoes and when they are gathered follows with turnips.

Mr. Hall began farming about twenty-five years ago. He married soon after the war, getting a small plantation. He bought him a horse, a wagon and provisions for his family and feed for his horse, all on credit for his first year. He planted largely in cotton and tobacco both of which was a success. He received thirty cents per pound for his cotton crop that year. From that time up to about eight years ago he has continued to make money plentiful each year. During this time he has increased his farm. He now owns six of the finest farms in Franklin township, all together comprising one thousand acres. Several of his farms are on South Yadkin river. For the last eight years he has not made any money. He says there is something wrong. He has worked just as hard all this time as ever, and managed just as judiciously, but there is something wrong. He believes with the Alliance and is one of its staunchest advocates.

Mr. Hall has passed his noon-day of life. He has never smoked a pipe, cigar or cigarette; never took a chew of tobacco and has never been intoxicated. He has been a widower for some time, but at last has yielded a second time to 'cupids dart,' and is now enjoying the companionship of a dear lady. Mr. Hall has married more couples, perhaps, than any other magistrate in this county. Thus he is thoroughly acquainted with marriage rites. We seldom see a couple at sweet sixteen looking more blooming than this pair. A visit to this family will show that there is some more harmonious and hospitable. With his second marriage he has entered upon his farm life with double zeal. We wish him much success.

Col. John C. Tipton, formerly of this place, used the Western Union Telegraph Company for $10,000. On the 4th of September, 1888, he sent a telegram to Colonel Michael, of Lincoln, to make arrangements for the burial of his wife at that place. His wife died while he was living here. The telegram was not delivered, hence the incident.

Letter from Iredell.

Corn is looking fine in this community, and bids fair for a good crop. Cotton has plenty of weed but the crop can't be an average.

A number of people from Stanley are visiting friends and relatives in this community who lived in that county some years ago.

Miss Mollie Feinster is visiting in Rowan and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McNeely are visiting relatives at Elklin.

Last Sunday the writer in company with friends went to the campmeeting at the noted Rock Springs camp ground in Lincoln county. The weather being fair a large crowd was in attendance. There must have been three or four thousand people on the grounds. Everything seemed very quiet that day considering so many people together. Some buggy tops were cut up and wheels taken off on Saturday night and the hats rocked generally. On Saturday night they had plenty of watchers and it suited about their ends. They caught one fellow at his devilment and snatched $40 out of him on the spot. This is an old camp ground and the largest one I ever saw. They have a large arbor and it is covered with sheet iron so it will be there for years to come. It will seat about two thousand people and is surrounded by rows of tents. All in all it is a great place, a place where the old can meet and talk of olden times, the middle aged can see those they see only once in a year, and what a great place for the young.

Messrs. C. L. E. and C. E. Cornelius, the former from Asheville, and the latter from Charlotte, are visiting their mother and friends of this community.

Miss Frantz, of Mooresville, died yesterday and was buried to-day. She had blood poison. We understand that she was one of Mooresville's first young ladies and was engaged to be married soon. Her parents, relatives and friends have the sympathy of all who knew her. Peace be to her ashes.

Three cheers for the Alliance and its best paper—the WATCHMAN. J. H. T.

MINING DEPARTMENT.

Mining News Gathered in This and Other States.

Mining is a safe business if pursued with the same careful industry as merchandising, banking, or any other legitimate pursuit. It is also a creator of good work. It is claimed that the profit on gold and silver mining, since the discovery of gold in 1848 on the Pacific coast, amounts to over 50 per cent per annum. The miner of the precious metals does not exchange his croaker. What he takes from the earth he makes an immense value. The dollar he brings to the surface is another dollar added to the wealth of the world.

The Minerals of Randolph County

There are immense beds of ore, iron, copper and gold, lying hidden beneath the rubbish of nature waiting only an outlet to tell of this fertility and incalculable value. Randolph has been for years noted as a manufacturing county. It has long been noted as one not surpassed by many in minerals. A mine has lately been partially opened near Cedar Falls which bids fair to become one of the richest in this section of country. This mine is known as Redding gold mine. The other day it was shown some very fine specimens of gold by Mr. W. W. Redding, of Randleman, one of which weighed nineteen penny weights, almost pure gold, and he had a number of others not so large, but still very fine. The geological structure of the rocks and general appearance all indicate minerals. The outcroppings are good generally. I am satisfied that with development that this mine will soon enhance the value of real estate in this whole section of country.—State Chronicle.

Story of a Beautiful Diamond.

A rare diamond weighing nearly four carats now in New York, has a remarkable history. It was found in the gold district of Brazil by a native who did not know its value but kept it as a 'duck' stone. One day while journeying to a camp of traders with his gold dust he was bitten by a serpent; applying the antidote known to the people of that country, he proceeded on his way, but had not gone far when he was bitten again. He treated himself for the second wound and continued on his journey. While stopping to drink from a brook the fangs of a snake were fastened in the flesh which contained the stone. On reaching the camp he was found to be succumbing rapidly to the effects of the venom, and when questioned by the camp surgeon told how the snake had seized the bag at his throat.

The surgeon was permitted to see the stone and suspecting the real character, he told the native that it was very dangerous to have it about him, as it attracted venomous reptiles, and advised him to sink it in a neighboring brook. The superstitious finder of the diamond acted on the suggestion and the covetous gold hunter watching the proceeding, availed himself of the first opportunity to fish the gem from his hiding place. The diamond was purchased recently from the cutter in Europe by Edwin A. Thrall, of New York.—New Orleans Delta.

MEETING OF STATE ALLIANCE

It was Harmonious Throughout—Every County Represented—Officers Elected—Other Notes.

The largest and most enthusiastic meeting of the State Alliance ever held has just been closed at Merced. Every county in the State was represented and many visitors other than delegates attended.

The committee on publication thinks best not to publish anything like a full report of the proceeding at present, so our readers must wait patiently until the official minutes are revised and published and sent out to Alliance Secretaries.

A number of resolutions of much importance were passed and several amendments will be made to the Constitution. A resolution went through, recommending a change in our ballot system. The demands that our next legislature pass a secret law with a provision so arranged as not to disfranchise illiterate voters.

A number of good speeches were made. Col. L. L. Polk spoke to an immense audience in the Atlantic Hotel on Tuesday evening. At the close of his speech he asked all who were in favor of the sub-Treasury plan to rise to their feet, though many of them are not members of the Alliance.

Tennessee State Alliance telegraphed fraternal greetings on Tuesday evening. The following officers were elected: Marion Butler, of Sampson county, President; Col. T. B. Long, of Buncombe county, Vice-President; W. S. Barnes, Secretary and Treasurer; J. S. Bell, Lecturer; C. C. Wright, of Wilkes, Steward; Rev. E. Pope, of Harnett, Chaplain; W. H. Tomlinson, of Cumberland, Door-keeper; H. E. King, of Onslow, Assistant Door-keeper; J. S. Holt, of Harnett, Sergeant-at-Arms.

The above brethren are not our best members; they are as good as our State affords; no better ones could have been elected, hence our members are to be congratulated.

At a meeting of the Reform editors of the State, the North Carolina Reform Press Association was organized with J. L. Ramsey, President; Marion Butler, Vice-President; W. S. Barnes, Secretary. The following papers are charter members: Progressive Farmer, Rural Home, Farmers Advocate, CAROLINA WATCHMAN, Hickory Mercury, Alliance Sentinel, Moravian Home Journal, Rattler, Country Life, Clinton Citizen.

The Constitution and By-Laws will be published soon. Each of these papers are requested to keep a list of these papers standing on their first page. Other papers can join if they show that they are of the pure metal.

The place for the next State meeting will be selected by the Executive Committee.—Progressive Farmer.

THE NORTH CAROLINA College of Agriculture AND Mechanic Arts

will begin its third session on September 2d, 1891. It has increased facilities and equipments in every department. The past successful year has given further evidence of its practical value, and its young men are already in demand for responsible positions. Total cost $100,000. Each County Superintendent of Education will examine applicants for admission. For catalogues, address: ALEX. Q. HOLLADAY, President, RALEIGH, N. C.

Farmers' Alliance Guano Heard From.

COLERIDGE, N. C., Aug. 10, 1891. W. H. Worth, S. E. A.

DEAR SIR:—As much has been said in regard to N. C. Farmers' Alliance Official Guano, I wish to state to you and the Durham Fertilizer Company, and others, that it is giving good satisfaction here on all crops. I used it on wheat last fall, and from a lot where I sowed 124 bushels of seed I threshed 313 bushels of good wheat, or 25 bushels from one. I used one bag to the acre.

The Alliance is solid here. L. B. MACON. REALTY, Chatham Co., N. C., July 31, 1891.

My crops are very promising indeed—the best, I think, I ever had, though I planted very late. Everybody here is booming the fertilizer. We don't care what anybody says, or what the analysis is, it certainly is doing well in the field. About three or four weeks ago I put a small quantity around a part of my corn, and now it is at least twice as large as where I did not. Yours truly, T. H. RANNEY, Sec'y.

STANBACK, N. C., July 28, '91. Mr. W. H. Worth, S. E. A., Raleigh, N. C. Yours of the 25th inst. received and noted in reply to our first question in regard to the relative comparison of our guano with other goods (Standard). I don't know or have heard of it being excellent. As to second question some of our people gave some expression of doubt as to the value of the goods but since the season has set in that has all been dispelled. If seasons continue we will make another good crop on Alliance Official Guano. Hope the information satisfactory. Yours fraternally, W. B. SELLERS, D. A.

HENDERSON, N. C., July 27, '91. The undersigned bought and used during the present crop the N. C. F. A. Official Guano. My crop is all that I could reasonably expect. Results perfectly satisfactory. My crop is as good as any of my neighbors who used other brands of guano. A. H. GREGORY, Pres. Granville Co. Alliance.

HENDERSON, N. C., July 27, '91. I used this season F. A. Official Guano on cotton and tobacco alongside of another old standard brand which stands as high as any in this State, and so far I can see no difference in the crops. If it continues to do as well until maturity of crops as it has to this date, I shall be perfectly satisfied. I have heard some of my neighbors who used it praise it, but so far have heard no complaints against it. Very respectfully, J. H. DUNN.

"ELMWOOD FARM," CRAVEN COUNTY, JASPER, N. C., July 17, 1891. S. T. Morgan, Esq., President Durham Fertilizer Co., Durham, N. C. MY DEAR SIR:—From practical field tests of the "North Carolina Official Farmers' Alliance Guano" under potatoes and beans the past season, I feel no hesitancy in asserting its superiority over any of the higher priced brands. It gave better results than any guano I ever used (Peruvian excepted) another season I shall use it exclusively. The farmers of North Carolina should appreciate the efforts of your company in endeavoring to give them a standard reliable grade of goods superior to and at a cost so much below the average fertilizer which is sold in this State. With best wishes for your success, I am, Very truly yours, GEORGE GREEN, JR.
