

ALLIANCE DIRECTORY.

National Alliance—L. L. Polk, president. North Carolina: B. H. Clover, vice president. Kansas: J. H. Turner, secretary.

Alliance Notes.

In union, there is power. Organization and education is the order of the Alliance. An intelligent ballot is the potent weapon which politicians fear.

How One Millionaire Got His Start.

"Ten years ago," said a millionaire, "I stood without a nickel in my pocket outside of a restaurant in San Francisco. I was indulging in an optical feast, and wondering how all those good things in the window would taste if they were sliding down my hungry palate."

Too Much Grown.

It is generally conceded that the price of cotton will be low this year, and that the average will not be much, if any, above the cost of cultivation.

Alliance principles are making their way.

The Ohio Democratic platform is for free silver, low tariff and income tax. So the good work goes on.

Even when the price is what is considered that is fairly high there is not much profit in cotton, for it is more than ordinarily good land anywhere outside of the rich bottoms of Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana.

In the little State of New Jersey, according to the New York Sun, there are 18,457 acres of abandoned farms.

The daily papers and parties in press, all down the line, are now very busy advising the farmers and laborers to steer clear of the Third party movement.

Interest hangs on the grim death of a dead pig.

The increase of wealth in this country is not more than three per cent, so if blacky gets more than that in the shape of interest, it is only a question of time when he will have all the wealth of the country.

It is not a good crop to raise anyway, unless where rotation of crops is pursued, because, like tobacco, it is a soil exhauster and has nothing to give back to the soil in return for what it takes.

The daily papers and parties in press, all down the line, are now very busy advising the farmers and laborers to steer clear of the Third party movement.

In view of the fact that these same parties and dishonest counselors have heretofore advised the people to vote for the men who have gotten the country into the present predicament and even not insist that everything is running smoothly, except, perhaps, a slight friction in the tariff laws, their advice will not carry with it much weight with the average voter.
