

New Advertisements.

The Davie communication was received too late for publication this week. Next week will be a big week for Salisbury. The circus and Fair will both be here. All exhibits to the Fair by railroad come and go free, so far as freight is concerned. Hon. Sam Pemberton, of Albemarle went down to the Southern Exposition last night. Sheriff Monroe has made a tour of the county collecting taxes. Payments are made slowly. Mr. Alex. Peeler had some sweet potatoes in town yesterday, five of which would make a half bushel. Messrs. Noah and Montgomery, of Gold Hill, was in town yesterday looking after the interest of their cotton mill. Cards are out announcing the marriage in this city next Tuesday of Miss Anna Holmes of this place and Mr. John White, of Charlotte. Several of the tobacco factories have closed for the season. This has been the best manufacturing year the factories have ever had. Read the advertisement of V. Wallace, and while attending the Fair if you want anything in the clothing line don't fail to call on him. Mr. H. M. Buchanan, postal clerk between Atlanta and Washington, is now on a stop over for a few days, and is spending the time with his relatives near Gold Hill. When you send a communication to the WATCHMAN be sure that you inclose your true name, or the article will not appear, for the editor may not know who wrote it. Be sure you bring a basket for the sellers dinner next Wednesday. This receipt is made of both the country and town alike. It is for the farmers, not for the Fair. A fine drove of horses came in town last Saturday morning. They were all young and well made, admirably suited to farming. He sold nearly the entire lot while in Salisbury. The Concord Standard will not be published after this week, for Uncle Cook is coming to the circus and will be kidnapped and will hereafter be exhibited as the fifteenth wonder of the world. Mr. Richard Davis, of Atwell township, a valuable citizen of this county, died on the 6th inst. He was 76 years of age. His home was near Prospect church, in whose cemetery he was buried. China Grove had a show last Saturday. Montana Charlie gave a lecture; with his rifle he shot an apple off the head of Dr. Odum. He did not hurt the doctor but he made the hair stand up on his head. Mr. E. M. Andrews, of Charlotte, is soon to be married to Miss Ella Sergeant of Greensboro. Mr. Andrews is one of our popular advertisers and one of the largest furniture dealers in the State. Best wishes brother. The new Presbyterian church is not done yet, but one can now get an idea of what an imposing structure it will be when it is finished. It will soon be ready for the roofing. Nothing but the best of material will be used. Miss Octavia Beaver died very suddenly at the residence of Mr. J. P. Earnheart yesterday morning at two o'clock. She took a chill Tuesday morning and a second one about noon, and died later in the night. She was thirteen years old. Plain Jim Cook, of Concord, editor of the Standard, Superintendent of Public Instruction, statesman, scholar, orator and the only man who ever caught a greased pig, went to Raleigh last week and was robbed of half a plug of tobacco. Mr. J. M. Harrison, of Mill Bridge, shipped a part of his thoroughbred stock down to the Southern Exposition last Saturday night. Mr. Harrison has several fine French coach horses. His stock is very valuable and shows Mr. Harrison to be an expert stockman. All the ministers of the Gospel residing in Rowan county will be given a complimentary ticket to the entire Piedmont Fair, and should there be one in the county not getting a ticket, he will make his application to Mr. S. R. Harrison and he will be furnished one. Many doubt the fact that there will be balloon ascensions on Thursday and Friday of Fair week, but such will actually be true. The Profs. Thompson's have been in town for nearly a week, and have made all necessary arrangements. They say they will leap from the balloon at the height of 4,000 feet. Six hundred gallons of crooked liquor was captured near Healing Springs, Davidson county, by Collector Field's last Saturday. He was having the liquor sent to Lexington in two wagons when the drivers were fired upon by the illicit distillers and routed them from the wagons. The moonshiners regained nearly all their goods.

A Change of Schedule.
A new schedule will go into effect on the Yadkin road next Monday, circus day. The incoming train will arrive here at 9 o'clock in the morning, just in time to make connection with the north-bound R. & D. train. The outgoing train will leave at 5 o'clock, instead of 2:30, as heretofore. This will be more convenient for patrons, giving them more time in which to do their trading. Also to those coming to the Fair it will be very convenient. Greatly reduced rates are given, less than half the regular fare.
Rates to Baptist Convention.
For the above occasion the Richmond & Danville railroad will sell round trip tickets at reduced rates to Waynesville and return at the following rates from points named below. Tickets on sale October 20th to 21st inclusive, limited, returning October, 31st 1891: Salisbury, $7.30; Hickory, $5.60; Paint Rock, $3.85; Hendersonville, $2.75; Statesville, $6.60; Asheville, $1.65; Murphy, $4.80; Tryon, $3.55.
Rates from intermediate points in same proportion.
Rates to the Alliance Fair.
For the above occasion the Richmond & Danville railroad will sell reduced rate round trip tickets at the following rates from points named below, to Salisbury and return. Tickets on sale October 20th to 23rd inclusive, limited October 24th 1891: Asheville, $3.00; Gastonia $1.40; Greensboro, $1.00; Raleigh, $2.80; Winston-Salem, $1.60; Hickory, $1.20; Charlotte, $5; Durham, $2.20; Goldsboro, $3.60, and Wilkesboro, $3.20.
Rates from intermediate points in same proportion.
Have You any R-Ries?
The Fair will commence next Tuesday and each director of the different departments is making every effort possible to have his department the finest. The department of minerals and curiosities is a new addition to the exhibit, and the manager expects to make it the most attractive place on the grounds. If you have any revolutionary war relics or flag, Indian pots, arrow heads, mill, or sword from any of the late wars, or gold ore, or ore of copper, lead, silver, or sulphur; coal, slate or marble, or any kind of wood, vegetable or field curiosity, bring it to the Fair where it can be seen and you will never regret it.
John Robinson's Show.
To speak of the merits of John Robinson's Great World's Exposition is merely "loving the labor lost" with the people of this nation. There is not an amusement lover on the continent but what is fully cognizant of the fact that it is the best among the best. Every body does not know that during its last winter's vacation the show has received an augmentation so vast and so important as to dwarf by comparison even its own great exhibition excellence. We allude to the grand, gorgeous and sublime biblical spectacle of "Solomon, his Temple, and the Queen of Sheba," in which innumerable people find active participation. It is rich in trappings and appointments, requiring for its production the largest stage ever constructed, and conspicuously portraying such sacred events, as the Judgment of Solomon, Arrival of the Queen of Sheba, The City of David, the Palace and Temple, Court of King Solomon, the Walls and Towers of Jerusalem, Solomon's 700 Wives, the Sacred Ark of the Covenant, the Great Ivory Throne, Procession of War Chariots, Slaves Bearing Incense, lovely Cresset Dancing Girls, martial and courtly Parades and exciting Chariot Races. The Robinson Exposition, will exhibit in Salisbury Monday Oct. 19th.
The Fair.
The Piedmont Alliance Fair will begin next Tuesday, as advertised. Nothing has been left undone; it will be a big success. The only thing that can throw a damper on it now is cloudy, rainy weather. Col. Harry Skinner will speak on Thursday, the 22d, according to appointment. Be sure to hear him, for he is the ablest sub-treasury advocate in North Carolina. No matter whether you are for or against the measure, hear him. He will say nothing to offend any one, and those who have opposed the much-abused sub-treasury plan will feel like lifting a giant to kick them out of the township, for he makes it all so plain. We regret that Colonel Polk will be unable to be with us during the Fair. He had made his arrangements so that he could come. But he informs us that he will not be able to get here. As a national president he is required to attend state meetings. All summer he had expected to attend the California State meeting, but recently he decided to refuse on account of his health. But at the last moment an urgent request came and he left for that State. In so doing he had to cancel his engagements at Raleigh and at Salisbury, both of which he was anxious to reach. But he will speak at Salisbury yet. Two failures so far, but the third attempt will be a clincher. The Fair directors will have a good speaker for the occasion, though. He has not been secured as yet, but our State president, Marion Butler, or Hon. Judge Newbold, of Georgia, is spoken of as the man for the day. So the disappointment will not be so great after all. A good many of our subscribers will be in town next week and if you are due us for subscription, you will do us a favor to call and pay what you owe; we need it and that last; no hold the press.

SALISBURY'S PROGRESS.
The Number of Houses Being Built—New Factories—Different Industries.
The writer, knowing that Salisbury is one of the most rapidly, solid growing cities in the State—making no blooming to the outside world, but growing steadily and swiftly to one of the most beautiful cities in the State, took occasion to make a tour of the entire length and breadth of the city. We find that in all that goes to make up Salisbury there are now 33 new houses actually going up, and this does not include those that have been recently finished. The writer does not know how many have been built this year, but thinks that the number would reach one hundred.
We find that in the corporate limits of Salisbury there are 23 houses now being built. Eight of these are one-story cottages, eleven are nice two-story dwellings, and two are large handsome three story buildings, presenting quite an aristocratic appearance and costing several thousand dollars each.
We step over into Brooklyn, the southern suburb of Salisbury, and there we find eight more neat cottage homes, two of which are two-story high and containing many rooms.
We follow on this side of town and come to the Salisbury Cotton Mills. The addition to this factory is being built very rapidly. When it is finished the entire factory will be 500 feet long and 200 feet wide.
In East Salisbury we find two new two-story houses going up. This is in accord with a free distribution of lots which was made some time ago, that each person taking a lot was to erect a nice house thereon. Two are going up and the others will go up soon. In this part of town we find the hickory saws of Peacock and Barter at work; Mr. Barter, however, has sold out his interest and Mr. Peacock is now sole owner. They rip out about 5,000 wagon and buggy spokes each day. This tract of land has a beautiful elevation.
Salisbury has now a better appearance with all these new houses, and they do not include the ones that are being repaired and otherwise improved. When we get our improved streets we can then begin to boast of our beautiful town.
We find that the greater part of the building is going on in the west end of the city.
The Vance cotton mill now has the wall up and the greater part of the roofing about on. The buffers are being planted.
Two fine churches are under way of construction, one for the whites, the other for the colored people.
In a brief summary we find that there are five tobacco factories, one iron foundry, one set of hickory saws, three cotton factories, one in operation, the others being built; one knitting mill, one ice factory, one roller mill, car shops of the Richmond & Danville R. R.
There are a few of the important things she has but we want improved streets, electric lights, Roman Catholic church, a fine hotel and two colleges, one each for men and ladies. And our wants don't exceed needs.
MINING DEPARTMENT.
Mining News Gathered in This and Other States.
An Iron Mine.
The quiet and steady growing town of Mt. Pleasant was ablaze Monday night; the people slept but little. If the prospect prove to be real living issues, then they will be excited for staying awake a whole week.
It has been known that Gip Ury's place, which runs into Mt. Pleasant, was abundant with ironstone, and it was not generally believed that the whole hill was full of most excellent magnetic iron ore.
W. A. Smith spent Monday there prospecting. He has a hand on the place. It is his purpose to develop the mine.
It is believed that the ore is there in inexhaustible quantities, and if such is the case we may expect great things to follow developments here.
The absence of coal in this region will hinder the operator, but the character of the ore is such that this difficulty will be overcome. A shaft was sunk to the depth of five feet, and at the bottom a piece was broken off the size of a man's head, and it is pure iron, free from rock or foreign matter.
We have a specimen in this office and it has drawn into the Standard office about 100 people. The touch of the matter is: If things work right our neighbor, Mt. Pleasant, is another Birmingham.
The excitement runs high in Concord, and several citizens are speaking of investing in Mt. Pleasant property. There has gone up a number of points, and there is reason for it.
Parties who are well up on the subject say that this is the finest specimen they ever saw.
Let us await developments.—Concord Standard.
The fine mine of King's Mountain will begin work soon. J. H. Furman is now in England securing the necessary aid and he is sure of success.
The discovery of a new sulphur mine by Mr. A. G. Doy, a member of which we made two weeks ago, is said to be one of the most remarkable that the sulphur mines of this section ever heard of. The sulphur is found free and pure in pockets in a quartz formation. Mr. Doy still guards the secret of the location of the mine and it is not known what he will do towards developing it.—King's Mt. News.
Owing to a mis-understanding concerning the change of time of the county meeting of the Alliance from Friday to Thursday preceding, many of the delegates did not get in on Thursday but came on Friday. The meeting, however, was held on Thursday and all the regular routine of business. The County Business Agent tendered his resignation.

Takes 1000 people to buy Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, at 50 cents a bottle, to make up $500.
One failure to cure would take the profit from 4000 sales.
Its makers profess to cure "cold in the head," and even chronic catarrh, and if they fail they pay $500 for their over-confidence.
Not in newspaper words but in hard cash! Think of what confidence it takes to put that in the papers—and mean it.
Its makers believe in the Remedy. Isn't it worth a trial? Isn't any trial preferable to catarrh?
After all, the mild agencies are the best. Perhaps they work more slowly, but they work surely. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are an active agency but quiet and mild. They're sugar-coated, easy to take, never shock nor derange the system and half their power is in the mid way in which their work is done. Smallest, cheapest, easiest to take. One a dose. Twenty-five cents a vial. Of all druggists.

COLERIDGE, N. C., August 10, 1891.
W. H. Worth, S. B. A.
DEAR SIR—As much has been said in regard to N. C. Farmers' Alliance Official Guano, I wish to state to you and the Durham Fertilizer Company, and others, that it is giving good satisfaction here on all crops. I used it on wheat last fall, and from a lot where I sowed 12½ bushels of seed I threshed 313 bushels of good wheat, or 25 bushels from one. I used one bag to the acre.
The Alliance is solid here.
