THE LAST DAY.

Not near so large a crowd was present to-day, but this was decidedly the best day of the Fair. This was Alliance day and Hon. Marion Butler, President of the State Alliance, was the orator. He shows himself to be of incalculable talent and expresses views, which are very acceptable to the alliancemen, in strong, bold language, carrying out the principles of the order and marching with the banner floating over the heads of his followers. His expressions are clear, concise and forcible and showing him to passing events in this country.

There was plenty of horse and mule racing. Montana Charlie did ome erack shooting with his rifle. He shot a potato from the head of Dr. Odum. And it is the kind of goods desired. Intelligent attensafe to say that not a hair of his head tion can then be given their orders. was harmed-he was bald headed.

This day the balloon ascension was a succe-s. When it rose a few feet from the ground the side of the balloon bursed and the hot air began to escape. At the height of about three hundred feet the balloon began to turn sideways on account of the hole, but at this moment the aeronaut cut his parachute loose and he descended safely to the ground.

This ended the amusement of the crowd and it was evident that the Fair was
