

Carolina Watchman.

LOCAL.

THURSDAY, DEC. 17, 1891.

M. S. Colly is quite sick with grip.

Mr. J. P. Weber lost a good horse Sunday night.

The street hands are putting stone on Innis street this week.

Mrs. J. D. Gaskill is spending a few days with friends at Winston.

J. C. Tipton, editor of the Shelly Review, was in the city last Sunday.

Lexington carries the vote for subscription to the Rannoke & Southern road by a majority of sixty.

Two emigrant cars loaded with negroes, were hitched to the north going train Wednesday morning.

More people were in town last Saturday than have been any other day outside of circus day, in a long time.

Miss Minnie Jones, who has been the guest of Mrs. Chas. Price for some time, returned to her home in Raleigh last Monday.

Rev. Dr. S. Hall, Secretary of the Missionary Board of the Lutheran church in America, lectured in the Lutheran church last night.

If you have Morgan to make you a dozen cabinet photographs at the regular price he will make you a present of a crayon portrait 16x20.

On the outside will be seen a notice of the action taken by the Railroad Commission as regards delayed trains. The office here has complied, and all trains duly bulletined.

Captain Hambley, of Rockwell, ordered another Jersey rack from New York. It passed here Wednesday and is very fine. Mr. Hambley is stocking his farm with good cattle.

The clever fellow, C. F. King, who holds down the Charlotte end of the Atlanta Journal gave us a pleasant call Monday, and solicited our aid to write his Christmas story for that journal.

Mr. Charlie Reimer, in company with several of his lady friends, took a drive out to Zeb Tuesday evening and engaged in a lively possum hunt. They didn't bag any game, but speak of repeating the hunt soon.

Charlotte is going to be a dry town in the future. The county commissioners refused to grant license to the barrooms. There are two strong wings in the affair. Meanwhile the State is taking an object lesson. If the ruling of the commissioners works here likely it will be tried in other places.

Salisbury to Have a New Depot.

Among the coming improvements for Salisbury is a new passenger depot. Mr. Webb tells us that it will be built soon. It will contain all the modern improvements and will be a mark of pride to the R. & D. holds in their property. How soon it will be begun is not known, but we are pretty sure that it will not be long before we can mark with pins to this needed auxiliary.

A Bold Robbery.

We had hoped that the many burglaries being deprecated throughout the State would not be practiced here. But alas! they have come. Monday night they entered the house of Mr. V. Wallace and stole two watches, one a gold one, the other silver jewelry and some money. The deed was boldly done. They entered through the parlor and went into the rooms in which they were sleeping, carried their clothes into the parlor and there raffled them. Several wardrobes were searched also. No one in the house awoke, and the deed was not discovered until morning.

School Book Trouble.

Many of the teachers of the public schools tell us that they are finding it impossible to supply their schools with suitable books. This is a matter for our Board of Education to take up. One half of the terms of the winter schools are gone and many are not yet able to get books. Some arrangement should be made, and that at once, to see that the books are in reach of the people. It is true there is not much money in selling school books, but surely some one has deep enough interest in our public schools to keep the books on hand. Little enough can be learned at our public schools any way, but it is simply too bad that books that are needed, and were needed a month ago, should be had. This is a case for some one to take in hand. Public money is being spent.

A Sad Death.

Our town was shocked very severely at the sudden death of Mr. Williams Brown, the tinner of this place, last Monday. Mr. Brown was in his usual good health about eleven o'clock, when he left his shop and went to the postoffice. On his return back he stopped at M. S. Brown's clothing store and bought some goods. He paid for them and while he was getting his change back suddenly threw up his hands on his forehead and exclaimed, "Oh my head!" He started to fall but was caught and led to a sofa. Three doctors were at once called in, but they all pronounced his case one of apoplexy, and beyond their control. Mr. Brown lived but a short while. He was sixty-six years of age and was a highly respected citizen. He leaves a widow and an adopted daughter to mourn their great loss. This sudden turn of life causes many people to extend their deep and heartfelt sympathy to the bereft family.

SEVERAL QUESTIONS.

A Concord Man, Supposed to be Jim Cook, Wants to Know Several Things.

Monday we received a large envelope postmarked Concord, N. C., which is a little village situated about two miles from the railroad, between this city and Charlotte. It contained a type-written letter signed "Jim."

The writer states that he is a very old bachelor, contemplating matrimony. He wants to know how he should broach the subject to his lady love.

Well, James, you should put on your best look, pompadour your hair and shine it with a blacking brush provided it is getting slightly gray. Brush up your three-year-old clothes so they will look decent. You must then shorten the distance between yourself and the self-sacrificing young lady whom you are going to ask to commit suicide—we mean matrimony. Get within speaking distance of her, James. Don't be too sudden about it. Work the sympathy racket. Tell her how lonely you are. Remark incidentally that you are expecting a large fortune from some rich relatives soon. Tell her that the census reports show that there are nearly 50,000 more females in the United States than males. She will see the importance of accepting a reasonable offer before somebody else gets a whack at you. If you follow these rules you will be likely to succeed.

Again he asks: "Did Patrick Henry discover America in 1492 or 1522? One of my friends says that it was Jefferson Davis who discovered America."

Ans.—St. Christopher Columbus discovered America in 1492. He traded some rubber balloons, a box of fire-crackers and a pint of rum for all of the country east of the Mississippi river. A few millionaires have since come into possession by working upon the prejudices of the people.

"I am troubled with sleeplessness. I have not slept a full night in six months. Can you suggest a remedy?"

Doubtless your efforts to marry has caused your trouble. If successful in your matrimonial ventures no doubt the trouble will be over. In the meantime avoid eating indigestible grub, such as peanuts, hard boiled eggs and bologna sausage. Bathe frequently and don't economize in the use of soap.

"During the past few weeks I have been troubled with a dimness of vision and light head. I feel that I am going to fall when walking about. What will I do for it?"

No doubt that is the result of sneaking your toes when you wear a kid. Keeping your head down so much caused your brain to form on one side. This is incurable, but can be helped a little. Wear heavy clothing in winter, tell the truth, pay your debts and stop reading the Durham Globe.

Write again, James.

Are You Honest?

Almost everybody has to credit his neighbors some at times. A good many of our subscribers have been indulged. We believe you were honest. Now you have a chance to prove it. No honest man will read a paper several months on a year and then neglect to pay for it. We think our patrons are all honest. They are among the best people both in town and country. Money is scarce, but those who have received the paper should recollect that it takes money to run a paper, and a good deal of it. We hope this reminder will be all that is necessary.

A Negro Under His Bed.

Tuesday night about 10 o'clock as Mr. Ed Heilig, a young man employed in the railroad shops, and living with his father in Brooklyn, was preparing to get in bed he thought of his money in his pocket—Tuesday being pay day—and went to the bureau and put it in a drawer. While stepping down he spied a negro under his bed. Being unarmed, he ran out of the room to the one in which his father was sleeping. The negro, then being seen, tried to make his escape through the front door, but it was locked. He ran to the back door and there escaped before he could be caught. The negro ran up toward the main part of town. Several pursued, but he was not caught. He evidently intended to get Heilig's money after he had gone to sleep. This burglary business is getting too alarmingly frequent.

Texas on Wheels.

These cars arrived in the city Tuesday morning. Many persons visited the display of the Lone Star State. It is fine. Many thousands of dollars were spent in the get up of this display. We can't devote space to enumerate the names of all the fine articles. Perhaps some correspondent man or woman over the short crops of this State, felt a desire swelling in their hearts to go to this vastly rich country. But if there was such an one, did he think what a display our own State could get up if we had the money and the enterprise to expend on it? But few things were there that we could not put a black eye on. In different words we have a much greater variety than was exhibited in those cars. In minerals we are far ahead of them. In cotton, of course they can raise more, but we have about enough here this year. In grain, fruit, grasses and vegetables we are far ahead of them. We admire the artistic manner in which the exhibit was gotten up and expect it will do much for Texas. North Carolina needs something on the advertising plan. In the past few days we have received inquiries from parties both North and West desiring information as regards health, agriculture, etc., in this State.

MINING DEPARTMENT.

Mining News Gathered in This and Other States.

"Mining is a safe business if pursued with the same care and industry as merchanting, banking, or any other legitimate pursuit. It is also a creator of wealth. It is claimed that the profit on gold and silver mining, since the discovery of gold in 1848 on the Pacific coast, amounts to over 50 percent per annum. The value of the precious metals does not exchange for credits. What is taken from the earth has had an intrinsic value. The dollar the surface of the earth is another dollar added to the wealth of the world."

NORTH CAROLINA MINERALS.

Our State Exhibit at the Exposition—From The Bulletin.

North Carolina made a very fine display at the Exposition as follows:

MINERALS AND GEM STONES.

A part of the collection of Mr. W. S. Primrose was shown in the following:

Large cluster of smoky quartz, with modified planes, Alexander county. Several specimens of polished Jasper from Madison county.

A number of quartz crystals of rare beauty and several others, from various localities in this State.

A magnificent cluster of Amethysts, of good color, from Polk county.

A crystal of emerald-green beryl, about 1 1/2 inches in length, and several small ones, from Alexander county.

Three remarkably pure beryls, cut, from Alexander county.

One natural crystal of hiddenite, spontaneous, from Alexander county.

A collection of tinted corundum, from Macon county.

A cube of limpid quartz, cut, from Orange county.

Rutilated quartz—"arrows of love" stones, from Burke county.

Several crystals of Tourmaline from Burke county.

Sialite, cerussite, green quartz, staurolite, talc, &c.

The following was shown from the collection of Mr. T. K. Bruner:

A collection of modified quartz from Alexander county, ranging in color from almost black to limpid white, several of these polished.

A few amethysts from Iredell county.

Quartz crystals, with enclosures of rutile, asbestos and liquid.

A fine cabinet specimen of rutiled quartz of rich golden red and brownish color, Iredell county.

Moon stone, Iredell county.

Sun stone, cut, Iredell county.

Calcedony, cut specimens, Macon county.

Ten dark garnets, cut, Burke county.

[CONCLUDED NEXT WEEK.]

Bill Nye Renews.

The following letter from Bill Nye explains itself and is worthy of emulation:

BURKE COUNTY, N. C., Dec. 14.

Editor Watchman:—Enclosed find $1.50, for which please continue the WATCHMAN to my address for one year. If I move before the year is out, will let you know.

When I first subscribed for your paper it was quite a task for me to read it. But a person can get used to anything. Now I feel that I can't do without it. I don't always agree with your editorial views, but I think you are sincere. Bill Vanderbill likes the paper splendidly, but I am going to quit leading him on. He speaks of subscribing himself and promises to raise a club. Bill is doing quite well with his brickmaking at Asheville, and I think he will become a respected citizen of our community when he returns, which he is going to attempt.

Hoping to see you soon, I remain, Fraternally,

WILLIAM.

Bethany Academy

Messrs. Bagges, Kestler and Klutz entered the Academy last week.

Mr. Robert Smith's hands went to work in the county last Monday.

One of our boys, Mr. Paul Barringer, who is a member of the R. & D. road, was at home yesterday.

The man who has caused some of our public roads to get into a very bad condition.

Rev. C. B. Haller will preach his farewell sermon next Sunday. Instead of a former one as was reported.

Mr. C. R. Morgan, an enterprising merchant of this hill, finished up his house and store last week.

Elm Grove Sunday school will have a Christmas tree on next Friday. St. Peter's will have one on Xmas day.

The patrons of D. H. school district have their new school house nearly completed. It will be painted at an early day.

An election was held at Gold Hill last Tuesday to vote a subscription of five thousand dollars to the stock of the Rannoke and Southern railroad.

owing to a general increase in transportation, a heavier engine has been put on the Yackin road, capable of doing more work than the one heretofore.

More than 2,500 cords of hickory wood have been shipped from Gold Hill and Rockwell stations this year. Mr. Smith says that the entire lot is as good as any he has ever bought, and he has been in the business nine years.

SADLER'S BRYAN STRATTON COLLEGE

FOUNDED IN 1864 by the present executive—27 YEARS of continuous and successful management—increased annual attendance—now occupying four buildings—stands unrivaled in facilities for educating YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN for success in life. In deciding upon a school for the children, PARENTS should send them to THE BEST, because it pays. It may require the expenditure of a few dollars more at first, but it will prove the cheapest in the end. CHEAP tuition is very dear, because it means cheap teachers, cheap surroundings, inferior facilities, and offers NO opportunity for securing POSITIONS for its pupils and graduates. This school, owing to its HIGH standard of excellence, has placed in desirable positions more than 1000 young men and women from Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, many all similar institutions combined. Catalogue and particulars mailed on application. Address, W. H. SADLER, President, and Founder; or F. A. SADLER, Secretary. BUSINESS COLLEGE, 6, 8, 10 & 12 N. Charles St., BALTIMORE, MD.
