An unknown white woman was run over and killed by a freight train near Hot Springs last Friday evening. She had a baby in her arms and two other children were following. Hearing the train approaching from behind she started back to save her children, but in the attempt she lost her own life. However, one of the children stepped off of the track and was saved.
News reached here last Friday of the death of Mr. James A. Gray, which occurred at Bowling Green, Ky., on Wednesday night. He was formerly a resident of Salisbury, and was a member of the Knights of Pythias at this place, in which lodge he carried an insurance policy of $3,000. He was buried in Louisville, beside his wife and child, who had preceded him to the grave.
Mr. C. R. Barker has opened a book at Klutz's drug store to give all an opportunity to show their sympathy for the lost cause, and their love for its leader, by subscribing a dollar or more towards erecting a monument to the memory of Jefferson Davis. The general agent has sent out an urgent call for more money to complete the work, and all should make a subscription, however small.
The city has been flooded with "green goods" literature during the past week.
Mr. J. Allen Brown, received a circular from a dealer in New York Tuesday.
He offered $20,000 for $1,000. Now that sounds pretty fair, More right, but still it is no temptation. Mr. Brown does not care to make money that way and of course will have nothing to do with the men.
Sunday night was wet and rainy, and as is often the case on such occasions the street lamps were not lighted. We do not know whether this was the fault of the employees or the authorities, but do know that the latter were abused considerably for the neglect. 'Twas ever thus from Salisbury's earliest year, and the trouble will not likely be remedied until we have a first-class electric light plant in operation.
Mr. George W. Watts, of Durham, last week wrote Dr. Rumble that he would erect one of the cottages of the recently burned Barium Springs orphanage, not to cost more than $5,000, if the Regents would build the other. The generous offer was accepted and the cottages will be built. Mr. Watts is a whole-souled Christian, and this generous donation for the care of the fatherless will stand as a lasting monument to his memory.
The WATCHMAN is for reform, heart and soul. And now it wants to know why the law forbidding gates being opened on the outside is so generally disregarded. We suppose it is because no one complains, and the authorities do not see that the law is enforced. A friend says he started to church last Sunday night, but after he had run against several open gates, he found himself totally unprepared for anything religious.
On last Sunday the Raleigh Daily Chronicle announced that the price of a year's subscription, offered for the best answer to the question "Why was the farmer made poorer when brought in contact with railroads?" had been awarded to Mr. Doug Carter, an Asheville lawyer.
The committee did not agree unanimously on Mr. Carter's answer, however, one of the three contending that Rev.
Mr. Rennie's solution—which we published two weeks ago—should draw the prize, and in view of this an additional prize of six months subscription was awarded Dr.
Rennie.
A local branch of the Holstein Building & Loan Association, of Bristol, Tenn., was organized at a meeting at the First National Bank Saturday night, with the following officers: P. N. Heilig, president; Edwin Shaver, vice president; M. C.
Quinn, secretary and treasurer, Craig & Clement, attorneys. The directors are Messrs. I. H. Foust, D. M. Miller, P. A. Freerick, J. S. McCubbins, Jr., and W. G. Watson. Fifty-five shares of stock were taken at the meeting. Our present B. & L. association has done more than any other agency to build up Salisbury, and we are ever ready to welcome anything to help along with the work.
February 14th was St. Valentine's day; few of the young folks forgot that. As the 14th came on Sunday, Monday was generally observed as the day. This office was not forgotten. Some one painted our picture in beautiful colors, making a suit of the latest Parisian style.
After touching up the mustache, and placing a rhinestone pin in the cravat, a beautiful verse was composed, which was quite appropriate. Then, with a smile down in the corner of her heart, the young lady sealed the valentine and directed it to ye editor. We received other letters with money, stamps, new subscriptions, complaints, threats, etc., but this was the nicest of all.
On nearly every hand we hear complaint of taking the night trains off of Western road. Besides the loss of one mail from the west, it is a source of great inconvenience to the traveling public. A person coming on the 9:45 train from the south, bound for points west is compelled to lay over here more than fourteen hours. We have in mind an instance where an Asheville minister who had gone to Charlotte on church business, while there he received a telegram engaging him to the bedside of one of his congregants, who was critically ill. He came up at night and was forced to stay until after 12 o'clock next day. This is but one of the many instances.
OFFICE FOR RENT.—A neat and comfortable room on second floor suitable

The Auroral Display.
A rare sight was the auroral lights, seen in the northern skies early Saturday night. The air was clear and the scene beautiful. Most of the people who saw it thought that it was caused by a large fire in the country.
The aurora was visible as far west as Iowa. It was also seen in Europe, but it appeared more beautiful in Richmond than elsewhere. Citizens of Petersburg, Va., thought Richmond was burning, and sent telegrams asking if it was true.
Stamps Galore.
Next to the postoffice the WATCHMAN probably has the largest stock of stamps in town. Recently a large number of bills were sent out, and in many instances where the amount was less than a dollar stamps were sent in payment.
We have enough now to paper a room—if the room is not too large; and we will dispose of them at cost for the next thirty days. Hereafter subscribers will please send a postal note or money order when the amount is over twenty-five cents.
Stamps will be taken for smaller amounts, but in no case send five or ten cent stamps; we have received a number of them, and as we cannot use them and the postoffice will not exchange, they are dead stock on hand. Remember this.
Salisbury Courier Got It.
The following is taken from the Monroe Enquirer:
"Charlotte wants the Democratic State Convention to meet there. She certainly offers advantages superior to those of Raleigh, and between those two places Charlotte should have the convention.
Salisbury, we suppose, would be the most accessible point for all sections of the State, but we doubt if it has a hall that would accommodate half of the delegates that would attend. Charlotte's Auditor room is probably the best building in the State for the purpose, and we say let Charlotte have the honor."
Before the last convention was held one of our prominent lawyers remarked that this city should and could get the convention if we had an auditorium large enough to hold the crowd. Naturally we have the advantage of either Charlotte or Raleigh. When Bill Fife held his meeting here large numbers had to stand in the street or return home because the warehouse was packed to overflowing.
The Chamber of Commerce should meet and take up the question of an auditorium.
Deaths.
Died, on last Thursday night, at 11:45 o'clock, Mr. Henry S. Rouchie, aged 20 years. His death was the result of drinking two bottles of laudanum.
Shortly before noon he purchased three bottles of laudanum from three different drug stores and when found an hour later only one was left. By this time the poison was taking effect. Three physicians were summoned, but their skill could not save him.
Mr. Rouchie was a popular young man and was liked by all who knew him. But he was his own worst enemy.
For some time his family had noticed that his mind was becoming affected.
This is the cause of his rash act. Few believe that self-destruction was premeditated.
Mr. James Hodgkin, of Winston, whose illness was mentioned in our last issue, died at the home of his father-in-law, Mr. P. P. Meroney, at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening. Mr. Hodgkin had been sick about two months, and by the advice of his physician he came here two weeks ago expecting to be benefited by the change; but instead of improving, he gradually grew worse till the end. Dr.
Whitehead attended him and pronounced the disease abscess of the liver.
Since his marriage to Miss Daisy Merony, a popular and esteemed young lady of Salisbury, about four years ago, he made frequent visits to relatives here, and made many friends, whose sympathies go out to the bereaved wife and little son.
The remains were taken to Winston Wednesday morning for interment.
Two Valuable Books.
We have undertaken to furnish our readers with two very valuable books "Labor and Capital," is the title of one the other is "Profitable Farming in the South." These books ought to be in the hands of every farmer in North Carolina.
The books can be seen at the WATCH-MAN office at any time. The price of "Labor and Capital" is $2.00, cloth binding; "Profitable Farming" is $2.50, cloth. Call and see them and give us your order.
Roanoke College.
Correspondence of the Watchman.
It has been quite cold here for a few days past. The thermometer registered two degrees below zero last Thursday at noon.
Mountain fires have been raging on the mountains four miles from here for several days. The whole mountain is lit up at night.
Quite an exciting affair occurred at Roanoke city, seven miles from here, last Tuesday night. A negro on Tuesday committed a depredation on a fifteen year old girl in the suburbs of the city. He was captured Thursday and identified by the young lady and was placed in jail.
It was soon found out that a mob was gathering to lynch him. The officers took the negro to the depot with the intention of sending him out of reach of the mob, but before they could get him off the three hundred unmasked men took him from the officers and swung him to a limb on the bank of Roanoke River.
At a meeting of the Faculty last week it was decided to abolish the final examinations of each term.
Since my last we have added another N. C. boy to the roll of students. He is from Rowan and a son of Capt. J. A.
Fisher.
Best wishes to the readers of the WATCHMAN.

MECKLENBURG NEWS,
What is Going on Among the Descendants of the Signers of the Declaration of Independence.
Mr. Charles Wilson is quite sick at his residence on College street.
Rev. M. A. Smith filled his pulpit at Mt. Zion again after an illness of several weeks with rheumatism.
Register Cobb is again in his office after a two months tussle with the grip, which got decidedly the best of him.
Mr. W. L. Cochran, father of R. L. C.
Cochrane, of the firm of Sims & Cochrane, is dangerously ill at his home in Back Creek.
Lovers of fine stock will know how to sympathize with Mr. Latta Johnson in the loss of his fine thoroughbred horse, "John Wardsworth."
Mr. J. P. Reid, of Leno, died on Thursday of heart disease, at the advance age of 73 years. His funeral took place from Steel Creek church on Friday.
Mr. and Mrs. Knox, of Lemlys, are both very low with pneumonia. Neither are expected to recover. Mrs. Knox is a sister of county commissioner Jetton.
The Charlotte stockholders of the National Express Co., have again been assessed by the assignee of that defunct concern. They had already been bled to the sum of $20,000. It will be remembered that the National was organized just after the war and enjoyed a very brief career.
Mrs. Mocha, the wife of the unfortunate Italian who was murdered some time ago, was defrauded by a negro to the amount of $18. The scamp raised a $2 bill by pasting an 0 beside the figure 2 and succeeded in passing it on Mrs. Mocha for $20.
Mount Zion Alliance passed resolutions setting aside February 22d as a day of fasting and prayer to, Almighty God to inspire our God to inspire our representatives at St. Louis with wisdom to arrive at results that may bring good to the tolling millions of our country.
In Wellford, S. C., a lady named Cooper was making soap in her yard when her dress caught on fire. Her sister ran to her assistance, and her own clothes catching, both ladies were burned to death. One died where she fell and the other only lived a few hours. Both ladies leave families of little children, numbering respectively three and six.
The music festival seems to be an assured fact. Prof. McLean is arranging a program. Mrs. Lawson, who charmed Charlotte society with her wonderful voice last year, and many other vocal artists from different points will be presented to aid Charlotte's brilliant array of vocalists in delighting the public.
Notwithstanding the stringency in money matters and the loss of the whiskey tax, macadamizing is going bravely on upon 7th street. The farmers are rolling in the rock near Mr. B. H. Moore's, and if completed the short cut from Monroe to Independence square will be ready for use.
Mr. W. L. Cochran, one of the most influential men of Mecklenburg county, died at his home at Back Creek, at 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning, after an illness of several months. Mr. Cochran was 68 years old. His wife and five grown children are left to mourn his loss. He was one of the county's pres-perous and successful farmers. The funeral took place from Back Creek church this morning.
We are glad that the joint meeting between the alderman of Charlotte and the school board on Monday evening succeeded in arranging for the continuance of the graded school. The vacant lots between the superintendent's house and the C. C. & A. railroad, belonging to the school property, are to be sold and the proceeds applied to continuing the term.
The property is very desirable and parties wanting a home site in the city will have a rare opportunity for investing.
Amity's Conviviality.
The language of Gray's matchless poem, "Chill penury repressed his noble range, and froze the general current of his soul," cannot be applied to the young people of Amity. The latest thing in country social life, was a "tacky party," given in the that community recently.
A reward was offered to the boy or girl who could represent the "tacky" to best effect. Mr. John Wolf in the character of the famous J. N. Bossamon took the prize.
On Friday night a valentine party was given by Mr. Jno. Glenn in the same neighborhood.
"That is as it should be." "On with the dance; let mirth abound," even though cotton is selling at five cents. God never intended man to be sad. "It is only man's inhumanity to man that makes countless thousands mourn."
A Commendable Enterprise.
The Thompson Orphanage Guild will give an entertainment in Charlotte on the night of the 26th that commends itself to all charitable people, in that it is for the benefit of the Thompson Orphanage. That noble institution under Col. Osburn's management, has attained such proportions, and is accomplishing so much good for the orphan and destitute, that all christian people, regardless of sect, should contribute to its support.
The entertainment will be something unique. Among the attractions will be seven tables laden with everything nice to tempt the palate—representing the seven colors of the rainbow. Among the attractions for the delight of the little ones will be a doll show. Displays of fancy work and side shows will give variety to the entertainment. The orphanage has been in existence for five years and has fifty children. The expense of caring for so many little unfortunates is large, and we feel safe in saying that a contribution of anything that will be of use to such an institution, will be gratefully received by its superintendent, Col. Osburn. The festival will take place at the auditorium.

Court Notes.
John Boyd, who has become notorious as the alleged Boston bridge train wrecker, was arranged before Judge Mears on Friday for burglarizing Mr.
Ed. McQuay's dwelling. The judge appointed Messrs. McCall & Clarkson as counsel for the prisoner. The case was continued to another term.
On Wednesday, the 10th, the case of the State against Kittelle was disposed of by a verdict of guilty. Mr. Kittelle was charged with selling liquor on Sunday, and also to minors. He claimed to have directed his clerk not to sell on Sunday or to minors. Judge Mears charged the jury to find him guilty if the law had been violated as he was responsible for the action of his employee.
The case of the State against John Wilson was taken up Thursday morning.
Wilson, a young Charlotte reared negro, killed a railroad hand named Sidney Barton by cutting his throat with a butcher knife. Wilson succeeded in eluding the officers of the law and escaped from the State. Recently he returned to Union county where he was recognized and captured. Messrs. Willits, Dawd, Little and Brown were appointed to defend Wilson, and did so with ability. Mr. Dawd appealed elo-quently to the jury's sense of mercy.
The jury, after a brief absence, returned a verdict of manslaughter.
Go West.
A canvass of the business houses of Charlotte by a Chronicle reporter develops the fact that Cleveland is ahead in the presidential race, though Hill's friends are full of zeal.
The adherents of those two distinguished gentlemen in Atlanta seem as much wrought up as their followers in New York. From a disinterested standpoint this seems strange. Mr. Hill is a wily politician of such subtle principles that every shade of political sentiment may claim him as a friend or enemy without evidence to prove him either.
He has been called a protectionist and claimed to be a tariff reformer. Where he stands on free coinage is only known to the Almighty and David B. Hill. He is appointed to the judgeship a man who has been—as charged by the papers—a gambler and saloon keeper.
Mr. Cleveland, though a man of many admirable qualities, is a monopolist of the most pronounced type whose only political creed is to intensify the value of the rich man's dollar and lessen the value of the products of labor with a "tariff for revenue."
Southern elites are built up by the products of agriculture and it would be more becoming in them to think of measures to lift the paralyzing burdens off the shoulders of the farmer, than boasting New York politicians whose success depends upon the help of Wall street capitalists whose interest they will be expected to protect.
The democratic party should go West if it desires the support of the Alliance people of the country for its nominee.
Where the Money Is.
The reporter met upon the streets a gentleman who travels for one of the large machinery houses of the country.
I asked the news.
"Nothing but hard times. Can't collect enough to pay my traveling expenses."
"What is the matter?"
"Want of money. There are millions of unemployed capital in New York, while the South is suffering a money famine, and you farmers are to blame for it."
"How is that?"
"Well you are threatening them with the sub-treasury and to stop the draining in futures, and the moneyed men have got the devil in them, and they won't let the money go where it will help the farmer."
Is he correct? We don't think so.
Money will go where it commands the best rate of interest with good securities.
But if the gentleman is right is it not a strong reason for the passage of Capt.
Alexander's bill for the suppression of the future gambling in farm products, and for the return of the government to its constitutional prerogative of issuing money to the people?
"The trouble with the South is that she is paralyzed by a world of debt, and the farmer is the atlas which is carrying it.
The farmer owes the merchant, the merchant owes the bank and the bank owes the New York capitalist. The farmer can't pay and hence the stagnation.
Now would it pay if we could get northern capital to pay our debts. The crash might come, and the longer it is delayed the more disastrous it will be when it does come. Let the creditors close down on the debtors, and let the debtors pay as far as able, and all take a new start. So long as he wears the shackles of debt the average American farmer is not a free man; but a slave to fears and false hopes, that makes him a mere automaton in our political fabric, and has about as much influence in shaping legislation as a dummy. Let them throw off the shackles and resume their manhood and quit wearing out their narrow bones in supplicating Yankee millionaires for the poor privilege of living.

is extended to the citizens of Charlotte and surrounding country to inspect the handsome drug store of Dr. J. B. Alexander, No. 13 South College street. He is now ready for business, and will be pleased to see and wait upon his friends and patrons.
E. B. SPRINGS & CO.,
No. 14 N. College St.,
CHARLOTTE, N. C.
To Alliance men and all other Farmers:
We desire to say that we are now prepared for the Spring trade on FERTILIZERS.
We are Agents for the Charlotte Orphanage and Fertilizer Co., and can give low prices as well as sell the best goods sold in the State.
Our Fertilizers have given the best results to all and we mean to keep them fully up to the standard. We have done a large business with the Sub-Alliances in this section, and would be glad to continue it. Remember that the S. C. Experiment Station gave us the highest grade on Acid Phosphate for last year that was sold in this State. Also remember that the N. C.
Experiment Station gives us the highest grade on Ammoniated Fertilizers sold in this State last year.
Write for prices. Truly,
E. B. SPRINGS & CO.
