The Mecklenburg Jail.

Correspondence of the Watchman.

Some days back when I described our beautiful court house the jail slipped my memory. I am sorry I slighted the building for I have always been well treated when I was in it. My old friend, Zacariah Taylor Smith, the present sheriff, is one of those kind-hearted alliancemen that will treat you fair if you do your duty, but if you don't he is a hummer. Now a word about that jail: It is situated in the southwestern part of the city in the low grounds between McKinley's chapel and the Yadkin river. Looking south you have a fine view of the chapel which is of African scent. Looking north you have a fine view of the jail frog pond which is kept well stocked in the frog season.

The jail is a brick structure. When it was built it was constructed with an eye to comfort and convenience. The sheriff occupies the front part of the building and the rear is arranged for prisoners, and it is so arranged that no man who is of good moral character will stay in it unless he is too lazy to put forth a little energy. The prisoners are supplied with the regulation food to eat, blankets to sleep on and with good bevel pointed crow bars to dig a hole through the soft brick wall. Recollection Johnsing says if they put him in there and he don't get out in twenty-four hours he will give the sheriff the privilege of hanging him by the heels and allow himself to be nibbled to death by the frogs. If you will put yourself to the trouble to go the jail records and to the treasurer's office you will find the above to be all facts. The jail is a sorry one and to say the least of it a man that is good on a whittle and can get a case knife and can't get out in one night ought to be hung, but it is not necessary to have a knife, all you have to do is to pull off an iron brace from the banister rail and you not only have a deadly weapon, but a good tool to work in a brick wall with. What has it cost the county to repair holes in that jail and to return escaped prisoners? It has cost the county more than it would have done to line the entire inside of the jail with sheet iron, and in the face of all the imperfections that stare every tax payer in the face that goes to look after the jail each year in an official capacity, they say the jail is safe within. Not long since an escaped prisoner was killed for resisting arrest and he was for taking a look at his cane, cotton, wheat, oats, rye, clover, orchard, big barns, nice house, fine grove, fat cows and horses. I said Capt. Davis was another good alliancemen, and if I should happen to get hungry along that road I would not be afraid to call.

We passed a cluster of houses to the left and I asked my companions who lived there. They said that was the county poor house. I told them I had one at home but that the county had nothing to do with it only to tax it pretty high.

At five o'clock we pulled up in a beautiful grove around Nut Grove Academy, about six miles from Charlotte, and about a half mile from the R. & D. railroad. We found a large table erected and the grove about the building full of romping small children, pretty lasses, beautiful maidens and motherly looking old ladies, and the surrounding woods full of buggies, carts, wagons, fat horses and well-to-do looking young, middle aged and old men.

The ration committee consisting of the married men and women and a few of both sexes who wanted to marry, were busy fixing the table and the ice cream. The little boys and girls were nursing the babies. A peep inside the house and we saw something to feast on. In front was a part of it that I was about to forget and that was the large stage, fully rigged as only ladies of fine taste can do. The house was decked, as was the stage, with work of art and of nature, pictures and flowers in profusion and all this was the closing of Miss Nora Neal's school.

A word about the school: It is a kind of neighborhood school and is kept up by, or principally by, Messrs. P. M. Morris, T. Berryhill, D. C. Berryhill, R. B. Orr, J. C. Orr, J. K. Alexander, Frank Alexander, F. S. Neal, with some other outsiders. They draw a small amount of public money and then feel down in their pockets for the remainder to keep up the school all the year. Miss Neal stands very high as a lady and a teacher with both pupils and employers.

At seven o'clock supper was announced and old king Og in his Psalmist days, might have been proud of it. I commenced at the foot of the table and as I am in favor of equal rights to all I cut through to the head and took a seat off from the table apiece and was waited on by kind friends until I declared my willingness to surrender. I stopped long before the supper was exhausted, but I left with a clear conscience that I had done my full duty. It was the first act and the only one that I took an active part in.

At seven o'clock the concert was opened with music by a trained choir of girls and boys and an organ and string band. We were then pleasantly entertained until near twelve o'clock, when all returned to their homes.

Before closing I wish to say the men down there are all good alliancemen. They are not ashamed of it but they are ashamed of some of their opponents and they say they are not afraid of being hissed on the highways as has been said by some smart newspaper solons, and you can find plenty of corn, wheat, oats and clover to eat and plenty of milk to drink.

Right here I will say that Col. Milton Caldwell says he has ten young lambs and they have only twenty fore feet. Can any of you sheep raisers beat that, if so let us know through the WATCHMAN. Mr. Caldwell is prepared to show the lambs if any of you doubt it. — RICHARD RAZOR.

P. S. I noticed Prof. Campbell, of Derita school. We overheard him talking to two pretty girls. One was a school mistress and the other a boarding house keeper in Charlotte. He said this was a hard year but he hoped to make a better crop this year than he did last. I learned by that that he is farming some in addition to school teaching. Campbell said that lumber and all building material was cheap but money was scarce. R. R.

CLOSING OF A SCHOOL.

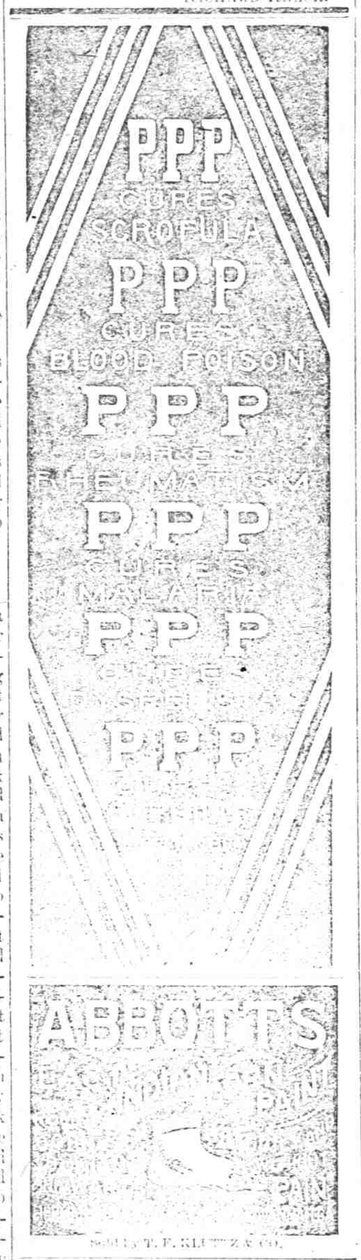
I was brought face to face with a producer in the capacity of a consumer again this week. Last Wednesday evening, about three o'clock, I was sitting back in my den at the white front drug store, feeling as hot as a ginger mill in August, studying how I could manage to run my face or beat Jim Alexander out of a cold lemonade, milk shake or some of his other ice cold drinks. A savage looking man with a kind of handcuff sheriff grin on his face drove up and called me to the door. I saw the back door was closed and the only thing left for me was to face the music. I ran over Dr. Alexander's feet that were lying about loose, and a full line of chairs and spittoons and finally got to the sidewalk. The man said he had come after me, that he was the advance agent of a school commencement at Nut Grove Academy, in Crab Orchard township, and that he had come to town after ice for the ice cream and they would set a public supper at six o'clock on the academy grounds and that he had been instructed to apprehend and bring me before the assembly if he had to use force to do it. I sized him up and told him there would be no trouble. I took a seat in the buggy behind a spanking good horse and we were soon out of town on our way to the academy. I soon found that I was sitting with Capt. Ruf Morris, one of the substantial farmers of Crab Orchard.

I found it to be a fine country. The first farm we passed was Bro. W. W. Phifer's. Cabbage, onions, strawberries, lettuce, beets, beans, celery and potato patches were to be seen. It is a daisy, embracing several acres. The sun was hot and the darkies were hoeing. I saw Bro. Phifer sitting on the back side of a cabin as though he had a load on it. I noticed about fifty fine looking hogs in a lot near by. A little further on we passed, on either side of the road, about forty acres of crimson clover in full bloom. I said Phifer was no bad allianceman.

A little farther on we passed Bro. Dan Johnston's farm with everything looking as though it had been varnished. Cotton, cane, wheat, oats, rye, clover, fat stock, etc. I said Dan Johnston was no bad allianceman.

Further on we passed through the model farm of Bro. J. M. Davis. Af only charged with larceny. At the same time another desperate character was at large, from the old trap, who stood charged with wrecking the train at Bostian's bridge, last August, in which twenty-two souls went to an untimely grave and others maimed for life and for which the railroad company will be called on for hundreds of thousands of dollars. We have about come to the conclusion that it would be a good move to rent out the jail and when a negro is caught in a man's house or caught stealing to hire some fellow to hold him until the judge passes sentence and then let the governor pardon him, murderers, burglars and all. If the governor can commute the death sentence of a burglar so he can of a murderer. The good people of North Carolina will get tired of such things by and by.

RICHARD RAZOR.



"WHAT AN ASS AM I!"

The ass thought himself as fine looking as his neighbor, the horse, until he, one day, saw himself in the looking-glass, when he said "What an ass am I!"

Are there not scores of people who cannot see themselves as others see them? They have bad blood, pimples, blotches, eruptions, and other kindred disfigurements. All these annoying things could be entirely eradicated, and the skin restored to "lily whiteness," if that world-famed remedy, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, were given a fair trial.

It cures all humors, from the ordinary blotch, pimple or eruption to the worst scrofula, or the most inveterate blood-taints, no matter what their nature, or whether they be inherited or acquired. The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only blood-purifier guaranteed to do just what it is recommended to, or money refunded.

The Arizona Kicker.

Among the many good things in the last issue of the Arizona Kicker we extract the following, says the Detroit Free Press:

OUR GAIN.—Monday afternoon an Italian with a dancing bear struck the town, and half an hour later Colonel Siderial Thompson, assistant register of deeds, awoke from a snooze he had been enjoying in an arm chair in the Mighty West billiard parlors. When the colonel saw the bear dance he made up his boozy mind to have a waltz with him. His friends called him off, but he was pigheaded and obstinate and refused to stay off. He suddenly jumped in on the bear with a yell and a whoop, and being new to our ways the beast probably supposed himself attacked. At any rate he set to work with teeth and claws, and so used the colonel up in about three minutes that he died that night. The general verdict of the public is that his loss is our gain. He had no enterprise as citizen, and as a man some of us would have to plant him within a few weeks any how.

SETTLED AT LAST.—As noticed elsewhere in the regular court proceedings, the legal trouble between the editor of the Kicker and Prof. McCall has been settled and an amicable understanding arrived at. The professor came here about two years ago and being in hard luck borrowed our only Sunday shirt and fifty cents in cash, and later on refused to either return the same or recognize our claim. We posted him as a dead beat and he sued at for $50,000. We proved him a bigamist and he fired two shot at us in front of the postoffice. We advised lynching, and he was laid up for a month in the attempt to horsewhip us. The professor instituted no less than five suits against us, and on several different occasions planned our assassination.

Day before yesterday, while the professor was laying for us with a shotgun at the postoffice, he was run over in a stampede of mules. We were the first to reach him and render aid. He was carried to the Kicker office in an unconscious condition, and it was half an hour before he came to. Mutual friends seized upon the occasion to settle the trouble and their efforts were successful. We now desire to announce in italics that the professor is an honest worthy gentleman, possessed of a fine voice and well qualified to teach the divine art of music. On the other hand, he subscribes for the Kicker, paying in advance, of course, and advertises to the extent of $24 per year.

The Wrong Caper.

The little eight-year old son of a member of the Farmers' Alliance looking over the only newspaper his father brought home said:

"Papa, why did you join the Alliance?"

"To better our social and financial condition, my son."

"How can you do that by associating with such bad men?"

"Alliancemen are as good as any other men. How in the world did you get it into your head that they were bad men?"

Picking up the paper the boy answered:

"This paper says the Alliance leaders are political renegades and blatherskites and that they are fooling the members and that they are a set of blockheads to be led around by such frauds as Polk, Macune, Jones, Tracy, Purdue and Co."

"That paper don't tell the truth, my son, it is prejudiced against the Alliance."

"Then, why do you subscribe for such a paper?"

The father, blushing to his ears, replied: "Run out and hunt hens' nests, son. I am in a hurry."

The boy looked inquiringly at his father and then at his mother and started as ordered, but as soon as he was out of hearing the mother said:

"John, if I were you I would be ashamed to put a newspaper into my son's hands that tells him that his own father is a blockhead."

Brother does this illustration suit you?

If every man was as big as he feels there wouldn't be standing room in this country.

ONE WORD.

I come to you with a small affair that you may need. In England, the Continent and many foreign countries, myself and wares are well known. Many American families in their return from abroad bring my articles with them, for they know them pretty well, but you may not be one of these.

Confidence between man and man is slow of growth, and when found, its rarity makes it valuable. I ask your confidence and make a reference to this Journal to indorse that confidence. I do not think it will be misplaced.

I make the best form of a cure—an absolute one—for biliousness and headache that can be found in this year. The cure is so small in itself, and yet its comfort to you is so great—20 minutes being its limit when relief comes—that it has become the marvel of its time. One and a half grains of medicine, coated with sugar, is my remedy, in the shape of one small pill, known to commerce as DR. HAYDOCK'S NEW LIVER PILL. It is old in the markets of Europe, but is new to North America. The price is as low as an honest medicine can be sold at, 25 cents. Send a postal card for a sample vial, to try them, before you purchase.

DR. HAYDOCK,
63 Fulton St., N. Y.

The Conference Platform.

The following is a correct copy of the platform adopted at St. Louis by the Labor conference:

FINANCE.

1. We demand a national currency—safe, sound and flexible—issued by the general government only; a full legal tender for all debts, public and private; and without the use of banking corporations; a just and equitable means of circulation, at a tax not to exceed two per cent, as set forth in the sub-treasury plan of the Farmers' Alliance, or some better system; also, by payments in the discharge of its obligations for public improvements.

a. We demand free and unlimited coinage of silver.

b. We demand the amount of circulating medium to be speedily increased to not less than $50 per capita.

c. We demand a graduated income tax.

d. We believe that the money of the treasury should be kept as much as possible in the hands of the people, and hence we demand all National and State revenues shall be limited to the necessary expenses of government, economically and honestly administered.

e. We demand that Postal Saving banks be established by the government for the safe deposit of earnings of the people and facilite exchange.

LAND.

2. Your sub-committee upon the land plank, beg to submit to your approval the following: The land, including all natural resources of wealth, is the heritage of all people, and should not be monopolized for speculative purposes, and alien ownership of land should be prohibited. All lands now held by railroads and other coporations in excess of their actual needs and all lands now owned by aliens should be reclaimed by the Government and held for actual settlers only.

TRANSPORTATION.

3. Transportation being a means of defence and public necessity, the Government should own and operate roads in the interest of the people.

a. The telegraph and telephone, like the postal system, being a necessity for the transmission of news, should be owned and operated by the government in the interest of the people.

While some parts of the above address may seem at a mere glance to make partisan political distinctions, yet upon careful study one will clearly see that it is non-partisan, and farther, will be impressed with the truth of its promises, and the ability of the committee who framed it. It was adopted with only a few dissenting votes, and the platform was adopted unanimously, and received with great applause. The conference having completed its work as a representative body, and adjourned sine die.
