As soon as people learn to read the right kind of literature reform sentiment will become too powerful to be overcome.

EVERY millionaire is the direct outcome of bad legislation. If the government gave proper protection to all its subjects no man could amass a million dollars in a lifetime.

ON Saturday, June 14th, at 11:15 a. m., Col. L. L. Polk died of blood poison, and on Saturday following at 11:15 a. m., Emmons Blaine died of blood poison. A notable coincidence.

In writing up a wedding in Baltimore recently, the reporter stated that the bride was a remote descendant of President George Washington. It is well known that Washington had no descendants.

The Progressive Farmer will be continued by Mrs. L. L. Polk, owner and proprietor, and with the same editorial and business management it has had in recent years during the life of Colonel Polk.

JERRY SIMPSON was renominated for Congress in his district without opposition, but it is said that the whole country, that is the political part, will work to defeat him. We are still betting on Jerry, however.

COL. AL FAIRBROTHER, of the Durham Globe, will run for Congress in the Fifth Congressional district. It is understood that he will have the backing of "Gideon's Band" and the American Tobacco Company.

A NEWS item has been going around stating that Col. L. L. Polk had $10,000 insurance at the time of his death, and was copied in our columns last week. We wish it were true, but have reliable information to the effect that it is not. He had only $3,000 and that from the Royal Arcanum.

HERE is the situation in a nutshell: You are a member of the Alliance. You endorsed the Ocala platform. Later you endorsed the St. Louis platform. Did you believe they were right; do you think so yet? If you do, as an honest man you cannot vote for men nor parties that are against those reforms.

It is a great pity, but true, that North Carolina is full of old fossils. They are fossils in religion, fossils in politics and fossils in their everyday life. Some of our young men are at least eighty years old. There are men who don't work half their time who say they haven't got time to read a newspaper. Jake Warner should use his gun on such men.

THE Railroad Commission last week made the following order in regard to first and second class fare: "On all mixed trains, carrying passengers where two coaches are attached, first and second class tickets must be sold; where only one coach is attached only second class rates shall be charged, unless the coach has separate apartments; then first and second class rates may be charged."

MAXIMUM powerful influences are at work to deceive and mislead the unsuspecting people. To accomplish these purposes unscrupulous men not only resort to misrepresentation, but to pure unadulterated fabrications. The acts and opinions of reformers, the position and aims of new parties are purposely misconstrued and every advantage taken of the ignorance and prejudice of the people.

BILL NYE says he has been clamoring for macadamized roads in Buncombe county for several months, but now thinks the roads should be unpaved instead. The reason for the change is that he was horseback riding recently, was thrown off and severely hurt. Bill's logic is good all around, but we cannot afford to have soft roads just to accommodate people who expect to fall off horses. To the people of Rowan we say go ahead and macadamize every foot of your highways.

THE POOR OLD HOBBY.

The poor old limping tariff is having a rocky time just now. No matter in what shape it comes up, there is not difference enough between the two old parties to make a fuss about. For the last twenty years the republicans have been coming down the hill of protection and the democrats going up, until now they have about come together. One means reform of the tariff, and the other means tariff reform. "You pay your money and take your choice." Tons of literature has been printed on both sides ready for distribution, but it is said the people won't receive it. Rumor has it that one of the old parties has already printed and destroyed two campaign books, and the third is in process of preparation. If these two old people can't get up a quarrel over the tariff, what will their contention be during the coming campaign? This question grows in magnitude as the time passes and must needs be settled at once.

If tariff reform meant anything it could be tolerated, but "a tariff for revenue" plank is a rotten fraud. There is nothing binding in it, for by the time the boodle is divided up there is nothing left of the revenue, even with a high tariff. Free trade is the remedy. With free trade there would be none of this racket and no one would have any special privileges.

THEY THREATEN TO BOLT.

It is reported that Senators Morgan and Pugh, of Alabama, have threatened to bolt if the silver bill is finally defeated and Cleveland nominated.

The alleged reason is that the bimetal members of the party have departed from democratic principles and traditions by their recent acts and that the free silver democrats are the only real democrats.

We must confess that the gentlemen are not far from right. And while they are on that line they might mention that the House has not passed any bill to repeal the McKinley tariff bill either, a thing they promised the people to do certain. They haven't done anything they promised to do yet.

IS FREE COINAGE DANGEROUS?

The politicians say it is. A few fools who don't know any better say it is. Suppose some one had said it was dangerous prior to 1873. He would have become laughing stock for the country.

George Washington signed the first free coinage bill. Jefferson, Madison, Jackson, Calhoun, Clay, Benton, Webster, Lincoln and all the statesmen sustained it up to 1873. Then London bankers came over and whispered in the ear of Wall street gamblers, then they used $500,000 in the way it would do much good and silver was demoralized. Now part of our democratic Congress is erasing and choking with fear "that it is dangerous." Away with such rascality.

The president of Venezuela has resigned his office. That's more than Harrison would do.

To the Reform Press.

I have received a number of letters requesting that an hour be set apart at the Omaha Convention in commemoration of Col. L. L. Polk's service to our cause. They have also requested that Ignatius Donnelly, Gen. James B. Weaver, Thomas Watson, Stump Ashby, T. V. Powderly, Col. S. Norton, Dr. C. W. Macune, Mrs. Mary E. Lease and Mrs. Marion Todd be requested to make short speeches in eulogy of the life and work of our departed hero. I will write to the parties named and the central committee when it meets on July 1st can fix the time.

I wish the reform press would take this up and make a notice of it of it to the public between now and the 4th of July convention.

H. E. TAUBENZECK.

Chief James P. Sawyer, of the Asheville fire department, Wednesday tendered his resignation to the board of aldermen to take effect at once, and it was accepted. The hose companies have tendered their resignations. The trouble has arisen about the election of an assistant chief by the aldermen from the hook and ladder company. The success of the coming convention and tournament will probably not be seriously affected.

Plain Facts and Sharp, Pithy Sayings from Reform Papers.

Men do things more from custom than from reason.—Bryan (Texas Farmer).

"The man with the hoe" has commenced to weed the political field.—San Antonio Truth.

Labor not only pays its own wages but supports the bosses and fattens the millionaires.—Whytheville News.

Men preach from the house tops while the devil is crawling through the basement windows.—New Forum.

Death is the record that fusion has made in all political parties. Let us keep clear of it.—Abilene (Kan.) Herald.

Palaces and hovels, princes and paupers, millionaires and mendicants are complements of each other.—Cincinnati Herald.

If the Democratic party is a party of the people why does that party in Congress vote to suit Wall street?—Little Rock Farmer.

Wanted: "Seventy cent silver dollars" on subscription at their face value, as long as such dollars remain a full legal tender.—Allen News.

A man's wealth should represent what his services to society have been worth. Any more or less is robbery.—Marion (Ind.) Independent.

The farmer can no more expect relief from present oppression without independent action than he can expect a crop without sunshine.—Milton Star.

The candidate who objected to his admirers taking the place of horses in his chariot was right about it. He preferred horses to jackasses.—Farm and Ranch.

Relief is the demand! Redemption from debt the watchword! Just reward for toil and fair compensation for labor, the shibboleth!—Alliance Herald.

Nero fiddled while Rome burned. The American congressman drinks champagne, bets on the horse race and lets the country go to the devil.—Fort Worth Mail.

If every man would live as purely as he expects his mother, sister, wife or sweetheart to live, what a grand race of beings would soon appear on earth.—Cincinnati Herald.

In every plan for increasing the currency volume invented by the plutocrats, there is a provision for interest bearing bonds that will enable the drones of the world to live off of the toilers.

Improve the public highways and pay $500,000,000 of legal tender into circulation. Then abolish private banking and prevent the cornering of money, and the financial problem is solved.

Give us a plausible reason why the government should issue money to rich men for banking purposes at one per cent, and should not loan money to a productive industry for two or three per cent.

Lending money to the people by the government on good bankable security is not increasing the volume of the currency, but only allowing the volume in existence to do its natural work without hindrance.

Don't tell us that the average old party leader doesn't see the truth of our proposition. He sees very clearly, but he knows that a general acceptance of the truth will deprive him of labor.—Cincinnati Herald.

When land-holding becomes unprofitable except by use, it will be equivalent to the discovery of a new and fruitful country at our very doors. Wages are never low where man has free access to good land.—Progressive Time.

One thousand dollars of wealth for each man, woman and child in the United States if equally divided, so the census reports tell us; yet you see if one man has a million dollars, 1,000 people must be without a cent.—Cincinnati Herald.

When capital competes for labor to keep it active, interest will be low and wages high. When labor is forced to compete for employment, interest is high, wages low and the capitalist holds the key to the situation.—Southern Mercury.

If seeing a constantly increasing ho-de of lascivious, licentious, champagne guzzling aristocrats makes you happier and better, while your wife and babies go hungry and ragged, then shout yourself hoarse over our prosperity and continue to vote the d. o. p. ticket.—Western Advocate.

The eighty six Democrats (?) in Congress, who voted against free coinage of silver, seem to have been "deceived by their own vain opinions;" indeed, "an evil suspicion hath overthrown their judgment." The people will speak in November, and overthrow them.—Southern Mercury.

In 1880 only 19 per cent of Kansas farmers were tenants. In 1890 over one-third were tenants. At this rate our children will see Kansas a state of "wealthy land owners on the one hand and tenants on the other," which the New York World declared ten years ago was the thing to be desired.—Western Advocate.

The man or woman who goes to work now is the real soldier in the cause of reform. Talk is cheap; besides it is only wind when solid shot is needed. Reading matter is what the people need to get them to thinking. The worker who puts reading matter into the people's hands is the effective means of victory.—Texas Sentinel.

Baseball.

The Salisbury Blues, who went down Monday night to play a game of ball with Norwood, returned yesterday bluer than ever. The score stood 21 to 2 in favor of Norwood. It is said that all of the Norwood nine were men and that a majority of them were secured from other towns. The Norwood nine offered to give our boys a reception Monday night but they did not stay for it.

On their way back they were challenged by the Gold Hill nine for a game. They stopped over and beat the Gold Hill boys by a score of 9 to 6.

Pay Before You Go.

This is a bit of advice given by the Wilmington Star, but as it so well fits all communities, THE WATCHMAN aids in passing it along. "Pay up all your little debts before you go to the springs. It is a right to go off for a round of fun and frolic and leave your creditors 'in the lurch.' You will, of course, come back dead broke, and then you'll tell your creditors they must wait a while longer. Do the square thing and do not 'pay as you go,' but before you go."

University of North Carolina.

Instruction is offered in four general courses of study, six brief courses, a large number of special courses, and in law, medicine and engineering. The Faculty includes twenty teachers. Scholarships and loan funds are available for needy young men of talent and character. The next session begins Sept. 1st. For catalogue with full information, address PRESIDENT WINSTON, Chapel Hill, N. C.

$75 to $250 a month can be made working for us. Persons preferred who can furnish a horse and give their whole time to the business. Spare moments may be profitably employed also. A few vacancies in towns and cities. B. F. JOHNSON & CO., 24th and Main street, Richmond, Va.
