

THE WATCHMAN is the organ of the Farmers' Alliance in 6th and 7th Congressional Districts. Advertisers, make a note of this.

The Carolina Watchman

SALISBURY, N. C., THURSDAY, AUGUST 18, 1892

NO. 42

THE WATCHMAN is 60 per cent. more circulation than any other paper published in Salisbury, and is therefore the best advertising medium.

VOL. XXIII - THIRD SERIES.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

Castoria is well adapted to children that are afflicted with any of the following ailments: Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Eruption, Worms, Green Stools, and promotes digestion and healthy action of the bowels. It is a safe and reliable medicine.

THE CASTORIA COMPANY, 17 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK.

THE THREE STAGES OF LIFE.

First the face, faint, dreamy motion of the tender blood. Circling in the veins of children— This is Life, the bud. Next the fresh advancing beauty Growing from the gloom. Waking eyes and fuller bloom— This is Life, the bloom. Then the pain that follows after, Grievous to be borne. Picking, steeped in subtle poison— This is Love, the thorn.

"THE BACHELOR."

Address by Plain Jim Cook Before the Press Convention.

I wish no prouder epitaph cut upon the humble marble which shall gleam for a little while among the wild grasses that grow over my neglected grave, than the simple words: "Here lies an unmarried editor."

As I look around me here on the old familiar faces, I cannot disguise myself the fact that some of these are men as good by nature and far better by practice than myself. The same kind fortune smiled upon our births. The same protecting providence guided our little barks safely through the peril that besets the infant mariner upon the tempestuous sea of human existence, and in many respects it happened to the good and the bad alike.

Such is the manhood of the few in whose interest I speak. Doubtless in early life they laid out their routes, and that they still cling to them is evidence enough of their confidence in the same.

The majority of this Press Association may resort to divine injunctions to convince the small minority of the O. K.ness of their course, but the same authority says "he that giveth her not in marriage doth better,"—take courage, brother Deacon David. Milton is quoted as having said: "Woman is heaven's last, best gift to man."

Those of the Association who have fallen in the struggle—and especially those who have the most of their parishioners among the agriculturalists and those who furnish the first strawberries, potatoes, etc., to get their name in the paper, congratulate themselves upon the wisdom of their course in that they are prepared to use their corn, beans, pumpkins, potatoes and such like that admiring subscribers bring in and donate out of love.

That tenet of the pessimistic philosophy which holds that human life is but a struggle for existence is unhappily too true in many senses and in none more true than as it relates to the life of a marriageable and yet unmarried man. For him "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty," and were to the luckless knight, whom long immunity from capture has lulled into fancied security, if there be here to-night those who undervalue the estate of bachelorhood and guard with a careless hand their birthright let them give heed to these words of wisdom from one whose steps were almost gone, whose feet had well nigh slipped several times or more, and yet is here to-night to speak these words of cheer and counsel, or words to that effect.

the truth of Darwin's hypothesis, for only the fittest survive in the long struggle that begins on the upper lip and only ends when the retreating hair makes its last stand in a thin existence above the coat collar, if it stands at all, or words to that effect. Be steadfast, therefore and keep your eyes open. Artful tricks will seek to ensnare you. The most attractive side is the outside. Figures are manufactured, charms are assumed and sweetness is deceptive, we are told.

Time will not permit us to do justice to the bachelor, when we view him from an economical and scientific standpoint. We cannot stop to estimate his worth to a community, in its material development and upbuilding, and his great importance in the educational assets of the community.

The bachelor has never been accorded his just need of praise. The time will come, and the bright lines foretelling its early arrival can be seen already, when the bachelor will stand with ease with the gal—axy to which he's entitled.

As I recall the experiences of the past, and turn an anxious eye towards the unveiled future which day by day discloses the devious windings of life's path, no words seem to me so fitly to express the bachelor's gratitude and hope as the pious lines, which Watts wrote and with which I close:

"Through many dangers, toils and cares I sail, this far have come; This grace has softened all my cares, And grace will bear me home."

Dr. Kingsbury on Holidays. Holidays are good things to have, no doubt, if a man can afford it. In sixteen years (lacking a few weeks since we began editorial work in Wilmington) we have not had what could be called a holiday. We have been absent for a few days but there was no rest. In four years we have not had a day that was remotely like a holiday.

Such is the manhood of the few in whose interest I speak. Doubtless in early life they laid out their routes, and that they still cling to them is evidence enough of their confidence in the same.

The majority of this Press Association may resort to divine injunctions to convince the small minority of the O. K.ness of their course, but the same authority says "he that giveth her not in marriage doth better,"—take courage, brother Deacon David. Milton is quoted as having said: "Woman is heaven's last, best gift to man."

Those of the Association who have fallen in the struggle—and especially those who have the most of their parishioners among the agriculturalists and those who furnish the first strawberries, potatoes, etc., to get their name in the paper, congratulate themselves upon the wisdom of their course in that they are prepared to use their corn, beans, pumpkins, potatoes and such like that admiring subscribers bring in and donate out of love.

That tenet of the pessimistic philosophy which holds that human life is but a struggle for existence is unhappily too true in many senses and in none more true than as it relates to the life of a marriageable and yet unmarried man. For him "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty," and were to the luckless knight, whom long immunity from capture has lulled into fancied security, if there be here to-night those who undervalue the estate of bachelorhood and guard with a careless hand their birthright let them give heed to these words of wisdom from one whose steps were almost gone, whose feet had well nigh slipped several times or more, and yet is here to-night to speak these words of cheer and counsel, or words to that effect.

THIS YEAR'S ELECTIONS.

The First was Held in Alabama—What the States will Vote for and When.

The elections of 1892 include those in all the States for 444 presidential electors, which will be held Tuesday, November 8. All will be chosen by the several States at large, except in Michigan, where one will be chosen in a district embracing the east half of the State, one in a district embracing the west half of the State, and ten by Congressional districts. There are also to be elected the National House of Representatives (two members having already been chosen in Oregon) and State Legislatures, the latter of which will choose 28 United States Senators (one Senator having already been elected in Rhode Island by the Legislature chosen this year.)

Alabama will elect Governor and State officers August 1 and 9 representatives in Congress, November 8. Arkansas will elect Governor and State officers September 5, and 9 representatives in Congress November 8.

California will elect 7 representatives in Congress and a legislature to choose a U. S. Senator, vice Fulton, republican, November 8. Colorado will elect Governor, State officers, and 2 representatives in Congress November 8.

Connecticut will elect Governor, State officers, four representatives in Congress, and a legislature to choose a U. S. Senator, vice Hawley, republican, November 8. Delaware will elect a representative in Congress and a legislature to choose a U. S. Senator, vice Gray, democrat, November 8.

Florida will elect Governor State officers, and a legislature to choose a U. S. Senator, vice Pasco, democrat, October 4 and 2 representatives in Congress, November 8. Georgia will elect Governor and State officers October 5, and 11 representatives in Congress, November 8.

Idaho will elect Governor and State officers, a representative in Congress, and a legislature to choose a U. S. Senator, vice Shoup, republican, November 8. Illinois will elect Governor and State officers, and 55 representatives in Congress, November 8.

Indiana will elect Governor and State officers, 13 representatives in Congress, and a legislature to choose a U. S. Senator, vice Turpie, democrat, November 8. Iowa will elect Governor, State officers, and 11 representatives in Congress, November 8.

Kansas will elect Governor, State officers, and 3 representatives in Congress, November 8. Kentucky will elect 11 representatives in Congress, November 8. Louisiana elected Foster, democrat, Governor, and a democratic legislature to choose a U. S. Senator, vice Gibson, democrat, April 18, will elect 6 representatives in Congress, November 8.

Maine will elect Governor, 4 representatives in Congress, and a legislature to choose a U. S. Senator, vice Hale, republican, September 12. Maryland will elect 9 representatives in Congress and legislature November 8. Massachusetts will elect Governor, State officers, 13 representatives in Congress, and a legislature to choose a U. S. Senator, vice Dawes, republican, November 8.

Michigan will elect a governor and State officers, 12 representatives in Congress, and a legislature to choose a U. S. Senator, vice Stockbridge, republican, November 8. Minnesota will elect Governor and State officers, representatives in Congress, and a legislature to choose a U. S. Senator, vice Davis, republican, November 8.

Mississippi will elect 7 representatives in Congress, November 8. Missouri will elect Governor and State officers, representatives in Congress, and a legislature to choose a U. S. Senator, vice Cockrell, Democrat, November 8. Montana will elect Governor and State officers, a representative in Congress, and a legislature to choose a U. S. Senator, vice Sanders, republican, November 8.

nor and State officers and 6 representatives in Congress, November 9. North Dakota will elect a governor and State officers, a representative in Congress, and legislature to choose a U. S. Senator, vice Casey, republican, November 8.

Ohio will elect a secretary of State and 21 representatives in Congress, November 8. Oregon elected republican Supreme Court judges and 2 republican representatives in Congress June 6.

Pennsylvania will elect 30 representatives in Congress, and a legislature to choose a U. S. Senator, vice Quay, republican, November 8. Rhode Island elected republican governor and legislature, which has re-elected Aldrich, republican, to the U. S. Senate, April 6, and will elect two representatives in Congress, November 8.

South Carolina will elect Governor and State officers and 7 representatives in Congress, November 8. South Dakota will elect governor and State officers and 2 representatives in Congress, November 8.

Tennessee will elect governor and State officers, 10 representatives in Congress, and a legislature to choose a U. S. Senator, vice Bate, democrat, November 8. Texas will elect governor and State officers and 13 representatives in Congress, November 8.

Vermont will elect governor and State officers, 2 representatives in Congress, and a legislature to choose a U. S. Senator, vice Proctor, republican, September 9. Virginia will elect 10 representatives in Congress, November 8. The legislature will elect a U. S. Senator, vice Hunt, appointed pro tem.

Washington will elect governor and State officers, 2 representatives in Congress, and a legislature to choose a U. S. Senator, vice Allen, republican, November 8. West Virginia will elect governor and State officers, 4 representatives in Congress, and a legislature to choose a U. S. Senator, vice Faulkner, democrat, November 8.

Wisconsin will elect governor and State officers, 10 representatives in Congress, and a legislature to choose a U. S. Senator, vice Sawyer, republican, November 8. Wyoming will elect governor and State officers, a representative in Congress, and a legislature to choose a U. S. Senator, vice Warren, republican, November 8.

From Woodside. Crops in this section are unusually good. The wheat is thought to be better than it has been in several years; corn is looking very well. There is but little cotton planted in this immediate vicinity. The largest crop raised here is the People's party crop it has a good stand and is moving on brightly and will yield an abundant crop to be gathered in November for Weaver and Field. The laboring classes of people realize their condition as they never did before. There is not an old straight out democrat, as they call themselves, in this section. We as Alliance people affirm our candid opinion that the platform adopted at Omaha is the only wise, consistent and patriotic refuge left for us as a financially afflicted people we hope that all the brethren will read reform literature and fall in line and help to carry our banner to victory.

The People's party primary convention at Bernhardt's Mill last Saturday was largely attended with People's party men. General interst was shown in the reform movement. Bernhardt's Mill will always do to depend on, and the same can be said of Hellig's Mill. In the democratic county convention it appeared that there was some difficulty in getting candidates for some of the offices. Of course those good men that declined did not want to be defeated; that's the way we understand it. Brethren, hold up their county ticket and take a peep at it, you will find it so thin that you can see through it.

Brother laborers of Rowan county, everybody who wants reform go to the People's party convention on the 16th and aid your delegates and see to it that we get no turn-out on our county ticket, we want good, true, fearless men that can face the enemy, we know no other way for an honest man, one that loves his home and country to vote but to cast his ballot for the ticket put out at the Omaha convention. A. L. PEELER.

Merit Wins. We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. Theo. F. Klutz & Co., druggists.

An attempt to murder a capitalist is only an evidence of business thrift. Julia E. Johnson, Stafford's P. O., S. C., writes: "I had suffered 25 years with a zema and was almost consumed by my bed. The itching was terrible. My son-in-law got me one-half dozen bottles of Botanic Blood Balm, which entirely cured me, and I feel now to publish this for the benefit of others suffering in like manner."

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Gresham to Take the Stump—Fancy Prices Paid by Ueale Sam—Other News. Correspondence of Watchman.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15, '92. Politicians are not plentiful in Washington just at this time, but those who are here have not lacked for a sensation to discuss since the announcement was made a few days ago that Judge Gresham intended to take the stump for Weaver and Field. Democrats and republicans alike refuse to believe that the announcement is authentic, but they agree that it will make hard sledding for the republicans in Indiana, if Gresham really does go on the stump for the People's party, owing to the great personal influence he wields with a large number of voters in that State, and it is stated that he could control almost as many votes in Illinois where he has made his home of late years. At the National Farmers' Alliance headquarters, where People's party men usually may be found, no doubt was expressed of the authenticity of the announcement, which was here regarded as a boom for Weaver and Field.

Speaking of Judge Gresham, just before the Omaha convention met when all indications seemed to point to him as the head of the ticket to be nominated, there was a secret coalescence of prominent republicans, headed over by Mr. Clarkson, then chairman of the National republican committee, held in Washington, at which it was practically agreed that in case Gresham was nominated and he carried enough States to throw the election into the House the republican electors were to make a flank movement to prevent the election of Cleveland by the House, by casting their votes in the electoral college for Gresham instead of for Harrison. Thank of what a sensation would have been caused by such a proceeding as that in the electoral college; that is if the agreement could have been carried out.

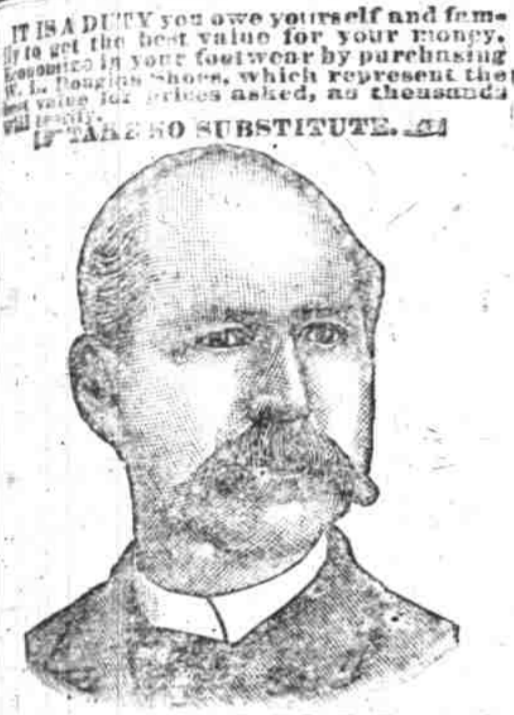

Why should the United States Treasury pay fancy prices to express companies for transporting large amounts of its money from one point to another? is a question which has been often asked since it was known that $2,000,000 in gold was recently taken from San Francisco to New York by Government officials at a cost of about $2,500, while the express company's charge for doing the same work was $6,000. Surely it is cheaper for the United States to assume the risk of loss than to pay such enormous profits to the express companies for doing so. Not long ago the United States Express company was paid $3,500 for less than three hours time of a few of its employees, just enough to load boxes containing $7,000,000 in gold on an express car at Philadelphia and two hours later to transfer the same from the car to the sub-treasury at New York.

State department officials seldom give out news until after it has long since ceased to be new; but I have it on excellent authority that they are a little worried by the fear that the Gladstone government of Great Britain may not be as friendly towards the International monetary conference, as that of Lord Salisbury was. The date for the meeting of the conference cannot be fixed until the wishes of Mr. Gladstone are ascertained, and should he be disposed to be unfriendly towards it, he could easily cause it to be indefinitely postponed by deferring its crucial ratification upon one or another plea without actually committing himself against it. The most that will be said about it at the State department is that "it is expected that the new cabinet to be formed by Mr. Gladstone will give its early attention to the matter."

It is not often that a speech delivered by a republican congressman is circulated in the South as a democratic campaign document, but the democratic congressional campaign committee is now sending thousands of copies of the speech attacking Gen. Weaver, which was delivered in the House, by Representative Henderson, of Iowa, several years ago, to the Southern States. It is one of the bitterest set speeches ever delivered in Congress. Worse things have been said of members by other members in the heat of sudden anger, but Mr. Henderson's attack on Gen. Weaver was the result of calm deliberation, and the intention to say the worse things that could possibly be said.

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 19th, 1892. MESSRS. LITTON BROS., SAVANNAH, GA. GENTLEMEN:—I was a little reluctant about taking issue with you, but when you published the testimonial of the efficacy of your P. P. P. I was forced to do so. I have used your medicine for all these distressing complaints. My system was almost all of mania, my condition was growing very serious, I had no appetite, was losing strength and was completely broken down in health, but now my health is fully restored, and I can eat like a healthy man without the slightest fear of serious results. I really feel like a new man. I take great pleasure in telling the world that P. P. P. did the good work of restoring me to my accustomed health. Yours truly, W. S. BARBY.

SPRINGFIELD, O., May 21th, 1892. MESSRS. LITTON BROS., SAVANNAH, GA. GENTLEMEN:—I was a little reluctant about taking issue with you, but when you published the testimonial of the efficacy of your P. P. P. I was forced to do so. I have used your medicine for all these distressing complaints. My system was almost all of mania, my condition was growing very serious, I had no appetite, was losing strength and was completely broken down in health, but now my health is fully restored, and I can eat like a healthy man without the slightest fear of serious results. I really feel like a new man. I take great pleasure in telling the world that P. P. P. did the good work of restoring me to my accustomed health. Yours truly, W. S. BARBY.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE FOR MEN, WOMEN, AND CHILDREN. THE BEST SHOE IN THE WORLD FOR THE MONEY. I have made shoes for Presidents, Generals, Admirals, and all the great names of the world. My shoes are made of the best material and are guaranteed to last.

Washington Life Ins. Co. OF NEW YORK. CONDENSED STATEMENT. JANUARY 1st, 1892. Assets Invested as Follows: Real Estate, $11,459,938.78; Bonds, $1,032,529.25; Loans, $1,762,691.77; Life Insurance, $6,509,622.22; Building Insurance, $1,447,969.15; Policy-holders' interest, $2,081,551.95; Other, $2,081,435.74.

Is the Place to Get Monuments, Tombstones, &c. A large stock of VERMONT MARBLE to arrive in a few days. We guarantee satisfaction in every respect and positively will not be undersold.

Granite Monuments Of all kinds a specialty. C. B. WEBB & CO., PROPRIETOR. Mention the Watchman when you write.

1859 THE 1892 Georgia Home Insurance Co., COLUMBUS, GA. J. RHODES BROWNE, PRESIDENT. WM. C. COART, SECRETARY. Total Assets, over $1,000,000. A Home Company, seeking Home Patronage. J. ALLIBRO, N. Agt.

ADVICE TO WOMEN If you would protect yourself from Painful, Profuse, Scanty, Suppressed or Irregular Menstruation you must use BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR. BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., ATLANTA, GA. FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

A Household Remedy FOR ALL BLOOD AND SKIN DISEASES. B. B. B. Botanic Blood Balm. It cures SCROFULA, ULCERS, SALT RHEUM, ECZEMA, every form of malignant SKIN ERUPTION, besides being efficacious in tending up the system and restoring the circulation, when impaired from any cause. It almost supernatural healing properties justify us in guaranteeing a cure, if directions are followed.

TUFT'S Tiny Liver Pills. Why do you suffer from Dyspepsia and Sick-Headache, reminding you of a horse, when the remedy is so simple as Tuft's Tiny Liver Pills? The majority of this Press Association may resort to divine injunctions to convince the small minority of the O. K.ness of their course, but the same authority says "he that giveth her not in marriage doth better,"—take courage, brother Deacon David. Milton is quoted as having said: "Woman is heaven's last, best gift to man."

Norfolk Alliance Exchange 11 and 13 Commerce St., Norfolk, Va. Owned and controlled by Alliance members for handling produce. COTTON A SPECIALTY. Don't sell before writing for particulars to J. J. ROGERS, Mgr. P. O. Box 212.

Is the Place to Get Monuments, Tombstones, &c. A large stock of VERMONT MARBLE to arrive in a few days. We guarantee satisfaction in every respect and positively will not be undersold. Granite Monuments Of all kinds a specialty. C. B. WEBB & CO., PROPRIETOR. Mention the Watchman when you write.

1859 THE 1892 Georgia Home Insurance Co., COLUMBUS, GA. J. RHODES BROWNE, PRESIDENT. WM. C. COART, SECRETARY. Total Assets, over $1,000,000. A Home Company, seeking Home Patronage. J. ALLIBRO, N. Agt.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.