Mr. Editor: - At the joint discussion at frick's school house between tween Hon. John S. Henderson and Mr. A. C. Shuford there was a large crowd present and it was a feast day for the people's party. Mr. Henderson spoke first and at some length. He andertook to show that the democratic party had done much to relieve the oppresed people, but failed to convince the people of it. He made a poor and defenceless talk, during his who e speech scarsely receiving an apdause. I don't suppose he made any otes for the democratic party at that place. He said in his speech that the national question lay between Cleveland and Harrison, or in substance that We ver would not be elected. About that time it seemed that the "Harrah for W aver fairly rent the air. At the close of his speech dinner was anno med. After dinner Mr. Shuford took the restrum for about two hours, and followed Mr. Henderson on a hot trail, answering all his question satistory to all, I believe.
