CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria" is well adapted to children that are not yet out of the nursing period. It is gentle, and its effect is to regulate the bowels, and to relieve the distress which frequently follows the introduction of solid food into the system.

"The use of 'Castoria' is so universal and its effects are so well known that it seems a waste of space to describe it. Few are the households in which it is not kept. Castoria is a household name."

THE CENTRAL COMPANY, 77 MERRAY STREET, NEW YORK.

TELL IT.
If you have a thought that's good;
If you would be understood;
If there's magic in your soul
Give expression to the whole—
Tell it.
Give your honest thoughts to man,
Who will help you, if he can;
Help you rise from low to high,
Help you live; you cannot die—
Tell them.
Tell them to angel band,
Have them all to understand
What an earnest, happy life
Comes of truth, devotion, strife—
Tell them.
Who can read a hidden soul,
Or help onward to the goal?
What can you be recompensed
For withholding confidence?
Give it.
Who can read another's glance,
If it's tragic, or romantic,
If it's love, or if 'tis hate?
If the truth you would relate,
Tell it.
Know thyself, and become known,
We in life may not atone
For the injuries revealed
By the thoughts that are concealed—
Tell them.
O, sweet interchange of thought!
O, the grandeur that hast wrought
Lying all mankind
In the universe of mind—
Just tell it.

Gov. W. P. Exum.
Democracy in and around Goldsboro is rank poison against Dr. Exum, hence resort to the most unreasonable methods to down him—why, oh why, this sweet essence of democracy so flagrant in its efficacy?

A. Roscow, of the Headlight, sent or caused to be sent out vile and slanderous reports against Dr. Exum, which have been heralded over the State as the prime essence of democracy, without any regard for their correctness.

Monday August 20th, 1892, about 10 o'clock p. m. Dr. Exum and C. S. Wooden were sitting in the back room of the Goldsboro post-office with John R. Smith the postmaster, near the back door, and Mr. Smith, the p. m., stated that A. Roscow passed along as they sat there. Dr. Exum called to Roscow and said, "I understand you said I tried to bribe you?"

Roscow replied, "That is what you did." Dr. Exum replied, "You know it's a lie, you know it's a big lie as ever you told."

Roscow then offered some explanation in reply, and Dr. Exum said, "go out, go away, I don't want any fuss with you, you lying son-of-a-bitch."

This conversation occurred within the back door of the postoffice, not in the presence of any ladies. There is a lady clerk in the postoffice, who states she heard them talking, but did not understand their language.

Roscow at once sued out a warrant and took Dr. Exum before the mayor, who fined him $5.00 and cost; total $7.00, which Dr. Exum paid.

Then Roscow proceeded to telegraph the press as published. Tuesday morning, August 30th, 1892, A. Roscow, of the Headlight, put in appearance before Mr. D. J. Broadhurst, J. P., and county superintendent of the public schools, and made the following affidavit: "W. P. Exum is unwisely and willfully committing perjury before A. B. Holloway, mayor of the City of Goldsboro, N. C., in that he did not call said Exum a lying son-of-a-bitch."

Said A. B. Holloway, mayor of the city of Goldsboro, attorney at law, having authority by law to administer an oath and was at the time of the commission of the above offense trying the said W. P. Exum on the charge of disorderly conduct against the ordinance of said city.

In the afternoon of the same day Roscow with few exceptions. Why? For the reason that he made it — for the effect; except in this latter effect was against Roscow, whereas the circulation of this false charge operated against his superior and was designed for campaign business. Here is found the editor of the Headlight going on record under oath as being guilty of what he charged Dr. Exum with. Dr. Exum swore before the mayor that he did not remember his exact language to Roscow. Other charges are about parallel with these.

Another Pair of Siamese Twins.
That strange freak of nature known as "the Siamese twins" has, it appears, been repeated in Ohio. The "Orissa twins" are described as two little Orissa girls of about five years old. When last heard of, says the London News, they were leaving by steamer for this country on their way to the World's Fair at Chicago. They are, it is stated, firmly joined together and if one is fed both are satisfied. When they were in early infancy at Hoopara, in the interior, the native villagers looked upon them as the incarnation of the devil, and their parents were boycotted by their caste people. The story is that the father's first impulse was to separate them by cutting the sack which joins them together, and the mark made in the attempt is still visible. A wealthy tinsmith, Ketter Naick, the father of the twins, is reported to be now steadily growing rich. The Siamese twins, Chang and Eng, were, it will be remembered, of the male sex. They were born in 1811 and died in America, within two hours of each other, in January, 1874.

Good Looks.
Good looks are more than skin deep, depending upon a healthy condition of all the vital organs. If the Liver be inactive, you have a Bilious Look, if your Stomach be disordered you have a Dyspeptic Look and if your Kidneys be affected you have a Pinched Look. Secure good health and you will have good looks. Electric Bitters is the great alterative and tonic, and acts directly on these vital organs. It cures Pimples, Blisters, Boils and gives a good complexion. Sold at Klutz & Co.'s drug store, 50c. per bottle.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Weaver's Reply to Henderson, of Iowa.
(In the House of Representatives, July 10th, 1892.)
We copy the following speech by General Weaver from the weekly Raleigh News and Observer of August 30th, 1892:

Mr. Weaver: No; I cannot. I will give the gentleman all he wants. I was an ardent opponent of the democratic party during the anti-slavery agitation and the issues that rose out of the war. It relates to the distant past and it is wholly unnecessary. I followed the standard of the republican party because I believed that I was doing it that they were right and were the friends of the poor, the lowly and the downtrodden; but when I learned that the republicanism of 1877 was not the republicanism of 1860; when I found that they had demoralized silver, which had been good enough for everybody from the time of Washington down to the time of General Grant; when I further learned that the republican party had passed the act of January 14th, 1875, to convert the greenbacks into interest bearing debt, and another act to refund the public debt and make it payable in gold coin, thereby robbing the nation of fully $800,000,000 in this single enactment when I found they had given away hundreds of millions of acres of public lands and were making no efforts to reclaim them; when I learned further that they sought to perpetuate the national debt, and intended to make it the chief cornerstone of national banking, and that bank notes were to be substituted for greenbacks as our sole paper circulation, with the monstrous attendant evils of expansion and contraction at the will of the banking corporations, and when I read the speech of John Sherman delivered at Mansfield, O., that such was to be the settled policy of the republican party, I concluded it was time for me to quit.

And although I had been a member of the convention in 1877 that nominated my colleague (Mr. Gear) for governor of Iowa, and had supported him in that convention for the nomination, when I became acquainted with these facts I wrote him an open and frank letter saying that I could no longer act with the republican party. I could not do so because I found they were no longer the friends of the poor, and that while we had emancipated four millions of human beings, they were now, through vicious legislation, pursuing a policy which would, unless arrested, enslave many more million of the white people of this country. The events of the past few years have justified my gravest fears. (Applause on the democratic side.) I left them then and challenged them to open combat, and have never asked for quarter nor struck my colors. I have delivered blow for blow, every trying to keep within the bounds of proper political warfare.

I left the republican party when it had $3,000 majority in Iowa and 4,000 majority in many Congressional districts over all opposition. Does that look like hunting for an office? Does it not rather look like I was following my own convictions? I leave this House to judge of that matter. When I began with the little band of greenbackers to denounce these great wrongs I found the democratic party of the West, which I had so vigorously fought in the past, under the leadership of the gallant gentleman from Missouri (Mr. Bland) and others were leading in the good work of the re-monetization of silver, and they passed a bill through this House for its full and free reinstatement. (Applause on the democratic side.)

I found, furthermore, that when the bill for the free coinage of silver reached the republican Senate they enunciated it, and that a republican Senator from my own State (Mr. Allison) was the gentleman who accompanied the result. Having stabbed every greenback note in the back with word "except," they now sought to send silver forth maimed and crippled, only to be coined in limited quantities, and then only on government account.

I found the democracy of the north-east and of many other sections of the country bitterly opposed to the destruction of the greenback currency and a wicked conversion into interest bearing debt, and early in the winter of 1878 they passed a bill through this House which put a stop to this destruction. The little Peter Cooper greenbackers had aroused the country and many staunch old Jackson and Jefferson democrats rolled up their sleeves and went to work in their own party with the results stated. (Applause on the democratic side.) Many republicans in defiance of their party leaders joined in the good work also. As the battle for equal rights and fair play waxed hot I sought affiliation with the democratic party of my district and State, and we have ever since in my district, and often in the State, co-operated, and we have made it very lively for you from that day to this. And I advise you to keep your eyes open, for there is still more fun ahead. I have never joined the democratic party.

I am a member to-day of the Union-Labor party, into which the greenback party has practically merged, along with some other labor organizations. While it is true that I have never joined the democratic party I have felt it to be my duty to affiliate with that party in this House, in my State, and in my district, whenever it was practicable, through the actions of separate conventions, because I believe the democratic party is nearer to the people than the republican party, and because I find more friends there for the principles which I represent than in any other party outside of my own.

Hopeless, Yet Saved.
From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my friends on earth, I could not stay with them. I was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. It has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at Klutz & Co.'s drug store, regular size, 50c. and $1.00.

SANDERSVILLE, N. C.
There has been some marked changes in the political atmosphere this week. More candidates are now in the field and the weather has changed to accommodate them. On account of my last bulletin the executive committees thought cool weather essential to save their candidates. I find that their tongues are still coated and they are wearing overcoats as they go around hugging the people.

Reports from the central district indicate a good crop of candidates at low prices; fever high and promises numerous. The rainfall has been below the normal and prayers more earnest. Office holders and those wanting office are in a majority. Several correspondents report backsliders reclaimed and many others sliding backwards.

In the eastern district it is reported that one candidate has been arrested for cussing, but one correspondent says he was praying and the weather prognosticators didn't know the difference. Peanuts and cotton are opening rapidly, the cotton from the effects of the sun, peanuts by means of the people's teeth. Corn is pretty good and candidates all fowl of it when staked; fishing good on the coast. A sea serpent three miles long was seen near Beaufort.

In the Piedmont district, including Rowan, candidates are pretty thick; politics red hot; turnips and moonshine distilleries in full blast, especially in Davie and Wilkes. New brandy is being put up in its work and black eyes are worn by members of all parties.

Western district is all right. Two candidates to each voter, and still they come. Brandy distilleries are in running order and no revenue officers invited; several candidates are running for fun, others for money. The prospect for winter apples is pretty good; snakes are hunting their dens and bears are turning over for a fresh rag; rainfall 4.91; wind blowing first one way and then another; plenty of horses and cattle, but no money to buy them with; either eye can be worn tied up in a rag with a postiche.

From all correspondents I learn that the outlook is good and getting better. Many candidates will not be elected, but it will be because the people do not want them. There is a disposition on the part of many voters to vote as they please, but they are afraid to. No man ought to do as he pleases. Consult your wife and then do what she says. My old lady has often told me that, and I never fail to take her advice, whether I want to or not.
Love to all,
JAKE WARNER.

Manitig.
Correspondence of the Watchman.
Mr. Editor:—I again ask space in your valuable paper for a few remarks. The people of this neighborhood are having quite a lively time. The people's party men are wide awake and are showing their hand whenever they see proper, and wherever two or three (composed of straight 's' and people's party men) are gathered together, politics becomes very interesting, and two cases out of every three the people's party men gain the day.

On the night of the 17th of August Hon. J. S. Henderson and Bro. A. C. Shuford, candidates for Congress, had a joint discussion at the Kephley school house. Mr. Henderson spoke an hour but made no impression whatever upon his audience. Mr. Shuford then took the floor and after stating the people's needs and the financial condition of our country and what the democrats with 115 majority could have done if they had tried, and because they did not have 149 majority they could not pass the free coinage bill. Then the House went wild with applause. Mr. Shuford is an excellent speaker and wins many friends wherever he goes. At the close Mr. Henderson said with a plying voice, "gentlemen, I ask your votes on the 8th of November next," but he made no impression. But we will press forward with unwavering feet and vote for Bro. A. C. Shuford.

On Friday, August 19th, Hon. Lee S. Overman and James H. McKenzie addressed the people of this neighborhood at Salem Academy. I did not bear the addresses, but understand that Mr. Overman abused the people's party and the men who will vote for it, and therefore we gained no friends out side of "straitlouts." Mr. McKenzie then took the stump and said he wanted to speak to his brothers, but circumstances would not permit them to present. So he blundered away and said he was going to the legislature anyhow. If Mr. McKenzie goes to Raleigh the people will never find it out.

False Reports.
Correspondence of the Watchman.
Whatever may be the strength of the people's party, there is one thing certain, viz: that they have been the indirect cause of more downright unblinking, unmitigated and un-crookedness on the part of the democrats than they ever did before. Two notable instances are the reports of two meetings held here (Thomasville) on the 18th of August at the appointment of Jarvis and Kerr, at which democratic papers said there were 600 or more present. Very enthusiastic. The truth says there were 155 in all, 101 of which were people's party, 27 republicans and 27 democrats, two of which were under age. The primary opened at the close of Jarvis' speech and they had just 27, all told, two under age.

Again at the Alliance picnic which was held at Thomasville on August 26th, the democratic reports of that were deliberate falsehoods. It was strictly a people's party affair, the speakers were specially invited and spoke to please. There were not less than 2,000 people present, 85 per cent. of whom were people's party men. Every democrat at the ground could be easily detected by his long face. Again they say Dr. Massie abused and slandered the democratic party. Mr. Massie said nothing of the democratic party that is not a matter of history. The very history they made in the last Congress where they had a majority of 118 and actually spent $3 million dollars more than all the tariff and revenue combined (of the McKinley tariff) collected in one year, and yet they say they are going to modify the tariff sufficient to restore our people to a healthy condition of finances. There seems to be nothing under the Heaven that they do not promise and do nothing they ever fulfilled. As to slandering them, it is simply an impossibility. In fact, General Weaver is about the only man that has been able to express anything like their true character. Let them say what they please; Davidson county is good for a full people's party ticket in spite of all their lying and bull-dozing.
