LEONANIE.

Leonanie-angels named her. And they took the light Of the laughing stars, and framed her In a suit of white, And they made her hair of gloomy Midnight, and her eyes of glowing Moonshine, and they brought her to In the silent night.

In a solemu night of summer, When my heart of gloom Blossomed up to greet the comer -Like a rose in bloom; All forchodings that distress'd me I forgot as joy caressed me, Lying joy that caught and pressed me In the arms of doom.

Only spake the little lisper In the angel's tongue, Yet I listened heard her whisper. "Songs are only sung Here below that they may grieve you, Tales are told you to deceive you-So must Leonanie leave you While her love is young."

Then God smiled and it was morning, Matchless and supreme, Heaven's glory seemed adorning Earth with its esteem. Every heart but mine seem'd gifted With the voice of prayer, and lifted Where my Leonanie dritted From me, a like dream. -J. Whitcombe Riley.

A Diffused Wedding Party.

Hardie, of Fort Bowie, and Miss Hatie Quinn were married by telegraph a few days ago. The would-be brile arrived at Bowie, and, naturally being anxious to have the knot tied at the ime set, the contracting parties went forth to secure the services of some one authorized to perform such a ceremony. They were startled to find that there was no one at the post who could act. Their minds were soon relieved by the telegraph operator telling them they could be married by telegraph, and offering to perfect the arrangements, which offer, of course, was accepted. Rev. Brant C. Hammond, post chaplian of Fort Apache, 275 miles away, performed the ceremony. The operators at San Carlos, 225 miles away, acted as witness. All the customary questions were asked and answered over the wire.
