

Carolina Watchman. CITY AND COUNTY.

Local Editor. THURSDAY, OCT. 6, 1892.

Prayer meeting to-night at the Baptist church.

Advertising is the long pole which backs the persimmon.

The best, the most, the purest at Simons' store.

Among the fall styles of sticks the polo club seems to be the most popular.

The recurrence of the Lord's Supper was celebrated at the Baptist church Sunday.

Commitment of the Y. M. C. A. Thursday night. A full attendance is expected.

Furniture is going fast; don't fail to take advantage of the low prices at Geo. W. Wright's.

Improvements are being made at the depot in the shape of a new platform on the W. N. C. side of the depot.

Mr. R. V. Miller, Gen'l Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of this place returned from Asheville Monday night.

Plans and organs at factory prices on any terms at Geo. W. Wright's Furniture House.

Work will soon be commenced on laying out a road from Woodleaf to the new Rockville road in Franklin.

Now is the time to renew. Your name will be dropped off if not attended to. Bring in a club with your own name.

A Rev. Mr. Crocker was crossing the railroad at J. Weston when the vestibule ran into his buggy, instantly killing him.

There were no services in the Methodist church Sunday morning or night. Dr. Leith, the pastor being down with malaria.

The Rowan County Alliance will meet in the Floral Hall at the Fair grounds on the 12th of October, 1892. S. A. Earnhardt, President.

Our readers are asked to read the advertisements and patronize the men who advertise. Those who do not may not wish customers.

A committee appointed for the purpose met and drew up a new church covenant for the Baptist church last Saturday afternoon.

Mr. C. Quinn has been appointed registrar in North Ward in place of Mr. T. H. Vandenberg, who cannot serve on account of ill-health.

The celebrated scarf has passed away and the latest is made from a broad band of some delicate tinted ribbon. Well, Alas!—Yes, we wear scarfs.

Dr. W. H. Wakefield will be in Salisbury, at Mr. Vernon Hotel on Thursday October 29th for one day only—Practice limited to eye, ear, nose and throat.

Capt. J. A. Ramsay, under the direction of Postmaster General Wamamaker has just finished a tour of inspection of the post-offices throughout Rowan county.

Gov. T. H. Holt, who was to have addressed the people of Salisbury Saturday, Oct. 8th, has cancelled all his appointments on account of his brother's death.

A pantomime farce comedy entitled "Kajanka" will be presented at the opera house Friday night. The press all over the country speak of it in the most glowing terms.

Hon. E. B. Glenn addressed the people of Salisbury in the court house Monday night. Bonfires were made. A good deal of enthusiasm was shown, but perhaps that was all.

Mr. A. C. Shuford, the people's party candidate for Congress gave us a pleasant call last Saturday. He reports cheerful prospects from Stanley, where he has been speaking.

Piedmont Alliance Fair opened Tuesday. The crowd was not very large. There were horse and bicycle races. The Filigree Cornet Band, we hear, is to furnish the music.

Some of our friends are inclined to put too much partisan matter in their letters. We are always glad to hear from you, but please do not make your letters of festivity partisan. This is not a party organ.

Two more liquor licenses were granted at the commissioners meeting Monday. It was bad enough before, when a lady could not go to her destination without crossing and re-crossing the street, but now what will it be?

The directors of the fair received a letter from a sharper North offering them $500 for the privilege of putting games of chance and having complete control of same, but we are glad to note that the directors promptly refused.

Rumor has it that Mr. J. B. Sheets, who has been on a "tare" quite recently tried to commit suicide last Friday evening. The suicidal intent is denied however, it is claimed that he shot at a plank and that the bullet glanced and hit him.

Mr. W. R. Gale, Assistant State Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. will spend Sunday in Salisbury, and will conduct services at the hall Sunday afternoon. Mr. Gale is working up the district convention, which meets in Shelby the 14 to 16, 1892.

The coming of winter, with its train of ickness has brought many people in contact with Simons' "The Largest" for the first time. Such an acquaintance seems always productive of a confidence between the druggist and purchaser, which is a hard thing to disturb.

Messrs. Holmes & Miller have received an order from a firm in Bremen, Germany, for a large lot of tobacco stems. The stems are boiled and a wash is made which cures the sheep of scab. The freight charges on 1500 pounds to Bremen is only $850.

Monday night a man hurried for Weaver and quite a crowd of boys started after him, but he hid. We could not see a sign of a policeman during all this. We must say that such is a shame for any civilized community, and it is fit only for savages.

Mr. R. P. Mayo went up to Hickory last week to attend the death bed of his granddaughter Nellie, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Colling. Nellie was about five years old. The immediate cause of her death was a hemorrhage brought on by diphtheria. Mrs. Collins has another daughter down with diphtheria.

Cards are out for the marriage of Mr. W. Huff, of Raleigh, to Miss Julia Evelyn Graham, daughter of Maj. W. A. Graham, of Lincoln county. Mr. Huff is the superintendent of the street railway in Raleigh, and is a very popular gentleman.

No sir, we never refuse wedding cake when it is sent in.

The Richmond & Danville Railroad will sell tickets to the Alliance County Fair at Burlington, N. C., and return at following rates from points named: Tickets on sale October 10th to 14 inclusive, limited returning October 16th, '92. From Raleigh $1.20; Henderson, $1.60; Durham, $5.25; Greensboro, $5.25; Winston-Salem, $1.40; Salisbury, $1.50. Rates from intermediate points in same proportion.

Last Thursday night the usual quiet of Salisbury was disturbed by the cries of fire and hastening down we found that Mr. A. A. Shepherd's house was on fire. The loss company did as well as they could under the circumstances, but there was no order, and everybody there acted as captain. We need a better drilled fire company and a captain with as much authority as is usually vested in the captain of a fire company, and who will use it.

The Richmond & Danville Railroad will sell tickets to North Carolina State Agricultural Fair, Raleigh, N. C. and return at following rates from points named: Tickets include one admission to Fair Grounds, and must be stamped by proper agent at the Fair grounds before being valid for return passage. Charlotte, $4.10; Concord, $3.70; Salisbury, $2.10; High Point, $2.50; Greensboro, $2.10; Burlington, $1.70; Durham, $1.50; Selma, $1.30; Goldsboro, $1.30; Oxford, $1.70; Lincolnton, $1.30; Asheville, $5.10; Marion, $5.10; Statesville, $3.70; Winston-Salem, $2.70; Wilkesboro, $4.30; Kerns Hill, $2.70; Reidsville, $2.70. Rates from intermediate points in same proportion. Dates of sale, October 17th to 21st, inclusive; limited, returning, October 25th, 1892.

Mr. Field, People's Party nominee for Vice-President spoke here last Friday to a large and enthusiastic crowd of people. A procession was formed and marched down Main street out to Harrison grove. There were about 75 vehicles in the procession, by actual count at the grounds, and there were about 24 horsemen. It was rumored that the man who had the flag would not be allowed to carry it through the streets, but he carried it just the same, and no one tried to molest him. Marion Butler was the first speaker, and was cheered repeatedly. Then Mr. Field spoke. He asked who had voted for Gen'l. Weaver when he ran on the Greenback ticket to stand up, and but two stood up, but when he asked for all those who would vote for him on the people's party ticket to stand up, about the whole crowd rose.

DeWany Academy. Correspondence of Watchman.

Gathering corn and sowing wheat will soon come into time.

Work on the new Methodist parsonage is in progress now.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Poole are spending a month in Salisbury county.

Mrs. David D. Holsinger has returned from the health giving breezes of Blowing rock much improved in her health.

Elm Grove alliance ordered about $20 worth of guano this week from State business agent, Worth.

Mr. A. A. Lester gained his first bale of new cotton last Friday. He will not begin much this year, owing to the shortage of the crop.

The creamery is still progressing but slow. None of our farmers are furnishing milk. They say the price is too low and they will not afford to do so.

The Antislavery Society will have a public debate at the academy on Friday night. Question: "Resolved, that all intoxicating drinks should be prohibited, wine excluded."

The democrats have at last succeeded in raising their flag at Wood Hill. They hosted a 170 foot pole last Thursday and it took about all the Cleveland men they had to do it for they are not very peculiar in this stripe.

The Gou Hill lane is still moving along in its usual quiet way. From ten to fifteen hands only have employment now. Reports are out to the effect that she will get another "boom" at an early day. A Mr. Woodrope, of London, England, who has been informed, will soon arrive, who will inspect the mine.

The summer term of DeWany academy closes next Friday, September 30th. There will be a vacation of one month; after which the second term opens and will continue for five months. Only three students from other districts have been secured so far; but indications are that there will be quite a number in attendance this winter. Among other advantages, a well organized society has been given up recently, which gives ample opportunity for improvement in expository and discussion, and for doing in parliamentary forms and their uses. And furthermore, the building is to be enlarged, probably at once. Principal Woodrope will do a little of the attending during vacation we think. C. LEVY.

Gov. Holt to-day appointed S. P. Kuehlaud, of Iredell county, a notary public.

Four Presidential electors on the Democratic ticket in Mississippi have resigned and joined the people's party.

Are 58,000,000 brave white men afraid of 7,000,000 blacks ruling them? Say, Bud, ask the old soldiers that question.

A solid South means practically a solid North. In that event the odds are overwhelmingly against the South.—Christian Advocate.

"The force bill and the tariff of course will play their part. The more ignorant the voters are, of course, the more these questions will stir them, especially the force bill.

Mr. Rufus Smith, a well known farmer of Lodo was stuck by an engine on the Air Line road yesterday morning about 2:30 o'clock, and received injuries from which he will die.

Butt's panorama tent has been pitched in Huntersville this week, and loafers are happy. They get out in the shade with their mouths open and look at it until the sun dries them away.

Mecklenburg County Alliance meets with Hopewell Alliance on Tuesday the 13th day of October at 10 o'clock. Sub-Alliances will take due notice and govern themselves accordingly.

We saw Mr. W. J. Craig, of Morning Star township, in the street this week retarding homemade syrup at forty-five cents per gallon. He informed us that he had about 1,500 gallons on hand.

Rotten eggging and calling honest people goats, ignoramuses, blockheads, cranks, fools, weakminded and such contemptible cowardly epithets will advance your cause rather slow, gentlemen.

So long as there is a "barrel" the g. o. p's will not despair. So long as people love personal gain more than country or humanity, the g. o. p's will make use of the barrel in politics.—Tulsa Citizen.

The democratic county commissioners of Mecklenburg have appointed seven negro judges for Charlotte township. The whites are scared and are hiding out. Go to Georgia and get the egg company.

"I am one of those who believe that the force bill only exists in the minds of a few rabid republicans, and in the mind of editor Dana and many campaign orators who but for that would be out of ammunition, sky rockets and firecrackers.—Sam Jones.

We see Messrs. McDowell and Harris will go to Gilead church next Friday to tell the dear old farmers how they should guide the plow and which cow gives the better milk. They will be met with deaf as usual. It is a light job, or has been so far, to refute their arguments.

There was a grand rally of people party men at Pine Grove last Friday night. Messrs. Gibson and Ford, two of next legislators from this county were present and made good speeches. Mr. Hugh Harris shelled a white, but it fell like water on ducks backs. I did not know which one of the boys he was when they let up on him.

It is a very shrewd business measure for both old parties to be running the Government printing office and folding room through the entire summer at extra pressure, to get out their election buncombe. But it has some—well, some rather depressing features. Who pays the bill?—Exchange.

One of the most hopeful political signs is the disruption going on in the ranks of the two old parties. The people's party and the mugwump tendency are causing both of the old parties to lose thousands of their best men and neither party is in any respect so solid or enthusiastic as four years ago.—Sam Jones.

One of the county magistrates was in our den last Saturday, and in conversation remarked that it was rather unpleasant for him to ride 13 miles to transact some important business with a county official and find him out of the city leeching, and no one to act for him. But a farmer is a small potato. It will not hurt him to ride 26 miles for nothing. Time is plenty.

Hickory Grove neighborhood is holiday. A protracted democratic meeting is in progress. It is intended that it will continue from day to day during the fall season, unless they can get one convert. If they should do that it will close, judging from what a democratic brother from that place told us last Saturday. The chances are slim. He said that one of the speeches made last Friday night had damaged their cause.

The farmers of Mecklenburg county are no longer a great body of unthinking innocent sort of folks placing, implicit faith in political guardians, no longer like dumb driven cattle under the party whip, rounded up to the polls and voted. They are now organized thinking, intelligent, hard students of political economy; are learning their rights, and knowing, do maintain, notwithstanding there is men in the country that are depending on them for every morsel they eat, will call them goats, fools, soreheads, cranks, and will, and have already exhausted their energies hunting something meaner to say about them.

The county commissioners met in regular monthly session Monday. The only important business transacted was the appointing of judges of the November election. This occupied some time and left little margin of time for other business. The appointments for some parts of the county are daisies. The people's party were ignored, only where they could not help themselves. In Charlotte they appointed for the republicans one white man and seven negroes, three of whom cannot read nor write. Run and get the force bill.

Ruralist (South Dakota) says: One dollar of every sixty in the United States was appropriated for Government expenses in the Fifty-first Congress when the Republicans had a majority. One-sixth of the wealth of this nation was justly appropriated by the Fifty-second Congress, now adjourned, which was overwhelmingly democratic. Is there not a cause for unusual interest which the people are taking in governmental affairs? Is it possible that the washerwoman must work one week in the year to pay her share of the appropriation of the last Congress.

"Alexander Hamilton said: 'To annu the use of either of the metals as money is to abridge the quantity of circulating medium and is liable to all objections which arise from a comparison of the benefits of a full with evils of a scanty circulation.' (1791)

"Thomas Jefferson endorsed this view, saying: 'I return you the report of the mint. I concur with you that the mint must stand on both metals.' (1792.)

"M. Rowland, Government Bank of France, said: 'The two metals have actually co-existed since the origin of human society. They coexist because the two are necessary, by their quantity, to meet the needs of circulation.'

Mr. Cleveland, in a letter to the Constitution clearing up the false tales about him, his wife, Miss Winnie Davis and Fred Douglas, says there is no truth in them except when Frederick Douglass was in public office in Washington City. He is president of the United States extended to him the same courtesies, so far as public receptions and matters of that kind are concerned, which were extended to other officials of the same grade. Of course that is all we said. He was the only man of that grade there. They only have one register in Washington at one time, and when Frederick went out Mr. Cleveland put another negro in to be of the same grade as Frederick only he was blacker. Of course there was nothing wrong except Frederick and his wife were not at Mr. Cleveland's reception. That is all there is in it.

Some Pertinent Questions. We find the following going rounds of the Reform press, credited to an exchange. We regret we do not know the author, as we should like to have given him proper credit. The questions are framed for farmers, but with slight change they will fit the case of workers or miners, or, for that matter, any of the workers in the great human host:

One door in Vanderbilt's mansion cost $50,000. What did yours cost? Don't own any. Don't own any house? No. Forty-six years old? Yes. Helped your father support a big family? 'Till you were twenty-one? Yes. Then you married and rented a farm? Yes. Only two children? That is all. Don't use whiskey or beer? No. Never loafed around town? No. Always been industrious? Yes. Worth only $300 or 400? That's all. No more sickness than the average family? No. Have done the best you could? Yes. Have raised piles of grain, hay and stock? Yes. Took all your share to live? No. Ever expect to have much more? No. Got rheumatism? Yes. Wife work hard, too? Yes. Ever been to Europe? No. Ever been to the seashore? No. Never spent $20 in car fare in my life. Lived high? No. Used barrels of sorghum. What have you done with your money? Never had but little. Got any money at interest? Not a cent. What is the reason you have not done better? I suppose it is on account of the tariff. What makes you think so? Because everybody says so. Did you ever do any right hard thinking why you are no better off? No, to confess the truth I have not. I took it for granted that what everybody said must be about right. Did it ever occur to you that the man with the $50,000 door don't want any thing discussed in this campaign except tariff? No. Well he doesn't; and if he can keep the people from saying anything against the railroads he will have a $100,000 door in the next house he builds.

The man who reported to the Observer that he saw Richard Rizer and M. L. Clanton at a meeting in Mr. Brady's private office last Saturday is a more malicious liar than old Ananias, was Ananias was trying to save some money and the other fellow lied for nothing and done it on a credit of 20 days. He would make a good captain for a rotten egg battalion. Can't you get up one and commission him?

Sevierville Letter. Correspondence of the Watchman.

MR. EDITOR—On Friday evening I swooped down on the city of Sevierville and learning there would be a meeting of the "P. P." club I passed the following, resolved that we will be at said meeting. Accordingly we repaired to the vicinity of the club room as soon as it was dark enough to hide our identity. The chair was calling the club to order when we arrived. We found that speaking was the program. A Mr. Little was introduced. He spoke for 45 minutes on the evils of democratic misrule, commencing with the Charleston convention of 1860 down to the present day. He spoke forcibly and to the point leaving no doubt in the minds of his hearers that the democratic party has been guilty of deceiving the masses while it has advanced the interest of the rich classes. The next speaker, a Mr. Gibson dwelt at length on class legislation. Said he could not see why a merchant should be favored by the reform movement as the laboring man paid for all improvement. That if the tax was levied on the merchant he put a per cent on his goods to cover all expenses, taxes included, and the laborer paid it all, for if the merchant did not sell his goods he could not pay his taxes. A Mr. Soperley was then called out who proved by history and newspaper report that the democratic tariff thunders was a myth and impracticable until money was raised in some other way to pay the expenses of the government. He charged Grover with favoring the force bill in Tennessee in 1888. Mr. Stuart was called out and asked to speak. Mr. Harris spoke for thirty minutes. Couldn't tell where he stood. His tongue was not half as slick as his face. Mr. S. J. Biggers a retired merchant of Huckleberry farm made the last talk. Could not tell whether he was a democrat or a republican but don't think he wants much reform. Said he is living off his accumulation as a retired plutocrat and don't feel the scarcity of money. You will hear from me again soon. Lovingly, TIM TEAZLER.

From Concord. Correspondence of the Watchman.

This thriving little village is situated six miles above Sevierville, on the line of the Great Northern, and is destined to become a town in the near future, anyway if names have anything to do with the destiny of a place. It is known as Concord Church, Fancy Hill Postoffice and Iredell Station. It now has about 60 inhabitants of the best people in our county and as a certain proof of the latter fact only for if it had the people there and in the surrounding community believe in education as is demonstrated by the school they support in their village.

This school is under the care of two of our best teachers,—Prof. Burk and Tenister. To prove that they are the right men in the right place one only has to see the school as was the pleasure of your correspondent a few days ago, and hear the name they get as instructors in the community. Prof. Burk is such an old and well known teacher that it is useless to say he understands his business. He has charge of the higher work in the school and handles his work with such ease and familiarity as to cause one, who knows so little, to wonder how a man can ever learn so much and learn it so well.

Prof. Fenister is a young man of about twenty-six summers and to see with what zeal and aptness he executes the primary work and governs his school with such ease and familiarity as to cause one, who knows so little, to wonder how a man can ever learn so much and learn it so well.

Verily it is a good thing in a good place and any one having boys or girls to prepare for life or college can do no better than send them here.

Here they have a Presbyterian church with a large membership and Rev. Mr. Presley as pastor.

While in the village we had the pleasure of spending the night with Mr. W. B. Gibson, candidate for sheriff on the people's party ticket in our county and he ought to be elected. He is a christian, hospitable, kind and business like man in every respect. He is jubilant over his prospects and does not expect to buy any votes with whiskey or any other way. He is strictly a temperance man and that should be a consideration for every christian man when he goes to cast his vote.

We were told that the woods about there is full of people's partyites.

Before closing we would like to say to your correspondent of "Seventeen summers" that we can furnish him two of the fair sex of the desired age, one with long dark flowing hair, the other's not so dark nor long, both with nice wavy, sweet smiles, pretty faces, good hearts, intelligent, and which to be possessed would be a jewel to any man. If he would be a jewel to any man, if he wishes names or other information, address: J. HENRY, N. C.

If weeds are mown when they are at all approaching ripeness, they are the safe way to dispose of them is to burn them up. If the seeds have already formed they will ripen sufficiently to germinate, and so reseed themselves. If this is to be permitted it would be just as well to let them ripen upon the stalk, and to save the labor of cutting. To prove the truth of this, go out and examine the patch of weeds that you have mown down in late summer, and after they have had a day or two you will find many ripe seeds. Another proof may be found in our practice with wheat, which is so often cut when in the dough stage and without any injury to its power of germination.

Mint Hill, N. C.

Correspondence of Watchman.

MR. EDITOR—As I have not seen any thing from this part of the union in your valuable paper for some time, I will drop a word. About all we have here is a scarcity of money, cheap cotton, and cheaper politicians. We had a joint discussion at Hiram's store Saturday the 24th. The contestants were W. C. Steele and N. G. Quinn, people's party candidates for the Legislature, and Hugh Harris, and F. B. McDowell, candidates for the legislature on the so-called democratic ticket. He gave us a good talk on the issues that is before the country. His speech was well received. Mr. McDowell came next and talked for one hour. He tried to tell us what was the matter with our government. He talked utterly to give any remedy, or stick to the democratic party, and that has become very thin. He said he would not say anything behind a man's back that would hurt him, but he devoted part of his time trying to abuse Capt. L. V. Vail, who was not there, and sure enough he did not hurt anybody, for the boys were hurraing for Vail while he was trying to abuse him.

The next speaker was Hugh Harris. He made as good a speech as the party he represents would justify. He made some friends but no converts. Neither of the democrats made any votes for the party. Last but not least was W. C. Steele, who went the crowd for one and a half hours, and he literally mopped up the ear with McDowell. He did not leave anything out a greasy spot, just as we expect to do on the eighth of November with the whole lot. We see that the crowd of the round head papers of Charleston are going to see a dozen of the crowd was Exam goats. They will think out or about the eighth of next November that they are no goats with horns.

A VOTER OF THE WEAVER TICKET.

Sullivan Will Try It Again. New York Oct. 3.—A special to the World from Boston says that John L. Sullivan has startled his friends in that city by announcing his intention to challenge Corbett to fight again. In an interview he said: "I am saving myself now with resolute determination to challenge Corbett to fight again. And give me a chance to win back the money that was robbed from me in New Orleans. There was something wrong. I am not making any direct charges just now, but that I was not right. I will know. After the first round I could see a dozen of Corbett's, and, as good as man as Corbett is, I don't believe he nor anyone else living can stand up and fight me twenty-one rounds without being hit. There is a scheme foot to break what seemed to the pool room men a dead sure combination and I was selected to be thrown down."

What Lovely Suits at Such Low Prices.

Is a favorite expression with those who have looked through our Month Stock of Fall Clothing. The praise for Late Style, Good Quality and LOW PRICES, evidently belongs to us—at least, that is what our many customers tell us. And why should they unless they thought so? The truth is, we are showing the most attractive line of Males' Apparel offered to Rowan and adjoining counties. We study your wants and needs; hence we make your interest, ours and ours, yours. We buy direct from "Manufacturers" and save from ten to twenty-five per cent. that small buyers have to pay who can buy only from "Jobbers." Again, we buy for "CASH" for Two Large Firms" in large quantities, which gives us another "Side Figure." If you will stop to figure our saving on our entire purchases, you will be surprised at the amount. All this, we give to our customers, for we sell as we buy—CHEAP.
