The WATCHMAN is organ of the Alliance in the 5th and 7th Congressional Districts.

The WATCHMAN has 50 per cent more circulation than any paper published in Salisbury.

WAIT until the legislature meets and see if they don't make the splinters fly.

Every man thinks he is right and that his neighbor is wrong. Perhaps both are wrong sometimes.

The little town of Bluefield, W. Va. had three murders and a lynching all inside of three days recently.

A STRONG effort is being made to prohibit immigration to this country for twelve months at least.

The Opham Globe's account of the prize fight between Daniels and Hollowman was one of the funniest things that has been seen since the election.

The city of Chicago has three hundred and thirty-eight millionaires. Most of them made it on the Grin Exchange, yet some people say dealing in future's benefits the farmers.

JAY Gould, the wizard of Wall Street, is dead, but his money and railroad stocks and bonds still exist.

A BOOL trust was organized at Chicago last week. A school book trust has existed for several months.

TRAIN-ROBBERING is getting to be as much a business as office-seeking.

For his speech before the Reform Club in New York recently Mr. Cleveland did not commit himself on any particular issue.

THE promoters of the Nicaragua canal are buying their wires to get the government to issue $100,000,000 worth of bonds to aid in its construction.

ATTEND YOUR MEETINGS. The attendance at Alliance meetings in winter is like the attendance at church and Sunday School during the same season.

THE SILVER DOLLAR. A writer in the Twentieth Century who is wearing a number 8 has had this to say of the silver issue:

put this new development. When the Carnegie Company reduced the wages of their workmen a majority of our people sympathized with the workmen.

RATHER EMPHATIC. The New York Herald of the 12th has this emphatic language about the silver question:

The farcial character of the Brussels Conference has been demonstrated. Apparently the only purpose of our British cousins in attending it was to secure if possible some sort of pledge that this country would go on jacking-up the burden so as to give them time to get their house in order.

Why should even the silver barons protest against the demand of the American people that the law must be repealed, and without delay?

A Bank Cashier Takes His L. The Richmond Dispatch gives the following account of the suicide of Cashier Woodbridge:

He stood in front of a mirror and had dressed himself of all of his clothing except those next to his skin.

Mis. Woodbridge and her sister were out from home at the time of the tragedy, but returned in a few moments and the house was soon besieged by neighborhood people and passers-by.

At this writing it is not known why he committed the rash act.

Left Alone to Starve. New York, December 10.—Last evening a young woman giving the name of Lizzie Miller, was discovered lying on a lumber yard on E. 12th street.

There was a man in town Tuesday who asserted positively that he had a chicken at home that weighed twenty-five pounds.

Two wild turkeys were captured on the streets here Saturday eve.

A startling story comes from Home-ville, Pa., the scene of the recent great strike in the Carnegie steel works.

A darkey of Morning Star township sold a bale of cotton in Charlotte this morning, and on being paid for it went to the lot rear of the Charlotte Hotel.

A fire broke out in Statesville last Saturday that burned four stores, all brick buildings.

The Statesville Fire. A fire broke out in Statesville last Saturday that burned four stores, all brick buildings.
