THE BAD INFLUENCE OF SOME TRIALS.

The Legislature might wisely, judiciously, honestly make a change in the matter says the Wilmington Messenger, of excluding persons of a given age or under from certain trials before courts and investigations. There is a vast of amount of corrupting influence in the large papers that report and iliustrate the trials of sa d's in the Northern courts That is indeed viced into families and laid before ingen uous youth, and especially pure maidens. Mr. Blaine's old desk says an exchange, in the Senate is now occupied by Senator Tale, who was one of the dead Statesman's closest friends. This desk, like many others in the Senate, is now fa mous. Take the desk of Senator Cock rell, for instance. It used to be the desk at which Jeff Dayis sat when he repre sented Mississippi in the Senate from 848 to 1861. During the war some of the oldiers quartered in the capitol learned his fact, and they made a raid upon i with their bayonets- They were attempt ng to demolish it when an official of the senate hurried to its rescue.

"What are you doing?" he asked of the ingry miliatiamen.

"Breaking up Jeff Davis' desk," they answered, as they made another tab with their bayonets.

"It is not Jeff Davis' desk, was the inswer. "It is the property of the gov ernment, and if you don't stop d-d quick you will go to jail."

Then the soldiers ceased, but to-day ugly holes made by the bayonets in the polished mahogany tell a mute but eloment story of the passions of 1861.
