CITY AND COUNTY.

All the Best News in Rowan and Vicinity.

THURSDAY, FEB. 9, 1893.

136 years ago the first newspaper in the United States was printed.

Snow is reported as being 10 feet deep out West and the thermometer plays from 30 to 40 degrees below zero.

Mr. George R. Bell, the popular clerk of the Mt. Vernon hotel, is now having a tussle with the grip.

Rev. Lee Crawford occupied the pulpit of the M. E. church in this city last Sunday 11 o'clock, a. m.

Mr. William Howard has been elected superintendent of the force of convicts to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. R. S. Brown.

The county commissioners have postponed action in regard to building a fence around the court house until the first Monday in March.

Mr. T. W. Earnhardt, furniture dealer of this city, died Thursday morning of last week. Mr. Earnhardt was sick only about one week.

Last Sunday it snowed until the ground was covered with a thin coat; then it began to rain and freeze and Monday morning the trees were icy.

AGENTS WANTED.—Outfit free. From $20 to $100 weekly regularly earned by our salesmen. P. O. Box 1371, New York.

State Lecturer of the Alliance, J. S. Bell, publishes an article in the State Chronicle as to the status of the Alliance that is interesting reading.

The Directors of the Piedmont Alliance Fair will meet in Salisbury next Saturday, Feb. 11th. A full attendance is requested. By order of the President.

Mr. W. L. Klutz, chairman of the board of county commissioners, and who has been on the sick list for several days, is, we are glad to state, able to be up and out again.

An iron fence around the court house and jail is being clamored for by some of our citizens, so says the Herald. Iron will cost more than wood, but it would look better and be made more durable.

January, 1893 was a fatal month in high circles. It records the death of Ex-President Hayes, Gen. Butler, Gen. Bartlett, Senator Kenna, Justice Lamar, Bishop Brooks and Ex-Secretary Blaine.

MAD DOGS.—Mr. T. J. W. Brown on Monday killed an Irish setter of his own account of its being mad. Other dogs since then are reported as being mad. People would do well to keep on the lookout. There are a great many more dogs in this country than are profitable anyway.

It is now about settled that President Cleveland will give Gen. Wade Hampton, of South Carolina some good appointment. General Hampton is worthy of any office within the gift of the American people.

The advance in the price of bacon has been rapid. It's got so high we can hardly reach it. We advise our farmers to raise all the hogs, sheep, poultry, etc. they possibly can. There is nothing like raising your supplies at home.

Dr. J. B. Council left last Monday for his old home, Boone, Watauga county. He will be absent about two weeks. He has gone to be present at the wedding of his sister, Miss Emma Council, who was married last Wednesday morning to Mr. James P. Taylor, a native North Carolinian, but now a resident of Honduras.

Rev. N. S. Jones, the gifted and popular pastor of the Baptist church in this city left last Monday for Evergreen, Alabama. Mr. Jones' errand was an interesting one as it will be tedious to the state of Single Blessedness. His marriage to Miss Mamie Talafro, of Evergreen, as announced, took place Tuesday evening 4:30 o'clock.

Last Thursday Toby Lentz, a little pupil of the graded school met with a painful blow on his forehead. The boys were playing ball. The little fellow came up unnoticed and received the full force of the bat. He was knocked down and his head was severely cut. It was all accidental, but indeed it was a narrow escape.

It is the expressed opinion of a good many people, farmers and others, that the severe cold weather of this winter will insure bountiful crops next summer—that bugs, worms and other insects that so often play havoc with growing truck will be frozen to death, or in other words be relegated to that country from whence the "whangdoodle mourneth."

Mr. T. B. Wyatt, formerly a merchant of Wadesboro, was in the city last week casting about with a view to locating here in business. Mr. Wyatt was en route for New York to purchase a stock of goods and he will either open up here or at Wadesboro. We hope that Mr. Wyatt will decide to east his lot among the Salisburyans. This is a live city but "the more the merrier."

As will be seen by a card elsewhere in this paper, the Watchman and its entire outfit has been purchased by Mr. John McKenzie, of the Norwood Vidette, and Mr. Charlie Bruner, of China Grove. The first issue of the paper under its new management will appear Feb. 23rd. It will be Democratic. The local editor who has been chief cook and bottle washer for the past three months wishes the new purchasers much success in their new enterprise.

A recent dispatch from Frankfort, Ky., says: Washington Lindsey will be sent to Washington as the successor of J. G. Carlisle. The new Senator is almost as large as David Davis. He is a typical Kentuckian in manners and appearance and about 15 years of age, a lawyer by profession, served on the state supreme bench, and has been for years a State Senator, as well as Kentucky's commissioner to the World's Fair. Four months ago President Harrison tendered him to the position of interstate commerce commissioner, an office which he declined.

FROM MOORESVILLE.

The weather of the past week seems to have moderated some, and it looks as if spring had opened again. Our farmers will soon commence making preparations for another crop, and may they reap a rich reward for their labor.

Wheat is looking very well—oats was injured somewhat by the late cold snap.

Messrs. N. C. and E. O. Neil, two young boys of this community, left last week for the Lone Star State of Texas, where they think of locating for the future.

Mr. Lee Guy, of Sharpsburg township, spent several days here this week visiting at Mrs. I. R. Ramseys.

Dr. J. R. McLelland, a member of the Legislature from this county, left Saturday morning for Raleigh after spending a few days at home.

Married.—At the residence of the brides father in this community last Thursday evening, Mr. Houston Mayhew to Miss Blanche Long. Also on same evening by J. M. Shook, Esq., Mr. Henry Mayhew to Miss Essie White, both of Mayhews, this county. All the contracting parties will make their home at Mayhews. If nothing goes amiss we will have several more weddings to report in a few weeks.

The public school at this district school house closed last Friday evening. An examination was held toward the last of the term showed much improvement in the scholars during the two months. Mr. Baity, though young, has proven to be a good teacher, and has won the respect of our people. He left for his home at Williamsburg Friday evening, followed by the best wishes of his community.

Much success to you and your work. A.

HAUGHTON, MICH., Feb. 4.—A terrible blizzard has ruled for the past two days, with the mercury 30 to 40 below zero. Snow drifts are as high as the top of passenger coaches.

OSHKOSH, WIS., Feb. 4.—The blizzard of Thursday is followed by intense cold. A driving wind greatly augmented discomfort. Travel and business are practically at a stand-still.

Col Francis H. Cameron has accepted the appointment as adjutant general with the rank of Brigadier General, North Carolina State Guards, which was tendered him by Governor Carr on January 21st, from which time his commission dates.

The next annual meeting of the State Pharmaceutical Association will be held in Greensboro next August instead of Winston, as was decided at the last meeting in Raleigh. The change was necessitated by the burning of Hotel Zundendorf, the loss of which makes hotel accommodations inadequate for such a gathering at that place.—Greensboro Record.

The resignation says the Raleigh Chronicle, of Gen. J. D. Glenn, has been accepted. The position has been tendered Col. F. H. Cameron, who is at present absent from the city, but whose reply will be received as soon as he returns. In order however, that no delay in the business of the office may occur, Gen. John W. Cotton has been ordered on special duty as acting adjutant general, and will for the present perform the duties of the office.

The State Auditor has received a letter says the Raleigh Chronicle, from a gentleman in Person county returning a pension warrant. The writer of the letter was an ex-Confederate soldier, had applied for a pension and was adjudged entitled to it; but upon his examination of the law he discovered that persons owning $500 worth of property are not entitled to pensions, and he returned the warrant.

If we are to have any class legislation in this country, we suggest that it be in favor of labor and the poor. If money is to be legislated out of the pockets of one class and into the pockets of another class, we would have the transfer made to the pockets of the poor. That is to say we would reverse the order of McKinleyism, by which even sewing widows and washerwomen are taxed for the benefit of nabobs and millionaires.

At a recent board school, says the North Carolina Teacher, examination for girls, one of the tasks was an essay on boys, and this was one of the compositions, just as it was handed in by a girl of 12:

"The boy is not an animal, yet they can be heard to a considerable distance. When a boy hollows he opens his big mouth like frogs, but girls hold their tongue till they are spoke to, and they answer respectable and tell just how it was. A boy thinks himself clever because he can wade where it is deep, but God made the dry land for every living thing, and rested on the seventh day. When the boy grows up he is called a husband, and then he stops wading and stays out nights, but the grown up girl is a widow and keeps house."

The working of convicts on the roads was tried in this county a few years ago, and with good results; they accomplished some excellent work, and what was better still, the spectacle had such an influence upon the evil-doers that there was, for the time the system was in effect, a noticeable diminution in the number of criminal cases in the courts—so great a diminution, in fact, that the chain gang was thinned out by the expiration of sentences and the failure to add new members, until it got below the piling point, and the idea of hiring from other counties to supplement these, or of hiring this remnant to some other county, had not then been thought of. A chain gang can be maintained at a trifling expense if a county feels able to add to it a rock crusher and other accessories necessary to really good road making, so much the better.—Statesville Lumberman.

The appearance of a dwarf on the streets recently attracted considerable attention. He was from Anniston, and was the smallest man seen in Rome since the days of Tom Thumb. His name is W. F. Darnell, and his Lilliputian appearance is something remarkable. He is sixty-four years old, and is 4 feet and 4 inches high and weighs forty-nine pounds. He has the face of an old man, and every appearance of an old man, but when he is seen walking the observer is constantly reminded of the small boy.

Mr. Darnell came to Rome in search of assistance for his son, who is afflicted with a spinal trouble. His son is twenty-one years of age, and is thirty-seven inches high and weighs forty-four pounds. On election day Mr. Darnell carried his son to the polls in his arms and both voted. There is another son who is twenty-four years of age, and is forty-seven inches high and weighs ninety-eight pounds, the same as his father.—Rome [N. Y.] Tribune.

BUDA PESTH, Jan., 28.—Fifty-seven men caught in a coal mine at Tokand Gran, yesterday, escaped by way of a long unused shaft. There are seventy-three men still in the mine. They are beyond all doubt dead, as the whole interior of the mine is a roaring furnace, and it would have been impossible for them to have found shelter from the flames. Two of the volunteer rescuers lost their lives. Altogether about one hundred men have perished in the disaster.
