

Carolina Watchman.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

City and Country.

THURSDAY, MARCH 23, 1883.

Mr. J. S. Atkins, of Albemarle, was in the city yesterday.

The days and nights are now about equal.

E. S. Wheeler & Co. are preparing to open a complete line of groceries in the store-room next below Alex. Parker's.

Messrs. E. W. Bart & Co., are at the front with low prices. They are offering big bargains in shoes.

Wyatt, the great bargain man, again calls your attention to his fine line of goods. Read what he says.

The friends of Mrs. Helen Price, a former resident of this town, will be sorry to learn that she is lying ill with pneumonia at her home in Charlotte.

Attention is called to the statements of the condition of both of our city banks published in this issue. They both make a healthy showing.

Mr. Julius Earnhardt, in the old Mansion House building, has a new advertisement in this issue. He is selling a good fertilizer cheap.

Mrs. Thomas Murphy, of this city, is still in a critical condition, but it is yet hoped by her many friends that she will recover.

Carrie Morris, a negro woman, was arrested and lodged in jail at Concord Tuesday, charged with murdering her own offspring.

One of Cleveland's cleverest young men, Mr. Jas. G. Lyerly, left last Monday for Euniss, Texas, where he expects to make his future home.

A number of families from Stanly and Montgomery have recently moved up to town, most of whom will be employed at the Salisbury Cotton Mills.

N. B. & J. C. McCanness, will sell at public auction, next Saturday, 25th inst., a large lot of valuable furniture. It will be a good opportunity to get bargains. Don't miss it.

The company have ordered 100 new Crompton looms for the Salisbury Cotton Mills, twenty of which have arrived; the others are expected soon, when all will be placed in operation.

The Southern Fiddler shows very good judgment in reproducing about half a column of our editorial matter; but we wish to inform the young men of that sheet that it is customary to credit articles so used.

Some years ago notoriety was gained for the Old Poplar Tent fair by having a marriage performed on the grand stand in the presence of a large crowd of people. The bride of that occasion died in the Cabarrus county poor house last Monday. Such is life.

The finishing touches are being rapidly put on the new Central Hotel. Mr. N. B. McCanness informs us that he will have it ready to open to the public by the 15th of April next. Mr. Henry Check, formerly of the Yarbors, at Raleigh, will be principal manager. The new hotel will be thoroughly refurnished from top to bottom, has all the improved modern conveniences, and when opened will be a first class hostelry, something Salisbury has long needed up town.

See the Sample Shoes at E. W. Bart & Co's for $1.00.

Mr. C. M. Bivins has purchased a half interest in the Stanly News.

Sample Shoes at E. W. Bart & Co's Cheaper than ever before.

The friends of Prof. Tiernan will regret to learn of his illness, at his home in this city, from an attack of la grippe.

Miss Mamie White left on last Sunday's vestibule train for London, England, via. New York City.

Jas. B. Lanier, Jr., has gone this week to Winston to accept a position with the Lanier Printing Company, of that city.

Married, at the residence of the bride's mother, in Morgan township, this county, on the 19th inst., Mr. Win. Eagle to Miss Dovie Cranford.

Prayer meetings are being held this week in the Baptist church. These services are preliminary to a protracted meeting that is to begin there next Sabbath.

Mr. Frank Mauney, of Gold Hill, was in the city, and gave expression to good wishes for the success of the WATCHMAN, which are duly appreciated. He is going to get up a club among its former old friends in Democratic Gold Hill.

W. F. Burbank, editor of the Winston Sentinel was married last week. His accomplished wife is said to be a millonairess. Brother Burbank as an editor is accepted as a winner, and now as a benedict he heads the list among the quill-drivers of this Commonwealth. He has the WATCHMAN's heartiest congratulations.

By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that Webb, Troutman & Co. will open up their marble business here in about two weeks. We hope and believe this will prove a splendid location for their business. We bespeak for them a liberal patronage.

The Winston Sentinel reports that a Mr. Jones, a section master on the Mocksville road, a few days ago, while playing with his baby, accidentally swallowed a silver dollar, which lodged in his gullet. Though not yet causing him any serious trouble, Doctor Bahnsen has ordered an instrument to remove it, for it will cause trouble unless it is removed very soon.

Mrs. Nancy Kincaid, a lady of about 70 years, died at the residence of her son, Mr. Andrew Kincaid, on Chestnut Hill, Saturday evening, the 18th inst. She was a consistent member of the M. E. Church, South, for many years. Her funeral occurred Monday. Her remains were conveyed to Gay's Chapel cemetery, in Franklin township, and placed to rest until the final resurrection.

When a new man comes to your city, especially a business man, give him all the encouragement, social and financial, you can to stay. Don't regard him as a rival, come to interfere with your business and lessen your profits. Such is rarely the case if you are a live man. The new-comer brings capital, enterprise, and population, all which are needed to build up a community. Some of his capital will find its way into your pockets, his enterprise will stimulate yours, the increased population creates a larger demand for houses, food, and clothing—for everything that goes to make up a "living." Let us therefore welcome strangers in as cordial and substantial a way as we can.

Mr. Jas. L. Watson, a son of T. C. Watson, of this city, who went to Texas, some time in January, returned last Monday. He discovered, as many others have done before, that the old North State is a better State to live in.

The Calisthenics Class of Miss Richardson's school will give a public drill at the A. M. C. A. hall to-morrow night. All are invited to attend.

Special attention is called to the advertisement of W. R. Windsor & Son., family groceries, and private boarding house, corner Lee and Kerr streets.

Mr. J. T. Ross, who is well recommended by Democratic neighbors in Union county, and by numerous friends in other counties, seems to be in the lead for general storekeeper and gauger for this district.

Theo. F. Klutz, Esq., of this city, is a candidate for the Internal Revenue collectorship of this district, but he is not making any personal efforts to secure the office. He said to us; Some of my friends in Washington have asked if I would accept the position, and I answered that if tendered the office I would not refuse it. It goes without saying that Mr. Klutz would make an acceptable and efficient collector.

It was the pleasure of the writer to be present at the Demorest Prize Essay contest held last Saturday night at Chestnut Hill chapel. Rev. A. L. Coburn is manager there of a class of eight, six of whom are charming young ladies of more or less intellectual gifts, who stood their ground well against the two young male orators. This contest was the third in the series for six silver medals, and on this occasion the medal was awarded to Mr. Mack Coburn, a son of Rev. Mr. Coburn, a boy of no ordinary mental power, if one may judge from the fine manner in which he rendered his part. We enjoyed the occasion very much and were agreeably impressed with the appearance of the bright and happy faces of the members of the class, as well as with the admirable ease and grace displayed by all in the delivery of their pieces. The two former medals won in the January and February contests were awarded respectively to Miss Julia Henderson and Mr. Chas. Burges. The chapel has a good choir, and the excellent singing of pretty temperance hymns added to the interesting ceremonies.

Two young men who gave their names as W. E. and Ira Norris, and who claim to be cousins, hailing from near Statesville, Iredell county, were caught up with here Tuesday night of this week by policeman R. M. Barringer, plying the swindling game of raising one and two dollar good greenback bills to tens and twenties. They would cut the necessary figures and letters from ten and twenty dollar Confederate bills and paste these over the figures and letters of the bills raised. A number of the raised bills, as well as the mutilated Confederate bills, were found in the possession of W. E. Norris. Officer Barringer also found both of the scamps carrying pistols. The arrests were made Tuesday night and yesterday morning Mayor Linn tried and convicted them for carrying concealed weapons and fined each $50.00 and cost. Ira paid the fine and cost, but was set up for a future trial for swindling and counterfeiting, while the other who failed to pay the fine was placed on the chain gang for thirty days. Attorney Price is absent from the city, but as soon as he returns these smart young men, who gave their ages as only 20 and 21 respectively, will have a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Ramsay, when they will be bound over to the higher Federal Court to stand trial for a crime that will perhaps land them in the Albany penitentiary for a term of ten or twenty years.

We don't brag, but it makes us feel glad when the good, honest, sober-thinking farmers of the country, who were in former days friends and patrons of the WATCHMAN, now when they meet us grasp our hand, express their sincere gratification and pleasure at the return to its old faith of the paper that they for so many years made a fireside companion at their homes, and who tell us: "Yes, we want the WATCHMAN, now that it has got back to where it rightfully belongs. We know it will suit us now." We repeat, we are obliged to feel glad, and here pledge our best efforts to give them the paper they desire, praying that God may bless the good people of our dear old county, and our feeble efforts to do them good.

It is reported, and we hope the report is true, that Bro. Sherril, of the Times, will receive the postmastership at Concord.

Report says Mr. D. M. Fepperman, six miles south-west of town, killed a mad dog Tuesday at his place after it had bitten several other dogs. Fortunately no person was bitten.

Will show you a lovely line of NEW SPRING CLOTHING when you call. You should see our $20 for $12.50, and our Brag Lot of Fine $7.00 pants for $5.00.

 SALISBURY, N. C.

IN EARNEST!

You want good, pure goods at low prices, don't you? Then go to JULIUS EARNHARDT'S, where are kept PURE FRESH GROCERIES, such as Flour, good country Ham, Potatoes (seed and eating), Cabbage, and everything else you want. Also, a new line of GOOD SHOES, which I am offering Very Cheap. A full line of DRY GOODS and NOTIONS always kept in stock.

Attention, Farmers! I am now also selling the BANNER FERTILIZER cheap for cash, or on time. Call to see me before buying elsewhere.

Supply and demand, short crops, over-production, Cleveland's appointments, the stringency of money, the credit system, two prices, &c., may be very serious considerations with some, but they are "not in it" at Wyatt's Bargain Temple.

To give you $1.25 for $1, and sometimes even more, and to keep everything you need to wear, both for decency and comfort, is our aim. If we succeed in these laudable efforts, you will applaud us; if we fail, you will pass us by "unwept, unhonored, and unsung."

Give us a trial; we will please you. Come once, you will come again. People now-a-days know a good thing when they see it. O. P. P. & C. D. will be popular after you test their merit.
