LOCAL BRIEFS.

T. S. WATSON, LOCAL AND CITY EDITOR.
THURSDAY, MAY 18, 1893.

We regret to learn of the illness of Mr. M. A. Smith at his home on Lee street.

A theological department is to be established in Catawba College at the opening of its fall session.

Albemarle has five "good, loyal" Democrats who want to serve the "dear people" as their postmaster.

Geo. T. Danlap, Esq., a good man, was elected, on the first Monday, as the mayor of Norwood, Stanly county.

Mr. J. P. Lentz has treated his residence to a new coat of paint, which greatly improves its appearance.

Mr. J. E. Watson, of Augusta, Ga., who has been at home for more than a week sick with parotitis, is convalescent.

Married, Sunday morning, May 14th, by C. N. Brown, Esq., at the residence of James Shown in this city, Mr. Julius V. Koperman and Mrs. Belle Kepley.

Mr. W. W. Hodge, of Morgan township, this county, left last Tuesday for Dongola, Ill., and before leaving he called and subscribed for the WATCHMAN.

He is going to try the West, while at least, but he ventures he will not find any place better than the old North State. However we wish Mr. Hodge success wherever he goes.

The first annual commencement of the State Normal and Industrial School, at Greensboro, N. C., will come off the 23rd and 24th, instant at which time this valuable institution will be formally dedicated. We acknowledge the reception of an invitation to be present at the interesting exercises. The railroads will give reduced rates for the occasion.

Hens Honds, colored, who had recently been lodged in jail at Lexington, for f. and a. escaped from that prison the first of last week and is now at large. He stands charged also, we learn, with being the negro who last fall committed the foul crime of rape upon the wife of Mr. G. L. Kintz, of this county. The officers of the law should keep a lookout for the scoundrel and recapture him.

The annual debate by the students of Livingstone College, will take place in the college chapel on the evening of Tuesday May 23. The subject to be discussed is: Resolved, "That the Autonomy of the States should be abolished." W. H. Davenport, S. C. Fuller, and W. M. Provinder will support the affirmative, while E. D. W. Jones, W. F. Foville and A. A. Crake will back after the negative. "The white citizens of Salisbury are invited to be present."

The monthly debating contest for the Democratic Temperance Medal, by R. V. A. L. Coburn's class, came off last Monday evening at the tent Hill chapel. The class composed of Misses Della Myrick, Lottie Gairmore, Minnie Coburn, Fannie Davis, Annie Brown, Julia Henderson, and Master Jacob Ludwick, all did handsomely. Miss Myrick was declared the winner of a secured the medal—it being the fourth that has been won by Mr. Coburn's interesting young temperance workers. He is doing a good work here that will doubtless bring forth its fruit in a few years.

Rev. J. Rumpel, D. D., preached a very interesting sermon from the pulpit of the first Presbyterian church on last Sunday morning. His subject was, The World's Fair Parliament of Religions, which is to be held in the city of Chicago commencing September 1st, and continuing 17 days. This parliament will consist of representatives of all religions of the world, who will discuss their various doctrines and creeds. Distinguished followers of all the other religions and well eminent Christian divines will be there.

The text chosen was first Cor., 3 chapter 11 verse: "For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ." The sermon was divided into three parts: First, the announcement of the meeting of this parliament, and the objections, the principal one of which was, that it would be God dishonoring to compare the only true God with the puny sinful creatures of His hand. Second, this congress is seeking the union of all religions. The objection to this is tersely expressed in the words, "There can be no fellowship between light and darkness." Third, it is seeking a perfect religion. We have this in the Christian religion, which says, "For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ."

On Monday last, Mr. J. C. Simmons placed in the postoffice a very unique advertising clock. It displays sixteen advertising cards, one of which is brought to view every half minute. Mr. Simmons has the State right and will soon have control of the entire South for the introduction of these valuable machines. He will place them in all large towns.

Mr. J. M. Patton solicits advertising for the concern which is known as the Simmons Advertising Agency.

On Thursday last week, Mrs. J. M. Redwine, of Albemarle, Stanly county, went out to her well in the early morning to draw a bucket of water, and while in the act the curbing of the well gave way and the lady fell to the bottom—the well being about 45 feet deep—and prompt assistance being at hand she was rescued from her uncomfortable and dangerous position, very much frightened and shaken up, but not seriously injured.

The tailoring shop of Jack Mowery was entered by raising a window on last Saturday night, and four suits of clothes, belonging to others and placed there for repairs, were stolen. J. Frank McCubbin lost 2 suits. The thief in his haste dropped several pieces outside the window which were picked up next morning. The thief, named Charles Williams, (white) was captured by C. W. Pool at Concord Tuesday night. He had in possession 2 coats, 3 vests and 3 pair of pants which were identified by Mowery as the lost clothes. He was tried before E. B. Neave, Esq., pleaded guilty and failing to give bond, was jailed.

J. & H. Horah have made some changes in their jewelry store, which improves its appearance and convenience.

On Monday, May 15, Mayor Conghener issued a sanitary notice to all residents of Salisbury. Ten days from date a sanitary committee will visit all back lots, privies etc., to see that they are properly cleaned and drained.

Yesterday morning the convict road force began macadamizing the west end of Fulton St. in front of J. P. Lentz' residence. A large number of wagons are hauling gravel, which is taken from the hill in West Point at the termination of Inness St.

Among the young doctors who were successful in their examination before the State Medical Board, at Raleigh last week, besides McKenzie, of this county, we notice the names of Dr. G. F. Arey, of Richlie's Mill, Dr. F. P. Stevenson, of Statesville, and Dr. T. A. Hathcock, of Norwood, N. C.

At a meeting last Saturday the directors of the Piedmont A. F. Association ordered that a fair be held at their grounds on the 3rd, 4th, and 5th, of October, 1893, and that all the necessary arrangements for making it a first-class exhibit of products of this section be begun at once.

Mr. W. W. Hodge, of Morgan township, this county, left last Tuesday for Dongola, Ill., and before leaving he called and subscribed for the WATCHMAN.

He is going to try the West, while at least, but he ventures he will not find any place better than the old North State. However we wish Mr. Hodge success wherever he goes.

Messrs. John J. Stewart, Jr., and James Kennerly have purchased the stock of groceries, etc., owned by J. B. Sheets, deceased, and will continue business at the old stand.

We received quite a pleasant call from our old friend Mr. Richard Culbertson, of Woodleaf, last Monday. He left a pleasant memento of his call in the shape of a subscription for the WATCHMAN.

The frame of the new Methodist church in process of erection on Chestnut Hill was raked and twisted by the wind the other day, causing the brick wall to bulge out in the middle. Mr. W. D. Watson, contractor for the wood work, promptly adjusted the disturbed parts, so that all is now as secure as possible.

A large crowd was in attendance at the court house last Tuesday night to witness Rev. H. B. Hudson's stereopticon exhibition. The views, consisting of scenes on the life, crucifixion, and ascension of Christ and on Temperance were exceedingly interesting and impressive and were heartily enjoyed by all present. The lecture was also very instructive and entertaining. Mr. Hudson exhibited his views last night at Livingstone College. Should he ever visit Salisbury again, Mr. Hudson may be assured of a crowded house to see his views.

There is some talk on our streets in regard to the recent action of the City Board of commissioners in removing from the police force C. W. Pool, who is, or has been, considered one of the best police officers the city ever had, and with the long experience he has had on the force and his study of the natural bent of rascals he had become a very clever detective, and for this reason they thought a mistake was made in removing him. Although the two new officers elected are good men and may make first rate officers, yet either of them is without that experience that years of service have given Mr. Pool.

At half past 9 o'clock last night, a break for liberty was made by the convicts at the camp on the new Mocksville road. Boger, Hobson and Richie, all negroes, succeeded in making their escape. The guard shot at Richie, but did not hit him, Jack Eaton, a white prisoner was shot by the guard. At 9 o'clock the prisoners are chained together and locked. While the guard was reading a paper, the prisoners succeeded in picking the lock, and made a break. The guard turned, and seeing Eaton with his gun, fired at him with a pistol striking him in the back and inflicting a flesh wound, which is not serious. The guard then grabbed the gun from Eaton and fired at Richie, but failed to hit him. Eaton claims he was trying to prevent the escape of the other prisoners. Hobson and Richie were sentenced for three years; Boger for three months.

Do you want to save money? If so buy your furniture from the Salisbury Furniture Co.
Our Advertisers.
Salisbury has some real business hustlers, and our advertising columns evidence the fact. Several of them place a new advertisement in the WATCHMAN every week or two and they pay for it, showing to the world what they are doing and how they do it. Read every one of them, then you will know where to go to get what you want.
Dr. R. L. Ramsay, surgeon dentist tells you where he may be found when his services are needed.
That popular hustler, courteous, urbane T. B. Wyatt, shows the figures—proof of the cheapness of his goods.
Clothing, hats, underwear, &c., is offered by M. S. Brown & Co., at prices that in truth are "forcing the season."
The great Sample firm, E. W. Burt & Co., are increasing their run on their shoes—bar gains throughout.
