

Carolina Watchman.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

City and Country.

T. S. WATSON, LOCAL AND CITY EDITOR.

THURSDAY June 22, 1893.

Hot, hotter, hottest!
"Is it hot enough for you?" is the cheatnut of the day.

Early green corn is offered on the market this week.

Miss Celeste Boyd, of Barium Springs, is visiting Miss Mary Watson.

Hon. Kerr Craig spent several days at home the past week.

J. A. Negley, came home to attend the delicacy services.

H. A. Banks, of the Charlotte Observer, spent Sunday here.

The farmers of the county pronounce the wheat crop very fine.

Editor J. B. McKenzie, of the Southern Vidette, spent Sunday with his father, J. W. McKenzie.

John Bell Sloan, of Asheville, who has been visiting his father at Mill Bridge, was here Saturday.

Mr. Robert L. Smith, an aged and respected citizen of Locke township, died June 14, 1893, aged about 79 years.

Rev. C. M. Payne, of Concord, and J.
A. Ramsay, of Hickory, attended and assisted in the dedicatory services of the new Presbyterian church last Sunday.

If you receive a sample copy of the WATCHMAN please consider it a request to subscribe, and send along your subscription. Only $1.00 a year.

Mr. E. A. Simpson, of this city, died at his home on Fisher street, last Sunday morning. Mr. Simpson had been in bad health for some time, and his death was not unexpected. The remains were interred at Zeb, N. C., this county.

The corner stone of the new Methodist Episcopal church on Chestnut Hill will be laid this afternoon at 6:30 o'clock.
Dr. Rumble, assisted by Rev. J. J. Renn, has been invited to officiate at the service.

Mr. N. C. Fife, a young man of this county who has been in Illinois for the past four months, returned home last Friday. Mr. Fife reports a very wet spring in Ill., and says the crops are backward on that account.

Mr. Charles Mills, of Statesville, spent Sunday in the city. He contributed some highly appreciated service in assisting the choir in the rendition of the beautiful music of the dedicatory service. We shall be glad to welcome him to Salisbury again.

Last Sunday morning and night Rev.
L. W. Crawford, of Trinity College, preached in the M. E. church at Concord, and Monday's Standard says his sermons were highly entertaining and instructive.

A writer has put man's status in relation to spiritual belief strongly, thus:
"Faith makes the little his pocket-book; while unbelief makes the pocket-book his little. One rests its future prospects on the promises of God, the other on the size of the pocket-book."

We acknowledge with pleasure the receipt of an invitation to the Guilford Battle Ground Celebration to be held on July 4, 1893. This will be an enjoyable occasion, and our people should encourage it by a large attendance. We give elsewhere a clipping from the Greenboro "Daily Record," which gives the chief attractions of the day.

In a trip to Statesville by rail last Friday we noticed that the farmers were very busy harvesting their wheat, and that the oats had developed into pretty nearly an average crop. The corn and cotton is very small for the time of the season. The prospects so far are that the farmers will produce at least a sufficient supply for the country's needs.

Our friend, Mr. J. M. Overton, an enterprising merchant of Mt. Gilead, Montgomery county, was in the city last Tuesday, and as he is a constant reader of the WATCHMAN it was no trouble for him to know where to go to make his purchases.
The Rogers Clothing Co., who patronize the advertising columns of this paper sold him a pretty nice bill of goods.

Rev. Dr. C. M. Payne, of Concord, delivered his interesting, impressive, and instructive lecture on personal purity to a good crowd of men at the Y. M. C. A.
Hall last Sunday afternoon. The Dr. spoke plainly and personally on this neglected subject, and having been a physician, he is able to show the dreadful effects of personal impurity, in a forcible manner.
We trust much good will result from the lecture.

The Standard reports that two Mormon preachers spent Friday night of last week at the house of Mr. Sandy Cress, in No. 5 township, Cabarrus county, and that it was learned that they were there for the purpose of proselyting. They will, very probably, soon find that Cabarrus will prove too hot a place for them and their kind of religion.

Mr. R. V. Miller, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Salisbury, has received a call to assist in evangelistic work, and will probably accept. He asked leave of absence for a month, and Mr.
John K. Coit has been chosen secretary during his absence. Mr. Miller has not tendered his resignation, but it is very likely that he will in a short while. The Association regrets to lose Mr. Miller, who has faithfully served it for more than a year.

Our Advertisers.

D. R. Julian & Sons, at their old stand, on Fisher street, are offering bargains for the next thirty days. Read what they say in another column.

The old reliable jewellers, J. & H. Ho-rah, make a specialty in advertising their superb stock of Sterling silver ware. We direct your attention to their new ad. in this paper.

Mr. Scott Smoot, administrator, offers some valuable land for sale in Scotch Irish township.

"We are determined to be known as money savers to the people," says T. B.
Wyatt; and his prices on Mason's fruit jars and "Feather-bone Corsets" given this week, is good proof of his assertion.

Go see E. W. Burt & Co., and be convinced of the extraordinary bargains they are now offering in their advertisement in another column.

S. Lindy, Charlotte N. C., wants local agents.

Neave Music School Soiree.
It was our pleasure to be present by special invitation at the closing of the Spring session of the Neave Music School, Friday night. A lover of music, we presume, can only appreciate the wonderful development of this God-given talent, which it is the apparent pleasure and delight of the worthy principals of the Neave Music School to evolve from the minds and talents of mere children by their methods of teaching.

On this night the audience was large and attentive; and that all was genial and appreciative was fully apparent, for enjoyment depends upon the frame of mind in which it is sought. Those who really seek it will find it. But those who enter upon the experiment sourly and capitiously will only find misery and discomfort. The healthfulness of amusement is born of the power of joy. And this also was obvious in the performances of the pupils. No fine musical work—nor indeed any other good work—is inspired by despondency. In cheerfulness lie the roots of charm and achievement.

The five orchestral pieces were performed with that vimy spirit and accuracy which leads to sight-reading, especially needful to pianists to make them available as ready and effective accompanists. The youngest pianists, in the "Waco Waltz" charmed and astonished all.
The next youngest set did proportionally well in the more advanced music of the opening and closing numbers. In the quartet—for pianists only—"The awakening of the Lion," and in the two grand and difficult orchestral numbers, viz: the "Overtures to Don Juan" and
"Wm. Tell," the more expert performers on piano and readers of music took part, and in such manner as to equally astonish the minds and please the feelings of the audience. Five orchestral instruments and an organ were in the two later; while six were in the first and second
"orchestrals."

"The awakening of the Lion," (Poland)
The "Don Juan" and "Wm. Tell" overtures are descriptive musical compositions, therefore the verbal reading of the inner meaning of these tone pictures.
The two former by Miss Jeanie Klutz, and the latter by Miss Lily May. Broton —greatly enhanced the audience's enjoyment of these three renditions; for the reading of both young ladies was extremely graceful in deportment, eloquent in delivery, articulation and enunciation.

The piano solos by Misses C. McCuanless, B. Mauney and L. Foust were unusually enjoyable. The two trios for piano, flute and violin, with Miss M.
Overman, on piano in the one entitled
"Russian Serenade," and Miss M. Griffin on piano in "Bothe Sarafan" were much relished. Miss Lillian Foust, accompanied Master John Henderson's violin, in a very musical and sympathetic manner; as did the accompanists of the other solos, viz: Miss Miriam Wiley to Nelson Taylor's violin solo, and Miss Mamie Gaskill to Frank Gaskill's violin solo, and Miss Gaskill's cornet solo.

The performances of these young orchestral instrument soloists were so perfect and brilliant in performance, and so gladsome in spirit that incompetence to do them full justice and lack of time and space forbid us saying more.

The dedicatory services of the First Presbyterian church were held on last Sunday morning. A large crowd, numbering perhaps a thousand, and completely filling both apartments of the large building, was present to witness the imposing ceremonies. All the ministers of the city with their congregations, were invited to participate in the services, and many visitors from the neighoring towns were present. The services began with a prelude, "Holy, holy, etc.," by the choir and organ. The singing of the doxology by the choir and congregation came next, and was followed by prayer of invocation by Rev. W. W.
Moore, D. D. After singing of Psalm 48, read by Rev. C. M. Payne, D. D., and reading of Scriptures 1 King, 8, 22-30, 9, 1-9, by Rev. C. B. King, and of Psalm 24, by Dr. Leith, the congregation was led in prayer by Rev. J. Alston Ramsey, of Hickory, N. C. Then came the singing of hymn 568 and collection, after which the dedicatory sermon was preached by Rev. W. W. Moore, D. D., LL. D. The text was chosen from Ex. 25, 8. We could not do him justice, so we will not attempt to quote any of the sermon.
Suffice it to say that it was an excellent sermon, full of instruction, and was enjoyed by all. Dr. Moore is an easy and graceful speaker, and delivers his sermons in a conversational style. After the sermon came the report of the building committee, the reception of the church keys by the session, the delivery of the keys to the deacons, and the reception of the completed work by the congregation. Dr. Rumble then dedicated the building to God in an earnest, fervent prayer, hymn 569 was sung, and the benediction was pronounced.

The report of the building committee, which will be of some interest, is as follows:
Our congregation having felt the need of a more commodious and comfortable church, and having a desire to honor God in the erection of a suitable place of worship, a congregational meeting was held on the 17th of February, 1891, to take steps looking to that end. A building committee, consisting of S. H. Wiley, T. F. Klutz, I. H. Foust, W. L. Klutz, John Allen Brown, D. A. Atwell and E.

B. Neave, was appointed with authority from the congregation to select plans and begin the work. The committee was organized by the election of E. B. Neave, chairman, John Allen Brown, secretary, and W. L. Klutz, treasurer. A subcommittee consisting of E. B. Neave, T.
F. Klutz, and W. L. Klutz, was selected to take charge of the details of the work. From a number of plans submitted to the committee the one made by Charles W. Bolton, of Philadelphia, was selected, and on the first day of June, 1891, the work on the new church was begun, under the supervision of W. R.
Martin as foreman, under whose skilful oversight and direction the work was carried forward without serious interruption or delay to its completion in December, 1892. The cost of the church, amounting to $23,091.91, has been fully paid, or is provided for, and being now free from any debt or incumbrance, the building committee desire to make this final report, and deliver the keys to the session, that it may be dedicated to Almighty God.

"The Salisbury church has long been an important factor in North Carolina Presbyterianism. Its past belongs to the history of the church. Way back in the last century Presbyterian services were held in Salisbury. Rev. Samuel McCott, D. D., preaching there occasionally from 1777 to 1810; Rev. John Brown, D.
D., taught and preached there in 1804-5;
Rev. Samuel L. Graham, D. D., sometimes preached there after 1809, and Dr.
Farson, of Hays sometimes before 1820.
In 1821, Rev. John O. Freeman organized the church and preached there from that year till 1826. Rev. Jesse Rankin was stated supply from 1827 to 1830.
Rev. Thomas Espy, Senator Z. B. Vance's father-in-law, from 1831 to 1835. Rev.
P. J. Sparrow, D. D., was pastor from 1836 to 1838; Rev. Stephen Fauntis from 1838 to 1856; and Rev. J. Rumble, D. D., has been the honored and beloved pastor from 1856 to the present time.

The church has always been one of the mainstays of the community. College, Maxwell, though never a communicant, bequeathing the college the endowment which enables it to maintain its present high position as an educator.

The following men have gone out from its membership to become lumbe preachers of the holy Word of God: Rev.
William H. Davis, of Kentucky; Rev.
John Wright Davis, one of the ablest preachers in the Southern Church and now a missionary to China; Rev. B. G.
Clifford, president of a female college in Union, S. C.; Rev. J. Alston Ramsey, of Hickory; Rev. J. N. Howard Sumner, of Tarboro; Rev. Kiah P. Julian, deceased, who preached during his life time in Lynchburg, Atlanta and elsewhere.

If the record of the church's past usefulness is any criterion, it has a glorious future before it.

Our Advertisers.

D. R. Julian & Sons, at their old stand,
on Fisher street, are offering bargains for
the next thirty days. Read what they say in another column.

The old reliable jewellers, J. & H. Ho-rah, make a specialty in advertising their superb stock of Sterling silver ware. We direct your attention to their new ad. in this paper.

Mr. Scott Smoot, administrator, offers some valuable land for sale in Scotch Irish township.

"We are determined to be known as
money savers to the people," says T. B.
Wyatt; and his prices on Mason's fruit
jars and "Feather-bone Corsets" given
this week, is good proof of his assertion.

Go see E. W. Burt & Co., and be convinced of the extraordinary bargains
they are now offering in their advertisement in another column.

S. Lindy, Charlotte N. C., wants local
agents.

Neave Music School Soiree.
It was our pleasure to be present by special invitation at the closing of the Spring session of the Neave Music
School, Friday night. A lover of music, we presume, can only appreciate the wonderful development of this God-
given talent, which it is the apparent
pleasure and delight of the worthy principals of the Neave Music School to
evolve from the minds and talents of mere
children by their methods of teaching.

On this night the audience was large and
attentive; and that all was genial and
appreciative was fully apparent, for enjoyment depends upon the frame of mind
in which it is sought. Those who really
seek it will find it. But those who enter
upon the experiment sourly and capiti-
ously will only find misery and discomfort. The healthfulness of amusement is born of the power of joy. And this also
was obvious in the performances of the
pupils. No fine musical work—nor indeed any other good work—is inspired by despondency. In cheerfulness lie
the roots of charm and achievement.

The five orchestral pieces were performed with that vimy spirit and accuracy which leads to sight-reading, especially needful to pianists to make them
available as ready and effective accompanists. The youngest pianists, in the
"Waco Waltz" charmed and astonished all.
The next youngest set did proportionally well in the more advanced music
of the opening and closing numbers. In
the quartet—for pianists only—"The
awakening of the Lion," and in the two
grand and difficult orchestral numbers,
viz: the "Overtures to Don Juan" and
"Wm. Tell," the more expert performers
on piano and readers of music took part,
and in such manner as to equally aston-
ish the minds and please the feelings of the audience. Five orchestral instruments and an organ were in the two later; while six were in the first and second
"orchestrals."

"The awakening of the Lion," (Poland)
The "Don Juan" and "Wm. Tell" overtures are descriptive musical compositions, therefore the verbal reading of the inner meaning of these tone pictures.
The two former by Miss Jeanie Klutz,
and the latter by Miss Lily May. Broton
—greatly enhanced the audience's enjoyment of these three renditions; for the
reading of both young ladies was extremely graceful in deportment, eloquent in
delivery, articulation and enunciation.

The piano solos by Misses C. McCuan-
less, B. Mauney and L. Foust were unusually enjoyable. The two trios for piano, flute and violin, with Miss M.
Overman, on piano in the one entitled
"Russian Serenade," and Miss M. Griffin
on piano in "Bothe Sarafan" were much relished. Miss Lillian Foust, accompanied Master John Henderson's violin,
in a very musical and sympathetic
manner; as did the accompanists of the other solos, viz: Miss Miriam Wiley to Nelson Taylor's violin solo, and Miss
Mamie Gaskill to Frank Gaskill's violin
solo, and Miss Gaskill's cornet solo.

The performances of these young or-
chestral instrument soloists were so perfect and brilliant in performance, and so
gladsome in spirit that incompetence to
do them full justice and lack of time and space forbid us saying more.

The dedicatory services of the First Presbyterian church were held on last Sunday morning. A large crowd, numbering perhaps a thousand, and completely filling both apartments of the
large building, was present to witness
the imposing ceremonies. All the ministers of the city with their congregations,
were invited to participate in the services, and many visitors from the neighoring towns were present. The services began with a prelude, "Holy, holy,
etc.," by the choir and organ. The singing of the doxology by the choir and congregation came next, and was followed by prayer of invocation by Rev. W. W.
Moore, D. D. After singing of Psalm 48,
read by Rev. C. M. Payne, D. D., and
reading of Scriptures 1 King, 8, 22-30, 9, 1-9, by Rev. C. B. King, and of Psalm 24, by Dr. Leith, the congregation was led in prayer by Rev. J. Alston Ramsey, of Hickory, N. C. Then came the singing
of hymn 568 and collection, after which
the dedicatory sermon was preached by
Rev. W. W. Moore, D. D., LL. D. The
text was chosen from Ex. 25, 8. We could not do him justice, so we will not attempt to quote any of the sermon.

Suffice it to say that it was an excellent
sermon, full of instruction, and was enjoyed by all. Dr. Moore is an easy and
graceful speaker, and delivers his sermons in a conversational style. After the sermon came the report of the building committee, the reception of the
church keys by the session, the delivery
of the keys to the deacons, and the reception of the completed work by the
congregation. Dr. Rumble then dedicated the building to God in an earnest, fervent prayer, hymn 569 was sung, and
the benediction was pronounced.

The report of the building committee,
which will be of some interest, is as follows:
Our congregation having felt the need
of a more commodious and comfortable
church, and having a desire to honor
God in the erection of a suitable place of
worship, a congregational meeting was held on the 17th of February, 1891, to

take steps looking to that end. A building committee, consisting of S. H. Wiley,
T. F. Klutz, I. H. Foust, W. L. Klutz,
John Allen Brown, D. A. Atwell and E.
B. Neave, was appointed with authority
from the congregation to select plans
and begin the work. The committee was organized by the election of E. B. Neave, chairman, John Allen Brown, secretary,
and W. L. Klutz, treasurer. A subcommittee consisting of E. B. Neave, T.
F. Klutz, and W. L. Klutz, was selected to take charge of the details of the work. From a number of plans submitted to the committee the one made by Charles W. Bolton, of Philadelphia, was selected, and on the first day of June, 1891, the work on the new church was
begun, under the supervision of W. R.
Martin as foreman, under whose skilful
oversight and direction the work was carried forward without serious interruption or delay to its completion in December, 1892. The cost of the church,
amounting to $23,091.91, has been fully
paid, or is provided for, and being now
free from any debt or incumbrance, the
building committee desire to make this
final report, and deliver the keys to the
session, that it may be dedicated to Almighty God.

Forcing the season with Reduction!

WE CAN'T CHANGE THE WEATHER, BUT WE CAN CHANGE THE PRICES!

That is what we are doing, and done with a vengeance!

Never could choice goods be bought at a July clearing sale as during this month.

Commencing to-day, our great season for FORCING SALES

begins, with a double head of steam.

It is sales, not profit, that we are after now!
Come in any day this month prepared for surprises.

May must make up for April and it will.

OUR REDUCTIONS ARE SIMPLY IRRESIS-TIBLE!

They will make you buy in spite of yourself. The only condition that we impose is that you BUY NOW.

The proverbial oldest inhabitant has been knocked out of sight. First by the unequalled weather and now by our unequalled prices.
One lot of MEN'S & BOYS' suits at $7.50, worth $10.00.

M. S. BROWN & CO.

take steps looking to that end. A building committee, consisting of S. H. Wiley,
T. F. Klutz, I. H. Foust, W. L. Klutz,
John Allen Brown, D. A. Atwell and E.
B. Neave, was appointed with authority
from the congregation to select plans
and begin the work. The committee was organized by the election of E. B. Neave, chairman, John Allen Brown, secretary,
and W. L. Klutz, treasurer. A subcommittee consisting of E. B. Neave, T.
F. Klutz, and W. L. Klutz, was selected to take charge of the details of the work. From a number of plans submitted to the committee the one made by Charles W. Bolton, of Philadelphia, was selected, and on the first day of June, 1891, the work on the new church was
begun, under the supervision of W. R.
Martin as foreman, under whose skilful
oversight and direction the work was carried forward without serious interruption or delay to its completion in December, 1892. The cost of the church,
amounting to $23,091.91, has been fully
paid, or is provided for, and being now
free from any debt or incumbrance, the
building committee desire to make this
final report, and deliver the keys to the
session, that it may be dedicated to Almighty God.

"The Salisbury church has long been
an important factor in North Carolina Presbyterianism. Its past belongs to the history of the church. Way back in the last century Presbyterian services were
held in Salisbury. Rev. Samuel McCot-
t, D. D., preaching there occasionally
from 1777 to 1810; Rev. John Brown, D.
D., taught and preached there in 1804-5;
Rev. Samuel L. Graham, D. D., sometimes preached there after 1809, and Dr.
Farson, of Hays sometimes before 1820.
In 1821, Rev. John O. Freeman organized the church and preached there from
that year till 1826. Rev. Jesse Rankin
was stated supply from 1827 to 1830.
Rev. Thomas Espy, Senator Z. B. Vance's
father-in-law, from 1831 to 1835. Rev.
P. J. Sparrow, D. D., was pastor from 1836 to 1838; Rev. Stephen Fauntis from 1838 to 1856; and Rev. J. Rumble, D. D., has been the honored and beloved pastor from 1856 to the present time.

The church has always been one of the mainstays of the community. College, Maxwell, though never a communicant, be-
queathing the college the endowment
which enables it to maintain its present
high position as an educator.

The following men have gone out from
its membership to become lumbe
preachers of the holy Word of God: Rev.
William H. Davis, of Kentucky; Rev.
John Wright Davis, one of the ablest
preachers in the Southern Church and now a missionary to China; Rev. B. G.
Clifford, president of a female college in Union, S. C.; Rev. J. Alston Ramsey, of
Hickory; Rev. J. N. Howard Sumner, of Tarboro; Rev. Kiah P. Julian, deceased, who preached during his life time in Lynchburg, Atlanta and elsewhere.

If the record of the church's past usefulness is any criterion, it has a glorious
future before it.

FOREIGN MARKET REPORTS.

From Clapp & Co., Bankers and Brokers, N. Y.
These figures represent an average estimate of ruling prices at the markets named, up to Tuesday of each week: Liverpool.—Cotton firm at a decline of 3 to 4 points, with quotations for futures small. Wheat dull and easier.
Bacon fairly active at 6.17 to 6.70 per cwt.
New York.—August Cotton 7.77; July wheat 73c.
Chicago.—Grain market, steadier feeling than for several days; wheat 67c; corn 40c; oats 28c; pork 20.20; ribs 9.45; lard 10.07.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became a Woman, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

One lot $10.00 worth $12.00 and $15.00.
One lot $12.50 worth $15.00 to $18.00.
One lot $15.00 worth $20. to $22.50.

We have about One-hundred suits; One, Two, and Three of a kind—all nice goods—broken sizes that we want to clean out.

If they fit you, you will get a bargain. We have also a

LOT OF PANTS

at 75c, $1.00, $1.50, $2.00, $3.00, $4.00, and $5.00, that can't be beat. They are very cheap and we are sure you will buy a pair when you see them.

We are showing a beautiful line of

Straw Hats,

NEGLIGEE SHIRTS, WHITE SHIRTS AND UNDERWEAR;

and we can fit you, and give you satisfaction.
Try us.

Wyatt's Bargain Temple.

If the above is a misnomer, convince us and we will haul it down from masthead. But it is Bargain Temple. Of course it is too extremely difficult to buy all goods cheaper than other merchants; their money is as good as ours, and lots of them have all the money they need, while the article is powerful scarce with me. But with one small uniform profit and determined to deserve not only a clear title to the BARGAIN part, but also to be known of all men as

WE ARE SATISFIED

"MONEY SAVERS TO THE PEOPLE."

See what we are saving you in Fruit Jars—you know what others ask you, our price $1.10 and $5 per doz. It don't matter whether you buy from me or not, as far as saving your money is concerned—you will NOT PAY some other man more than you would me (unless through ignorance) and I have forced him to sell you at my price—do you see?
Look at our 50 ct. corset price 30cts. you will be astonished.
See our 5 ct. Calico and Inverness Cloth reduced to 4 cts.
Wyatt's Leader all solid and warranted $1.10

STILL THEY COME

new shoes—all kinds and prices.
You can get the celebrated FEATHERBONE CORSET from no one else. Wear one Four Weeks and if not entirely satisfactory, bring it back and Your MONEY will be Refunded.

Does not this prove the corset more than any other argument you can think of?
Oblige us by trying one at the risk of the manufacturers, if

YOU PLEASE.

Examine those cuts, and then come and look at the corsets—all styles and shapes, flexible comfortable and durable.
New goods coming all the time, a nice lot of glassware, such as tankard Pitchers, Pitchers, Engraved Tumblers, Berry Dishes, Sauces, &c.
Don't forget to call on us when you come to town—you will be welcome

Yours for M. B. (Mutual Benefit.)

T. B. WYATT,

Sign of Red Flag.

BIG SPECIAL OFFER!

We are always in the lead on LOW PRICES, BUT WE MEAN TO DO BETTER STILL.

Our increased sales prove indisputably that people are finding out where to go for the

BEST CLOTHING

AT THE LOWEST PRICE.
And our gains in sales have been made in spite of the dull times and a falling off in trade generally. MOR-AL: "Best goods for least money"