James Butler, a Lyon county farmer, has had papers prepared for a peculiar suit. Some weeks since a conflagration caused the destruction of Butler's wheat crop. A. B. Montgomery, a rainmaker, claimed to have caused the cloudburst. Butler proposes to make Montgomery's rain company pay the damage. The same storm caused a wash-out on the Santa Fe line, and a wreck followed, in which an engineer was killed. The wife of the dead engineer will also bring suit against Montgomery for $10,000 damages.

Greensboro, N. C., July 14.—The worst fire Greensboro has ever had broke out at 6 o'clock this morning, located on South Elm street, in the large store of Sample S. Brown. The fire started beneath the tin roof and the ceiling of third floor. It was stubborn to fight, but the fire department, under the cool head of Chief Benbow, subdued it. At one time it looked like the whole block (the finest in the city) would go. The loss to the stock is from $10,000 to $20,000, covered by insurance; the building $4,000 also covered by insurance. The top story only was burned, but much damage from water. The goods on the floor were mostly removed.

Tutt's Tiny Pills
To cure constipation purging the bowels is not advised; it weakens their power of motion. A gentle aperient effect is only required. Tutt's Tiny Pills are prepared with special views to the permanent cure of COSTIVENESS and HEADACHE. They are mild and remain in the system until they act on the liver, cause a natural flow of bile and their tonic properties impart power to the bowels to remove unhealthy accumulations. Good appetite and digestion result from the use of these pills. Price, 25c. Office, 39 Park Place, N. Y.

Winston's Volunteers.
For the Dedication of the Holt Monument, Guilford Battle Ground, July 25, 1893.

This is the ground where patriots bled! Wide scattered here are Guilford's dead! Peace! come with slow and reverent tread, And voice all subdued;— Break not their long, deep, love-engendered solitude.

Where silence reigns above this field Once wild the thundering squadrons wheeled: Earth jarred, and armies swerved and reeled— The thrilling bugle-blow Once called in vain for heroes laid forever low!

They who then, as Gibraltar's rock, Withstood the direst battle-shock, And dared in death's bare face to mock, were not injured to arms— Till then, had never known war's awful leaden storms.

But they were men born to be free, Even though through death's dark gates should be The path that led to liberty! Rather that useless way Than slavery's galling, strong-forged chain with life for aye!

You granite marks where that stern band— When veterans died,—lock their last stand 'Mid thunder-dint, while levin-brand Fell full upon their breast— Embrines the dust by all the brave revered and blessed!

Me seems I hear that volley's roar, And see—But now I see no more! Lo! through the clouds of smoke they pour, Dragons and Hessians slaved! And Winston's level lance rolls back their circling glaves!

But that fierce onset is not stayed! They front those legions undismayed; They meet, they mix, blade rings on blade Till but the dead and he! Remnant brave Talliadero could die but never flee!

'Twas then that shank so red with guilt, Holding with savage hate its hilt, Struck last and its own crimson spilt, Figuring the iron grasp Therefore relaxing till the tyrant's latest gasp!

Dead is that soul that does not flame At sight of Guilford's deathless name And her three children— heirs of fame! By Abnanee's child Grown on that fair memorial to their deed up-piled!

What though for them no more shall break The long reveille, and they wake To trumpet's call nor cannon's quake While with soft pace and slow Across the world the solemn centuries stealing go!

They live who die the world to bless— Though never their sod a footstep press As they sink in forgetfulness, Out on the world's dark verge, Oblivion's ocean-moon their only funeral dirge.

They die who live for self, although Till time is o'er life's paths they know, And never above their bosoms flow Lettie's unceasing stream Long as the Wain circles the North's unfading beam!

And they still live! When that proud stone is by the battering years o'erthrown, And mingled with their dust is blown Round earth's unpeopled shore, They then shall live, and on and on forever more!

HENRY JEROME STODOLAR.

WASHINGTON LETTER.
From our regular correspondent.

Facts are stubborn things, and now that the Democrats have an opportunity to examine the pension roll they are turning up every day to prove that the claims made by Democrats for years, that millions of dollars were being paid out illegally for pensions, was correct. Cases are numerous where men are drawing $72 a month for total disability and are in addition following ordinary avocations and drawing the same salaries as unimpaired men. Two cases of this sort turned up this week right here in Washington, one man a musician regularly employed and the other a government clerk, and there are many more here. These two men were re-examined and their pensions reduced to $17 and $23 a month respectively, and so apparent was the justice of the reduction that neither of them availed themselves of the right to appeal from the decision of the board of examiners.

A little incident occurred this week at the Pension Office which shows that politics do not enter into the present conduct of that office. A Democratic Congressman called to protest against the reduction of the pension of a prominent Democratic worker in his district, and said that the man had influence enough to throw his district, which is close, to the Republicans. The papers in the case were produced and it was conclusively shown that the man was drawing a larger pension than he was entitled to, and the Congressman had to acknowledge it, although he still asked that this particular pension be not reduced. He was informed, as other Democratic Congressmen have been who called upon similar errands, that the policy of this administration was to administer the law as it exists without regard to the politics of the pensioners.

Secretary Morton thinks the work of the Weather Bureau should be confined to the purposes for which it was established and that the employment of high-salaried scientific experts to experiment along lines which nobody really knows anything about is all wrong and in consequence of the thoughts he has notified several professors who have been engaged upon work that was of no immediate practical use either to the Bureau or to the public that their services will be dispensed with. The Secretary intends that the entire talent of the Bureau shall be devoted to improving daily forecasts of the weather, which he believes to be the work which is the most beneficial to the public. "How the far would fly," remarked a man who knows considerable about the inside workings of some of the other so-called scientific bureaux of the government, "if a man like Morton was put in charge of the Geological and the Coast Survey offices. He knows enough about science not to allow himself to be bamboozled by the fake scientists whose sole object in life is to hold on to the soft snaps they now have."

Senator Voorhes, whose long Congressional experience makes his opinion valuable, takes no stock in the talk about the extra session being a short one. Speaking of it he said: "Congress will probably be in continuous session until August 15, 1894, if not longer." Representative Wilson, of West Virginia, the gentleman who is thought to stand the best chance of being the chairman of the Ways and Means committee of the House, should Mr. Springer not get it again, also thinks the extra session will run into the regular session and that the latter will be an unusually long one. Mr. Wilson thinks the tariff will be taken up just as soon as the Ways and Means committee is announced by Speaker Crisp, and it is expected that will be immediately after the House goes through the formality of re-electing Mr. Crisp Speaker.

Many misstatements have been made concerning the alleged investigations reported about Grand Falls, Me. The roads are covered with them. It is thought they were swept up from the river by a waterspout that occurred a few days ago.

WAYS OF DRIVING A HEN.
The Man Nobly Comes to the Front and Knows All About It.

Danbury News.

When a woman has a hen to drive into the coop she takes hold of her hoops with both hands and shakes them quietly toward the delinquent and says, "Shew, there!" The hen takes one look at the object, and then stalks majestically into the coop in perfect disgust of the sex. A man doesn't do that way. He goes "out of doors" and says, "It is singular nobody in this house can drive a hen but myself." And, picking up a stick of wood, hurls it at the offending biped, and utters, "Get in there, you thief." The hen immediately loses her reason and dashes to the opposite end of the yard. The man straightway dashes after her. She comes back again with her head down, her wings out and followed by an assortment of stove wood, fruit cans and coal clinkers, with much puffing and a very mad man in the rear.

Then she skins up on the stoop, and under the barn, and over a fence or two, and around the house, and back again to the stoop, all the while talking as only an excited hen can talk, and all the while followed by things convenient for handling, and by a man whose coat is on the sawbuck, and whose perspiration and profanity appear to have no limit. By this time the other hens have come out to take a hand in the debate and help dodge the missiles—and the man says every hen on the place shall be sold in the morning, and puts on his things and goes down the street, and the woman dons her hoops, and has every one of those hens housed and contented in two minutes, and the only sound heard on the premises is the hammering by the oldest boy as he mends the broken pickets.

A Much Mixed Prayer.
The Rev. Dr. Marshall's prayer at the Jefferson Davis ceremonies, in Raleigh was published in many papers in this State. The Goldsboro Argus, by a blunder of foreman, gives the following as part of this prayer: "Oh Lord, our Heavenly Father, the high and mighty Ruler of the universe, who doth from Thy throne behold all dwellers upon earth, Thou hast been our refuge from one generation to another. Before the mountains were brought forth, or even the earth and world were made. Thou art God from everlasting.

The price of prime Irish potatoes is 'looking up' on the Northern markets. They were quoted yesterday at $4.10 per barrel, and world without end."

This is almost as badly mixed as the old minister's description of Noah's wife, whom he confounded with the ark. In reading he skipped a page, and read "she was three hundred cubits deep, fifty cubits wide, thirty cubits high, and pitched inside and out."

Or suggests the Charlotte Observer, as that of the sermon of the day, who said: "An' while Paul was preachin' in de madden fell out 'ny de window, and de fragments dey gathered up wuz twelve basketsful, an' whose wife shall she be in de judgment?"

Another Cyclone.
Still Water, Minn., July 14.—A terrific cyclone struck here at 3:10 this afternoon. The clouds were high until they reached the Atwood saw mill, where they seemed to swoop down and lifted the rafting sheds, carrying huge timbers into Lake Pepin. Two employees on the rafting sheds, Sam Simonson and William Anez, were instantly killed. Several others are severely injured.

A number of boys, fishing on the slip below the mill, were thrown into the water and escaped with slight injuries. The funnel-shaped cloud also struck the residence portion of the city but as far as can be learned did no damage other than overturning a number of barns.

The trustee of the State Alliance business fund has made the first public statement of the status of that fund. It is brief but interesting. The trustee says that $35,000 was subscribed and that $861 was lost on cotton bagging made of cotton, $650 by failures of sub-agents to give bonds, and that $1,220 was lost to the Executive Committee.

The Goldsboro Headlight says: We learn, that in a difficulty at Seafleton, Greene county, Saturday night, Wm. Dial, white, was shot three times by a negro, each ball taking effect in his head. At last accounts he was paralyzed and dying. His own pistol was taken away from him and used by the negro who did the work. Too much whiskey was the cause.

TERRIBLE EXPLOSION!
Too High Pressure.

In these days of keen competition in every line, when the business man is compelled to bend his intellect and every energy to the success of his business; the clerk, book-keeper, professional man and laborer, to drive themselves at a terrific rate, there can be but one result—an explosion, which, if not resulting in immediate death, leaves them with shattered brains and bodies. They are running at too high pressure. The strain is too great. Something must and does give way. This is equally true of women. Though their sphere is more limited, they have their daily burdens, frets, and worries, and the result are the same as with their stronger companions.

This condition is growing worse every day. The rapidity of its increase is awful to contemplate. Our homes, hospitals, and insane asylums are full of these unfortunate, and are being crowded still further. There is but one solution of the matter. Recognize the importance of the situation at once, and take the necessary measures to overcome it. If you have failing memory, hot flashes, dizziness, nervous or sick headache, biliousness, irritability, melancholy, sleeplessness, fainting, nervous dyspepsia, epilepsy, etc., know that any one of them is but a symptom of the calamity that may befall you, and even though you have used so-called remedies and treated with reputable physicians with little or no benefit, give Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve Tonic. It is the only remedy that may be depended upon for nervous disorders.

Two years ago I used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve Tonic with marked benefit, and in fact, in the bladder five years in the hands of our best physicians, to try it together with Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills. He was so wonderfully benefited that he is attending to business again. My wife also used Nerve Tonic with most excellent results. All of us together have not used more than six bottles of Nerve Tonic, several of our friends have also used it, and are greatly improved.—Louis Giblin, Rubber & Glue Works, to be sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent by Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., at special price, $1 per bottle, six bottles, $5, express prepaid. The Morganton Herald says the persons who recently invaded the property of the Waldenses in Burke, made a disturbance and committed acts of outrageous vandalism, have been arrested and are now in jail in Morganton.

More than one-third of the 52,000 immigrants who landed at this port last month were Italian and Jewish, says the New York Sun. The inflow of these races this year surpasses that of every other year. It is evident that both the Italians and the Jews are pleased with this country, and that those of them who have been here for some time give encouragement to others to come. For a short time the Jews of Russia found some trouble in getting passage from this country, especially from German ports, they go to Belgian, Dutch, British, or French ports, where plenty of steamships are at their service, as can be seen by the arrival of so many of them here every week.

Dispatches from Alexandria, Egypt, of recent date, say that according to the stories told by the Egyptian medical delegate to Mecca, who arrived here from that place last week, the scenes where the ravages from cholera have taken place are horrible beyond comprehension. Pilgrims have died by the thousand instead of by hundreds, as the official accounts have stated. So fast did the disease claim the unfortunate that they could not be buried and hundreds of bodies were left to decompose in the sun.

The aggregate stated that instead of there being 5,000 deaths, the number amounted to fifteen or twenty thousand.

The people would fall while at prayer, writhing in agony and expire in an hour or less. Bodies were found lying everywhere in the streets and country. They were gathered up by grave diggers without any attempt at identification, and carted away to huge trenches, into which they were thrown and hastily covered up.

Even with such treatment the grave diggers could not keep pace with death. So many victims were found lying around the city every morning that they could not be buried, and piles of corpses were allowed to remain for days untouched.

The scenes at the base of Mount Mecca were horrible beyond conception. Whole camps of pilgrims died. The road between Mecca and Motta was strewn with their white clothed bodies no attempt being made to remove them.

Counterfeiters at Work.
Two white men, John Honeycutt and Thad Kennedy, have been operating a counterfeit money shop in Utah neighborhood of Union county. They are rather bold in their work and use all kinds of material, from pewter spoons to still worms. They stole a whistle of a steam engine last week and run it into dollars. Officers are on the lookout for them. The moulds they use have been used by three generations of counterfeiters, the first place they were used being in Montgomery county.

Murdered His Wife.
Paul Tison, a negro living near Bamberg, S. C., had a row with his wife last week during which he struck her over the head with a whip handle, killing her almost instantly. He dragged her to a creek and pinned her body to the bottom by driving a stake through her clothing. It was found by a searching party, of which the husband was the leader. An investigation was held by the coroner and Tison broke down and confessed. He came near being lynched by a mob of negroes.

Yellow Fever in New York Harbor.
New York, July 13.—The steamship Ardanang is detained at quarantine on account of yellow fever. The Ardanang arrived Saturday from Cienfuegos. Captain William Rettig died during the passage of yellow fever. That disease is raging in a number of ports near Cienfuegos and a close watch is being kept on all vessels sailing from there. The Ardanang will be held in quarantine a few days longer. She brought no passengers and all her crew are still on board. Rettig took sick July 2d, and died at 4:30 a. m. July 9th.

Bardwell, Ky., July 8.—In the presence of several thousand people Miller, the double murderer and rapist, was hanged here at 3:40 yesterday afternoon.

Wiser counsel prevailed, and Mr. Ray the father of the murdered girls relented, saying that he would be satisfied at his death by the rope instead of fire.

As soon as the negro was strung up his body was riddled with bullets and afterwards set free to.

Miller denied his guilt to the last.

H. Q. Evans, of Ottumwa, Ia., was appointed Wednesday chief of division in the office of the second Auditor of the Treasury. Mr. Evans is a son-in-law of the Gen. J. B. Weaver, of Iowa, who was the Populist candidate for President in the last campaign. He has always been a Democrat, though it is said he voted for his father-in-law last fall. Congressman Hayes was his principal backer for the office he got Wednesday.
