Full of trouble—the ordinary pill. Trouble when you take it, and trouble when you've got it down. Plenty of unpleasantness, but mighty little good.

With Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, there's no trouble. They're made to prevent it. They're the original little Liver Pills, tiny, sugar-coated anti-bilious granules, purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, the smallest, easiest and best to take. They cleanse and regulate the whole system, in a natural and easy way—mildly and gently, but thoroughly and effectively. One little Pellet for a laxative—three for a cathartic. Sick Headache, Billious Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Billious Attacks, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels are prevented, relieved and cured.

They're the cheapest pill you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.

You pay only for the value received.

BATTLE IN A CAR.

Two Robbers Find That They Were Expected.

ONE SHOT AND THE OTHER CAUGHT.

Somebody Gave Their Plan Away—The Officials Even Knew Who Would Make the Attack and Prepared to Take Them.

KNOXVILLE, TENN., November 4.—At 9:30 o'clock last night as train No. 15, which left Knoxville at 8 o'clock for Louisville over the Knoxville and Ohio was taking water at a tank 200 yards beyond Coal Creek, two men boarded the front platform of the express car and rushed into the open door. They covered the express messenger, R. D. Scribner, with their pistols.

As they did so, Chief of Police Atkins, of this city, and Lieutenant Hood, and Detective Irwin, who were concealed in the car, sprang from their hiding places, and called upon the robbers to hold up their hands. Instead of obeying that command, one of the desperadoes turned upon the officers and opened fire. A regular fusilade followed. One of the robbers fell at the first fire but the other continued his unequal battle, emptying his revolver as fast as possible. At last his final bullet sped wide of its mark and he was overpowered and placed in irons.

Smith was found to be badly wounded, being shot through the groin and may die. Chief Atkins was shot through the arm, and Officer Irwin received a scalp wound.

For the last three or four days the night trains on the East Tennessee going north have carried a posse of officers. This was done on information furnished the company's officials by Officer Irwin, who in some manner which he refuses to divulge, learned that an attempt was to be made by William Smith and Fred Gerding, two well known men about town, and scions of well known and prominent families.

Gerding was formerly a messenger of the express company. About a month ago he mysteriously disappeared.

The train stopped at Coal Creek station, the two men were seen by the conductor, who was watching, to mount the platform of the express car. He stepped inside and notified express officials who immediately started for the express car. When they reached there the fight was practically over. The car was full of smoke and Smith lay upon the floor with the messenger astride of him. The other was in the hands of the officers.

The wounded and captured burglars were brought to this city together with the wounded officers on a freight train which met the passenger train at Coal Creek. Smith, the wounded burglar, was taken to a hospital where he is under guard. Gerding is strongly guarded at the jail. Both of the would-be robbers were raised in Knoxville. Gerding was once high in society. His father is a prominent physician at Oliver Springs. Smith lost caste here some time ago by marrying a fast woman.

FOUR INDICTMENTS

Against Ex-Cashier McCandless, of the Late Gate City Bank.

ATLANTA, GA., November 3.—Four indictments have been found by the United States grand jury against Edward S. McCandless, formerly cashier of the Gate City National bank.

He is charged with having paid a draft of Tom Cobb Jackson's for $5,000 when Jackson had no funds in the bank.

He is also indicted for conspiracy with Redwine, the teller, in marking one package of $25,000 twice on Bank examiner Campbell when he was counting the cash. Campbell lost his job through this trick, which enabled Redwine to cover up, temporarily, his heavy shortage.

McCandless is now city marshal of Atlanta. Redwine is in jail and Jackson committed suicide.

The bank was closed last spring.

McCandless is not believed to have had anything criminal to do with Redwine's defalcation, but he was Redwine's immediate superior officer. His bond was fixed at $8,000, which was readily given.

RIOT IN AUSTRIA.

Villagers Attack the Police, Who Fire Upon Them.

VIENNA, November 4.—The eviction of a local miller from the village of Kajane resulted in a serious fight between the villagers and the police, which lasted for a long time. The villagers, in large numbers, made a furious attack upon the police, who were assisting in the work of eviction. The police, when hard pressed, fired into the crowd of villagers, killing four of them. During the riot five policemen were severely injured. Much excitement prevails at Kajane and its neighborhood and the local authorities have appealed for assistance, with the result that a force of military has been sent to the scene of disturbance.

Carolina Gets Two Consulships.

WASHINGTON, November 3.—The president has appointed two South Carolinians to consular positions. J. Edward Nettles, of Burlington, being designated as consul at Trieste, Austria, and Robert J. Kiok, of Charleston, consul at Copenhagen, Denmark.

Mr. Nettles is a lawyer and was at one time a member of the legislature of his state. So far as can be learned, he has never held any other public office. He is now about fifty years of age.

Mr. Kirk is comparatively young. Senator Butler speaks highly of both appointments.

A CITY WRECKED.

A Ship Loaded With Explosives Burns With Awful Results.

THE GOVERNOR AMONG THE MISSING.

Debris Blown For Miles—The Water Was Thrown Up in a Vast Volume and Swept The Citizens Out Into the Sea.

SANTANDER, SPAIN, November 5.—A terrible explosion occurred here last night, in which a number of persons were killed. The shock of the explosion was so great that the residents in the fartherest part of the city thought an earthquake had occurred and that the place was about to be destroyed.

The ship Volo, with a cargo of dynamite, was lying at the quay last evening when in some way not yet explained, she caught fire. A large crowd gathered in the vicinity, and the police, evidently unaware of the dangerous character of the ship's cargo, made no attempt to drive them away.

The governor of the province personally directed the efforts of the firemen to extinguish the flames, though fully aware of the danger he and the other fire fighters were in.

While every effort was being made to quench the flames a dull roar, followed by a loud report, shook to its foundations every house around the quay, wrecked walls being blown out as though they were made of cardboard.

The explosion of the dynamite lifted the sea into the air like a waterspout, mingling enormous quantities of sand and stones with wreckage and hurling them for a great distance on every side.

Houses were immediately ignited by the blazing timbers and the people who were not killed rushed in terror into the streets, where a number of them met death or were severely wounded or crushed by falling houses. Others ran in terror from the scene and hundreds went with fear, and, abandoning the city, ran into the fields, shrieking hysterically and tearing their hair with fury.

The loss of life cannot yet be stated with any degree of accuracy. It is known, however, that many persons were killed, and a very large number injured. The governor has not been seen since the explosion. It is feared that he was killed and blown out into the bay.

The town is completely paralyzed by the disaster, and no attempt was subsequently made to extinguish the fire, which was communicated to adjacent quays by flaming brands thrown by the exploding dynamite.

The number of people who have lost their senses through the explosion is great, and it is said that hundreds of people have completely gone out of their minds and will have to be confined in asylums the remainder of their lives. Mandez Nunez street is completely destroyed and a number of adjoining streets suffered terribly and are in ruins.

MORE THAN 1,000 KILLED.

MADRID, November 6.—Private telegrams received here today say that over 1,000 people met their death today by an explosion at Santander. In addition a British steamer was burned at the same time and forty of her crew met death.

THE YELLOW FEVER.

Brunswick Still Anxiously Awaits the Coming of Frost.

BRUNSWICK, November 3.—The board of health, with Surgeon Murray's indorsement, today issued an address advising the people against returning home until the surgeon deems it safe.

The report today is fourteen new cases—eleven being white; Ellen and Wm. Geland, Bertha Helgrin, Eva Poole, Mrs. A. W. Mosk, Edith Ferguson, Alexander J. Skipper, N. A. Skipper, L. Douglass, N. Mattave, Elizabeth Drake.

Eight discharged.

BRUNSWICK, GA., November 4.—Nineteen new case reported today—five of them white. No deaths. Fourteen discharged.

BRUNSWICK, GA., November 5.—Only five new case were reported today, all colored. There was one death—Mrs. Elizabeth Drake, white.

Thirteen patients were discharged, all colored.

A Wholesale Lynching.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., November 6.—A special from Fayetteville, Tenn., says: Early this morning on the farm of Jack Daniels, near Lynchburg, Ned Waggoner, his son, Will, and daughter, Mary, son-in-law, Motlow, were found hanging to one tree. All the parties are colored, and the only cause at present assigned for their fate is that they were supposed to have been implicated in the numerous barn burnings, which have taken place in Monroe and Lincoln counties recently.

Kentucky Tragedy.

PRINCETON, KY., November 6.—Tobe Watson, a leading business man of Eddyville, twelve miles south of here, was killed yesterday by City Marshal Frank Waddington. Watson was endeavoring to collect an old bill from Waddington, when hot words brought on an altercation. Watson was struck twice on the head with a policeman's club and lived only a few minutes. Waddington is under arrest and feeling is very strong against him.

Her Name Restored.

CHARLESTON, S. C., November 6.—In the case of Sadie Means, the telephone girl who was expelled from the Second Presbyterian church at Columbia for working on Sunday, the synod ordered that the action of the Charleston presbytery be annulled and that the church restore Sadie Means to all her rights and privileges as member in full communion." The case will be carried to the general assembly.

NEWS OF THE WEEK CONDENSED.

Silver took a jump of 1 1-2 cents an ounce Thursday.

Rev. J. D. Spirer has resigned the presidency of the North Carolina Lutheran college.

Jacob Summerlin, an old and prominent citizen of Orlando, Fla., is dead. He left an estate valued $50,000.

The Georgia Senate has passed a bill providing that all hangings in that state shall be in private.

The world's international convention of Christain workers will meet in Atlanta, Ga., next Thursday.

It is probable that President Cleveland and several members of his cabinet will visit the Georgia State fair at Augusta.

The public debt statement issued November 1, shows a net increase in the public debt, less cash in the Treasury, during October of $5,141,050.

It is announced that Edward F. Uhl, of Grand Rapids, Mich., has been tendered and accepted the assistant secretaryship of state to succeed Josiah Quincy.

A crank attacked Edwin Gould in his New York office Monday and demanded $5,000, claiming that Gould's actions had caused him to lose that much. He was locked up.

The explosion of a boiler in the stables of the Dry Dock, East Broadway and Battery street railroad Thursday caused the death of seven men and $10,000 damage to property.

Wayside Inn, a fine hotel at Hendersonville, S. C., was burned last Monday. The loss is about $25,000 with $14,000 insurance. It is supposed to have been of incendiary origin.

The total paid attendance at the world's fair, from the opening to the close, was 22,453,910. Total admissions on passes, including employes, exhibitors and concessionaires, 5,593,813.

Dr. George G. Sanders, a prominent physician of Marshall county, has been sentenced to six months in jail for attempting to induce a postmaster to sell stamps at less than regular price.

The world's fair was formally closed Monday. The festivities of the program were omitted on account of the death of Mayor Harrison. The great show wound up with $2,000,000 in the treasury.

Greenlander has made two miles in 4:34, at Terre Haute, Ind., which beats the stallion records twelve seconds and comes within half a second of the world's record made by Nightingale last year.

Ellison's cotton trade review shows that spinners in Great Britain have taken this year 150,070,000 pounds less than last season, and that on the continent the falling off has been 14,466,000 pounds.

The fast Chicago and New Orleans vestibuled train on the Illinois Central was wrecked twenty miles north of Cairo, Ill., Sunday. An open switch caused the trouble. The fireman and two tramps who were stealing a ride were killed.

Andrew Hayes, a negro now under arrest in Atlanta, for another crime, has confessed to the murder of a negro named Shepard eight years ago. Shepard was robbed and killed in his store, and the crime has been shrouded in mystery until now.

The visible supply of grain, as compiled by the New York Produce Exchange, is as follows: Wheat, 69,328,000, increase 2,319,000; corn, 9,175,000, decrease 114,000; oats, 5,274,000, increase 56,000; rye, 522,000, increase 66,000; barley, 2,719,000, increase 375,000.

In southwestern Arkansas most of the cotton gins have been posted by white cappers, and fire is threatened if they gin any more before the price has reached thirty cents. Most of the gins are full of unginned cotton and its destruction would entail serious loss to the farmers.

Since the State Farmers' Alliance of South Carolina voted that as a prerequisite to receiving alliance votes, all candidates in the democratic primaries next year must pledge themselves to support the Ocal platform, General Hampton is urged to organize National League democratic clubs throughout the state.

The Draw Was Open.

PORTLAND, OREGON, November 3.—An electric car on the Oregon City line, containing thirty passengers, went through an open drawbridge at Madison street this morning, falling into the Carpen river. It is reported that about twenty occupants were drowned.

GROWTH OF THE SOUTH.

The Industrial Development in the Week Ending October 30, 1893.

The Tradesman, Chattanooga, Tenn., in its review of the industrial situation in the South for the week ending October 30th, 1893, reports that there is a decidedly better feeling in industrial, financial and mercantile circles, although it is not yet time for the results of the renewed confidence to be fully manifested. It is admitted that the South is in better shape than for many years to take advantage of an increase in business. Less money will be needed from outside sources to move crops and more money will be brought in that will remain for the reason that the volume of indebtedness is comparatively small.

The early estimates as to the amount of cotton are being revised and increased to meet the actual facts. It is beginning to come in with a good deal of freedom. In the iron industry and in mining affairs there is no change of any account, and in new industries established there is a slight falling off for the week.

The Tradesman reports 22 new industries established or incorporated during the week, together with 5 enlargements of manufactories and 8 important new buildings. Among the most important new industries of the week are the Char[illegible] Co. of Mooresville, N. C., capital $50,000; the Mansfield Cotton Co. of Mansfield, Ark., capital $25,000; the Standard [illegible] Manufacturing Co. of Brookhaven, Miss., capital $20,000; and the Fort Smith, Ark., Development Co., capital $10,000. Saw and planing mills are reported at Orlando, Fla., Wadesville, N. C., Chattanooga and Cumberland Gap, Tenn., and Moundsville, W. Va.; flouring mills at Warrenton, N. C., Gallatin and Nashville, Tenn., and Ridgeway, Va., and a foundry at Johnson City, Va.

LET US GIVE THANKS.

President Cleveland Issues the Thanksgiving Proclamation.

WASHINGTON, November 4.—The following proclamation was issued by the president:

"A Proclamation—While the American people should every day remember with praise and thanksgiving the divine goodness and mercy which have followed them since their beginning as a nation, it is fitting that one day in each year should be especially devoted to the contemplation of the blessings we have received at the hands of God, and to the grateful acknowledgment of His loving kindness:

"Therefore, I, Grover Cleveland, president of the United States, do hereby designate and set apart Thursday, the 30th day of the present month, as a day of thanksgiving and praise, to be kept and observed by all the people of our land. On that day let us forego our ordinary work and employment and assemble in our usual places of worship, where we may recall all that God has done for us, and where, from grateful hearts, our united tributes of praise and song may reach the throne of grace. Let the reunion of kindred and the social meeting of friends lend cheer and enjoyment to duty and let generous gifts of charity for the relief of the poor and needy prove the sincerity of our thanksgiving.

"GROVER CLEVELAND."

PRENDERGAST IN COURT.

The Slayer of Mayor Carter Harrison Pleads "Not Guilty."

CHICAGO, November 3.—Patrick Eugene Joseph Prendergast, the murderer of Mayor Harrison, was arraigned in Judge Horton's court today. The courtroom was crowded and when the prisoner was led in by the jailer, the spectators jumped to their feet. The action terrified Prendergast and with blanched face he crouched close to the officers. He could scarcely stand and he had to be assisted to his seat. When his indictment was read, Prendergast responded nervously "not guilty."

"Have you an attorney?" asked the judge.

"No, but I expect to get one," responded the prisoner faintly.

The judge announced that the case would be continued to give Prendergast an opportunity to secure counsel and the assassin was led trembling back to his cell. The prisoner had evidently intended to make a speech in the court room, but his fear of mob violence reduced him to a state of abject terror and he seemed glad to get back to jail.

Plans for the Monument.

RALEIGH, N. C., November 3.—A special committee of the board of lady managers of the North Carolina confederate monument met this afternoon and adopted plans as designed by Colonel L. M. Muldoon, of Louisville, Ky. The plans thus chosen are subject to modifications. The design submitted by Muldoon is for a granite monument seventy feet high with two life size bronze figures, one of a confederate infantryman and the other of a cavalryman in spirited attitudes and with a shaft thirty feet high surmounted by a figure ten feet in height of a soldier at rest. Colonel Muldoon was a confederate officer.

Charged With Forgery.

CHICAGO, November 3.—The detectives arrested fifteen-year-old Clarence Mayer Tuesday afternoon. The arrest was made upon a telegram from the chief of police of Montgomery, Ala. A week ago the boy came to Chicago to see the fair, but before leaving home it is alleged that he forged the signature of Pierce, Overton & Co., to two checks for $386 and $25 respectively. The signature of the firm was so cleverly forged that the Farley National bank readily cashed the checks. Mayer will be held till the arrival of the Montgomery officers.

Directum Won Easily.

NEW YORK, November 3.—The trotting match between Directum and Mascot, which, it had been said, was going to be the most sensational event that ever took place between harnessed horses, proved to be no sensation at all, so far as the race itself was concerned. There were between 6,000 and 7,000 people present—perhaps as large an assemblage as ever collected at the park. Directum won the three heats in 2:10 1-4, 2:07 3-4 and 2:08 3-4 respectively.

Corbett and Mitchell Sign.

NEW YORK, November 6.—An agreement was signed last night by Billy Thompson, representing Charles Mitchell, the English pugilist, and W. A. Brady, representing James J. Corbett, which will probably have the effect of bringing off the big international fight in New Orleans. It looks, after all, as if the Olympic Club, of the Crescent City, would secure the event.

Burned at Sea.

HAVANA, CUBA, November 3.—The steamship City of Alexandria, belonging to the New York and Cuba Mail Steamship Company, from Havana and Matanzas for New York, was burned off Cojima. Sixty persons were drowned. The steamer was commanded by Captain Hoffman.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

For the Mothers.

As boys grow up make companions of them, then they will not seek companionship elsewhere.

Let the children make a noise sometimes; their hoppines is as important as your nerves.

Respect their little secrets. If they have concealments, woryying them will never make them tell,—and patience will probably do the work.

Allow them as they grow older to have odiuions of their own; make individuals, and not mere echoes.

Remember that without physical health mental attainments are worthless; let them lead free, happy lives which will strenghten both mind and bode.

Bear in mind that you are largely responsible for your children's inherited character, and have patience with saults and failings.

Talk hopefully to your children of life and its possibiliuy; you have no right to depress them becaus you have suffered.

TTeach boys and girls the actual facts of life as soon as they are old enough to understand them, the sense of responsibility without saddening them.

Find out what their special tastes are and developed, them, instead of spending time, money, and patience in forcing them into studies which are repugnant to them.

As long as it is possible kiss them good-night after they are in bed; they do like it so, and it keeps them very close.

If you have lost a child, remember that for the one that is gone there is nothing more to do; for those remaining, everythinf; hide your grief for their sakes.

Impress upon them from early infancy that actions have results, and they cannot escape consequences even by being sorry when have acted wrongly.

As your daughters grow up teach then at least the true merits of housekeeping and cookery; they will thank you for it in the later life a great deal more than for accomplishments.

Remember that although the are all your children, each one has an individual character, and taster and qualities very indefinitely.

Cultivate them separately, and not as if your were turning them out by machinery.

Encourage them to take good walking exercise. Young ladies in this country are rarely walkers. Girls ought to be able to walk as well as boys. Half of the nervous diseases which afflict young ladies would disappear if the habit of regular exercise were encouraged.

Keep up a right standard of principles.

Your children will be your keenest judges in the future. Do be honest with them in small things as well as in great. If you cannot tell what they wish to know, say so, rather than deceive them.

Reprove your children for talebearing; a child taught to carry reports from the kitchen to the parlor is detestable.

Remember that visitors praise the children as much to please as they deserve it, and their presence is oftener an affliction than not.—Selected

"Tanapil," a story by Mrs Lidie Avirett Rivers, in the November of Fetter's Southern Magazine, introduces a new writer to the public—a writer who gives promise of yet better work in the future. The issue contains two illustrated articles of travel of unusual interest, and the editorials of Gen. Duke and Opie Read are in their vein. The poems of Madison Cawein Chas. J. O' Malley, and Clinton Scollard are notably good.
