T. S. WATSON, LOCAL AND CITY EDITOR.

THURSDAY November 9, 1893.

Mursh & Kridler are going out of the shoe business.

Itching, burning, scaly and crusty scalp of infants cleaned and healed, and quiet sleep restored by Johnson's Ointment Soap at Edwin Cuthrell Salisbury N. C.

President Cleveland has proclaimed November 30th for a day of national thanksgiving.

We are glad to note that the Salisbury Cotton Mills are again running on full time.

Stewart & Kinerly receive select salt water fish Wednesday and Saturday respectively, call and give them your order, they deliver promptly.

Miss Annie Gowen has been too unwell to attend to her duties at the graded school for the past few days. We hope she will soon be better.

James Coley, Jr., of the Davie Times came over from Mocksville Saturday on his wheel making the trip in 2 hours and 10 minutes. He made the Watchman a friendly call while here.

Mr. J. T. Wyatt, manufacturer of Millstones, Faith, this country, made a shipment of a pair of his celebrated granite millstones to Elkin, N. C., last Saturday. His millstones have a wide reputation for their good qualities.

An English admiral says: "It is true the lifesaving service of America is not equaled anywhere in the world." It is also true that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saves, annually thousands of lives. Invaluable in sudden colds, throat, and lung troubles.

The stockholders of the Salisbury Roller Mills Co., held their annual meeting in the First National Bank yesterday, Nov. 7, and declared a cash dividend of 10 per cent. The business of the company is in a healthy condition.

Mr. R. V. Miller has again taken charge of the Y. M. C. A. as secretary.

"A chemical success and medical triumph," so speaks eminent physician in reference to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral; and the eulogy was none too strong. No other medicine is so safe and efficacious in all diseases of the throat and lungs.

Mrs. J. P. Caldwell, wife of Editor Caldwell of the Charlotte Observer, whose serious illness was mentioned in the Watchman last week, died Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Statesville. The Watchman extends heartfelt sympathy to the afflicted husband in his great loss.

A thief threw a stone through the show window of Rogers Clothing Co., Friday night breaking a large hole through which he snatched three coats which were in the window on display. Mr. S. B. Miller, who was sleeping in Whitlock & Wright's, next door, heard the crash and ran to the front window in time to see the thief running down the street. W. B. Smoot and John Sloop, who were sleeping in the store, were awakened by the noise but, not suspecting anything wrong did not investigate. W. B. Smoot offers a reward of $10. for information that will lead to the arrest of the thief.

Miss Annie L. Smithdeal, daughter of Mr. W. S. Smithdeal, Esq., died at her home in this city Saturday, of peritonitis suffering Saturday morning, as a last resort, her physician, Dr. Whitehead, thought best to perform an operation, but to no avail. She was past recovery and died about half past eleven o'clock. Miss Annie was in the bloom of young womanhood, being 25 years old. She was a consistent member of St. John's Lutheran church, this city, with which she had been connected about seven years. She had many friends who mourn her loss deeply. The WATCHMAN extends heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family in their double affliction, having lost, only two months ago, a devoted wife and mother.

Rheumatism, neuralgia, headache and pains of every kind relieved by Johnson's Magnetic Oil. Sold by Edwin Cuthrell Salisbury N. C.

Rev. Mr. Cielland, of Statesville filled the pulpit of Dr. Rumble at the First Presbyterian church, Sunday and Sunday-night.

Services are being held in St. Paul's Episcopal church, at the Salisbury Cotton Mills, every night this week.

At last Thursday's session of the Presbyterian Synod in Tarboro, Greensboro Salisbury and Morgantown were nominated for the next meeting of Synod in 1894. Greensboro was selected.

The series of meetings which have been conducted at the Baptist church by Rev. Mr. Jenkins, of Wilmington, for the past two weeks, closed Sunday night. Mr. Jenkins is an earnest, effective preacher and was well liked as was evidenced by the large attendance at the meetings. Ten persons were baptized Monday night and several others will, be soon, as a result of the meeting.

By the request of the late Dr. J. C. Price his life will be written by John C. Dancy, his intimate friend and associate from boyhood. The latter has collected nearly all the data already for the book. He informs us that it will make quite a good sized volume and he is certain will have a wide sale owing to the great popularity of the subject.—Raleigh N. O. Chronicle.

We are glad to see it stated that the Bible Reader, of Richmond Va., which suspended last summer, is to resume publication. The paper has been purchased by a new company and the first issue of the monthly edition will appear November 25th. The owners announce that they have secured the services of the former editor, Rev. Edward L. Pell, who will have entire editorial supervision of the paper.

Three friends were detected cutting the bolts and removing the fish plate from the rails of the R. & D. on the approach to a high trestle near Welford Saturday night. The passenger train which was about due, was flagged down by the watchman of the bridge in time to prevent a terrible accident.

The railroad company has a force of detectives at work on the case.

LOST—A white and red spotted pointer dog, wore a collar having on it the name of Louis D. H. Brown, who will pay a reward to the party returning him.

Gov. Jarvis delivered an interesting and instructive address to the colored people at their State fair last Thursday, which was well received and generously applauded.

The depot of the Carolina Central Railroad Company at Rutherfordton, was burned last night together with all the freight stored in the building. The fire was of incendiary origin. The loss to the company is fully covered by insurance.

Trinity College.

Mr. Editor:—College life is so monotonous that when a student attempts to write an article for the press he finds little to say if news is the objective end. One of the most advantageous features connected with the college work, and one from which much information is gained is the lecture course given here. A few nights ago Mr. Weston of Hickory N. C. gave us an excellent lecture on "Marshal Ney". The subject is of more or less interest to every North Carolinian. "Marshal Ney" was the first soldier of the Napoleonic Empire and Mr. Weston compares him with Stonewall Jackson. On November 15th 1540 Peter S. Ney of N. C. and Marshal Ney of France were the same person. The evidence that Mr. Weston produces seems indisputable. He has spent much labor and time on the subject and in '91 visited France that he might gain more knowledge and that he might with more certainty establish his belief as a fact.

The game of foot ball is now attracting much attention among colleges here and elsewhere. Trinity College has won the championship of the State over Wake Forest College and the University, and the game for the championship of the South will be played between Trinity and the University of Va. at Lynchburg next Saturday the 11th. Trinity and the University of Tenn. played here last Saturday. Score 70 to 0 in favor of Trinity.

Notwithstanding the seeming brutality of the game foot ball has a fascination about it that will attract most every observer. Large crowds attend the games and show untold amount of enthusiasm. Those without religious scruples go so far as to bet money for the side they think will win.

Mr. B. F. Harrison of Indian Territory entered school here today.

Correspondence by WATCHMAN.

Rev. K. A. McLeod preached in the Baptist church here Sunday night, 5th, inst.

Mr. J. B. Haywood, of Red Bank, is moving back to the McAlister, place on Little River.

Mr. I. C. Ingram, of Norwood, is in town this week.

Mr. Gilead seems to be on a big boom Messrs. W. F. and A. O. Haywood will soon have their new store house completed and open out at once.

Mr. Charlie Cotton, of the Narrows, entered school here last week.

Mr. J. A. Lisk made two coffins last week, both for the colored people.

Mr. Lee Fesperman has decided to move back to Stanley county at an early day.

Mr. J. M. Russell is going to move to the Pemberton plantation in Richmond county this fall.

DIED.

On Sunday evening, at 2:45 o'clock, little Claude Fradey, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Wright, of Bocton, Alabama, fell asleep in Jesus. The little one had suffered long, and when the death angel came and bore his spirit to realms above, there was weeping in the household for the one who had shared a father's pride and a mother's wonderful love. He was two years, two months and one day old. The funeral took place at Green Pond Monday evening at two o'clock, Revs. S. G. Oglesby and M. W. Robison both making beautiful talks at the grave. To the bereaved parents and relatives we extend our sympathy, and commend them to the Giver of life for consolation. Weep not father, mother, but remember that your darling is now on the other shore with his little hands beckoning you to come and join him around the great white throne and forever live with Him who said: "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of Heaven."

You can say with the poet. "After patiently waiting for many days, God sent His spirit in, And soared away our baby boy To Heaven to live with Him."
