Our people were disappointed Saturday to learn that Evangelist W. R. Gales, who was expected to commence a protracted meeting in Lee Street chapel Sunday night, could not meet his appointment. He is expected to be here and have an opening service in the chapel tomorrow night. Mr. Gales is an earnest christian worker, and always attracts good crowds.

Miss Cora Franklin, a most estimable young lady of Charlotte, died very suddenly Sunday afternoon. She was sitting on the porch when she suddenly slipped from the chair to the floor. She was carried to her room and an effort made to revive her, but unsuccessfully. She died an hour later. The cause of her death was an abscess on her lungs.

Scrofula is one of the most fatal among the scourges which afflict mankind. Chronic gonorrhoea, cancerous humors, emaciation, and consumption are the result of scrofula. Ayer's Sarsaparilla eradicates this poison, and restores, to the blood, the elements of life and health.

The best medical authorities say the proper way to treat catarrh is to take a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The week of prayer for young men ended Sunday afternoon with a public meeting in the Y. M. C. A. hall. A good attendance was present and an interesting talk was made by Mr. E. V. Dr. Smith, for 37 years pastor of the Presbyterian church at Greensboro, has asked for a co-pastor. The congregation considered the matter and agreed to pay the co-pastor $1300. Then without a nomination, the congregation voted for the man. The result showed 113 for Rev. Egbert W. Smith, and 3 scattering. It shows that the congregation is unanimous. Rev. E. W. Smith is a son of the old doctor, and is one of the brainiest and ablest preachers in the state.—Concord Standard.

Rev. Dr. W. T. Black, Superintendent of the Oxford Orphan Home, in the Orphans Friend, calls upon all friends of the orphan children to help them by donations of provisions, clothing or money. There are 229 children of all denominations at Oxford to be fed and clothed, and he earnestly requests the pastors of every congregation in the State, on Thanksgiving Day, to give their people an opportunity to aid in this responsible and laborious work.

Mr. F. A. Rahlers, of North Dakota, a son-in-law of Capt. J. C. McCannless, of Dunn's Mountain, this county, sent a swan to Mr. McCannless this week from the Western land for a Thanksgiving dinner. OETUMWA, Ia., Nov. 21.—An excited and angry mob hung Fred Gustaveson to the stair railing of Justice Truitt's court room at 2:30 this evening. He had raped the four year old girl of Jonas Sax about 10 o'clock last night. The brute was promptly arrested after committing the crime and lodged in jail. This morning he was taken to the Sax house and positively identified by the little girl and a companion.

Sir Edward Walker, the great English railway magnate, is actively engaged in an effort to promote the cutting of a canal across Ireland, from Dublin to Galway Bay. He thinks that a canal that would carry the largest ships could be cut for about $40,000,000, and says, as the principal argument in its favor, that it would materially shorten the route from England to the United States. This scheme was originally proposed by the Marquis of Anglesey.

ASHEVILLE, Nov. 16.—Rev. B. G. Wild, of Webster, was killed by a horse yesterday and so badly hurt that he died in a few hours. He was 58 years old and a member of the Western North Carolina Conference, M. E. Church, South, and father of J. A. Wild, messenger in Collector Ellis' office.

The Wish Gratifier.

You have often wished for something to take the place of Pills. Now try a 25-cent package Simmons Liver Regulator powder. Take it dry on the tongue or make it into a tea. It is pleasant to take and gives quick relief—two good recommendations.

Castoria is truly a marvelous thing for children. Doctors prescribe it, medical journals recommend it and more than a million mothers are using it in place of Purgative, Bateman's drops, so-called soothing syrups and other narcotic and stupefying remedies. Castoria is the quickest thing to regulate the stomach and bowels and give healthy sleep the world has ever seen. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, quiets pain, cures diarrhoea and wind colic, alleviates feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents eruptions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mother's friend.

Castoria is put up in one-size bottles only. It is not sold in bulk. Don't allow any one to sell you anything else on the plea or promise that it is "just as good" and "will answer every purpose." See that you get CASTORIA.

The face of the child is the best sign of its health.

QUEER VISITING CARDS.

Many are the uses to which the cactus is put, but one of the queerest is that which prevails in Cape Town, South Africa, where cactus leaves are made to serve the purpose of visiting cards. It might occur to the reader that a package of thick leaves covered with prickly spines would not be easily accommodated in an ordinary card case.

The leaves of the special kind of cactus used for this purpose are not very prickly, however, and, furthermore, these unique cards are not carried about, but are left growing on the plant which stands at the foot of the front steps.

When a lady calls she has only to take a hat pin from her bonnet and scratch her name on the glossy surface of one of the leaves, while a gentleman accomplishes the same end with his sharp penknife. The lines thus scratched turn silver white and remain clear and distinct on the leaf for years.

On New Year's day these cactus cards are particularly convenient, and popular hostesses often appropriate a large branch of their cactus plant to the registry of visits received on that day.

There is one cactus, which is not especially plentiful, which not only has smooth leaves, but has spines so large and stiff that they make excellent pens, and visitors are saved even the slight trouble of drawing out a hat pin or a penknife.—Youth's Companion.

News reached here yesterday that the barn of Mr. Levi Gunter, living one and a half miles from Sanford was burned on the night of the 17th. Nine head of horses and mules perished, and a quantity of forage was burned. A gun house was also burned. The origin of the fire is unknown but is reported to be incendiary. Mr. Gunter is a man of good character and a good farmer, and his loss is greatly regretted.—N. O. Chronicle.

Raleigh, Nov. 18.—Persons who came down the Richmond & Danville road brought the news this morning of the killing of a negro man and woman at Burlington last night by an engine of which the veteran Jake Hicks was engineer. Just as the west bound passenger train was about to enter the train shed, the man and woman stepped in front. In a second they were under the wheels and were cut to pieces. The man was a railroad employee. An inquest was held this morning and the engineer was exonerated.

A Special to the Citizen from Paint Rock, at the Tennessee and North Carolina state line, says a Chinaman named Ling Gun has been running wild in that vicinity for the past ten days. Investigation reveals the fact that Gun was from Asheville and was robbed two weeks ago near Hot Springs of $250 by Bob Morris and Carter Ward, who cruelly beat Gun and drove him into the woods, where he continues to wander, it is feared, in an insane condition. The matter will be reported to the Chinese minister at Washington and to the Secretary of State, Greensboro. Ward and Morris have been arrested.

The Record says the congregation of the First Presbyterian church of Greensboro, is to meet next Sunday afternoon to consider the engagement of an assistant to the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. Henry Smith, who has been the pastor of the church since 1859.

The Statesville Landmark says:—Dr. J. H. Isham, the physician sent out by the Stockton Medicine Company, of Nashville, Tenn., to give free prescriptions, was here Monday, but the physicians of the town objected to his practicing because he was not registered in North Carolina, and he did not do any work. He was arrested in Morganton for practicing and the agent of the company says that will be made a test case. The company contends that the laws of this State do not prohibit an unregistered physician from practicing when he takes no fee.

A correspondent of the Kington Free Press says at the last term of Jones county court a negro was convicted of stealing a mule. Before sentence pronounced the judge gave him an opportunity to speak for himself and he said: "I wouldn't er truck de mule no-how if I hadn't er erred in de Testerment whar Jesus truck a mule." The Judge remarked: "Yes but he didn't ride him to Kington and try to sell him." and thereupon he gave the negro three years in the penitentiary.

Rev. J. L. Deaton dead.

Rev. Leroy Deaton a native of Rowan county but who accepted a call to a Lutheran church at Seattle Washington about a year ago is dead.

The Standard has no particulars as the telegram made just the simple announcement of his death.

Mr. Deaton was well known in Concord. He was an alumnus of North Carolina College, at Mt. Pleasant. He was a twin brother of Rev. W. A. Deaton who is pastor of a church near Columbia, S. C.

We knew Rev. Deaton as a school mate, a chum and society fellow. We have never known a better or nobler young man. He was one of the most conscientious gentlemen in our acquaintance.—The Standard is truly pained to hear of the death of this bright young man who, by force of energy, scholarly attainments and a pure life, promised to make a shining mark in his profession.

'Tis sad to think Leroy Deaton is dead!

Death of Mrs. John W. Moore.

This morning at 3:15 o'clock, Mrs. John W. Moore, wife of Rev. John W. Moore, died at her home, in Derita.

Mrs. Moore has been a sufferer for two years, having lost her health while in Japan and never being able to regain it. She was twenty-six years of age, and was the only daughter of Maj. S. W. Reid, of Steel Creek. Early in life Miss Reid connected herself with Central Steel Creek A. R. Presbyterian church. Nearly four years ago she married Rev. John W. Moore, and tendered her resignation as teacher in the Huntersville High School, which she then held, to leave immediately for Japan, to which field her husband had been elected a missionary of his church.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore remained in Japan until last summer when, on account of her broken down health, due to the hot climate, they returned to Mecklenburg. After arriving at home Mrs. Moore seemed to be more cheerful, but it was evident from the first that she could never rally from the great shock her frail constitution had received in the hot and disease-contaminated atmosphere of Japan.

The Faith Cure in Guilford.

An interesting case comes to our notice from Summerfield. Mrs. Davis, the young wife of Dr. W. C. Davis, of that place, was very ill with fever, and due to the hot climate, they returned to Mecklenburg. After arriving at home Mrs. Moore seemed to be more cheerful, but it was evident from the first that she could never rally from the great shock her frail constitution had received in the hot and disease-contaminated atmosphere of Japan.

Her relatives and friends were gathered around her bedside and she had bidden them good-bye. Just as they thought she was almost gone as if by a miracle she rose from the bed and walked to the fire, saying she was cured—cured by faith.

This was over two weeks ago and she has since been rapidly regaining her health, and if she continues to improve will soon be perfectly well.

The Race Question is unsettled. But it is settled that Hood's Sarsaparilla lead all remedies. Disease marches through all lands. But good health blesses all who take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Dyspepsia is a great foe of the human race. But Hood's Sarsaparilla puts it to flight. Scrofula is one of the most terrible of diseases. But Hood's Sarsaparilla expels it from the system.

The people of this day, like Job, suffer from boils. But Hood's Sarsaparilla is a sovereign remedy for them. Catarrh is one of the most disagreeable disorders. But Hood's Sarsaparilla is sure to relieve and cure it.

Rheumatism racks the system like a thumb-screw. But it retreats before the power of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Loss of appetite leads to melancholia. But Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the plainest repast tickle the palate.

Life is short and time is fleeting, but Hood's Sarsaparilla will bless humanity as theages roll on. "The constant drop of water wears away the hardest stone. The constant gnaw of Towser Masticates the toughest bone. The constant cooling lover. Carries off the blushing maid. And the constant advertiser Is the one who gets the trade."

Does Death End All. An editorial in an afternoon paper, speaking of Col. Robert G. Ingersoll:

"Why not make public the rumor that the brilliant orator who has been called the great American infidel, has been heard to say in public before he dies that he believes in immortality?"

Col Ingersoll was questioned on the subject in his apartments in the Adams House, and in reply gave the following autograph statements:

"I have never said 'that perhaps before I die I will say in public that I believe in immortality.' I have nothing to conceal on that question. I have always been perfectly frank and have given the transcript of my heart and brain.

"I do not say that death ends all, neither do I say that man is immortal, I say that I do not know. To know is one thing, to believe is another, and to hope is still another.

"I hope for all joy, for the children of men.

"All I can say about immortality is this: There was a time when I was not, after that I was, now I am, and it may be that it is no more wonderful than that I should continue forever, now that I have a start, than it was that I should begin.

"We love, and those we love die, and we cling to the hope, to the wish, that we may meet again. Love was the first to dream of immortality, and as long as we love we shall hope."—Boston Dispatch.

Ask Your Friends, Who have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla what they think of it and the reply will be positive in its favor. Simply what Hood's Sarsaparilla does that tells the story of its merit. One has been cured of indigestion or dyspepsia another finds it indispensable for sick headache or biliousness while others report remarkable cures of scrofula, catarrh, rheumatism, salt rheum, etc.
