when I came to speak to the old man about it he fired me out bodily, or threatened to do so, and ordered me never to show my face in his house again. Knowing the old man, and having due regard for my face. I never did, but managed to meet Bella on the sly, although the old folks watched her pretty closely. "Finally they decided to remove her from the contamination of my neighborhood, probably on the theory that separation is a cure for such cases. Accordingly they came to Washington for a month or so, possibly in hopes that some of these city swells might cut me out. But Bella managed to drop me a note telling me about it, so I followed them. They've been here about a week. stopping with friends-I couldn't find out where until the other day, I hunted through all the hotels and haunted the streets in hopes of seeing them, when finally I remembered that strangers in the city always go to the capitol about the first thing. "Then I took up my station in the rotunda every day, staying all day long. The watchmen evidently considered me a new crank in town, but finally they came-the old man, the old lady and Bella. I pulled my hat down over my eyes and hid behind a newspaper until they had passed, and then I heard them inquiring the way to the dome. When they got pretty well up the stairs I followed, and at the top, you know, it is pretty dark, so by keeping on the opposite side I managed to escape the old couple's eyes.

"They were busy studying out the "Apotheosis of Washington,' while Bella was leaning against the wall, looking tired and homesick. I waited around for a chance to speak to her, but the old man kept her at his elbow, and I had about made up my mind that I would have to knock him down when an idea struck me.

"You know how sound travels over that arch, so that people on opposite sides of the circle can talk to each other in whispers? I had been there before and knew all about it, so I stood just across from Bella and spoke her name. She jumped as if she had been shot.

"'Where are you, Will?' she exclaimed, recognizing my voice at once. She had been thinking of me. she told me afterward.

"'Hush!' said I. 'I'm just opposite you; talk to the wall and I can hear all you say.'

"And maybe we didn't talk. It seemed a bit uncanny to be talking to a stone wall and having your best girl answer back. Something like

AN ENRAGED BULL

Kills a Woman and Badiy Bruises Several Men in Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, KY., January 8 .- A fine Holstein bull broke away today while being led along the street and played have before being captured. The bull attacked Mrs. Anna Goldstein, sixty years of age, and tossed her into the air several times and trampled her beneath its feet. She was instantly killed.

Leaving the woman the bull dashed up Floyd street and at Green street tossed Charles Green into the air, bruising him very badly. Half a block further George Watson' crossed the bull's path and met with a similar reception. He was severely hurt. Will Denham, a one-arm man, at this point came up and seized the rope which was tied about the bull's horns. The enraged animal turned upon him, but Denham dodged around a tree, when he tied the rope. A party of men were sent for and the augry animal was taken away. Mansfield and Jeffries, who own the bull, will be sued by the dead woman's husband, and also by the men who were injured.

COOKED ALIVE.

Terrible Accident Caused by Carelesaness. and Two Lives Lost.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., January 6 .-Two men were fairly cooked alive in a terrible boiler explosion that occurred at 10 o'clock this morning in the roundhouse of the Cincinnati Southern railway

Charles Beckert, a white boiler maker was engaged in repairing an engine which came in last night with a leak in the steam flues. He was standing in the fire box with Jesse Lang, a colassistant. Mistaking a screw plug for a driven plug, he gave the crew a careless tap, driving it in. The steam burst through the small aperture with a loud report. Both men were horribly scalded and the flesh dropped from their bodies in sickening manner. Death was instantaneous. The bodies were taken to Sharp's morgue, where a verdict of death from the carelessness of Beckert. was found by the coroner's jury.

The committee of fifteen appointed at the meeting of trades unionists last attention than an ordinary criminal. night called on Mayor Gilroy this afternoon to confer with him on the condition of the 'unemployed, and to enlist his aid in their behalf. Dr. Stanton Coltact.d as spokesman lie ridge. asked that some provision be made by the city to give work to the idle. The mayor replied that he would do all in his power to help those willing to vork.

Just before the committee of trades unionists called on the mayor there was almost a riot among the crowd of poor persons who assembled at the headquarters of the University Scitlement Society, at 26 Delancey street. A howling mob of several hundred men, women and children of all creeds and nationalities, congregated in front of the buildings in the early hours of the morning before the distribution of tickets for food, clothing and other necessaries of life was begun. Growing impatient over the long wait, they grew bolder and attempted to force an entrance into the store or ground floor, where the supplies were being arranged.

FRANCH'S BOAST.

The Spanish Anarchist Wishes His Bomt Had Killed More.

MADRID, January 8.- The sensation of the day in Anarchist, police and political circles is the arrest of Salvador Franch, the noted Anarchist leader, chief of the conspiracy to cause death and destruction in the Liceo theatre.

Before the examining magistrate, Franch confessed to being the author of the Liceo theatre bomb outrage. He says that he alone was responsible for the outrage in which twenty-five people were killed and over fifty others injured, some of whom have since died of their injuries. Franch said: "Taking a bomb in cack hand I hurled one of them with all my force into the centre of the closely packed stalls, where the group of select people were sitting, and a fine explosion followed the landing of the bomb. I threw the other one almost immediately afterwards, but 1 don't believe it exploded, as I should have killed a nice lot of bourgeoise. ] aimed it with particular care at the portion of the theatre where that hated class was thick. "Of course there was a terrible row and panic after the explosion of the bomb, and before it had in any way passed I was enabled to get away, as was already elear of seats and had no difficulty in making for the stair case and from there running down into the street."

the old story of Pyramus and Thisbe, only they talked through the wall. Well, she told me where she was stopping, and that it would be useless for me to try to see her nearer, as she was watched all the time. "Just then the old man chimed in and asked her to whom she was talking. She said only to herself. As there was no one within fifty feet of her he had to believe it.

"Well, that made me mad and also gave me another idea. I had been looking up the district marriage laws and found that one could get a license almost for the asking. There was no time to be lost. I asked Bella if she would marry me at once, whether the old folks were willing or not, and she said she would if she could get away. Then we cooked up a scheme. I was to get the license and engage a minister, as I have just done. To-morrow night they are going to a concert or something, and Bella is to get sick and go home with her cousin

France and Spain Agroe.

PARIS, December 31.-The commercial agreement between France and Spain has been signed. The latter country extends to France, in 1894, the benefit of its treaties with other powers, and France grants to Spain a minimum tariff and withdraws the prohibition upon importations from Algeria.

The Ootton Supply.

NEW YORK, December 30.-The total visible supply of cotton for the worl is 1.614,002, of which 4,170,702 is American, against 4,437,335 and 4,025,435 respectively last year. Receipts from all interior towns, 141,302. Receipts from plantations 266,411. Crop in dgat 5,361,857 bales.

Franch then told how he remained in hiding, supplied with all the news by his brother Anarchists. When questioned as to how he obtained the bombs Franch said: "I made the bombs myself, according to the prescribed formular, and I regret deeply that so few people were killed." Franch, who is a tall, fine looking man of about 30 years of age, comes of a respectable family. He left home when 14 years of age and went to Barcelona, where he soon joined the Anarchists society and as he grew older distinguished himself by his daring utterances and fiery advice.
