WASHINGTON LETTZE rom our Regular Correspondent

President Clevel: ad has devoted Il greater part of this week, night and day, to listening attentively to argus ments for and against the Bland coinage bill, although it is known that he has long been a close student of th question involved. It is because of th differences in opinion among democ ats on the matter that he has bee a ixious to hear all that both sides have to say. Up to last night he had not in dicated what disposition he would make of the bill. In view of the record of the President it is a waste of space t say that there is absolutely no founda tion for the stories sent out from Washington making him a part to a bargain with the silver men in Congress. They are simply sensa tional libels upon the President as well is upon the silver men. No man nev r occupied the White House who w clearer of bargaining, either for per sonal or political gain, than is Groven Cleveland, and, while his decision mus ressarily be against the wishes of many good democrats, it can be se down in advance that it will be the result of his honest convictions, and there is little doubt that it will be so accepted by the democratic party at large.
