The residence, barn and corn crib, of Mr. Geo. Clapp, of Guilford county, was destroyed by fire last Saturday night. The loss estimated at about $3,000, is covered on Mr. C., who is an industrious hard-working farmer.

Dr. W. H. Wakefield will be at the Central Hotel in Salisbury, on Thursday and Friday, April 19th and 20th. Practice limited to Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat.

China Grove's cotton factory is now in operation, and her good people speak of soon building a $1200 Lutheran church, also a Methodist church, and with the erection of a number of neat cottages for the factory operatives, the village is on a real, genuine boom.

Mr. M. Stenheimer, a respected citizen of Statesville, died at his home in that city, of paralysis, last Saturday night, aged 70 years. Having no near relatives he will be buried, valued at about $10,000, to the Methodist church there, of which he was a consistent member.

From a defective stove-flue, Mrs. M. E. Kestler's residence, the third from Bank Street railroad bridge, caught fire last Saturday, afternoon, and before the fire companies could get to the place, the building was a solid mass of flames. The neighbors helped Mrs. Kestler to save most of her furniture, but her house is now a charred wreck.

We learn that there are 30 county convicts now at work on the public roads of this county, and that they are proving of considerable benefit in bettering the roads. Though the system of work being done may not be of a character to render the permanent results desired, yet it is quite an improvement over the old system, and we are glad to learn that W. L. Klutz, Esq., who is director of the convict road force, intends going soon to Charlotte to investigate the best methods of such work in Mecklenburg and, if possible, gather points by which he may be able to improve the system in this county.

If you owe us your subscription for the WATCHMAN you know it, and you know it is an honest debt that you are as much in honor bound to pay as for the clothes you wear. It is our labor given to you for a price, and from it alone we have to get our living for self and family therefore we ask for what is our own, trusting that you pay us without the necessity of our going or sending to you.

The N. C. University has progressed wonderfully under the management of President Winston. In 1891 it had 190 students, in 1892 248, in 1893 316, and this year 395. At this rate of increase it will take only a few years to reach 500.

Died of pneumonia, at the home of his parents, in Norwood, N. C.; the 5th inst., Willie Ray, the 3 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. T. Dunlap. The deceased was a bright, intelligent little boy—the pet of the household, and his sweet prattle and presence will be sadly missed by fond parents, brothers and sisters to whom the WATCHMAN extends sympathy and condolence in their sad bereavement.

Charlotte Observer: Mr. James McCullough, who lives near Pineville, brought the news to the city yesterday that a negro child on Mrs. W. A. Boatright's place, a mile from Pineville, had small pox. The child and its mother Mr. McCullough said, had recently returned from Atlanta. Dr. Rone had visited the child. Mr. McCullough did not state in so many words that Dr. Rone said it was small pox, but that was the inference.

The very intelligent editor of the colored people's paper, the Star of Zion, of this city, thinks there is no good result to be obtained by the colored voters rendering any assistance to the Populists by a coalition to defeat Democracy; and advises the negroes that it will redound more to their interest to vote with the intelligent Democrats than to be led into such an inconsistent coalition. Thousands of them in this State will doubtless follow this advice if the proposed Populist-Republican coalition is effected.

The Ashby tobacco factory at Mount Airy was destroyed by fire about 8 o'clock Saturday morning. The loss is estimated at $30,000; insurance for about half that amount. They had on hand 110,000 pounds of manufactured and about 10,000 pounds of leaf tobacco, all of which was burned. There were 200 hands employed in the factory.

At Winston last Friday, according to a special to the Charlotte Observer, the son of a prominent physician locked his mother in a room and beat her unmercifully. When an officer went to arrest the brute the mother begged him off, saying she would not testify against him. The boy's father was not at home. His mother's protesting his arrest is a pretty sure indication that the boy has been allowed his own way all his life—hence his treatment of his mother. Very probably the parents are to blame for not taking the hide off that boy in his younger days.

Search of Private Houses.
In his Columbia speech a week ago today, Governor Tillman said: We will continue to search private houses where contrabands liquor are supposed to be, with warrants when necessary. We are obliged to do this as long as it is the law. It is the law until repealed.

Referring to this right of search, the Charleston News and Courier has found a speech made upon it in the English House of Commons more than a hundred years ago by William Pitt, afterwards Lord Chatham, in which he said:

If at night a petty constable, with a press gang, should come thundering at the gates of your house in the country, and should tell you he had a search warrant and must search your house for deacons, would you at that time of night allow your gates to be opened? I protest I would not. What then would be the consequence? He has by this law a power to break them open. Would any of you patiently submit to such an indignity? Would not you fire upon him if he attempted to break open your gates? I declare I would, let the consequences be never so fatal. No law should permit such violent indignities upon the sacred precinct of home, and we can but condone with the sorely harassed people of our sister State.

Lost all in Her Beauty.
Chicago Dispatch.

Back of the wedding of Gilbert E. Bailey and Mrs. Carrie E. Farrington, in Jersey City recently, lingered a pathetic romance in which the groom's former bride, disfigured in a prairie fire, suffered the tortures of skin-grafting to restore her beauty and win back her husband's love, but all in vain.

The bridegroom of the Jersey City wedding is well known in Chicago. He is a civil engineer and edits the Irrigation Age. For several years he has been a special correspondent for a local newspaper in Honduras. Cora Sophia Bailey was divorced from Gilbert E. Bailey on January 28, 1894 and went to Europe, first it is said, having secured a promise from Mrs. Farrington not to interfere in any reconciliation she might attempt with Mr. Bailey.

On September 4, 1881, Gilbert E. Bailey married Cora Claugherly, the daughter of a prominent New York Republican politician. They went to a ranch near Rapid City, S. D., to live. A prairie fire swept over the neighborhood and left Mrs. Bailey terribly burned, apparently beyond recovery, and her face distorted and disfigured beyond recognition. She was cared for until danger was past, but her beauty was gone, and with it her husband's love. She saw this, and went on a visit to her relatives in New York; while he went as correspondent for a newspaper to the scene of the Indian troubles in the Southwest.

Meantime relatives had died leaving Mrs. Bailey wealthy, and though her riches she sought to retain her beauty. She sailed for Paris, and there, under the hands of the greatest surgeons, submitted to untold tortures, and, by the expenditure of large sums of money succeeded in securing people who sacrificed portions of their cuticle to be grafted on the unsightly face.

It was a wonderful operation, and at its conclusion Mrs. Bailey returned to America a rather good looking woman whose stylish wardrobe and cultivated manner made her more attractive than the average.

In Chicago she learned that Bailey was living at No. 4160 Ellis avenue. Then came the discovery that he was paying attentions to Mrs. Farrington and a painful scene followed. The wife retained a residence on Michigan avenue near the Dakota Hotel, furnished it luxuriously, and engaged a corps of servants.

Then she sought her husband, showing him the home she prepared and begged him to return to her. He refused, and then Mrs. Bailey went to see the widow, and found her and her mother. The story of Bailey's life was told, and the woman decided that he should no longer be received at the house. But the prohibition evidently was not lasting. The wife, broken hearted, is said to have returned to Europe, where she now is.

An Attempted Suicide.
News-Observer-Chronicle.
A man named R. S. House cut his throat badly with a razor yesterday morning about 2 o'clock in an attempt to commit suicide. He was an employee of the Caraleigh Mills and lived near the Wagon factory. Night before last he proposed to his wife to go to church and after they came back they retired as usual, he showing no sign of any intention of his rash act. About 2 o'clock Mrs. House awoke and became aware that her husband had risen from bed. She heard a dripping on the floor and hastily making a light she found House sitting up and that he had cut two gashes in his throat with a razor. Assistance was soon brought and it was found that he had severed the jugular vein and cut the sheath of the carotid artery. By medical skill the flow of blood was stopped and at last accounts the patient was doing as well as could be expected. No reason can be obtained for his rash attempt on his life.

Morganton, April 5.—At a meeting of the board of directors of the Deaf and Dumb Institute at Morganton today, the following officers were elected: E. McK. Goodwin, superintendent; Geo. L. Phifer, steward; Mrs. Mary Malone, matron; Mrs. S. C. Jackson, assistant matron. Teachers: D. R. Tillingham, Z. W. Haynes, Jno. C. Miller, Otis Betts, Mrs. Winston, Miss G. E. Welsh.

The school is to open this fall.

The testimony of Col. Breckinridge throws a good deal of light upon his case. It appears that this woman, Madeline Pollard, had one of the time—laid for him—and captured him. She fastened herself to him and sang. He tried to shake her off and failed—she would not be shaken. She had him in her power, and held him, under threats, as one time of exposure, and at another of assassination. He would gladly have been free of her, but she would not permit him to have his freedom. Time went on; he finally defied fate, married Mrs. Wing, and then the explosion came. Shame to him that he ever placed himself in the power of such a woman.

As business makes one look old so a fall head of hair gives to mature life the appearance of youth. To secure this and prevent the former Ayer's Hair Vigor is confidently recommended. Both ladies and gentlemen prefer it to any other dressing.

Hall's Hair Renewer enjoys the confidence and patronage of people all over the civilized world who use it to restore and keep the hair a natural color.

Economy and Strength.
Valuable remedies are used in the preparation of Hood's Sarsaparilla in such a peculiar manner as to retain the full medicinal value of every ingredient. Thus Hood's Sarsaparilla combines economy and strength and is the only remedy of which "100 Doses One Dollar" is true. Be sure to get Hood's.

Hon. Charles Francis Adams has been studying up on the bi-metallic question, and has become convert, to bi-metallicism. There is a very broad field for study on that question and plenty of room for converts.

We direct the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Simmons' Liver Regulator on another page. We have used the medicine in our family, and are prepared to say from experience that for torpid liver or a disordered stomach it is a good remedy. When traveling we usually carry some in our valise. From the "Christian Visitor," Smithfield, N. C.

Charlotte Observer: From our Asheville special it appears that Mr. Richman and Pearson has borrowed a few planks from three parties and out of them constructed a pile form of his own. He should have looked over the stock of the Prohibition party also and seen if it hasn't on hand some material which he could use in his business.

The latest results of pharmaceutical science and the best modern appliances are available in our Compound Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Hence, though half a century in existence as a medicine, it is fully abreast of the age in all that goes to make it the standard blood-purifier.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is absolutely unequalled as a blood-purifier and strengthening medicine. It is the best spring medicine. Try it.

Speaker Crisp did a very proper thing when he declined the appointment to the Senate. A Speaker is a bigger man than a Senator.

Beware of Quackeries for Catarrh that contain Mercury.
As mercury will steadily destroy the sense of smell and rapidly derange the whole system, it is dangerous to get through the nostrils surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by E. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury; and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get genuine. It is by E. J. Cheney & Co., Postoffice dist. free. Sold by Druggists, etc.

Why Hood's Wins.
President Lincoln said, "You cannot fool the people a second time." They are too quick to recognize real merit or lack of it, and clinging only to those things which they find to be what is claimed for them.

It is especially gratifying that the sale of Hood's Sarsaparilla increases most rapidly in those sections where it is best known.

The inference is plain. Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven that it possesses genuine merit. It contains a high standard which others cannot even approach. It is the people's favorite blood-purifying and building up medicine, and is more popular this year than ever before. All this because Hood's Cures.

Four men were killed in the Coe riots Wednesday afternoon of last week during riots between the strikers and workmen. One of the killed was H. C. Paddock, one of Frick's managers at Stockdale. Thursday six, also met their death at riot.

Burning Pain
Erysipelas in Face and Eyes
Inflammation Subdued and Tortures Ended by Hood's.
I am so glad to be relieved of my tortures that I am willing to tell the benefits I have derived from Hood's Sarsaparilla. In April and May, I was afflicted with erysipelas in my face and eyes, which spread to my throat and neck. I tried divers ointments and alteratives, but there was no permanent abatement of the burning, torturing pain, peculiar to this complaint. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and before I had finished the first bottle, I continued to improve until, when I had taken four bottles, I was completely cured, and felt that all signs, marks and symptoms of that disease had been forever "vanquished." Mrs. E. OTTAWA, Hillsboro, Wisconsin.

Hood's Pills are prompt and efficient, yet easy in action. Sold by all druggists. 25c.

Read the Following Magnificent Offer.
MONEY MADE EASY, YOU CAN DO IT, TO WHY NOT TRY?
We call the attention of our readers to the remarkable clubbing offer in another column by which we can send this paper and the Atlanta Weekly Constitution to the same address for one year for the low sum of $1.50.

This is the only offer of its kind we have ever been able to make to our readers.

The Atlanta Weekly Constitution is a well-known to need any introduction here. It has won its place at the fringes of the nation as a model weekly newspaper. It numbers on its staff some of the most famous and brilliant writers of the day and on all public questions its lance is ever in rest to defend the rights of the people. It is the largest and most widely circulated weekly newspaper published in America having a circulation of 150,000, and it week. It is in itself an education to those who read it. By the clubbing rate which we offer, our readers will get the Weekly Constitution and their home paper at but little more than the cost of one paper, thereby getting the news of their home and the news of the world every week for a year, at an insignificant outlay.

In addition to this, every subscriber to this paper and the Constitution, under our clubbing arrangement, will be given an opportunity to win some handsome prizes.

All these matters are explained in another column. We merely call attention to it here to show our readers what a liberal offer we have to make them. These offers are made by our arrangement with the Constitution, and only those who subscribe for both papers through this office are entitled to take part in the contest.

This is the most liberal clubbing offer any have ever been able to make, and we feel sure that it will prove immensely popular with our readers.
