"Last evening, just after tea, while Mr. Thomas Hartman, a prominent and highlyrejected citizen, apparently in the best of health and spirits, was reading a newspaper, the sheet suddenly fell to the floor; he placed one hand over his heart, gasped, and ank back in his chair, evidently unconmous. The tannily were stricken with conserration, and immediately summoned a hissician. But it was too late. The old gentleman was dead. Physicians gave heart disease as the cause,"-Holbrook Herald. Every day the papers contain statements mailar to the above. Even youth is no defore against heart disease, and the awful rapidity with which it is claiming victims forces upon all a conviction of its prevalence. Keader if you have a symptom of this dread disease do not hesitate a moment in ettending to it. Delay is always dangerous, and in heart disease too often fatal. Some ymptoms of heart disease are shortness of weath, fluttering, or palpitation, pain or leaderness in left side, shoulder, or arm, irtextar pulse, smothering weak or hungry wells, fainting scells, droper, etc.

EN WILL THE DEBATE END

Will the Final Action Be Taken?-Congressional Matters for the Current Week.

WASHINGTON, April 23.-Today ushers in the fourth week of the debate in the senate on the pending tariff bill, and with it comes an era of uncertainty that is causing the senators in charge of the measure much uneasiness. Although the present amicable agreeday following the bill will be up for county. consideration by paragraphs, the field of gebate will be broadened and the opportunity for the consumption of time will be enhanced. It is the impossibility of foreseeing just where the discussion will lead, that is causing the man-

The attitude of the republicans during the past week, has not been encouraging, for it has made conspicuous the fact that the minority considers any means justifiable to prevent final action on the tariff measure. Mr. Quay started in with a speech that was made up largely of census statistics devoted to the iron and allied industries of his state, and when Saturday night came, Mr. Quay had not finished telling the enate how unjust the pending bill vania, nor had he ceased to quote from haustable supply of figures.

At the same time Mr. Quay was very seeo amodating and gracefully yielded to any senator who wanted to make a speech, and he even went so far as to perm.t any one to insert in the body of his speech such "remarks" as the interrupting member saw fit to make. Meanwhile, Mr. Quay yielded to Mr. Dolph, and that senator started in with a speech which, in its incomplete the record but nevertheless it is said to be only just begun.

The week will open with a speech by Washburn, who, after a brief discusso n of the tariff in general, will devote maself to a consideration of the recipresult relations of this country growing out of the McKinley act, and the evil effects which he thinks will follow the rested if possible. a pandonment of that policy.

Mr. Washourn is a business man, and has made this matter a study, and his speech is looked upon as a very important contribution to the tariff literature of the day. Mr. Wasburn's prepared remarks are said to be of exceeding length, and will occupy all of today. He will be followed Tuesday by Mr. Palmer, and later in the afternoon by Mr. Mills, who will present the democratic side of the case, and in closing the general debate and reply to some of the statements that have been made by republicans during the past three weeks. Another assignment of the administrations Hawaiian policy will be heard on Wednesday when Mr. Higgins, of Delaware, takes the floor. The fact that on Wednesday, the tariff bill will be up for discussion by paragraphs will not interfere with Mr. Higgins speech.

The Week in the House. Appropriation bills will be the general order of business in the house this week. When the house adjourned on Saturday, there were two of these measures yet unfinished on the calendar, having been partly considered for several days the postoffice bill and the diplomatic and consular bill. While no arrangement has yet been made, for bringing in a rule to close debate upon either of the pending measures, Speaker Crisp, chairman of the committee on rules, says it will be resorted to if it shall be discovered that in the opinion of the committee, debate is being unduly protracted. Next on the calendar after the two bills named, are the military, river and harbor, and naval appropriation bills, in the order named. It is the expectation that at least one of these, together with the diplomatic and consular and postoffice bills, will have received final consideration by the end of the week.

A BAD RECORD.

Protection a Stumbling Black to the Commercial Prosperity of All Coun ries. Protection never had many legs to stand upo . The United States has been the only highly protected country that has enjoyed a reasonable measure of prosperity for any considerable length of time. - Such prosperity as we have had has been due to the fact that we have free trade from ocean to ocean and from gulf to lakes. No where else on the globe is such freedom of exchange between so many progressive producers with such opportunities to production. In Europe, protectin's record is bad. The most highly protected countries, like Italy, Russia, Germany and France are clearly behind England and Holland, where trade is most nearly free. Australia was making good progress until its different colonies began to adopt protective tariffs about ten years ago. The disease spread rapidly and soon all of the colonies were laid up with it. In 1892 a panie occurred, from which Australia has not yet recovered and from which it is not likely to recover until its colonies again open trade with each other and with the rest of the world. In 1891 one of the Australian colonies-New Zealand-concluded to experiment in another direction. It cut Rev. Morris Addison, rector of the off most of its tariff duties and tegan Episcopal church, Fitchburg, Mass., to tax large land holders. A graduated tax was laid on the owners of land worth $25,000 or more. The larger the holdings the larger the tax Twenty per cent. extra was assessed on all lands in the hands of absentees. Improvements to the extent of $15,000 were exempted from taxation.

John D. Connolly, our consul at Auckland, has just made a report on "Land and Taxation in New Zealand." Advance sheets of his report, published by the state department on March 15, are most interesting reading to all who are anxious to improve the conditions of mankin l. Mr. Connolly begins by saving that "in the matter of taxation New Zealand excels as compared with the other Australian colonies, and perhaps with many older countries" Instead of the country bing ruin d financially, as most of the moneyel men there sail it would be, its crodit is better to-day on the London money market than is that of any other colony of are diminishing and opportunities to A hearing was begun in the probate employment are thrown open to the people. If it is done it will be by a combination of republican senators with a small minority of democrats. And its effect will be to still further McKinleyize the Wilson b.ll. With the free list almost abolished and specific instead of ad valor in duties in the textile and Secretary Morton has learned that a manufacturing schedules the only imlev law and the Wilson bill would be that the latter carries free wool and cheaper woolens. Specific duties are a protectionist device. Behind them are hidden the worst outrages of the McKinley law. Rates that the most au lacious advocate of prohibitive taxation would harily dare propose in ad valorem terms are levied upon consumers under the guise of specific duties, or duties partly specific and partly ad valorem. Specific d ties are nearly always a cover for abuses of the taxing power that would not be tolerated if plainly disclose !. The theory of advalorem duties is that value is the best measure of ability to pay taxes. It is absurd as well as unjust to tax a yard of silk costing 50 cents precisely the same amount as a yard of silk costing $2. On the lowgrade goods the specific duty is prohibitive; on the high grade it is insignificant. It discriminates in favor of the rich and against the p or. But the conclusive objection to specific duties is that they deprive the consumers of all the benefits of cheapened production. With the march of invention and improvements the constant tendency of manufacture is to produce goods at smaller cost. Under ad valorem taxation the consumer reaps the advantage of this, because lower cost means lower rates of duty. Under specific duties this advantage is largely lost because no decrease in cost or value affects the duty levied -N. Y. World.

Bradstreets' Review of the Financial and Industrial Sit ation. NEW YORK, April 21.-Bradstreets says: With the exception of the prospect for a still further extension of strikes and other labor disturbances, no plainly retarding induonce has manifested itself. So far as learned, there are about twenty-three additional strikes, involving 21,000 people. This brings the total number of those now on strike or idle because of strikes up to 60,000, The week also furnishes eleven shutdowns of important industrial establishments, more than off-set by the resumption of thirty-two others, which furnishes employment to 5,000 operatives, although seven important establishments announce reduction of wages. Among southern cities, no change within the week is reported from Charleston, Nashville, Atlanta, Birmingham and Little Rock, at all of which points generally business is quiet. Mobile claims that trade is fair in most lines, Memphis specifying groceries and plantation applies and Chaitaneoga groceries. At Savannah, naval stores are firmer, and Thursday recorded the largest days sales of turpentine ever reported. Jacksonville reports a heavy strawberry crop, and prespects for a good summer trade in that state. There is an improved demand for groceries and produce at New Orleans, as well as for rice. Pleasant weather has stimulated jobbing in all lines at Galveston, as at all Texas points, and at Augusta. Georgia, business is said to be good.

Dun's Hopeful Review.

NEW YORK, April 21.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: Extensive storms checked improvement in business only for a short time. and the numerous strikes have not yet arrested it. Distribution of products to consumers seems larger, for more people are earning and therefore more are able to buy. But it is less clear that the increase of the working contimes or that orders for products will further expand. The improvement thus far realized is based on actual increase in orders for consumption, but part of this was to cover belated de-
