

BUTTERCUPS.

Jennie was watching the cows home. Down by the meadow bars alone. And her eyes were as blue as her bonnet—

NORTH CAROLINA CHEROKEES.

A Mountain Band of Indians Who Still Use Bows and Arrows. One of the most interesting places in North Carolina and yet one of the least known, even by the people of the old North State is the reservation of what is termed the "eastern band" of the Cherokee Nation.

TWO MEETINGS WITH A BEGGAR.

One Was Surprising, and the Other More Surprising Still. One of the most peculiar beggars in the city may be found almost any evening parading up and down the Bowery, with occasional wanderings on the side streets.

What is Electricity?

Professor Galileo Ferraris, the genial Italian scientist, whose name is well known to all electricians, was recently asked by a young lady what electricity was; but, unlike most others when asked that question, he ventured to answer it, and, according to Cosmos, wrote in French in her autograph book the following, of which The Electrical World ventures to give a translation, even though the English language hardly does justice to the original in French.

JUDGE WALTER CLARK

USES AND ENDORSES THE Electropoise. TRADE MARK. "Cures when all else fails." Investigation Invited. BOOK FREE. Electro-ibration Co., 245 FORTH AVENUE, NEW YORK.

Matters of Interest.

Armfield! Judge Armfield! Why, he is one among the brainiest men of the State of North Carolina, and aint got sense enough to know it or show it—in a bombastic way. He ought to be two judges if he will take it.—Press and Carolinian.

It is the Style Though, and the Boys will Do It.

The bent position which is assumed by bicyclists in order to attain the highest degree of speed while running them, is attended with an unnatural flexion of the spine, which appears in the black and causes not only unsightliness in form, but in boys of 14 years and under is fraught with serious and possibly fatal consequences.

An Army of Strangers.

Here is a body of 45,000 men, for that is my estimate of their number made from the best obtainable data—an army larger than Wellington's redcoats at Waterloo. Eleven tenths of them are under 50 years of age; five-sixths of them are in perfect health.

Originality of the tract of land held by the Cherokees was far larger than at present.

It now comprises 73,000 acres, and some of it is the very best land in western North Carolina. It is mainly in Swain and Jackson counties, right among the mountains, and the entire country east of the Mississippi does not contain a more picturesquely beautiful region or one better suited to Indian taste and requirements, with its cold, clear streams full of fish, its mountains well wooded and abounding in game and its comparative remoteness from the beaten track of white people.

A Sun reporter who had noticed this peculiar medicament a dozen times, but had never been approached by him before, met him on the Bowery a few nights ago.

The beggar was walking along with a contemplative air. When his eye fell on the reporter, his air suddenly became businesslike, and rushing up to the reporter he said sharply: "Low're y' fixed fer cash, young feller?" "Fairly well," replied the reporter, taken off his guard. Then recovering himself he added, "I don't s'pose that's any of your business, however."

A Cruel Joke.

A cruel joke was perpetrated on the engineer of the Louisville and Nashville passenger train. Several miles from the city the engineer was horrified to see what appeared to be the form of a man asleep on the track a short distance ahead.

A Chinese Columbus.

The belief in a Chinese Columbus was first allowed by scholars only about 50 years ago. The claim is that a Buddhist priest in the fifth century crossed the Pacific to this continent and returned, making a written report of his discovery. The report still exists. It was translated into French in 1711 by De Guignes.

The Indians are mainly engaged in farming, but do not do an extensive business in this direction, though they raise plenty of food.

The present number of the eastern band is about 1,800, and it is certain that they are increasing. The healthfulness of that region is remarkable, and many of the Cherokees reach a great age. The oldest inhabitant is "Big Witch," who asserts that his age is 115 years.

Economy in Electricity.

A novelty in electric lighting is being practically tested in a large building in New York city. Instead of arranging the incandescent lamps on one circuit and feeding them continuously from the same source, they are arranged on a number of separate circuits, say four, and the current is alternately switched from one to the other in regular succession, the idea being that the current, having heated each successive circuit of lamps to incandescence, will be turned again to that set, before the lamp filaments have time to cool.

Lassoing a Locomotive.

A good many years ago the chief of an Indian tribe in the west took umbrage at a locomotive that scared some of his horses and caused a stampede. Determined to make all his plans, he waited the next appearance of the offending iron monster, saddled his best horse, coiled up his strongest lariat and stationed himself close by the track and in a suitable position for an attack.

Luxurious Mosquitoes.

It is positively ascertained that mosquitoes were unknown in Atlanta before the railroad companies began running sleeping cars to San Juan, and into that city. They got their selves of the opportunity afforded them and are most apt to congregate there in September and October, when they come by the thousands.—Yankee Blade.

A Flowering Green Eyed Monster.

Dawes was in the summer house with Hawes. Their bejewed wives were behind a bush and were horrified to hear the following conversation: "Dawes—I think Mrs. Alpheus Hardy lovely, I'm quite gone on her. Hawes—Are you? Well, Sarah Owen is more my style. I saw her at our flower show last year, and I fell in love with her at once. So well formed and showy and—"

An Editor's Awful Blunder.

The editor of a weekly journal lately lost two of his subscribers through accidentally departing from the beaten track in his answers to correspondents. Two of his subscribers wrote to ask him his remedy for their respective troubles. No. 1, a happy father of twins, wrote to inquire the best way to get them safely over their teething, and No. 2 wanted to know how to protect his orchards from the myriads of grasshoppers.

Wished They Were All Blind.

Robert Burns' friend, Dr. Blacklock, the blind poet, was a licentiate of the Church of Scotland and used to preach occasionally. One Sunday he was supplying a country pulpit. Certain deaf old women, as was the custom in those days, had squatted on the pulpit stairs to be as near the preacher as possible. Like the mass of the Scottish people, they abominated sermons.

The only genuine sheik is the governor of Medina.

Insurance is said to date from the time of the prophet. It is now generally applied as an honorary title to the head man of an Arab village.

Early American Theatricals.

The earliest attempt to introduce theatrical performances in this country was made about 1686 in New England, but Increase Mather wrote and spoke so forcibly in opposition to the project that it was speedily abandoned. The first theatrical performance in New York city of which there is any clear record was given March 5, 1750. The theater was on Nassau street, between John street and Maiden lane, and the play was "Richard III." Thomas Kean, the junior manager of the company, enacting the part of Richard.—Harrison's Magazine.

Mummy's View of It.

An old colored woman, who came up from the south with her "white folks" to see the fair, was shown by her young "missus" the Intramural railroad and told that it was run by electricity. The colored "mummy" listened, and later in the day, when she met some of her own race, she surprised them by saying the fair was the wickedest place she was ever in. "This was explained in the following remark, 'Dey got in dar an immoral railroad, and it am done elected too.'—Chicago Tribune.

Saving the Eyes.

The Eclectic Medical Journal says that in the continued use of the eyes in such work as sewing, typesetting, bookkeeping, reading and studying, the saving point is looking up from the work at short intervals and looking around the room. This may be practiced every 10 or 15 minutes. This relieves the muscular tension, rests the eyes and makes the blood supply much better.

Every Eye Upon Him.

"I never in my life," said a clergyman to his wife after a sermon in Westminster abbey, "so touched the congregation. They were entranced. Every eye was upon me from the first word to the last."

Every Eye Upon Him.

"No wonder," said his wife. "Your gloves were inside your hat, and when you took it off they remained on top of your head all through the sermon."—London Tit-Bits.

At the present rate of increase there will be 100,000,000 people in the United States in 50 years.

A lady, being asked why plain girls often get married sooner than handsome ones, replied that it was "owing mainly to the tact of the plain girls and the vanity and want of tact on the part of men." "How do you make that out?" asked a gentleman. "In this way," answered the lady. "The plain girls flatter the men, and so please their vanity, while the handsome ones wait to be flattered by the men, who haven't the tact to do it."—New York Ledger.

Jude Waxem gives his views on politics and politicians in the Detroit Free Press:

It's a skeerce politishan that keeps all his promises. Ef the Amerikin eagle wazn't a mity tuff bird the politike partys wood pull him in two. Tain't the most moral man that gits the most votes. Some constituents expect a congressman to drink it. Wimmin in politicks is like flowers in a pig pen. Politike reform always wants to reform sumptin else. Offis holdin' is contagious. Honesty is the best policy of you can git thar on it.
